1.—“Every suit shall include..the whole of the claim..cause of action.”
—(Continued).

(44) Lease for a term—Breach of contract by lessee—Suits for rent.

(a) A lessee, after paying a month's rent, vacated the house and communicated to the plaintiff that he was not liable for further payment. First suit for the second month was decreed. Second suit for rent for the remaining term as damages, was not barred, as the rent for the subsequent period had not accrued due on the date of the first. 70 P.R. 1882. Y

(45) Lease, suit for registration of—Possession.

First suit by lessee to have a lease registered was decreed. Second suit for possession of the fields leased was not barred. 3 A.W.N. 6. Z

(46) Lessee resuming possession —Lessee retaining possession.

Where, in one case, a lessee resumes possession of lands on behalf of his landlord and in another case retains portions leased to him, although the lessor's title to recover is the same, the causes of action are distinct. 24 W.R. 212. A

(47) Maintenance—Claim for.

A claim for maintenance by a Mahomedan sister against one of her brothers and the sons of another brother, is entirely different from her claim against them for the share of her brother in her deceased sister's estate. Also a decree awarding her own share in her deceased sister's estate does not bar a second suit by her for the share of her brother in the said estate, as the causes of action are entirely distinct. 8 O.C. 65. [F.O.A. No. 19 of 1901, D; 17 W.R. 108, Exp.; 17 W.R. 1 (5) (P.C.), R]. B

(48) Malabar Uralans—Devasom property.

First suit by the holder of a bond against the executant Uralans and a third Uralan, was decreed. Second suit for declaration against a fourth Uralan for binding the debt on him and on the devasom property, the fourth having objected to the attachment in execution of the first decree was not barred. 16 M. 449. See also 10 C. 924. C

(49) Malikhana, suits for.

First suit for ‘malikhana’ was returned for presentation to the proper Court. Second suit for the sum, which had accrued after the plaint was presented in the first Court, but before its representation in the Munsiff's Court, not barred. 10 A.W.N. 242. D

(50) Mesne-profits, suit for.

(a) The right to possess immoveable property and the right to enjoy profits are two distinct rights.

Suit for possession. Second suit for mesne-profits accrued due before the first, is not barred. 129 P.R. 1889 (11 M. 210, appd; 11 M. 151 and 138 P.R. 1882, diss; 9 C. 282, D). See also L.B.R. (1900), Vol. I, part I, p. 13; 19 C. 615, F. E

—(Continued).

- (b) First suit for possession of property. Second suit for mesne-profits, not barred. 8 C. 593=10 C.L.R. 359; 12 C. 482; 17 C. 968; 19 C. 615. (11 M. 151, diss.) Contra, see cases under ‘SUITS FOR MESNE-PROFITS’ in O. II, r. 2 (1). F
- (c) First suit was a summary suit for possession. Second suit for mesne-profits was not barred. 24 A.501. G
- (d) First suit for mesne-profits misappropriated by defendant, as agent, was decreed. Second suit for possession of land and for mesne-profits intervening between the two suits, was not barred. 59 P.R. 1888, 599; (24 P.R. 1882, R.). But see 138 P.R. 1882, 599. H
- (e) First suit for mesne-profits. Second suit for possession, not barred. 9 C. 283=12 C.L.R. 434; [4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 113, commented on]. But see 9 O.C. 322 (19 C. 615; 17 A. 538; 9 O.C. 225 and 3 A. 857, R); see also 138 P.R. 1882; 129 P.R. 1889 (11 M. 210, appd; 11 M. 151; 138 P.R. 1882, diss.; 9 C. 283, D). See also 137 P.L.R. 1902. I
- (f) First suit for mesne-profits alone, dismissed on a preliminary point. Second suit for mesne-profits and land, not barred. 11 M. 210. See 4 M.L.T. 192; 3 C.P.L.R. 3. J
- (g) First suit for mesne-profits and possession, possession alone being decreed in appeal. Second suit for mesne-profits from the date of the decree, exclusive of the period the plaintiff was in possession, is not barred. 4 B.L.R. (F.B.), 113=13 W.R. (F.B.), 15. See also 11 M.L.J. 332. K
- (h) A sale for arrears of rent having been set aside, a first suit was brought for mesne-profits for the time during which the purchaser was in possession. Second suit for rents wrongly collected was not barred. 5 B.L.R. 184=13 W.R. 261; 5 B.L.R. 187 (note)=13 W.R. 205. L

(51) Mortgages, suits on.

- (a) A mother having mortgaged her minor son's property as guardian, a first suit was brought by the mortgagee against the mother for money-decree only and the decree was not satisfied. A second suit to enforce the lien against the son, after he attained his majority, was not barred, as the son was no party to the first suit and as nothing in that suit would bind him. 41 P.R. 1883. M
- (b) A mortgage-deed, having provided for possession in default of interest, a first suit for interest alone was brought and decreed. Second suit for possession, on account of a further default in the payment of interest, was not barred, as a fresh cause of action had arisen from a breach of the contract, subsequent to the first suit. 79 P.R. 1886 (138 P.R. 1882, D.). N
- (c) First suit for sale against a managing member of a Hindu family on a mortgage executed by him, was decreed. Second suit for sale on the same mortgage, impleading as defendants all the members, was not barred. (1902) A.W.N. 223=25 A. 163; 21 A. 301; 22 A. 307 and 22 A. 394, R. O

THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, 1908.

ACT NO. V OF 1908.

PASSED BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

(Received the assent of the Governor General on the 21st March 1908.)

An Act to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

PRELIMINARY.

Short title,
and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be cited as the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of January, 1909.

(3) This section and sections 155 to 158 extend to the whole of British India : the rest of the Code extends to the whole of British India, except the Scheduled Districts.

Definitions. 2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Code" includes rules :

(2) "decree" means the formal expression of an adjudication which, so far as regards the Court expressing it, conclusively determines the rights of the parties with regard to all or any of the matters in controversy in the suit and may be either preliminary or final. It shall be deemed to include the rejection of a plaint and the determination of any question within section 47 or section 144, but shall not include—

(a) any adjudication from which an appeal lies as an appeal from an order, or

(b) any order of dismissal for default.

Explanation.—A decree is preliminary when further proceedings have to be taken before the suit can be completely disposed of. It is final when such adjudication completely disposes of the suit. It may be partly preliminary and partly final :

(3) "decree-holder" means any person in whose favour a decree has been passed or an order capable of execution has been made :

(4) "district" means the local limits of the jurisdiction of a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction (hereinafter called a "District Court"), and includes the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of a High Court :

(5) "foreign Court" means a Court situate beyond the limits of British India which has no authority in British India and is not established or continued by the Governor General in Council :

(6) "foreign judgment" means the judgment of a foreign Court :

(7) "Government Pleader" includes any officer appointed by the Local Government to perform all or any of the functions expressly imposed by this Code on the Government Pleader and also any pleader acting under the directions of the Government Pleader .

(8) "Judge" means the presiding officer of a Civil Court .

(9) "judgment" means the statement given by the Judge of the grounds of a decree or order.

(10) "judgment-debtor" means any person against whom a decree has been passed or an order capable of execution has been made :

(11) "legal representative" means a person who in law represents the estate of a deceased person, and includes any person who intermeddles with the estate of the deceased and where a party sues or is sued in a representative character the person on whom the estate devolves on the death of the party so suing or sued

(12) "mesne profits" of property means those profits which the person in wrongful possession of such property actually received or might with ordinary diligence have received therefrom, together with interest on such profits, but shall not include profit due to improvements made by the person in wrongful possession :

(13) "moveable property" includes growing crops :

(14) "order" means the formal expression of any decision of a Civil Court which is not a decree .

(15) "pleader" means any person entitled to appear and plead for another in Court, and includes an advocate, a vakil and an attorney of a High Court :

(16) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules

(17) "public officer" means a person falling under any of the following descriptions, namely :—

(a) every Judge ;

(b) every member of the Indian Civil Service ;

(c) every commissioned or gazetted officer in the military or naval forces of His Majesty, including His Majesty's Indian Marine Service, while serving under the Government ;

(d) every officer of a Court of Justice whose duty it is, as such officer, to investigate or report on any matter of law or fact, or to make, authenticate or keep any document, or to take charge or dispose of any property, or to execute any judicial process, or to administer any oath, or to interpret, or to preserve order, in the Court, and every person especially authorized by a Court of Justice to perform any of such duties ;

(e) every person who holds any office by virtue of which he is empowered to place or keep any person in confinement ;

(f) every officer of the Government whose duty it is, as such officer, to prevent offences, to give information of offences, to bring offenders to justice, or to protect the public health, safety or convenience ;

(g) every officer whose duty it is, as such officer, to take, receive, keep or expend any property on behalf of the Government, or to make any survey assessment or contract on behalf of the Government, or to execute any revenue-process, or to investigate, or to report on, any matter affecting the pecuniary interests of the Government, or to make, authenticate or keep any document relating to the pecuniary interests of the Government, or to prevent the infraction of any law for the protection of the pecuniary interests of the Government; and

(h) every officer in the service or pay of the Government, or remunerated by fees or commission for the performance of any public duty :

(18) "rules" means rules and forms contained in the First Schedule or made under section 122 or section 125 .

(19) "share in a corporation" shall be deemed to include stock, debenture stock, debentures or bonds : and

(20) "signed," save in the case of a judgment or decree, includes stamped.

3. For the purposes of this Code, the District Court is subordinate to the High Court, and every Civil Court of a grade inferior to that of a District Court and every Court of Small Causes is subordinate to the High Court and District Court.

Subordination of Courts.
4. (1) In the absence of any specific provision to the contrary, nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any special or local law now in force or any special jurisdiction or power conferred, or any special form of procedure prescribed, by or under any other law for the time being in force.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the proposition contained in sub-section (1), nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any remedy which a landholder or landlord may have under any law for the time being in force for the recovery of rent of agricultural land from the produce of such land.

5. (1) Where any Revenue Courts are governed by the provisions of this Code in those matters of procedure upon which any special enactment applicable to them is silent, the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare that any portions of those provisions which are not expressly made applicable by this Code shall not apply to those Courts, or shall only apply to them with such modifications as the Local Government, with the sanction aforesaid, may prescribe.

(2) "Revenue Court" in sub-section (1) means a Court having jurisdiction under any local law to entertain suits or other proceedings relating to the rent, revenue or profits of land used for agricultural purposes, but does not include a Civil Court having original jurisdiction under this Code to try such suits or proceedings as being suits or proceedings of a civil nature.

6. Save in so far as is otherwise expressly provided, nothing herein contained shall operate to give any Court jurisdiction over suits the amount or value of the subject-matter of which exceeds the pecuniary limits (if any) of its ordinary jurisdiction.

7. The following provisions shall not extend to Courts constituted under the Provincial Small Causes Courts Act, 1887, or to Courts exercising the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes under that Act, that is to say,— IX of 1887

(a) so much of the body of the Code as relates to—

(i) suits excepted from the cognizance of a Court of Small Causes ;

(ii) the execution of decrees in such suits ;

(iii) the execution of decrees against immoveable property ; and

(b) the following sections, that is to say,—

sections 91 and 92,

sections 94 and 95 so far as they relate to injunctions and interlocutory orders, and sections 106 to 112 and 115.

8. Save as provided in sections 24, 38 to 41, 75, clauses (a), (b) and (c), 76, 77
 Presidency and 155 to 158, and by the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, XV of 1882. Small Cause 1882, the provisions in the body of this Code shall not extend to Courts. any suit or proceeding in any Court of Small Causes established in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay.

PART I.

SUITS IN GENERAL.

Jurisdiction of the Courts and Res Judicata.

Courts to try 9. The Courts shall (subject to the provisions herein contained) all civil suits un- have jurisdiction to try all suits of a civil nature excepting suits of less barred. wh ch their cognizance is either expressly or impliedly barred.

Explanation.—A suit in which the right to property or to an office is contested is a suit of a civil nature, notwithstanding that such right may depend entirely on the decision of questions as to religious rites or ceremonies.

10. No Court shall proceed with the trial of any suit in which the matter in issue
 Stay of suit. is also directly and substantially in issue in a previously instituted suit between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title where such suit is pending in the same or any other Court in British India having jurisdiction to grant the relief claimed, or in any Court beyond the limits of British India established or continued by the Governor-General in Council and having like jurisdiction, or before His Majesty in Council.

Explanation.—The pendency of a suit in a foreign Court does not preclude the Courts in British India from trying a suit founded on the same cause of action.

11. No Court shall try any suit or issue in which the matter directly and sub-Ros judicata. stantially in issue has been directly and substantially in issue in a former suit between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim, litigating under the same title, in a Court competent to try such subsequent suit or the suit in which such issue has been subsequently raised, and has been heard and finally decided by such Court.

Explanation I.—The expression “ former suit ” shall denote a suit which has been decided prior to the suit in question whether or not it was instituted prior thereto.

Explanation II.—For the purposes of this section, the competence of a Court shall be determined irrespective of any provisions as to a right of appeal from the decision of such Court.

Explanation III.—The matter above referred to must in the former suit have been alleged by one party and either denied or admitted, expressly or impliedly, by the other.

Explanation IV.—Any matter which might and ought to have been made ground of defence or attack in such former suit shall be deemed to have been a matter directly and substantially in issue in such suit.

Explanation V.—Any relief claimed in the plaint, which is not expressly granted by the decree, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have been refused.

Explanation VI.—Where persons litigate bona fide in respect of a public right or of a private right claimed in common for themselves and others, all persons interested in such right shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to claim under the persons so litigating.

12. Where a plaintiff is precluded by rules from instituting a further suit in respect of any particular cause of action, he shall not be entitled to institute a suit in respect of such cause of action in any Court to which this Code applies.

13. A foreign judgment shall be conclusive as to any matter thereby directly adjudicated upon between the same parties or between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title except—

- (a) where it has not been pronounced by a Court of competent jurisdiction ;
- (b) where it has not been given on the merits of the case ;
- (c) where it appears on the face of the proceedings to be founded on an incorrect view of international law or a refusal to recognise the law of British India in cases in which such law is applicable ;
- (d) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained are opposed to natural justice ;
- (e) where it has been obtained by fraud ,
- (f) where it sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law in force in British India.

14. The Court shall presume, upon the production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, that such judgment was pronounced by a Court of competent jurisdiction, unless the contrary appears on the record ; but such presumption may be displaced by proving want of jurisdiction.

Place of Suing

Court in which suits to be instituted.

15. Every suit shall be instituted in the Court of the lowest grade competent to try it.

Suits to be instituted where subject matter situate.

16. Subject to the pecuniary or other limitations prescribed by any law, suits—

- (a) for the recovery of immoveable property with or without rent or profits,
- (b) for the partition of immoveable property,
- (c) for foreclosure, sale or redemption in the case of a mortgage of or charge upon immoveable property,
- (d) for the determination of any other right to or interest in immoveable property,
- (e) for compensation for wrong to immoveable property,
- (f) for the recovery of moveable property actually under distraint or attachment, shall be instituted in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate.

Provided that a suit to obtain relief respecting, or compensation for wrong to, immoveable property held by or on behalf of the defendant may, where the relief sought can be entirely obtained through his personal obedience, be instituted either in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate, or in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain.

Explanation.--In this section "property" means property situate in British India.

Suits for immoveable property situate within jurisdiction of different Courts.

17. Where a suit is to obtain relief respecting, or compensation for wrong to, immoveable property situate within the jurisdiction of different Courts, the suit may be instituted in any Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any portion of the property is situate :

Provided that, in respect of the value of the subject-matter of the suit, the entire claim is cognizable by such Court.

18. (1) Where it is alleged to be uncertain within the local limits of the jurisdiction of which of two or more Courts any immoveable property is situate, any one of those Courts may, if satisfied that there is ground for the alleged uncertainty, record a statement to that effect and thereupon proceed to entertain and dispose of any suit relating to that property, and its decree in the suit shall have the same effect as if the property were situate within the local limits of its jurisdiction :

Place of institution of suit where local limits of jurisdiction of Courts are uncertain.

Provided that the suit is one with respect to which the Court is competent as regards the nature and value of the suit to exercise jurisdiction.

(2) Where a statement has not been recorded under sub-section (1), and an objection is taken before an appellate or revisional Court that a decree or order in a suit relating to such property was made by a Court not having jurisdiction where the property is situate, the appellate or revisional Court shall not allow the objection unless in its opinion there was, at the time of the institution of the suit, no reasonable ground for uncertainty as to the Court having jurisdiction with respect thereto and there has been a consequent failure of justice.

19. Where a suit is for compensation for wrong done to the person or to moveable property, if the wrong was done within the local limits of the jurisdiction of one Court and the defendant resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of another Court, the suit may be instituted at the option of the plaintiff in either of the said Courts.

Illustrations.

(a) A, residing in Delhi, beats B in Calcutta. B may sue A either in Calcutta or in Delhi.

(b) A, residing in Delhi, publishes in Calcutta statements defamatory of B. B may sue A either in Calcutta or in Delhi.

Other suits to be instituted where defendants reside or cause of action arises.

20. Subject to the limitations aforesaid, every suit shall be instituted in a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction—

- (a) the defendant, or each of the defendants where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain; or
- (b) any of the defendants, where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain, provided that in such case either the leave of the Court is given, or the defendants who do not reside, or carry on business, or personally work for gain, as aforesaid, acquiesce in such institution; or
- (c) the cause of action, wholly or in part, arises.

Explanation I.—Where a person has a permanent dwelling at one place and also a temporary residence at another place, he shall be deemed to reside at both places in respect of any cause of action arising at the place where he has such temporary residence.

Explanation II.—A corporation shall be deemed to carry on business at its sole or principal office in British India or, in respect of any cause of action arising at any place where it has also a subordinate office, at such place.

Illustrations.

(a) A is a tradesman in Calcutta. B carries on business in Delhi. B, by his agent in Calcutta, buys goods of A and requests A to deliver them to the East Indian Railway Company. A delivers the goods accordingly in Calcutta. A may sue B for the price of the goods either in Calcutta, where the cause of action has arisen, or in Delhi, where B carries on business.

(b) A resides at Simla, B at Calcutta and C at Delhi. A, B and C being together at Benares, B and C make a joint promissory note payable on demand, and deliver it to A. A may sue B and C at Benares, where the cause of action arose. He may also sue them at Calcutta, where B resides, or at Delhi, where C resides; but in each of these cases, if the non-resident defendant objects, the suit cannot proceed without the leave of the Court.

21. No objection as to the place of suing shall be allowed by any appellate or revisional Court unless such objection was taken in the Court of first instance at the earliest possible opportunity and in all cases where issues are settled at or before such settlement, and unless there has been a consequent failure of justice.

22. Where a suit may be instituted in any one of two or more Courts and is instituted in one of such Courts, any defendant, after notice to the other parties may, at the earliest possible opportunity and in all cases where issues are settled at or before such settlement, apply to have the suit transferred to another Court, and the Court to which such application is made, after considering the objections of the other parties (if any), shall determine in which of the several Courts having jurisdiction the suit shall proceed.

To what Court application lies.

23. (1) Where the several Courts having jurisdiction are subordinate to the same Appellate Court, an application under section 22 shall be made to the Appellate Court.

(2) Where such Courts are subordinate to different Appellate Courts but to the same High Court, the application shall be made to the said High Court.

(3) Where such Courts are subordinate to different High Courts, the application shall be made to the High Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the Court in which the suit is brought is situated.

24. (1) On the application of any of the parties and after notice to the parties and after hearing such of them as desire to be heard, or of its own motion without such notice, the High Court or the District Court may at any stage—

- (a) transfer any suit, appeal or other proceeding pending before it for trial or disposal to any Court subordinate to it and competent to try or dispose of the same, or
- (b) withdraw any suit, appeal or other proceeding pending in any Court subordinate to it, and
 - (i) try or dispose of the same; or
 - (ii) transfer the same for trial or disposal to any Court subordinate to it and competent to try or dispose of the same; or
 - (iii) re-transfer the same for trial or disposal to the Court from which it was withdrawn.

(2) Where any suit or proceeding has been transferred or withdrawn under subsection (1), the Court which thereafter tries such suit may, subject to any special directions in the case of an order of transfer, either retry it or proceed from the point at which it was transferred or withdrawn.

(3) For the purposes of this section, Courts of Additional and Assistant Judges shall be deemed to be subordinate to the District Court.

(4) The Court trying any suit transferred or withdrawn under this section from a Court of Small Causes shall, for the purposes of such suit, be deemed to be a Court of Small Causes.

25. (1) Where any party to a suit, appeal or other proceeding pending in a High Court presided over by a single Judge objects to its being heard by him and the Judge is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for the objection, he shall make a report to the Governor General in Council, who may, by notification in the Gazette of India, transfer such suit, appeal or proceeding to any other High Court.

(2) The law applicable to any suit, appeal or proceeding so transferred shall be the law which the Court in which the suit, appeal or proceeding was originally instituted ought to have applied to such case.

Institution of suits.

26. Every suit shall be instituted by the presentation of a plaint or in such other manner as may be prescribed.

Summons and Discovery.

27. Where a suit has been duly instituted, a summons may be issued to the defendant to appear and answer the claim and may be issued in manner prescribed.

28. (1) A summons may be sent for service in another province to such Court and in such manner as may be prescribed by rules in force in that province.

(2) The Court to which such summons is sent shall, upon receipt thereof, proceed as if it had been issued by such Court and shall then return the summons to the Court of issue together with the record (if any) of its proceedings with regard thereto.

Service of
monses.

29. Summonses issued by any Civil or Revenue Court situate beyond the limits of British India may be sent to the Courts in British India and served as if they had been issued by such Courts :

Provided that the Courts issuing such summonses have been established or continued by the authority of the Governor General in Council, or that the Governor General in Council has, by notification in the Gazette of India, declared the provisions of this section to apply to such Courts.

Power to order discovery and the like.

- (a) make such orders as may be necessary or reasonable in all matters relating to the delivery and answering of interrogatories, the admission of documents and facts, and the discovery, inspection, production, impounding and return of documents or other material objects producible as evidence ;
- (b) issue summonses to persons whose attendance is required either to give evidence or to produce documents or such other objects as aforesaid ;
- (c) order any fact to be proved by affidavit.

Summons to witness.

31. The provisions in sections 27, 28 and 29 shall apply to summonses to give evidence or to produce documents or other material objects.

Penalty for default.

32. The Court may compel the attendance of any person to whom a summons has been issued under section 30 and for that purpose may—

- (a) issue a warrant for his arrest ;
- (b) attach and sell his property ;
- (c) impose a fine upon him not exceeding five hundred rupees ;
- (d) order him to furnish security for his appearance and in default to commit him to the civil prison.

Judgment and Decree.

Judgment and decree.

33. The Court, after the case has been heard, shall pronounce judgment, and on such judgment a decree shall follow.

Interest.

34. (1) Where and in so far as a decree is for the payment of money, the Court may, in the decree, order interest at such rate as the Court deems reasonable to be paid on the principal sum adjudged, from the date of the suit to the date of the decree, in addition to any interest adjudged on such principal sum for any period prior to the institution of the suit, with further interest at such rate as the Court deems reasonable on the aggregate sum so adjudged, from the date of the decree to the date of payment, or to such earlier date as the Court thinks fit.

(2) Where such a decree is silent with respect to the payment of further interest on such aggregate sum as aforesaid from the date of the decree to the date of payment or other earlier date, the Court shall be deemed to have refused such interest, and a separate suit therefor shall not lie.

Costs.

35. (1) Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, and to the provisions of any law for the time being in force, the costs of and incident to all suits shall be in the discretion of the Court, and the Court shall have full power to determine by whom or out of what property and to what extent such costs are to be paid, and to give all 'necessary directions for the purposes aforesaid. The fact that the Court has no jurisdiction to try the suit shall be no bar to the exercise of such powers.

(2) Where the Court directs that any costs shall not follow the event, the Court shall state its reasons in writing.

(3) The Court may give interest on costs at any rate not exceeding six per cent. per annum, and such interest shall be added to the costs and shall be recoverable as such.

PART II.

EXECUTION.

General.

36. The provisions of this Code relating to the execution of decrees shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to the execution of orders.

37. The expression "Court which passed a decree," or words to that effect, shall, in relation to the execution of decrees, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, be deemed to include,—

- (a) where the decree to be executed has been passed in the exercise of appellate jurisdiction, the Court of first instance, and
- (b) where the Court of first instance has ceased to exist or to have jurisdiction to execute it, the Court which, if the suit wherein the decree was passed was instituted at the time of making the application for the execution of the decree, would have jurisdiction to try such suit.

Courts by which decrees may be executed.

38. A decree may be executed either by the Court which passed it, or by the Court to which it is sent for execution.

39. (1) The Court which passed a decree may, on the application of the decree-holder, send it for execution to another Court,—

- (a) if the person against whom the decree is passed actually and voluntarily resides or carries on business, or personally works for gain, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such other Court, or
- (b) if such person has not property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree sufficient to satisfy such decree and has property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such other Court, or
- (c) if the decree directs the sale or delivery of immoveable property situate outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed it, or
- (d) if the Court which passed the decree considers for any other reason, which it shall record in writing, that the decree should be executed by such other Court.

(2) The Court which passed a decree may of its own motion send it for execution to any subordinate Court of competent jurisdiction.

Transfer of decree to Court in another province.

40. Where a decree is sent for execution in another province, it shall be sent to such Court and executed in such manner as may be prescribed by rules in force in that province.

Result of execution-proceedings to be certified.

41. The Court to which a decree is sent for execution shall certify to the Court which passed it the fact of such execution, or where the former Court fails to execute the same the circumstances attending such failure.

42. The Court executing a decree sent to it shall have the same powers in executing such decree as if it had been passed by itself. All persons disobeying or obstructing the execution of the decree shall be punishable by such Court in the same manner as if it had passed the decree. And its order in executing such decree shall be subject to the same rules in respect of appeal as if the decree had been passed by itself.

Powers of Court in executing transferred decree

43. Any decree passed by a Civil Court established in any part of British India to which the provisions relating to execution do not extend, or by any Court established or continued by the authority of the Governor General in Council in the territories of any foreign Prince or State may, if it cannot be executed within the jurisdiction of the Court by which it was passed, be executed in manner herein provided within the jurisdiction of any Court in British India.

Execution of decrees passed by British Courts in places to which this Part does not extend or in foreign territory.

44. The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that the decrees of any Civil or Revenue Courts situate in the territories of any native Prince or State in alliance with His Majesty and not established or continued by the authority of the Governor General in Council, or any class of such decrees, may be executed in British India as if they had been passed by the Courts of British India.

45. So much of the foregoing sections of this part as empowers a Court to send a decree for execution to another Court shall be construed as empowering a Court in British India to send a decree for execution to any Court established or continued by the authority of the Governor General in Council in the territories of any foreign Prince or State to which the Governor General in Council has, by notification in the Gazette of India, declared this section to apply.

Execution of decrees in foreign territory.

46. (1) Upon the application of the decree-holder the Court which passed the decree may, whenever it thinks fit, issue a precept to any other Court which would be competent to execute such decree to attach any property belonging to the judgment-debtor and specified in the precept.

(2) The Court to which a precept is sent shall proceed to attach the property in the manner prescribed in regard to the attachment of property in execution of a decree :

Provided that no attachment under a precept shall continue for more than two months unless the period of attachment is extended by an order of the Court which passed the decree or unless before the determination of such attachment the decree has been transferred to the Court by which the attachment has been made and the decree-holder has applied for an order for the sale of such property.

Questions to be determined by Court executing decree.

Questions to be determined by the Court executing decree.

47. (1) All questions arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed, or their representatives, and relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree, shall be determined by the Court executing the decree and not by a separate suit.

(2) The Court may, subject to any objection as to limitation or jurisdiction, treat a proceeding under this section as a suit or a suit as a proceeding and may, if necessary, order payment of any additional court-fees.

(3) Where a question arises as to whether any person is or is not the representative of a party, such question shall, for the purposes of this section, be determined by the Court.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed and a defendant against whom a suit has been dismissed, are parties to the suit.

Limit of time for execution.

48. (1) Where an application to execute a decree not being a decree granting an injunction has been made, no order for the execution of the same decree shall be made upon any fresh application presented after the expiration of twelve years from—

- (a) the date of the decree sought to be executed, or,
- (b) where the decree or any subsequent order directs any payment of money or the delivery of any property to be made at a certain date or at recurring periods, the date of the default in making the payment or delivery in respect of which the applicant seeks to execute the decree.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed—

- (a) to preclude the Court from ordering the execution of a decree upon an application presented after the expiration of the said term of twelve years, where the judgment-debtor has, by fraud or force, prevented the execution of the decree at some time within twelve years immediately before the date of the application ; or
- (b) to limit or otherwise affect the operation of article 180 of the second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877.

Transferees and legal representatives.

49. Every transferee of a decree shall hold the same subject to the equities (if any) which the judgment-debtor might have enforced against the original decree-holder.

50. (1) Where a judgment-debtor dies before the decree has been fully satisfied, the holder of the decree may apply to the Court which passed it to execute the same against the legal representative of the deceased.

(2) Where the decree is executed against such legal representative, he shall be liable only to the extent of the property of the deceased which has come to his hands and has not been duly disposed of ; and, for the purpose of ascertaining such liability, the Court executing the decree may, of its own motion or on the application of the decree-holder, compel such legal representative to produce such accounts as it thinks fit.

Procedure in execution.

51. Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may, on the application of the decree-holder, order execution of the decree—

- (a) by delivery of any property specifically decreed ;
- (b) by attachment and sale or by sale without attachment of any property ;
- (c) by arrest and detention in prison ;
- (d) by appointing a receiver ; or
- (e) in such other manner as the nature of the relief granted may require.

52. (1) Where a decree is passed against a party as the legal representative of a deceased person, and the decree is for the payment of money out of the property of the deceased, it may be executed by the attachment and sale of any such property.

(2) Where no such property remains in the possession of the judgment-debtor and he fails to satisfy the Court that he has duly applied such property of the deceased as is proved to have come into his possession, the decree may be executed against the judgment-debtor to the extent of the property in respect of which he has failed so to satisfy the Court in the same manner as if the decree had been against him personally.

53. For the purposes of section 50 and section 52, property in the hands of a son or other descendant which is liable under Hindu law for the payment of the debt of a deceased ancestor, in respect of which a decree has been passed, shall be deemed to be property of the deceased which has come to the hands of the son or other descendant as his legal representative.

54. Where the decree is for the partition of an undivided estate assessed to the payment of revenue to the Government, or for the separate possession of a share of such an estate, the partition of the estate or the separation of the share shall be made by the Collector or any gazetted subordinate of the Collector deputed by him in this behalf, in accordance with the law (if any) for the time being in force relating to the partition, or the separate possession of shares, of such estates.

Arrest and detention.

55. (1) A judgment-debtor may be arrested in execution of a decree at any hour and on any day, and shall, as soon as practicable, be brought before the Court, and his detention may be in the civil prison of the district in which the Court ordering the detention is situate, or, where such civil prison does not afford suitable accommodation, in any other place which the Local Government may appoint for the detention of persons ordered by the Courts of such district to be detained :

Provided, firstly, that, for the purpose of making an arrest under this section, no dwelling-house shall be entered after sunset and before sunrise :

Provided, secondly, that no outer door of a dwelling-house shall be broken open unless such dwelling-house is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor and he refuses or in any way prevents access thereto, but when the officer authorized to make the arrest has duly gained access to any dwelling-house, he may break open the door of any room in which he has reason to believe the judgment-debtor is to be found :

Provided, thirdly, that, if the room is in the actual occupancy of a woman who is not the judgment-debtor and who according to the customs of the country does not appear in public, the officer authorized to make the arrest shall give notice to her that she is at liberty to withdraw, and, after allowing a reasonable time for her to withdraw and giving her reasonable facility for withdrawing, may enter the room for the purpose of making the arrest :

Provided, fourthly, that, where the decree in execution of which a judgment-debtor is arrested, is a decree for the payment of money and the judgment-debtor pays the amount of the decree and the costs of the arrest to the officer arresting him, such officer shall at once release him.

(2) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare that any person or class of persons whose arrest might be attended with danger or inconvenience to the public shall not be liable to arrest in execution of a decree otherwise than in accordance with such procedure as may be prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf.

(3) Where a judgment-debtor is arrested in execution of a decree for the payment of money and brought before the Court, the Court shall inform him that he may apply to be declared an insolvent, and that he will be discharged if he has not committed any act of bad faith regarding the subject of the application and if he complies with the provisions of the law of insolvency for the time being in force.

(4) Where a judgment-debtor expresses his intention to apply to be declared an insolvent and furnishes security, to the satisfaction of the Court, that he will within one month so apply, and that he will appear, when called upon, in any proceeding upon the application or upon the decree in execution of which he was arrested, the Court shall release him from arrest, and, if he fails so to apply and to appear, the Court may either direct the security to be realized or commit him to the civil prison in execution of the decree.

Prohibition of arrest or detention of women in execution of decree for money.

56. Notwithstanding anything in this part, the Court shall not order the arrest or detention in the civil prison of a woman in execution of a decree for the payment of money.

Subsistence-allowance.

57. The Local Government may fix scales, graduated according to rank, race and nationality, of monthly allowances payable for the subsistence of judgment-debtors.

Detention and release.

58. (1) Every person detained in the civil prison in execution of a decree shall be so detained,—

(a) where the decree is for the payment of a sum of money exceeding fifty rupees, for a period of six months, and,

(b) in any other case, for a period of six weeks :

(i) on the amount mentioned in the warrant for his detention being paid to the officer in charge of the civil prison, or

(ii) on the decree against him being otherwise fully satisfied, or

(iii) on the request of the person on whose application he has been so detained, or

(iv) on the omission by the person, on whose application he has been so detained, to pay subsistence-allowance :

Provided, also, that he shall not be released from such detention under clause (ii) or clause (iii), without the order of the Court.

(2) A judgment-debtor released from detention under this section shall not merely by reason of his release be discharged from his debt, but he shall not be liable to be re-arrested under the decree in execution of which he was detained in the civil prison.

Release on ground of illness.

59. (1) At any time after a warrant for the arrest of a judgment-debtor has been issued the Court may cancel it on the ground of his serious illness.

(2) Where a judgment-debtor has been arrested, the Court may release him if, in its opinion, he is not in a fit state of health to be detained in the civil prison.

(3) Where a judgment-debtor has been committed to the civil prison, he may be released therefrom—

- (a) by the Local Government, on the ground of the existence of any infectious or contagious disease, or
- (b) by the committing Court, or any Court to which that Court is subordinate, on the ground of his suffering from any serious illness.

(4) A judgment-debtor released under this section may be re-arrested, but the period of his detention in the civil prison shall not in the aggregate exceed that prescribed by section 58.

60. (1) The following property is liable to attachment and sale in execution of a Attachme

Property liable to attachment and sale in execution of decree. decree, namely, lands, houses or other buildings, goods, money, banknotes, cheques, bills of exchange, hundis, promissory notes, Government securities, bonds or other securities for money, debts, shares in a corporation and, save as hereinafter mentioned, all other saleable property, moveable or immoveable, belonging to the judgment-debtor, or over which, or the profits of which, he has a disposing power which he may exercise for his own benefit, whether the same be held in the name of the judgment-debtor or by another person in trust for him or on his behalf :

Provided that the following particulars shall not be liable to such attachment or sale, namely :—

- (a) the necessary wearing-apparel, cooking vessels, beds and bedding of the judgment-debtor, his wife and children, and such personal ornaments as, in accordance with religious usage, cannot be parted with by any woman ;
- (b) tools of artisans, and, where the judgment-debtor is an agriculturist, his implements of husbandry and such cattle and seed-grain as may, in the opinion of the Court, be necessary to enable him to earn his livelihood as such, and such portion of agricultural produce or of any class of agricultural produce as may have been declared to be free from liability under the provisions of the next following section ;
- (c) houses and other buildings (with the materials and the sites thereof and the land immediately appurtenant thereto and necessary for their enjoyment) belonging to an agriculturist and occupied by him ;
- (d) books of account ;
- (e) a mere right to sue for damages ;
- (f) any right of personal service ;
- (g) stipends and gratuities allowed to pensioners of the Government, or payable out of any service family pension fund notified in the Gazette of India by the Governor General in Council in this behalf, and political pensions ;
- (h) allowances (being less than salary) of any public officer or of any servant of a railway company or local authority while absent from duty ,
- (i) the salary or allowances equal to salary of any such public officer or servant as is referred to in clause (h), while on duty, to the extent of—
 - (i) the whole of the salary, where the salary does not exceed twenty rupees monthly ;
 - (ii) twenty rupees monthly, where the salary exceeds twenty rupees and does not exceed forty rupees monthly ; and
 - iii) one moiety of the salary in any other case ;

V of 1869.

(j) the pay and allowances of persons to whom the Indian Articles of War apply ;

IX of 1897.

(k) all compulsory deposits and other sums in or derived from any fund to which the Provident Funds Act, 1897, for the time being applies in so far as they are declared by the said Act not to be liable to attachment ;

(l) the wages of labourers and domestic servants whether payable in money or in kind ;

(m) an expectancy of succession by survivorship or other merely contingent or possible right or interest ;

(n) a right to future maintenance ;

24 and 25 Vict.
c. 67, 55 and
56 Vict. c. 14.

(o) any allowance declared by any law passed under the Indian Councils Acts, 1861 and 1892, to be exempt from liability to attachment or sale in execution of a decree ; and,

(p) where the judgment-debtor is a person liable for the payment of land revenue, any moveable property which, under any law for the time being applicable to him, is exempt from sale for the recovery of an arrear of such revenue.

Explanation.—The particulars mentioned in clauses (g), (h), (i), (j), (l) and (o) are exempt from attachment or sale whether before or after they are actually payable.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed—

(a) to exempt houses and other buildings (with the materials and the sites thereof and the lands immediately appurtenant thereto and necessary for their enjoyment) from attachment or sale in execution of decrees for rent of any such house, building, site or land, or 44 and 45 Vict.

c. 58.

(b) to affect the provisions of the Army Act or of any similar law for the time being in force.

61. The Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Partial exemption of agricultural produce.

Council, may, by general or special order published in the local official Gazette, declare that such portion of agricultural produce, or of any class of agricultural produce, as may appear to the Local Government to be necessary for the purpose of providing until the next harvest for the due cultivation of the land and for the support of the judgment-debtor and his family shall, in the case of all agriculturists or of any class of agriculturists, be exempted from liability to attachment or sale in execution of a decree.

Seizure of property in dwelling-house.

62. (1) No person executing any process under this Code directing or authorizing seizure of moveable property shall enter any dwelling-house after sunset and before sunrise.

(2) No outer door of a dwelling-house shall be broken open unless such dwelling-house is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor and he refuses or in any way prevents access thereto, but when the person executing any such process has duly gained access to any dwelling-house, he may break open the door of any room in which he has reason to believe any such property to be.

(3) Where a room in a dwelling-house is in the actual occupancy of a woman who, according to the customs of the country, does not appear in public, the person executing the process shall give notice to such woman that she is at liberty to withdraw : and, after allowing reasonable time for her to withdraw and giving her reasonable facility for withdrawing, he may enter such room for the purpose of seizing the property, using at the same time every precaution, consistent with these provisions, to prevent its clandestine removal.

63. (1) Where property not in the custody of any Court is under attachment in execution of decrees of more Courts than one, the Court which shall receive or realize such property and shall determine any claim there-to and any objection to the attachment thereof shall be the Court of highest grade, or, where there is no difference in grade between such Courts, the Court under whose decrees the property was first attached.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to invalidate any proceeding taken by a Court executing one of such decrees.

64. Where an attachment has been made, any private transfer or delivery of the property attached or of any interest therein and any payment to the judgment-debtor of any debt, dividend or other monies contrary to such attachment, shall be void as against all claims enforceable under the attachment.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, claims enforceable under an attachment include claims for the rateable distribution of assets.

Sale.

65. Where immoveable property is sold in execution of a decree and such sale has become absolute, the property shall be deemed to have vested in the purchaser from the time when the property is sold and not from the time when the sale becomes absolute.

Purchaser's title.
Suit against purchaser not maintainable on ground of purchase being on behalf of plaintiff.

66. (1) No suit shall be maintained against any person claiming title under a purchase certified by the Court in such manner as may be prescribed on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of the plaintiff or on behalf of some one through whom the plaintiff claims.

(2) Nothing in this section shall bar a suit to obtain a declaration that the name of any purchaser certified as aforesaid was inserted in the certificate fraudulently or without the consent of the real purchaser, or interfere with the right of a third person to proceed against that property, though ostensibly sold to the certified purchaser, on the ground that it is liable to satisfy a claim of such third person against the real owner.

67. The Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may, by notification in the local official Gazette, make rules for any local area imposing conditions in respect of the sale of any class of interests in land in execution of decrees for the payment of money where such interests are so uncertain or undetermined as, in the opinion of the Local Government, to make it impossible to fix their value.

Delegation to Collector of power to execute decrees against immoveable property.

68. The Local Government may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, declare, by notification in the local official Gazette, that in any local area the execution of decrees in cases in which a Court has ordered any immoveable property to be sold, or the execution of any particular kind of such decrees, or the execution of decrees ordering the sale of any particular kind of, or interest in, immoveable property, shall be transferred to the Collector.

Provisions of Third Schedule to apply.

69. The provisions set forth in the Third Schedule shall apply to all cases in which the execution of a decree has been transferred under the last preceding section.

Rules of procedure.

70. (1) The Local Government may make rules consistent with the aforesaid provisions—

(a) for the transmission of the decree from the Court to the Collector, and for regulating the procedure of the Collector and his subordinates in executing the same, and for retransmitting the decree from the Collector to the Court;

(b) conferring upon the Collector or any gazetted subordinate of the Collector all or any of the powers which the Court might exercise in the execution of the decree if the execution thereof had not been transferred to the Collector;

(c) providing for orders made by the Collector or any gazetted subordinate of the Collector, or orders made on appeal with respect to such orders, being subject to appeal to, and revision by, superior revenue-authorities as nearly as may be as the orders made by the Court, or orders made on appeal with respect to such orders, would be subject to appeal to, and revision by, appellate or revisional Courts under this Code or other law for the time being in force if the decree had not been transferred to the Collector.

(2) A power conferred by rules made under sub-section (1) upon the Collector or any gazetted subordinate of the Collector, or upon any appellate or revisional authority, shall not be exerciseable by the Court or by any Court in exercise of any appellate or revisional jurisdiction which it has with respect to decrees or orders of the Court.

Jurisdiction of Civil Courts barred.

Collector deemed to be acting judicially.

71. In executing a decree transferred to the Collector under section 63 the Collector and his subordinates shall be deemed to be acting judicially.

72. (1) Where in any local area in which no declaration under section 68 is in force the property attached consists of land or of a share in land, and the Collector represents to the Court that the public sale of the land or share is objectionable and that satisfaction of the decree may be made within a reasonable period by a temporary alienation of the land or share, the Court may authorize the Collector to provide for such satisfaction in the manner recommended by him instead of proceeding to a sale of the land or share.

Where Court may authorize Collector to say public sale of land.

(2) In every such case the provisions of sections 69 to 71 and of any rules made in pursuance thereof shall apply so far as they are applicable.

Distribution of Assets.

73. (1) Where assets are held by a Court and more persons than one have, before the receipt of such assets, made application to the Court for the execution of decrees for the payment of money passed against the same judgment-debtor and have not obtained satisfaction thereof, the assets, after deducting the costs of realization, shall be rateably distributed among all such persons.

Proceeds of execution sale to be rateably distributed among decree-holders.

Provided as follows :—

- (a) where any property is sold subject to a mortgage or charge, the mortgagee or incumbrancer shall not be entitled to share in any surplus arising from such sale;
- (b) where any property liable to be sold in execution of a decree is subject to a mortgage or charge, the Court may, with the consent of the mortgagee or incumbrancer, order that the property be sold free from the mortgage or charge, giving to the mortgagee or incumbrancer the same interest in the proceeds of the sale as he had in the property sold;
- (c) where any immoveable property is sold in execution of a decree ordering its sale for the discharge of an incumbrance thereon, the proceeds of sale shall be applied—
 - first, in defraying the expenses of the sale;
 - secondly, in discharging the amount due under the decree;
 - thirdly, in discharging the interest and principal monies due on subsequent incumbrances (if any); and,
 - fourthly, rateably among the holders of decrees for the payment of money against the judgment-debtor, who have, prior to the sale of the property, applied to the Court which passed the decree ordering such sale for execution of such decrees, and have not obtained satisfaction thereof.

(2) Where all or any of the assets liable to be rateably distributed under this section are paid to a person not entitled to receive the same, any person so entitled may sue such person to compel him to refund the assets.

(3) Nothing in this section affects any right of the Government.

Resistance to Execution.

74. Where the Court is satisfied that the holder of a decree for the possession of immoveable property or that the purchaser of immoveable property sold in execution of a decree has been resisted or obstructed in obtaining possession of the property by the judgment-debtor or some person on his behalf and that such resistance or obstruction was without any just cause, the Court may, at the instance of the decree-holder or purchaser, order the judgment-debtor or such other person to be detained in the civil prison for a term which may extend to thirty days and may further direct that the decree-holder or purchaser be put into possession of the property.

PART III.

INCIDENTAL PROCEEDINGS.

Commissions.

Power of Court to issue commissions.

75. Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may issue a commission—

- (a) to examine any person;
- (b) to make a local investigation;
- (c) to examine or adjust accounts; or
- (d) to make a partition.

76. (1) A commission for the examination of any person may be issued to any Court (not being a High Court) situate in a province other than the province in which the Court of issue is situate and having jurisdiction in the place in which the person to be examined resides.

(2) Every Court receiving a commission for the examination of any person under sub-section (1) shall examine him or cause him to be examined pursuant thereto, and the commission, when it has been duly executed, shall be returned together with the evidence taken under it to the Court from which it was issued, unless the order for issuing the commission has otherwise directed, in which case the commission shall be returned in terms of such order.

77. In lieu of issuing a commission the Court may issue a letter of request to examine a witness residing at any place not within British India.

78. The provisions as to the execution and return of commissions for the examination of witnesses shall apply to commissions issued by —

- (a) Courts situate beyond the limits of British India and established or continued by the authority of His Majesty or of the Governor General in Council, or
- (b) Courts situate in any part of the British Empire other than British India, or
- (c) Courts of any foreign country for the time being in alliance with His Majesty.

PART IV.

SUITS IN PARTICULAR CASES.

Suits by or against the Government or Public Officers in their official capacity.

79. (1) Suits by or against the Government shall be instituted by or against the Secretary of State for India in Council.

33 Geo. 3 C., 155. (2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any information exhibited by the Advocate General in exercise of the power declared by section 111 of the East India Company Act, 1813.

80. No suit shall be instituted against the Secretary of State for India in Council, or against a public officer in respect of any act purporting to be done by such public officer in his official capacity, until the expiration of two months next after notice in writing has been, in the case of the Secretary of State in Council, delivered to, or left at the office of, a Secretary to the Local Government or the Collector of the district, and, in the case of a public officer, delivered to him or left at his office, stating the cause of action, the name, description and place of residence of the plaintiff and the relief which he claims; and the plaint shall contain a statement that such notice has been so delivered or left.

81. In a suit instituted against a public officer in respect of any act purporting to be done by him in his official capacity—

- (a) the defendant shall not be liable to arrest nor his property to attachment otherwise than in execution of a decree, and,

(b) where the Court is satisfied that the defendant cannot absent himself from his duty without detriment to the public service, it shall exempt him from appearing in person.

82. (1) Where the decree is against the Secretary of State for India in Council or against a public officer in respect of any such act as aforesaid, a time shall be specified in the decree within which it shall be satisfied; and, if the decree is not satisfied within the time so specified, the Court shall report the case for the orders of the Local Government.

(2) Execution shall not be issued on any such decree unless it remains unsatisfied for the period of three months computed from the date of such report.

Suits by Aliens and by or against Foreign and Native Rulers.

83. (1) Alien enemies residing in British India with the permission of the Governor General in Council, and alien friends, may sue in the Courts of British India, as if they were subjects of His Majesty.

(2) No alien enemy residing in British India without such permission, or residing in a foreign country, shall sue in any of such Courts.

Explanation.—Every person residing in a foreign country the Government of which is at war with the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and carrying on business in that country without a license in that behalf under the hand of one of His Majesty's Secretaries of State or of a Secretary to the Government of India, shall, for the purpose of sub-section (2), be deemed to be an alien enemy residing in a foreign country.

When foreign States may sue. 84. (1) A foreign State may sue in any Court of British India:

Provided that such State has been recognized by His Majesty or by the Governor General in Council:

Provided, also, that the object of the suit is to enforce a private right vested in the head of such State or in any officer of such State in his public capacity.

(2) Every Court shall take judicial notice of the fact that a foreign State has or has not been recognized by His Majesty or by the Governor General in Council.

85. (1) Persons specially appointed by order of the Government at the request of any Sovereign Prince or Ruling Chief, whether in subordinate alliance with the British Government or otherwise, and whether residing within or without British India, or at the request of any person competent, in the opinion of the Government, to act on behalf of such Prince or Chief, to prosecute or defend any suit on his behalf, shall be deemed to be the recognized agents by whom appearances, acts and applications under this Code may be made or done on behalf of such Prince or Chief.

(2) An appointment under this section may be made for the purpose of a specified suit or of several specified suits, or for the purpose of all such suits as it may from time to time be necessary to prosecute or defend on behalf of the Prince or Chief.

(3) A person appointed under this section may authorize or appoint persons to make appearances and applications and do acts in any such suit or suits as if he were himself a party thereto.

86. (1) Any such Prince or Chief, and any ambassador or envoy of a foreign State, may, with the consent of the Governor General in Council, certified by the signature of a Secretary to the Government of India, but not without such consent, be sued in any competent Court.

Suits against Princes, Chiefs, ambassadors and envoys.

(2) Such consent may be given with respect to a specified suit or to several specified suits, or with respect to all suits of any specified class or classes, and may specify, in the case of any suit or class of suits, the Court in which the Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy may be sued; but it shall not be given unless it appears to the Government that the Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy—

(a) has instituted a suit in the Court against the person desiring to sue him, or

(b) by himself or another trades within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

(c) is in possession of immoveable property situate within those limits and is to be sued with reference to such property or for money charged thereon.

(3) No such Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy shall be arrested under this Code, and, except with the consent of the Governor General in Council certified as aforesaid, no decree shall be executed against the property of any such Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy.

(4) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, authorize a Local Government and any Secretary to that Government to exercise with respect to any Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy named in the notification, the functions assigned by the foregoing sub-sections to the Governor General in Council and a Secretary to the Government of India, respectively.

(5) A person may, as a tenant of immoveable property, sue, without such consent as is mentioned in this section, a Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy from whom he holds or claims to hold the property.

Style of Princes and Chiefs as parties to suits.

87. A Sovereign Prince or Ruling Chief may sue, and shall be sued, in the name of his State.

Provided that in giving the consent referred to in the foregoing section the Governor General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, may direct that any such Prince or Chief shall be sued in the name of an agent or in any other name.

Interpleader.

88. Where two or more persons claim adversely to one another the same debt, sum of money or other property, moveable or immoveable, from another person, who claims no interest therein other than for charges or costs and who is ready to pay or deliver it to the rightful claimant, such other person may institute a suit of interpleader against all the claimants for the purpose of obtaining a decision as to the person to whom the payment or delivery shall be made, and of obtaining indemnity for himself.

Provided that where any suit is pending in which the rights of all parties can properly be decided, no such suit of interpleader shall be instituted.

PART V.

SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS.

Arbitration.

89. (1) Save in so far as is otherwise provided by the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899, or by any other law for the time being in force, all references to arbitration whether by an order in a suit or otherwise, and all proceedings thereunder, shall be governed by the provisions contained in the Second Schedule.

(2) The provisions of the Second Schedule shall not affect any arbitration pending at the commencement of this Code, but shall apply to any arbitration after that date under any agreement or reference made before the commencement of this Code.

Special Case.

Power to state case for opinion of Court. 90. Where any persons agree in writing to state a case for the opinion of the Court, then the Court shall try and determine the same in the manner prescribed.

Suits relating to Public Matters.

Public nuisances. 91. (1) In the case of a public nuisance the Advocate General, or two or more persons having obtained the consent in writing of the Advocate General, may institute a suit, though no special damage has been caused, for a declaration and injunction or for such other relief as may be appropriate to the circumstances of the case.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any right of suit which may exist independently of its provisions.

Public charities. 92. (1) In the case of any alleged breach of any express or constructive trust created for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature, or where the direction of the Court is deemed necessary for the administration of any such trust, the Advocate General, or two or more persons having an interest in the trust and having obtained the consent in writing of the Advocate General, may institute a suit, whether contentious or not, in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction or in any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Government within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the whole or any part of the subject-matter of the trust is situate to obtain a decree—

- (a) removing any trustee ;
- (b) appointing a new trustee ;
- (c) vesting any property in a trustee ;
- (d) directing accounts and inquiries ;
- (e) declaring what proportion of the trust-property or of the interest therein shall be allocated to any particular object of the trust ;
- (f) authorizing the whole or any part of the trust-property to be let, sold, mortgaged or exchanged ;
- (g) settling a scheme ; or
- (h) granting such further or other relief as the nature of the case may require.

(2) Save as provided by the Religious Endowments Act, 1863, no suit claiming any of the reliefs specified in sub-section (1) shall be instituted in respect of any such trust as is therein referred to except in conformity with the provisions of that sub-section. XX of 1863.

Exercise of powers of Advocate-General outside Presidency-towns.

93. The powers conferred by sections 91 and 92 on the Advocate-General may, outside the Presidency-towns, be, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, exercised also by the Collector or by such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

PART VI.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROCEEDINGS.

Supplemental proceedings. 94. In order to prevent the ends of justice from being defeated the Court may, if it is so prescribed,—

- (a) issue a warrant to arrest the defendant and bring him before the Court to show cause why he should not give security for his appearance, and if he fails to comply with any order for security commit him to the civil prison ;
- (b) direct the defendant to furnish security to produce any property belonging to him and to place the same at the disposal of the Court or order the attachment of any property ;
- (c) grant a temporary injunction and in case of disobedience commit the person guilty thereof to the civil prison and order that his property be attached and sold ;
- (d) appoint a receiver of any property and enforce the performance of his duties by attaching and selling his property ;
- (e) make such other interlocutory orders as may appear to the Court to be just and convenient.

Compensation for obtaining arrest, attachment or injunction on insufficient grounds.

95. (1) Where, in any suit in which an arrest or attachment has been effected or a temporary injunction granted under the last preceding section,—

- (a) it appears to the Court that such arrest, attachment or injunction was applied for on insufficient grounds, or
 - (b) the suit of the plaintiff fails and it appears to the Court that there was no reasonable or probable ground for instituting the same,
- the defendant may apply to the Court, and the Court may, upon such application, award against the plaintiff by its order such amount, not exceeding one thousand rupees, as it deems a reasonable compensation to the defendant for the expense or injury caused to him :

Provided that a Court shall not award, under this section, an amount exceeding the limits of its pecuniary jurisdiction.

- (2) An order determining any such application shall bar any suit for compensation in respect of such arrest, attachment or injunction.

PART VII.

APPEALS.

Appeals from Original Decrees.

96. (1) Save where otherwise expressly provided in the body of this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie from every decree passed by any Court exercising original jurisdiction to the Court authorized to hear appeals from the decisions of such Court.

- (2) An appeal may lie from an original decree passed ex parte.
- (3) No appeal shall lie from a decree passed by the Court with the consent of parties.

Appeal from final decree where no appeal from preliminary decree.

97. Where any party aggrieved by a preliminary decree passed after the commencement of this Code does not appeal from such decree, he shall be precluded from disputing its correctness in any appeal which may be preferred from the final decree.

Decision where appeal heard by two or more Judges.

98. (1) Where an appeal is heard by a Bench of two or more Judges, the appeal shall be decided in accordance with the opinion of such Judges or of the majority (if any) of such Judges.

(2) Where there is no such majority which concurs in a judgment varying or reversing the decree appealed from, such decree shall be confirmed :

Provided that where the Bench hearing the appeal is composed of two Judges belonging to a Court consisting of more than two Judges, and the Judges composing the Bench differ in opinion on a point of law, they may state the point of law upon which they differ, and the appeal shall then be heard upon that point only by one or more of the other Judges, and such point shall be decided according to the opinion of the majority (if any) of the Judges who have heard the appeal, including those who first heard it.

No decree to be reversed or modified for error or irregularity not affecting merits or jurisdiction.

99. No decree shall be reversed or substantially varied, nor shall any case be remanded, in appeal on account of any misjoinder of parties or causes of action or any error, defect or irregularity in any proceedings in the suit, not affecting the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court.

Appeals from Appellate Decrees.

100. (1) Save where otherwise expressly provided in the body of this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie to the High Court from every decree passed in appeal by any Court subordinate to a High Court, on any of the following grounds, namely :—

- (a) the decision being contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law ;
- (b) the decision having failed to determine some material issue of law or usage having the force of law ;
- (c) a substantial error or defect in the procedure provided by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision of the case upon the merits.

(2) An appeal may lie under this section from an appellate decree passed ex parte.

Second appeal on no other grounds.

101. No second appeal shall lie except on the grounds mentioned in section 100.

No second appeal in certain suits.

102. No second appeal shall lie in any suit of the nature cognizable by Courts of Small Causes, when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the original suit does not exceed five hundred rupees.

Power of High Court to determine issues of fact.

103. In any second appeal, the High Court may, if the evidence on the record is sufficient, determine any issue of fact necessary for the disposal of the appeal but not determined by the lower Appellate Court.

Appeals from orders.

Orders from which appeals lie. 104. (1) An appeal shall lie from the following orders, and save as otherwise expressly provided in the body of this Code or by any law for the time being in force from no other orders:—

- (a) an order superseding an arbitration where the award has not been completed within the period allowed by the Court ;
- (b) an order on an award stated in the form of a special case ;
- (c) an order modifying or correcting an award ;
- (d) an order filing or refusing to file an agreement to refer to arbitration ;
- (e) an order staying or refusing to stay a suit where there is an agreement to refer to arbitration ;
- (f) an order filing or refusing to file an award in an arbitration without the intervention of the Court ;
- (g) an order under section 95 ;
- (h) an order under any of the provisions of this Code imposing a fine or directing the arrest or detention in the civil prison of any person except where such arrest or detention is in execution of a decree ;
- (i) any order made under rules from which an appeal is expressly allowed by rules.

(2) No appeal shall lie from any order passed in appeal under this section.

105. (1) Save as otherwise expressly provided, no appeal shall lie from any order made by a Court in the exercise of its original or appellate jurisdiction ; but, where a decree is appealed from, any error, defect or irregularity in any order, affecting the decision of the case, may be set forth as a ground of objection in the memorandum of appeal.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where any party aggrieved by an order of remand made after the commencement of this Code from which an appeal lies does not appeal therefrom, he shall thereafter be precluded from disputing its correctness.

106. Where an appeal from any order is allowed, it shall lie to the Court to which an appeal would lie from the decree in the suit in which such order was made, or where such order is made by a Court (not being a High Court) in the exercise of appellate jurisdiction, then to the High Court.

General Provisions relating to Appeals.

Powers of Appellate Court. 107. (1) Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, an Appellate Court shall have power—

- (a) to determine a case finally ;
- (b) to remand a case ;
- (c) to frame issues and refer them for trial ;
- (d) to take additional evidence or to require such evidence to be taken.

(2) Subject as aforesaid, the Appellate Court shall have the same powers and shall perform, as nearly as may be, the same duties as are conferred and imposed by this Code on Courts of original jurisdiction in respect of suits instituted therein.

Procedure in appeals from
and orders.

108. The provisions of this Part relating to appeals from original decrees shall, so far as may be, apply to appeals—

- (a) from appellate decrees, and
- (b) from orders made under this Code or under any special or local law in which a different procedure is not provided.

Appeals to the King in Council.

When appeals lie to King in Council.

109. Subject to such rules as may, from time to time, be made by His Majesty in Council regarding appeals from the Courts of British India, and to the provisions hereinafter contained, an appeal shall lie to His Majesty in Council—

- (a) from any decree or final order passed on appeal by a High Court or by any other Court of final appellate jurisdiction,
- (b) from any decree or final order passed by a High Court in the exercise of original civil jurisdiction, and
- (c) from any decree or order, when the case, as hereinafter provided, is certified to be a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council.

110. In each of the cases mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of section 109, the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit in the Court of first instance must be ten thousand rupees or upwards, and the amount or value of the subject-matter in dispute on appeal to His Majesty in Council must be the same sum or upwards, or the decree or final order must involve, directly or indirectly, some claim or question to or respecting property of like amount or value, and where the decree or final order appealed from affirms the decision of the Court immediately below the Court passing such decree or final order, the appeal must involve some substantial question of law.

appeals.

111. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 109, no appeal shall lie to His Majesty in Council—

- (a) from the decree or order of one Judge of a High Court established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, or of one Judge of a Division Court, or of two or more Judges of such High Court, or of a Division Court constituted by two or more Judges of such High Court, where such Judges are equally divided in opinion, and do not amount in number to a majority of the whole of the Judges of the High Court at the time being; or
- (b) from any decree from which under section 102 no second appeal lies.

Savings. 112. (1) Nothing contained in this Code shall be deemed—

- (a) to bar the full and unqualified exercise of His Majesty's pleasure in receiving or rejecting appeals to His Majesty in Council, or otherwise howsoever, or
- (b) to interfere with any rules made by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, and for the time being in force, for the presentation of appeals to His Majesty in Council, or their conduct before the said Judicial Committee.

(2) Nothing herein contained applies to any matter of criminal or admiralty or vice-admiralty jurisdiction, or to appeals from orders and decrees of Prize Courts.

24 and
Vict. c. 10

PART VIII.

REFERENCE, REVIEW AND REVISION.

113. Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, any Court may state a case and refer the same for the opinion of the High Court, and the High Court may make such order thereon as it thinks fit.

114. Subject as aforesaid, any person considering himself aggrieved—

(a) by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed by this Code, but from which no appeal has been preferred,

(b) by a decree or order from which no appeal is allowed by this Code, or

(c) by a decision on a reference from a Court of Small Causes, may apply for a review of judgment to the Court which passed the decree or made the order, and the Court may make such order thereon as it thinks fit.

115. The High Court may call for the record of any case which has been decided by any Court subordinate to such High Court and in which no appeal lies thereto, and if such subordinate Court appears—

(a) to have exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or

(b) to have failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested, or

(c) to have acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity, the High Court may make such order in the case as it thinks fit.

PART IX.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE CHARTERED HIGH COURTS.

24 and 25 Part to apply
Vict, c. 104. only to certain High Courts.

116. This Part applies only to High Courts which are or may hereafter be established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1881.

Application of Code to High Courts.

117. Save as provided in this Part or in Part X or in rules, the provisions of this Code shall apply to such High Courts.

118. Where any such High Court considers it necessary that a decree passed in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction should be executed before the amount of the costs incurred in the suit can be ascertained by taxation, the Court may order that the decree shall be executed forthwith, except as to so much thereof as relates to the costs; and, as to so much thereof as relates to the costs, that the decree may be executed as soon as the amount of the costs shall be ascertained by taxation.

119. Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to authorize any person on behalf of another to address the Court in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction, or to examine witnesses, except where the Court shall have in the exercise of the power conferred by its charter authorized him so to do, or to interfere with the power of the High Court to make rules concerning advocates, vakils and attorneys.

Provisions not applicable to High Court in original civil or insolvent jurisdiction.

120. (1) The following provisions shall not apply to the High Court in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction, namely, sections 16, 17 and 20.

(2) Nothing in this Code shall extend or apply to any Judge of a High Court in the exercise of jurisdiction as an Insolvent Court.

PART X.

RULES.

Effect of rules in First Schedule.

121. The rules in the First Schedule shall have effect as if enacted in the body of this Code until annulled or altered in accordance with the provisions of this Part.

122. High Courts established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, and the Chief Courts of the Punjab and Lower Burma, may, from time to time, after previous publication, make rules regulating their own procedure and the procedure of the Civil Courts subject to their superintendence, and may by such rules annul, alter or add to all or any of the rules in the First Schedule.

Constitution of Rule Committees in certain provinces.

123. (1) A Committee, to be called the Rule Committee, shall be constituted at each of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, Lahore and Rangoon.

(2) Each such Committee shall consist of the following persons, namely :—

- (a) three Judges of the High Court established at the town at which such Committee is constituted, one of whom at least has served as a District Judge or (in the Punjab or Burma) a Divisional Judge for three years,
- (b) a barrister practising in that Court,
- (c) an advocate (not being a barrister) or vakil or pleader enrolled in that Court,
- (d) a Judge of a Civil Court subordinate to the High Court, and
- (e) in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, an attorney.

(3) The members of each such Committee shall be appointed by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge, who shall also nominate one of their number to be president :

Provided that, if the Chief Justice or Chief Judge elects to be himself a member of a Committee, the number of other Judges appointed to be members shall be two, and the Chief Justice or Chief Judge shall be the President of the Committee.

(4) Each member of any such Committee shall hold office for such period as may be prescribed by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge in this behalf; and whenever any member retires, resigns, dies or ceases to reside in the province in which the Committee was constituted, or becomes incapable of acting as a member of the Committee, the said Chief Justice or Chief Judge may appoint another person to be a member in his stead.

(5) There shall be a Secretary to each such Committee, who shall be appointed by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge and shall receive such remuneration as may be provided in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council or by the Local Government, as the case may be.

124. Every Rule Committee shall make a report to the High Court established at the town at which it is constituted on any proposal to annul, alter or add to the rules in the First Schedule or to make new rules, and before making any rules under section 122 the High Court shall take such report into consideration.

Committee to report to High Court.

125. High Courts, other than the Courts specified in section 122, may exercise the powers conferred by that section in such manner and subject to such conditions as the Governor-General in Council may determine :

Provided that any such High Court may, after previous publication, make a rule extending within the local limits of its jurisdiction any rules which have been made by any other High Court.

126. Rules made under the foregoing provisions shall be subject to the previous sanction of the following authorities, namely :—

- 24 & 25 Vict.,
c. 104.
- (a) if the rule is made by a High Court established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, to the sanction of the authority prescribed by section 15 of that Act for rules made under that section ;
 - (b) if the rule is made by any other High Court, to the sanction of the Local Government.

127. Rules so made and sanctioned shall be published in the Gazette of India or in the local official Gazette, as the case may be, and shall from the date of publication or from such other date as may be specified have the same force and effect, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the High Court which made them, as if they had been contained in the First Schedule.

128. (1) Such rules shall be not inconsistent with the provisions in the body of this Code, but, subject thereto, may provide for any matters relating to the procedure of Civil Courts.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the powers conferred by sub-section (1), such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

- (a) the service of summonses, notices and other processes by post or in any other manner either generally or in any specified areas, and the proof of such service ;
- (b) the maintenance and custody, while under attachment, of live-stock and other moveable property, the fees payable for such maintenance and custody, the sale of such live-stock and property and the proceeds of such sale ;
- (c) procedure in suits by way of counter-claim, and the valuation of such suits for the purposes of jurisdiction ;
- (d) procedure in garnishee and charging orders either in addition to, or in substitution for, the attachment and sale of debts ;
- (e) procedure where the defendant claims to be entitled to contribution or indemnity over against any person whether a party to the suit or not ;
- (f) summary procedure—
 - (i) in suits in which the plaintiff seeks only to recover a debt or liquidated demand in money payable by the defendant, with or without interest, arising—on a contract express or implied ; or on an enactment where the sum sought to be recovered is a fixed sum of money or in the nature of a debt other than a penalty ; or on a guarantee, where the claim against the principal is in respect of a debt or a liquidated demand only ; or on a trust ; or

- (ii) in suits for the recovery of immoveable property, with or without a claim for rent or mesne profits, by a landlord against a tenant whose term has expired or has been duly determined by notice to quit, or has become liable to forfeiture for non-payment of rent, or against persons claiming under such tenant ,

(g) procedure by way of originating summons ,

(h) consolidation of suits, appeals and other proceedings ;

(e) delegation to any Registrar, Prothonotary or Master or other official of the Court of any judicial, quasi-judicial and non-judicial duties ; and

(j) all forms, registers, books, entries and accounts which may be necessary or desirable for the transaction of the business of Civil Courts.

Power of Chartered High Courts to make rules as to their original civil procedure.

129. Notwithstanding anything in this Code, any High Court established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, may make such rules not inconsistent with the Letters Patent establishing it to regulate its own procedure in the exercise of its original civil jurisdiction as it shall think fit, and nothing herein contained shall affect the validity of any such rules in force at the commencement of this Code. 24 & 25 Vict. c. 104.

Power of other High Courts to make rules as to matters other than procedure.

130. A High Court not established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, make, with respect to any matter other than procedure, any rule which any High Court so established might, under section 15 of that Act, make with respect to any such matter for any part of the territories under its jurisdiction which is not included within the limits of a Presidency-town. 24 & 25 Vict. c. 104.

Publication of rules.

131. Rules made in accordance with section 129 or section 130 shall be published in the Gazette of India or in the local official Gazette, as the case may be, and shall from the date of publication or from such other date as may be specified have the force of law.

PART XI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Exemption of certain women from personal appearance.

132. (1) Women who, according to the customs and manners of the country, ought not to be compelled to appear in public shall be exempt from personal appearance in Court.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to exempt such women from arrest in execution of civil process in any case in which the arrest of women is not prohibited by this Code.

133. (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, exempt from personal appearance in Court any person whose rank, in the opinion of such Government, entitles him to the privilege of exemption.

Exemption of other persons.

(2) The names and residences of the persons so exempted shall, from time to time, be forwarded to the High Court by the Local Government and a list of such persons shall be kept in such Court, and a list of such persons as reside within the local limits of the jurisdiction of each Court subordinate to the High Court shall be kept in such subordinate Court.

(3) Where any person so exempted claims the privilege of such exemption, and it is consequently necessary to examine him by commission, he shall pay the costs of that commission, unless the party requiring his evidence pays such costs.

Arrest other than in execution of decree.

134. The provisions of sections 55, 57 and 59 shall apply, so far as may be, to all persons arrested under this Code.

Exemption from arrest under civil process.

135. (1) No Judge, Magistrate or other judicial officer shall be liable to arrest under civil process while going to, presiding in, or returning from, his Court.

(2) Where any matter is pending before a tribunal having jurisdiction therein, or believing in good faith that it has such jurisdiction, the parties thereto, their pleaders, mukhtars, revenue-agents and recognized agents, and their witnesses acting in obedience to a summons, shall be exempt from arrest under civil process other than process issued by such tribunal for contempt of Court while going to or attending such tribunal for the purpose of such matter, and while returning from such tribunal.

(3) Nothing in sub-section (2) shall enable a judgment-debtor to claim exemption from arrest under an order for immediate execution or where such judgment-debtor attends to show cause why he should not be committed to prison in execution of a decree.

136. (1) Where an application is made that any person shall be arrested or that any property shall be attached under any provision of this Code not relating to the execution of decrees, and such person where person to be arrested or property to be attached is outside district. resides or such property is situate outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court to which the application is made, the Court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant of arrest or make an order of attachment, and send to the District Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such person or property resides or is situate a copy of the warrant or order, together with the probable amount of the costs of the arrest or attachment.

(2) The District Court shall, on receipt of such copy and amount, cause the arrest or attachment to be made by its own officers, or by a Court subordinate to itself, and shall inform the Court which issued or made such warrant or order of the arrest or attachment.

(3) The Court making an arrest under this section shall send the person arrested to the Court by which the warrant of arrest was issued unless he shows cause to the satisfaction of the former Court why he should not be sent to the latter Court, or unless he furnishes sufficient security for his appearance before the latter Court or for satisfying any decree that may be passed against him by that Court, in either of which cases the Court making the arrest shall release him.

(4) Where a person to be arrested or moveable property to be attached under this section is within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal or at Madras or at Bombay, or of the Chief Court of Lower Burma, the copy of the warrant of arrest or of the order of attachment, and the probable amount of the costs of the arrest or attachment, shall be sent to the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay or Rangoon, as the case may be, and that Court, on receipt of the copy and amount, shall proceed as if it were the District Court.

137. (1) The language which, on the commencement of this Code, is the language of any Court subordinate to a High Court shall continue to be the language of such subordinate Court until the Local Government otherwise directs.

(2) The Local Government may declare what shall be the language of any such Court and in what character applications to and proceedings in such Court shall be written.

(3) Where this Code requires or allows anything other than the recording of evidence to be done in writing in any such Court, such writing may be in English; but if any party or his pleader is unacquainted with English a translation into the language of the Court shall, at his request, be supplied to him; and the Court shall make such order as it thinks fit in respect of the payment of the costs of such translation.

Power for Local Government to require evidence to be recorded in English.

138. (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, direct with respect to any Judge specified in the notification, or falling under a description set forth therein, that evidence in cases in which an appeal is allowed shall be taken down by him in the English language and in manner prescribed.

(2) Where a Judge is prevented by any sufficient reason from complying with a direction under sub-section (1), he shall record the reason and cause the evidence to be taken down in writing from his dictation in open Court.

Oath on affidavit by whom to be administered.

139. In the case of any affidavit under this Code—

(a) any Court or Magistrate, or

(b) any officer or other person whom a High Court may appoint in this behalf, or

(c) any officer appointed by any other Court which the Local Government has generally or specially empowered in this behalf, may administer the oath to the deponent.

140. (1) In any Admiralty or Vice-Admiralty cause of salvage, towage or collusion, the Court, whether it be exercising its original or its appellate jurisdiction, may, if it thinks fit, and shall upon request of either party to such cause, summon to its assistance, in such manner as it may direct or as may be prescribed, two competent assessors; and such assessors shall attend and assist accordingly.

Assessors in cases of salvage, etc.

(2) Every such assessor shall receive such fees for his attendance, to be paid by such of the parties as the Court may direct or as may be prescribed.

Miscellaneous proceedings.

141. The procedure provided in this Code in regard to suits shall be followed, as far as it can be made applicable, in all proceedings in any Court of civil jurisdiction.

Orders and notices to be in writing.

142. All orders and notices served on or given to any person under the provisions of this Code shall be in writing.

143. Postage, where chargeable on a notice, summons or letter issued under this Code and forwarded by post, and the fee for registering the same, shall be paid within a time to be fixed before the communication is made:

Postage.

Provided that the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, may remit such postage, or fee, or both, or may prescribe a scale of court-fees to be levied in lieu thereof.

144. (1) Where and in so far as a decree is varied or reversed, the Court of first instance shall, on the application of any party entitled to any benefit by way of restitution or otherwise, cause such restitution to be made as will, so far as may be, place the parties in the position which they would have occupied but for such decree or such part thereof as has been varied or reversed; and for this purpose, the Court may make any orders, including orders for the refund of costs and for the payment of interest, damages, compensation and mesne profits, which are properly consequential on such variation or reversal.

(2) No suit shall be instituted for the purpose of obtaining any restitution or other relief which could be obtained by application under sub-section (1).

Enforcement of
surety.

145. Where any person has become liable as surety—

- (a) for the performance of any decree or any part thereof, or
- (b) for the restitution of any property taken in execution of a decree, or
- (c) for the payment of any money, or for the fulfilment of any condition imposed on any person, under an order of the Court in any suit or in any proceeding consequent thereon, the decree or order may be executed against him, to the extent to which he has rendered himself personally liable, in the manner herein provided for the execution of decrees, and such person shall, for the purposes of appeal, be deemed a party within the meaning of section 47.

Provided that such notice as the Court in each case thinks sufficient has been given to the surety.

146. Save as otherwise provided by this Code or by any law for the time being in force, where any proceeding may be taken or application made by or against any person, then the proceeding may be taken or the application may be made by or against any person claiming under him.

sentatives.

147. In all suits to which any person under disability is a party, any consent or agreement as to any proceeding shall, if given or made with the express leave of the Court by the next friend or guardian for the suit, have the same force and effect as if such person were under no disability and had given such consent or made such agreement.

Consent or
disability.

148. Where any period is fixed or granted by the Court for the doing of any act prescribed or allowed by this Code, the Court may, in its discretion, from time to time, enlarge such period, even though the period originally fixed or granted may have expired.

Enlargement of time.

149. Where the whole or any part of any fee prescribed for any document by the law for the time being in force relating to court-fees has not been paid, the Court may, in its discretion, at any stage, allow the person, by whom such fee is payable, to pay the whole or part, as the case may be, of such court-fee; and upon such payment the document, in respect of which such fee is payable, shall have the same force and effect as if such fee had been paid in the first instance.

court-fees.

150. Save as otherwise provided, where the business of any Court is transferred to any other Court, the Court to which the business is so transferred shall have the same powers and shall perform the same duties as those respectively conferred and imposed by or under this Code upon the Court from which the business was so transferred.

business.

Saving of inherent powers of Court.

151. Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect the inherent power of the Court to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court.

Amendment of judgments, decrees or orders.

152. Clerical or arithmetical mistakes in judgments, decrees or orders or errors arising therein from any accidental slip or omission may at any time be corrected by the Court either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties.

153. The Court may at any time, and on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it may think fit, amend any defect or error in any proceeding in a suit ; and all necessary amendments shall be made for the purpose of determining the real question or issue raised by or depending on such proceeding.

153. The Court may at any time, and on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it may think fit, amend any defect or error in any proceeding in a suit ; and all necessary amendments shall be made for the purpose of determining the real question or issue raised by or depending on such proceeding.

Saving of present right of appeal.

154. Nothing in this Code shall affect any present right of appeal which shall have accrued to any party at its commencement.

Amendment of certain Acts.

155. The enactments mentioned in the Fourth Schedule are hereby amended to the extent specified in the fourth column thereof.

Repeals.

156. The enactments mentioned in the Fifth Schedule are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the fourth column thereof.

Continuance of orders under repealed enactments.

157. Notifications published, declarations and rules made, places appointed, agreements filed, scales prescribed, forms framed, appointments made and powers conferred under Act VIII of 1859 or under any Code of Civil Procedure or any Act amending the same or under any other enactment hereby repealed shall, so far as they are consistent with this Code, have the same force and effect as if they had been respectively published, made, appointed, filed, prescribed, framed and conferred under this Code and by the authority empowered thereby in such behalf.

158. In every enactment or notification passed or issued before the commencement of this Code in which reference is made to or to any Chapter or section of Act VIII of 1859 or any Code of Civil Procedure or any Act amending the same or any other enactment hereby repealed, such reference shall, so far as may be practicable, be taken to be made to this Code or to its corresponding Part, Order, section or rule.

THE FOURTH SCHEDULE.

Enactments Amended.

THE FIFTH SCHEDULE.

Enactments Repealed.

THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, 1908

(ACT V OF 1908)

THE FIRST SCHEDULE.

ORDER I.

PARTIES TO SUITS.

1. All persons may be joined in one suit as plaintiffs¹ in whom O. XI
Who may be any right to relief² in respect of or arising out of joined as plaintiffs. the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions³ is alleged to exist, whether jointly, severally or in the alternative⁴, where, if such persons brought separate suits, any common question of law or fact would arise.

(Notes.)

The first sentence of S. 26 of Act XIV of 1882 corresponds with this rule:—

“All persons may be joined as plaintiffs in whom the right to any relief claimed is alleged to exist, whether jointly, severally or in the alternative, in respect of the same cause of action.”

Difference between the old section and this rule.

- (1) After the word “joined,” the words “in one suit” are added. This seems to be a mere verbal addition.
- (2) Instead of the phrase “in respect of the same cause of action,” the phrase “in respect of or arising out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions” is substituted.
- (3) “Where, if such persons brought separate suits, any common question of law or fact would arise” is newly added after the words “in the alternative.”

English orders and rules.

This rule corresponds almost exactly with the first portion of O. XVI, r. 1 of the English rules in England.

The present rule is rendered wider than the section of Act XIV of 1882 by the use of the words “in respect of or arising out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions” in the place of “in respect of the same cause of action.”

The last sentence of S. 26 of Act XIV of 1882.

Vis., “But the defendant, though unsuccessful, shall be entitled to his costs occasioned by so joining any person who is not found entitled to relief, unless the Court in disposing of the costs of the suit otherwise directs” is omitted in the New Act.

The two conditions requisite for the joinder of plaintiffs under this rule are:—

- (1) The right to relief in each plaintiff should be in respect of or should arise out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions.
- (2) There should be a common question of fact or law.

1.—“All persons may be joined...as plaintiffs.”

A.—GENERAL PRINCIPLE IN JOINDER OF PARTIES.

- (1) The joinder or non-joinder of parties must always depend on some rule of substantive law, and the procedure rule does nothing more than provide, that certain rules and obligations, arising out of such law, can only be enforced or given effect to, in a particular way or under particular limitations. 156 P.R. 1889 (F.B.). A
- (2) This order deals only with the joinder of parties and has no reference to the joinder of cause of action. Smurthwaite v. Hannay, (1894) A.C. 494. B
- (2a) “Person” includes a body corporate or politic. O. 71, r. 1—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 146. C
- (3) Eng. O. 16, r. 1 (= O. I of C.P.C.) came into operation on the 26th October, 1896. Under that rule, separate plaintiffs having separate causes of action may join in one suit, provided that the right to relief, alleged to exist in each plaintiff, arises from the same transaction, or series of transactions and there is a common question of law or fact. 2 Q.B.C.A. pp. 52-54; Bedford v. Ellis, (1901) A.C. 12—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 147. D

EXAMPLES.

- (a) Four plaintiffs having become debenture holders in a company on the faith of statement made in a prospectus, which they alleged to be false, were held entitled to claim damages in the same suit on the ground that the right to relief arose out of the same transaction, viz., the issuing of the prospectus. Dringbier v. Wood, (1899) 1 Ch. 393—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 147. E
- (b) Two Universities brought an action against certain publishers to restrain them from using certain titles to their publications which would induce the belief that such publications were those of the Universities. Held, the suit was rightly brought because the action arose out of the same series of transactions. Universities of Oxford and Cambridge v. Gill, (1899) 1 Ch. 55; Ibid, p. 147. F
- (c) Six-market gardeners sued defendant, seeking a declaration, that the defendant was not entitled to exclude them from certain preferential statutory rights as to stands in the market. Held, the joinder was good, as there was a ‘series of transactions’ and a ‘common question of law.’ Ellis v. Bedford, (1901) A.C. 12—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 147. G

1.—“All persons may be joined...as plaintiffs.”—(Continued).

A.—GENERAL PRINCIPLE IN JOINDER OF PARTIES.

—(Concluded).

(d) Plaintiffs, members of Master-builder's Association, sued the officials of various Trades Unions, alleging conspiracy on the part of defendants to do certain overt acts; some committed by some defendants against some plaintiffs, others against all the plaintiffs, while some others by the defendants generally against particular plaintiffs. Held, the joinder good. Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 148 (last case).

But, where there are, in effect, two plaintiffs and two causes of action, not arising out of the same transaction, the joinder will be bad. Stroud v. Lawson, (1898) 2 Q.B. 44—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 148. H

B.—PERSONS WHO SHOULD BE PLAINTIFFS MAY BE MADE DEFENDANTS.

(1) Persons jointly interested with plaintiff may be made defendants, though it is not shown that they refused to join as plaintiffs. 29 M. 302; 4 M. L.T. 194. See also 12 W.R. 478=4 B.L.R.A.C. 118; 20 W.R. 138; 15 W.R. 436. I

EXAMPLES.

(a) Three out of four joint lessors may sue for rent, joining the fourth lessor as co-defendant. 87 P.R. 1886 (Civil). J

(b) A suit for ejectment may be brought, though the full proprietary body do not join as plaintiffs—provided that those who do not join, are made defendants. 92 P.R. 1866 (Civil). K

(c) A suit by one of two co-contractors, making the other a co-defendant, ought not to be dismissed because the plaintiff failed to prove that the co-contractor had refused to join as co-plaintiff. 26 C. 409. See also 8 C.W. N. 271; 12 C.L.R. 538; 1 C.W.N. 221; 24 A. 226=22 A.W.N. 31; 26 M. 461, 649=13 M.L.J. 322. L

(d) Where some of the partners of a firm refuse to join as plaintiffs in a suit on behalf of the firm, they can properly be made defendants. 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 203; 10 W.R. 437. M

(e) One or some of several co-sharers can bring a suit with the others as defendants, only when they can show that the latter refused to join as plaintiffs or otherwise acted prejudicially to their interests. 17 C. 160 1 C.W.N. 659. N

C.—JOINDER OF PLAINTIFFS.

(1) Appeal.

Where a decree is given against two defendants, who had different defences to the suit, and they wish to appeal against the decree on different grounds, they cannot file a single appeal, as it will be bad for misjoinder. 10 M.L.J. 279; 2 Bom. L.R. 967 (P.C.). O

(2) Bonds, suits relating to.

- (a) Three out of five obligees to an indemnity bond cannot bring a suit on it. 5 C. 303. P
- (b) Each of the heirs of the obligee of a money-bond cannot separately sue for recovery of his share of the money due on the bond. 7 A. 313=5 A.W. N. 34. Q

(3) Charter-party.

If the master of a ship signs a charter-party in his own name as a contracting party, and at the same time discloses the name of his principal, he can sue upon the charter-party. But if a master sign a charter-party for the owner as a contracting party, he cannot sue upon it. L.B.R. (Vol. 72 to 92), p. 658. R

(4) Contracts, suits relating to.

- (a) In a suit upon a breach of contract, all the parties who are damnified by the breach must join. 2 C.L.J. 496. S
- (b) Joint promisees should sue together. If the plaintiffs fail to join other joint promisees also as plaintiffs even after objection, the suits should be dismissed. L.B.R. (1893 to 1900), p. 555 ; 5 C. 303 ; 26 C. 409. T
- (c) Where four persons entered into an agreement with one another that the profits derived by each from his ginning factory should be brought to a common fund and divided among all the four in proportion to the number of machines employed and one of them refused to give the others a share in his profits, in a suit by one of the remaining three for his share alone of the profits due from the defaulting party, the other two persons were not necessary parties. 22 B. 861. U
- (d) In a suit for specific performance of a single contract, the parties on each side must be marshalled as plaintiffs and defendants. 2 C.W.N. 42. V
- (e) See, further, under JOINT HINDU FAMILY, (j), (k), (l), infra.

(4-A) Co-owners.

- (a) In a suit for recovery of property all co-owners must join, unless there is any special provision of law to the contrary. 3 M. 234 ; 10 B. 32 ; 8 C. 277 ; 4 C. 961. This is so, even if the sale-deed stands in the name of only one co-owner. 5 Bom. L.R. 577. W
- (b) See, also, under CO-SHARERS (c), infra, and under LANDLORD AND TENANT, (d), infra.

(5) Co-parceners.

- (a) A Hindu co-parcener cannot sue to recover joint property lost to the family or for setting aside alienations without necessity either for the whole, or for his share alone, without making the other members parties to the suit. 6 M.L.J. 27 ; 2 C. 149. See also 12 W.R. 256 ; 14 W.R. 339 ; 18 W.R. 48 ; 20 W.R. 138 ; 12 W.R. 478=4 B.L.R.A.C. 118 ; 15 W.R. 436. Also 6 M. 27 ; 18 M. 33=4 M.L.J. 23 ; 23 M. 190 ; 12 B. 158. X
- (b) See, further, under PARTNERSHIP, (h), infra.

(6) Co-sharers.

- (a) The fact that some of the co-sharers approve of the suit being brought by the other or that he is the manager with the consent of other co-sharers cannot deprive the defendant of his right to insist on all the co-sharers being brought on record. 10 B. 32; 7 B. 217; 21 B. 154; 12 B. 158; 17 M. 122=4 M.L.J. 52. Y
- (b) A co-sharer, who is manager even with the consent of his co-sharers cannot sue by himself and in his own name to eject a tenant. 21 B. 154. Z
- (c) Co-owners may agree that their property shall be managed and legal proceedings conducted by some or one of their number, but they cannot invest such person or persons with a competency to sue in his own name on their behalf or, if sued, to represent them. 3 M. 234. A
- (d) One co-sharer cannot sue to enhance his portion alone of rent even by making the other co-sharers defendants. 2 N.W.P. 438. B.
- (e) Where, in a suit to set aside a gift of a certain land to defendant and to recover possession thereof, the plaintiff owned only a portion of the land exclusively and the rest belonged to the plaintiff and other co-sharers, the suit is bad for non-joinder of parties. 8 A.W.N. 156. See contra 5 A. 602=3 A.W.N. 155. C
- (f) See, further, under LANDLORD AND TENANT, (h), infra, and under PROPRIETARY BODY, (c), (e), (f), (g), (h), infra.

(7) Deaf and dumb persons.

A deaf and dumb person is not on that account alone to be deemed incompetent to sue or to be sued. 2 N.W.P. 414. D

(8) Husband and wife.

- (a) A Hindu woman may at all times sue either alone or jointly with her husband. 1 Hyde 281. E
- (b) The husband need not be a party to a suit by a Hindu wife to enforce her rights under a mortgage deed executed to her. 2 C.W.N. 367. F
- (c) A wife having an English domicile can sue without her husband as co-plaintiff. 15 C. 35. G

(9) Joint Hindu family.

- (a) In a suit by the father of a joint Hindu family for money due to the family, his sons, who were taking an active part in family business, should be made parties. 8 A. 364. H
- (b) Where a Hindu father, who carried on jointly an ancestral money-lending business has ceased to take an active part in management and the business was in the hands of sons, the father alone could not sue for money lent in his individual capacity without joining his sons as plaintiffs with him, his sons being partners in the ancestral business and he not being the manager or proprietor. 8 A. 264. I.
- (c) Under Mitakshara Law an infant need not be joined as a co-plaintiff in a suit by the father to recover a trade debt. 26 C. 349=3 C.W.N. 190.J.

- (d) No member of an undivided Hindu family, except the manager of the family, as such, is entitled to bring a suit to establish a right belonging to the family without making the other members of the family parties to the suit. 6 M. 27. K
- (e) But see 18 M. 33=4 M.L.J. 23 and 23 M. 190, where it was held that even a manager cannot sue without joining those interested with him. See also 12 B. 158; 21 B. 154; 3 M. 234. L
- (f) The manager of a joint Hindu family can sue alone for rent under a lease granted by him as such manager; but after his death, his son who has not succeeded his father in the management, cannot sue without joining the other members of the family as parties. 10 B. 141. See P.J. 1876, p. 11 and P.J. 1884, p. 33. M
- (g) The question of the right of a manager to sue in his own name is rather one of authority, if the other co-sharers are adults. 5 Bom. L.R. 618=28 B. 11 (a), 19. N
- (h) A managing member of a family could maintain a suit in his own name for himself and on behalf of the minor members of a family, especially when the defendant had waived the objection of non-joinder, by not raising it. 58 P.R. 1882. O
- (i) Where a Hindu father is sole owner of a mercantile business, his eldest son who is the manager of the business is not entitled to sue in his own name in respect of his dealings in that capacity and such right could not be conferred upon him by his father's consent to the exercise thereof. 1 A.W.N. 28. P
- (j) Though a member of an undivided family, a person can sue alone on a contract entered into with him in his individual capacity and not on behalf of the family. 9 B. 311. Q
- (k) A suit by one member of a joint Hindu family, on a mortgage executed to him, may be maintained by him alone, when the contract is not shown to be on behalf of, or for the benefit of, the family. 15 P.R. 1902. R
- (l) Where a contract is made with one member of a joint family, (e.g., a mortgage executed in favour of one of the members) he can sue upon it without joining the other members, though the contract was entered into for the benefit of the whole family. 9 M.L.J. 103=22 M. 326; 7 C. 739=10 C.L.R. 263; see 20 B. 435. But see and compare 17 M. 122=4 M.L.J. 52. S
- (m) One member of a joint undivided Hindu family can sue alone to obtain compensation for loss to himself personally caused by wrongful destruction of property in which he had a definite share. 9 W.R. 279. T
- (n) The mere fact, that a person carrying on a business is a member of a joint Hindu family, does not necessarily show that all the members of the family are his partners in the business, and the other members of the family are not necessary parties, unless the fact of partnership is proved. 27 B. 157=4 Bom. L.R. 968. U

- (o) Plaintiffs may bring a joint suit in respect of leases made in their respective names, without even assigning reasons in the plaint, but alleging a trading partnership and joint family subsequently in the suit. 67 P.R. 1894. Y
- (p) In a joint family, some members alone, were carrying on the family trading business. Those members alone may bring a suit on a contract entered into with them, the names of the other members of the family, not being disclosed at the time of the contract. 2 A.L.J. 3= 27 A. 361. W
- (q) A manager alone of a joint family partnership business, without joining the other members as plaintiffs, cannot sue on a book debt. 69 P.R. 1906=118 P.L.R. 1906. X
- (r) Suit by one member of an undivided Hindu family for breach of contract of service in respect of a family business, not maintainable in the absence from the record of the other partners in the business. The name of plaintiff alone in the cause title could not be taken as designating his partners also. 18 M. 23. Y
- (s) See, further, under PARTNERSHIP, (i), infra, and under TORTS, (a) and (b), infra.

(10) Landlord and tenant.

- (a) Some of the landlords only cannot bring a suit for ejectment against tenants. 20 P.L.R. 1907 ; 4 C. 961. Z
- (b) A suit to eject raiyats of a temple for non-payment of kist, by one, whose predecessors took over the management of the temple from the Collector to whom the raiyats had executed a muchilika is not bad for misjoinder. 11 M. 77. A
- (c) After granting a joint lease, one of two co-owners conveyed her right over an equal and undivided moiety of the land to the other. Suit by the latter alone for ejectment maintainable, the former not being a necessary party. 11 B. 644. B
- (d) In a suit for possession brought by the lessees of a zemindari, the defendants claimed as lessees from some other persons to whom the property belonged. The lessors on either side are not necessary parties. 11 W.R. 187. C
- (e) Lessor is not a necessary co-plaintiff to a suit for possession by the lessee against persons, who are in possession of the lands and who dispute the lessor's title. 2 B.L.R.A.O. 207=11 W.R. 80. Compare 2 N.W.P. 72. D
- (f) Where a tenant held lands under a patnidar at a certain rent, and the patnidar subsequently granted darpatnis to two different parties of different properties held by the tenant and where the tenant admitted a certain sum to be the rent payable in respect of properties held by one darpatnidar the other can sue the tenant for rent without making his co-darpatnidar a co-plaintiff in the suit. 6 B.L.R. 523=15 W.R. 20. E

- (g) Where, in a suit by a patnidar for arrears of rent, those, who subsequently acquired an interest in the patni, appeared and expressed to the Court their consent to the suit proceeding in plaintiff's names, the suit was properly constituted and the array of parties was sufficient. 13 W.R. 126. F
- (h) Suit by one of several joint lessors for his share of the rent alone is not maintainable; and the fact that his co-sharers have been joined as defendants will not cure the defect in the suit as brought though he might have sued alone for the whole rent. 5 A. 40. G
- (i) Where there are more purchasers than one, all purchasers in a sale for arrears of revenue must jointly exercise the right given by S. 37, Act XI of 1859, to avoid and annul an undertenure. H

(11) Legacy.

- K left a certain sum to his widow with the direction that the unexpended balance should go to his heirs after the widow's death. Suit after the widow's death brought by one of three brothers who were the heirs of K to recover a third share of such balance. All the parties claiming to be entitled to any interest in the sum should have been made parties to the suit. (Suit not one “for a distributive share under an intestacy or of a legacy under a will” “within S. 32, Act IX of 1850”). 13 B.L.R. 142=22 W.R. 71. I

(12) Mahomedan family.

- (a) Where several members of a Mahomedan family join in one suit for partition, the suit is not bad for misjoinder. 9 M.L.J. 37. J
- (b) The daughters of a Mahomedan widow are not necessary parties to a suit by her against her husband's brother, on behalf of herself and her minor sons, for their share in a debt due to her husband and his two brothers but recovered by one brother alone. 2 B.L.R. Ap. 1. K

(13) Malabar tarwad.

- A mother and sons, members of a Malabar tarwad, residing together, may maintain a joint suit for maintenance. 9 M.L.J. 153. L

(14) Mortgages.

- (a) When the plaintiff has notice of all the parties entitled to redeem, he must join them all with himself, as plaintiffs in a redemption suit. U.B.R. (Vol. 92—96), 586, 581. M
- (b) Plaintiff's separated uncle and cousin are not necessary co-plaintiffs where there was no proof that at the time of the mortgage by plaintiff's father, he and his uncles were undivided or that it was executed by plaintiff's father as manager of the family, and the uncle and cousins did not claim any interest in the equity of redemption. 13 B. 51. N
- (c) A co-heir of the plaintiff having an interest in the mortgage at the time of suit is a necessary party, but not otherwise. 16 B. 599. O
- (d) Where mortgage debt has been repaid, any one of several mortgagors or his legal representatives may sue for redemption and possession of his own share of the estate. 1 Agra 36. But see contra, 21 W.R. 428. P

(e) All the heirs of a Mahomedan Zuri-peshgi mortgagee must be made either plaintiffs or defendants to a suit to recover the amount advanced ; or those who sue must claim in proportion to what they are entitled to under the Mahomedan Law. 14 W.R. 216. Q

(f) See, further, under RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, (f), infra.

(15) Partnership.

(a) All partners of a firm should be made parties to a suit on behalf of the firm. 140 P.R. 1889. R

(b) Except possibly in the case of an assignment by the other surviving partner or partners, one only of two or more surviving partners cannot sue for a debt due to the firm. 14 A. 524. S

(c) A firm becomes dissolved when the original partners die, and if somebody comes in their place and carries on the business of the firm, the business, whether carried on under the old name or not, is not that of the old firm but of an entirely new firm ; and a suit on behalf of such new firm must be brought in the names of persons, who are at the time of the institution of the suit carrying on its business. 25 W.R. 148. T

(d) The representative of a deceased partner is not a necessary party to a suit for a debt, by the other partners, though the debt fell due to the partnership, during the lifetime of the deceased. 10 P.R. (1906). See 70 P.R. 1904, contra. U

(e) The representatives of a deceased partner are not necessary parties to an action for damages under a guarantee to the original firm. Cor. 90. V

(f) Though probably the representatives of a deceased partner might be joined in a suit by the surviving partner on account of partnership debt yet there is nothing in S. 45 of the Contract Act or S. 26 of Act XIV of 1882 (= O. I, r. 1 of the new Code) to show that they must be joined in the suit. 9 A. 486 ; 17 B. 6. But, see contra 18 C. 86. W

(g) In a suit to recover a debt due to a trading partnership, it is not necessary to join as plaintiff any representative of the partner, who dies pending suit. 20 A. 365=18 A.W.N. 73 ; 9 A. 486 ; 17 B. 6, F. (18 C. 86, dissented from). X

(h) Where a Hindu firm is joint family property, a deceased co-parcener's heirs are not necessary parties to a suit, for the recovery of a debt, falling due to the firm, during the lifetime of such deceased. L.B.R. (Vol. 72—92), p. 651. Y

(i) Where some members of a joint family trade, as partners, to the exclusion of other members of the joint family, there, the representatives of a deceased partner are necessary parties to a suit to recover a partnership debt which fell due during the lifetime of the deceased. L.B.R. (Vol. 72 to 92), p. 651. Z

(16) Proprietary body.

- (a) Where the right to common land is in issue, the whole proprietary body should be parties to the suit. 103 P.R. 1866 (Civil); 39 P.R. 1866 (Civil). B.
- (b) Some of the proprietary body of a village, may bring a suit against a proprietor, on the allegation that he had set up an exclusive title to certain houses built, on common land, for common purposes, by the whole proprietary body. A majority of the proprietors need not join in such a suit to oust the defendant. 74 P.R. 1888. C.
- (c) One co-sharer in a house can institute a suit for pre-emption based on vicinage, on the ground that the other co-sharers refused to join. 42 P.R. 1891. D.
- (d) Where the alienation of the shamilat land is permanent (i.e.) such as to prevent any part of it from being hereafter divisible among the owners, the minority of village proprietors may sue. But, where the rights of the alienee are subject to future division of the shamilat and the alienation is not permanent, the will of the majority will prevail. 7 P.R. 1885 and 7 P.R. 1885 (note). See also 76 P.R. 1873; 78 P.R. 1877 and 30 P.R. 1879; 54 P.R. 1886, following 7 P.R. 1885. E.
- (e) All co-sharers must join in an action brought to eject a tenant from a common land. 17 P.R. 1879 (Civil). F.
- (f) But if it is satisfactorily shown to the Court, that some do not join for some reasonable cause, that the tenant would not be prejudiced, and there would be no miscarriage of justice, then the rest may sue. 1 P.R. 1902 (Rev.). G.
- (g) One of several proprietors can't sue eo nomine for ejectment of defendant from a plot of common land (abad), even though the defendant's acts interfered with the plaintiff's house and even though the Court impleaded the proprietary body, all of whom demanded possession of the lands, as defendants. If the proprietary body wanted to eject the defendant as a trespasser, a separate suit must be brought. 99 P.R. 1888. H.
- (h) One or several of many co-sharers can sue to prevent invasion of their common property by a mere trespasser. 105 P.R. 1901; 21 A.W.N. 36. I.

(17) Religious Endowment.

- (a) A suit to administer the funds of a—is properly brought in the name of the Advocate-General (who should exercise only a general control over such suit). 1 Bom. Ap. 9. J.
- (b) It is no misjoinder of parties or causes of action, where several archakas of a temple doing duty by turns, having been evicted by the Dharma-karta, bring a suit jointly to recover the share of emoluments due to the office. 10 M.L.J. 415. K.

1.—“All persons may be joined....as plaintiffs.”—(Concluded).

C.—JOINDER OF PLAINTIFFS—(Concluded).

(c) All the members of the District Committee should join as parties in a suit brought for the dismissal of a Dharmakarta, as the right to appoint or discharge Dharmakartas, belongs to the whole Committee. 2 M. 200.L.

(d) All the mutwallis should be parties to a suit for the recovery of property belonging to the endowment, such of them as refuse to join as plaintiffs being made defendants. 11 C. 338. M

See also 8 C. 42 where it was held that all the shabaitis should be parties in a suit to set aside alienation of debutter lands by one of them. N

(e) All the Uralars must jointly sue in respect of Devaswam property; but when some of the Uralars refuse to join as plaintiffs after consultation and invitation so to join, the others may bring a suit, impleading the former as defendants. In the absence of such consultation and invitation, a suit by one Uralan without the others as co-plaintiffs will be bad for non-joinder. 14 M. 439; 23 M. 82; 9 M.L.J. 312; 24 M. 296. O

(f) But, see 26 M. 461 and 26 M. 649 where it was held, on a consideration of Ss. 91 and 85 of the Transfer of Property Act, that one of two co-Uralars may bring a suit to redeem a mortgage without averring or proving that the other Uralan was asked to join as plaintiff in the suit. P

(18) Reversioners.

(a) The non-joinder with plaintiff, of a reversioner of equal grade, in a suit for declaration that an adoption was invalid, was no bar to the suit. 7 M. 401. Q

(b) In a suit by the daughter and her minor son against the mother and others to whom the mother had alienated portions of the estate for a declaration that the alienations will not bind them and will only be good during the lifetime of the mother, the minor son is entitled to join as co-plaintiff. 10 M. 1. R

(19) Succession certificate.

One representative may sue if he has a succession certificate.

In a suit by the representative of a deceased mortgagee, who had obtained a certificate under Act VII of 1889, the other heirs of the deceased need not be impleaded as plaintiffs. 99 P.R. 1898. S

EXAMPLES.

(a) An attorney, suing, should bring the suit in the name of the principal and not in his own name. 1 N.W.P. (Ed. 873), 277 ; 2 N.W.P. 60. Y

(b) A gumastah has no right, under S. 92 of Act VIII of 1859 (Bengal) to bring a suit in his own name. He can sue only in the name of his employer. 9 C. 450=12 C.L.R. 55. Z

(c) A gumastah cannot sue in his own name on behalf of a firm. The proper course is to bring the members of the firm on the record. 2 Agra 101 ; 20 P.R. 1882. A

(d) The manager of a firm ought not to sue in his own name, on a contract with a previous manager for the firm. 9 W.R. 254. B

(e) Although Act X of 1859 (Bengal) allows suits to be instituted in their name by their authorised agents, the latter ought not to sue in their own names ; but the names of their principals ought to appear on the record as plaintiffs. 4 N.W.P. 59 ; 11 W.R. 43. C

(f) The recognised agent of an official assignee of an Insolvent Court cannot sue in his own name ; but the official assignee ought to be brought on the record as plaintiff. 2 N.W.P. 179. D

(g) A corporate body, (e.g., the E.I.Ry. Co.) cannot be sued in its corporate capacity through an agent. 15 W.R. 534 ; nor can a gumastah of a firm be sued in respect of a debt due from the firm even though he might have contracted it with authority. 2 Agra Mis., 4. E

(3) Benamidars.(I) Suit relating to land.

- (A) A benamidar has no right to land and consequently he is not entitled to maintain a suit for declaration of title to land or for ejectment.
16 C. 364 ; 30 C. 265 (272, 273) = 7 C.W.N. 229. J

His position is not improved either by a disclaimer of the real owner or by the fact that the real owner is a party to the suit or by the fact that the real owner is made a co-plaintiff. (Ibid).

EXAMPLES.

- (1) Suit by a benamidar for a declaration of his right by purchase to, and for possession of, immoveable property, where the evidence discloses that he is a benamidar for one of the defendants and has no right to the property and where the defendant disclaims any title to the property.
16 C. 364. K
- (2) Suit by a benamidar-purchaser in execution of a decree for possession of the land sold, where the real purchaser is not joined as a plaintiff.
11 B.L.R. 56 = 19 W.R. 424. L
- (3) So, also, a suit by a benami private purchaser for possession of the property, where the real purchaser is not a plaintiff. 11 B.L.R. 60 (note) = 10 W.R. 469 ; 10 W.R. 220 ; 20 W.R. 72. M
- (4) A mere benamidar, having neither title to, nor possession of, the property cannot maintain a suit for ejectment. 25 C. 98 = 3 C.W.N. 20 ; 18 M. 469. N
- (5) Nor can he sue for recovery of possession of the property sold. 25 C. 874 = 3 C.W.N. 12. O
- (6) A benami-mortgagee cannot successfully bring a suit for redemption in his own name. The suit ought to be dismissed in such a case. 15 M. 54. P
- (7) The real owner cannot successfully bring a suit for possession after an unsuccessful suit by the benamidar for possession of the same land.
15 M. 267. Cf. 10 C. 697. Q
- N.B.*—This case has been decided on the principle that the suit by the real owner binds the benamidar in a subsequent suit.
- (B) But see 18 A. 69, which holds that a benamidar, suing for the recovery of immoveable property on title, can sue in his own name and when such a suit is instituted, it must be held to have been instituted with the consent and approval of the real owner. 18 A. 69 (16 C. 364, diss.; 10 W.R. 469 and 10 W.R. 220, dist.; 6 M.L.A. 53, expd.; 18 W.R. 454 ; 10 C. 697 and 15 M. 267, R). R

EXAMPLES.

- (1) A benamidar-mortgagee is competent to sue in his own name for sale on the mortgage. 21 A. 380. (The above cases and 22 B. 672 and 820, R.), contra. 12 C.W.N. 409. S

- (4) A benamidar can appeal in his own name. 28 A. 44=2 A.L.J. 702=A.W.N. (1905), 173. Y
- (5) A benamidar's application for execution is a good one and saves limitation. 10 O.C. 263. W
- (C) Where, however, a benamidar brings a suit in his own name, the Court ought to direct that the real owners should be made parties and not to dismiss the suit. 5 C.L.R. 102 and 10 C. 697. X
- (D) (a) Where a benamidar-mortgagee brings a suit to enforce the mortgage bond but it is found that the real mortgagee made over the debt to the benamidar prior to the suit though he executed the formal deed of assignment subsequent to the suit, the benamidar can maintain the suit. 24 C. 34. Cf. 15 M. 54. Y
- (b) So, also, can a foreclosure suit be brought by the benamidar-mortgagee even though the real mortgagee is not made a party. Such a suit ought not to be dismissed because the beneficial owner is not made a party. 24 C. 644. Cf. 15 M. 54. Z
- (E) When a suit is instituted by a benamidar, the presumption is that it has been so instituted with the full authority of the real owner. Therefore, a decision against the benamidar will be binding on the real owner. 10 C. 697; 30 C. 265 (272); 15 M. 267. A

(II) Suits for money.

A distinction seems to have been drawn between suits by benamidars upon bonds and those for recovery of land upon title. In the former cases he is entitled to sue in his own name, though the real owner is not a party to the suit. 6 M.I.A. 53 (72); 3 W.R. 159; 16 C. 364 (367). B

EXAMPLES.

- (1) The payee and holder of a pro-note can sue upon it, even though a third person is really interested in it. 21 M. 30, also 8 M.L.J. 302. C
- (2) The payee of a pro-note, though only a benamidar, is the only person who can sue on the pro-note. 18 M.L.J. 186; 15 M.L.J. 249=28 M. 205. D
- (3) In a suit on a pro-note by the payee, though only a benamidar, it has been held that even the defence of payment to the real owner does not avail. 16 M.L.J. 308=30 M. 88. E

(III) Test.

Whether a benamidar can sue or not is determined not by the nature of the property which is the subject-matter of the suit (i.e. real property or money) but by the fact that the legal right to sue vests in him. For example it may be shown that the facts of the case are such, as may entitle him to sue as an agent of an undisclosed principal, or as would constitute him a trustee for the real owner. The mere fact that the purchase of a land is in the name of a certain person does not make the legal estate vest in him. 17 M.L.J. 174=30 M. 245; 3 W.R. 159. F

- (IV) A suit can proceed in the name of the benamidar, if the defendant does not object to it in the form. 3 W.R. 159; 24 C. 34. G

Where a bond in favour of A is sued on by B after the former's death, the latter must either entitle himself as the personal representative of the former or make his personal representative a party to the suit. 1 M.H.C.R. 452. H

(5) Claimant, and assignee of a share from the claimant, may join.

(a) In a suit for possession of an estate, the claimant and an assignee of an half share in the estate from the claimant, may join together as plaintiffs, and there is no misjoinder. 2 O.C. 149; 3 O.C. 215. I

(b) Some plaintiffs as heirs of the owner of property, and the rest as assignees of a portion of the rights of the other plaintiffs, may join in bringing a suit for possession of the properties of the deceased owner. 3 O.C. 176. J

(5a) Melvaramdar and Kudivaramdars.

A suit brought by the Melvaramdar and Kudivaramdars jointly against certain persons who were alleged to have wrongfully evicted plaintiffs from certain lands is not bad for misjoinder. 19 M. 335. K

(6) Minor—Manager—Entitled to sue.

The trusts of manager and guardian are vested in different persons. The manager can bring a suit for the minor with the sanction of the Court of Wards. 16 W.R. 231. L

(7) Parties owning parts of property.

Certain Jats sued for a declaration of their ownership of property, and subsequently certain butchers were allowed to be joined as co-plaintiffs on their own application, on the allegation that they were owners of part of the property. It was held that the suit was not bad for misjoinder. 4 P.L.R. 87=38 P.R. 1903. M

(8) Specific performance of a contract of sale.

A suit for—against the purchaser, with the receiver who had executed the contract of sale, as co-plaintiff, was admitted, as the receiver had obtained leave to sue. 6 B.L.R. 486. N

(9) Widow of testator and Receiver.

Suit by widow and executrix of testator who was a member of a firm up to his death for profits due from the firm prior to as well as subsequent to his death. Testator's estate had proved insolvent and a receiver appointed by Court. Receiver was added as co-plaintiff. The suit is not bad for misjoinder on that account as the receiver is entitled to sue for everything due to the testator's estate and not only for dues up to his death as contended by defendants; and the executrix is added as plaintiff only for greater safety. 9 B. 536. O

2.—“In whom any right to relief.”—(Concluded).

B.—PERSONS HAVING NO RIGHT TO RELIEF.

(1) Parties having no rights to relief.

In a suit by widows, for possession of property, given as gift to their deceased husbands, their children should not come in as plaintiffs, as they had no right to possession of inherited property during the lifetime of their mothers under Burmese law. 14 Bur. L.R. 30. P

(2) Suit by mother and guardian of minors for partition—Conveyance by plaintiff to a third party—Third party cannot be a co-plaintiff.

In a suit by the mother and guardian of two minors to obtain partition of joint family property the Court did not allow a third party who was made co-plaintiff by virtue of an alleged conveyance from the plaintiff to remain on record as co-plaintiff on the ground that the mother and guardian could not give him a right of suit against the other members of the family, and that the proprietary interests of the minors might ultimately be prejudiced. 21 W.R. 190. See 16 B. 608. Q

(3) Raja of Kota—Political Agent—Superintendent of Raj.

The Political Agent and Superintendent of the Raj is not entitled to sue for property belonging to the Raj. If the Raja was the proprietor, he should be plaintiff or if his right and interest had passed to Government, Government should be plaintiff. 2 A. 690. R

(4) Suit to recover possession under Specific Relief Act, S. 9.

Where, under a contract between A and B, an exclusive occupation of immovable property is given to A, he is the proper plaintiff in a suit for possession under S. 9, Specific Relief Act. If B desires to sue immediately on the possessory right, he should sue in A's name, though, for an injury to the reversion, B may properly sue in his own name. 5 B. 208. S

3.—“In respect of or arising out of the same act, or...or transactions.”

A.—CAUSE OF ACTION.

(a) The expression ‘cause of action’ in S. 26 (=O. I, r. 1 of the new Code) should be interpreted in its limited sense, so as to include the facts constituting the infringement of the right, but not necessarily also those constituting the right itself. 3 O.C. 176; 22 C. 883. But see 6 M. 239. T

(b) The term “—,” as used in the expugned clause of S. 31 of Act XIV of 1882, means every fact which it would be necessary for the plaintiff to prove, if traversed, in order to support his right to the judgment of the Court. It does not comprise every piece of evidence which is necessary to prove each fact, but every fact which is necessary to be proved. 18 A. 181=16 A.W.N. 2. U

(c) The words “in respect of the same cause of action” in S. 26, C.P.C., mean, “the facts which constituted the infringement of the right of the several plaintiffs being the same.” 10 C.W.N. 508=33 C. 367. Y

3.—“In respect of or arising out of the same act, or..or transactions.”

B.—NO MISJOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION.

- (a) There is no misjoinder of plaintiffs, or causes of action, if two sets of plaintiffs jointly claim relief against the same defendant, although the claim of one is not the same as that of the other, provided all plaintiffs claim under a common title in respect of the same matter. 1 A.L.J. 188. W
- (b) Where a minor represented by the Court of Wards and the grantees of certain mining rights in the zemindari from the Court of Wards acting on behalf of the minor, sued jointly to set aside a mining lease by the minor's father, the interests of the two plaintiffs were not inconsistent with each other and the suit was not therefore bad for misjoinder. 13 M. 197. X
- (c) In a suit by two plaintiffs for the value of personal property plundered, of which one plaintiff owned certain articles and the other, certain others, if the cause, time, place, and parties charged be the same in both the instances, the fact, that both plaintiffs have not a joint interest in the whole of the property plundered by the defendants is insufficiently to put them out of Court. W.R. (1864), 81. Y
- (d) Two estates belonged to two persons each of them owning one-half of each estate. Both the owners granted a putni lease to defendants. Subsequently there was a break up in the ownership in both estates; which break up the defendant had recognised at the time; and a person entitled to one estate sued the defendants for rent of his estate. It was held that the owners of the other estate need not be joined as parties. 9 C.W.N. 656. Z
- (e) Where one plaintiff owned one-third of an estate and the other three plaintiffs jointly owned another third, a suit by all the four against one who was in possession under a deed of gift for possession and for cancellation of the gift is not bad for misjoinder. 4 A. 261. A
- (f) In a suit for possession of property brought by four plaintiffs jointly, it was alleged that plaintiff No. 4 had purchased a 10 As. share. The Court decided that there was no misjoinder of “causes of action.” 10 C.W.N. 508=33 C. 267. B
- (g) A mortgagor's representatives and the transferee of a portion of the mortgaged property by the original mortgagor, can sue together to redeem the mortgage, as there is no misjoinder of “causes of action.” 9 P.W.R. 1908. C

C.—MISJOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION.

- (a) In the matter of an assault which took place at one and the same time 1st defendant attacked 1st plaintiff and 2nd defendant attacked 2nd plaintiff and a suit was brought for damages. It was held that there was misjoinder of plaintiffs. 26 B. 259=3 Bom. L.R. 878. D

C.—MISJOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION—(Concluded).

- (c) Where the defendant promised to pay each of the two plaintiffs a monthly allowance of certain sum, a joint suit by them for the amount due to both is bad for misjoinder. 4 A.W.N. 46. F
- (d) Several creditors, to each of whom separate debts are owing by the same debtor, cannot sue jointly for the avoidance of a fraudulent deed of gift by the debtor, the cause of action for each creditor being separate. 18 A. 432=16 A.W.N. 139. G
- (e) Where the sons objected to the attachment of property in execution of a decree against the father as the property had been previously partitioned and held in separate shares, a joint suit by them for a declaration that their shares were not liable to attachment is bad for misjoinder of causes of action. 13 A.W.N. 150. H
- (f) Three plaintiffs brought a joint suit for possession of immoveable property, two of them claiming half the property by inheritance and the third claiming the other half by purchase from the two former. The suit is bad for misjoinder of causes of action. 18 A. 131=16 A.W.N. 33. See also W.R. (1864), 81; 2 W.R. 219; N.W.P.H.C. - (g) A suit, by six plaintiffs jointly, for damages for libel, against defendants, is bad for misjoinder of plaintiffs and “causes of action.” 11 C.W.N. 680=34 C. 662. J
- (h) A pre-emption suit by two plaintiffs, each entitled to claim, but having no joint right to claim pre-emption, is bad for misjoinder of plaintiffs. 29 P.R. 1894; 3 P.R. 1881. K

D.—WHEN CAUSES OF ACTION CAN BE JOINED.

- (a) A Muhammadan widow and her daughter sued the other heirs of the Muhammadan for their share of the property, the widow alleging that certain conveyance by her were invalid, and the daughter alleging the same, and in addition alleging that the widow had no power to alienate her own share. It was held that, in the circumstances, the two causes of action might properly be brought in the same suit. 3 Bom. L.R. 658. L
- (b) A creditor can, in the same suit, sue for himself to have an assignment deed executed by the debtor declared void as against him, and on behalf of all the creditors, including himself; to have the assignment deed declared voidable at the option of creditors. 4 Bom. L.R. 180=26 B. 577. M

principal or the agent should sue, or to cases where parties have different and conflicting interests in the same subject matter, and an act is committed which gives the same cause of action to either party according to the eventual determination of the Court as to which of the two is entitled to recover. 6 M. 289. But see 22 C. 833. N

(1) Joint or alternative relief.

A plaint will not be bad, because it prays for a decree in favour of all plaintiffs on certain allegations, or in the alternative, in favour of one of them, if other allegations should be proved. 28 M. 500. O

(2) Plaintiffs in a suit to eject trespasser.

When the whole title to an estate is vested in one or both of two persons, they may join in a suit to eject a trespasser. S.C. 219. P

(3) Suit by trustees and worshippers.

In a suit against third parties acting to the injury of a temple, the trustees and certain others, who were called additional trustees, were plaintiffs. The others were allowed to stand as plaintiffs, as persons interested in the temple as worshippers, though not as additional trustees. 29 M. 106=15 M.L.J. 475. Q

(4) Suit by widow and her adopted son jointly.

The widow and the adopted son of a deceased person can sue jointly to set aside an attachment of property belonging to the deceased in execution of a decree against another, as the widow admitted the adoption and their claims were in no way antagonistic. 16 B. 119. R

But see 6 M. 289 where it was held that a suit brought by the widow and her adopted son jointly, claiming in the alternative either to recover the whole family estate for the latter if the adoption was valid or one-half of the estate for the former if the adoption was invalid, was bad for misjoinder. S

(5) Suit by daughter and daughter's sons together with their patnidar jointly.

Where the daughter and daughter's sons of a deceased person together with their putnidar sued jointly for possession of certain property as belonging either to the daughter or the daughter's sons, the suit was not bad for misjoinder as they all claimed the same relief, vis., possession and they did not advance any antagonistic claim. 22 C. 833. T

2. Where it appears to the Court that any joinder of O.XV

plaintiffs may embarrass or delay the trial of the 27
 Power of Court to order separate trials. suit, the Court may put the plaintiffs to their election or order separate trials or make such other order as may be expedient.

(Notes).

(N.B.)—This rule is new.

(1) This is intended to provide for any embarrassment or delay in trial which might ensue by a joinder of plaintiffs as per rule 1.

(Notes)—(Concluded).

English rules and orders.

(2) The corresponding portion of the English rule is the proviso in O. XVI, r. 1 which runs thus:—

“Provided that, if, upon the application of any defendant, it shall appear that such joinder may delay or embarrass the trial of the action, the Court or a Judge may order separate trials or make such other order as may be expedient.”

(3) It would appear that under the English rule the Court can order separate trials, etc., only on the application of the defendant, while, under this rule, that portion of the English rule is omitted and the Court may make such order of its own motion.

(4) This provision is rendered necessary by the wider liberties given in respect of joinder of plaintiffs by the substitution of the words “in respect of .. transactions” for the words “in respect of the same cause of action.”

(5) If the Court thinks that the joinder of separate actions will embarrass or delay the trial, it may order separate trials, or, it would seem, may confine or exclude causes of action, or may put the plaintiffs to their election, asking for a stay in the meantime. Sandes v. Wylsmith, (1893) 1 Q.B. 771; Hannay v. Smurthwaite, (1893) 2 Q.B. 414; Sadler v. G.W.B. Co., (1895) 2 Q.B. 688; Oxford and Cambridge v. Gill, (1899) 1 Ch. 55; *Bedford v. O. XVI, r. 1.

3. All persons may be joined as defendants¹ against whom any right to relief² in respect of or arising out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions³ is alleged to exist, whether jointly, severally or in the alternative⁴, where, if separate suits were brought against such persons, any common question of law or fact would arise⁵.

“All persons may be joined as defendants against whom the right to any relief is alleged to exist, whether jointly, severally or in the alternative, in respect of the same matter.”

Difference between the old section and this rule.

(1) Instead of the phrase “in respect of the same matter” is substituted the phrase “in respect of or arising out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions.”

(2) “Where, if separate suits were brought against such persons, any common question of law or fact would arise” is newly added after the words “in the alternative.”

The two conditions requisite under this rule for joinder of defendants are:—

(1) The right to relief against each defendant should be in respect of or should arise out of the same act or transaction or series of acts or transactions.

(2) There should be common question of law or fact.

English rules and orders.

(General).

Discretion of plaintiff in joining defendants.

A plaintiff is not bound to sue every possible adverse claimant in one suit. At his own risk, he can choose to leave the question that may arise between himself and a third party, to a future settlement. 27 B. 31=5 Bom. L.R. 754. U

EXAMPLE.

In a suit for recovery of immoveable property against the first defendant and his mortgagee, the auction purchaser of the property in execution of a decree against the first defendant is not a necessary party. He may later on bring a separate suit against him. 27 B. 31=5 Bom. L.R. 754. Y

1—"All persons may be joined as defendants."

General principles.

- (a) If the plaintiff has a cause of action against A and B for one tort, and if he has quite a separate cause of action against B for another tort, a suit cannot be brought claiming damages in respect of both torts against A and B. Per Romer, L.J., in Frankenburgh v. Great Horseless Car Company, 1 Q.B. 504; cf. Kent Coal, etc., Company v. Martin, 16 Times Report 486 (C.J.); Pope v. Hawtrey, 85 L.T. 263—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 153. W
- (b) Where, in an action brought against two separate tort-feasors, neither of whom has any control over the other, the cause of action is several and not joint, the joinder of the defendants would be bad. Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 153. X
- (c) Where there are two separate and distinct causes of action against two separate and distinct defendants, the joint result of the separate acts of the defendants being damage to the plaintiff, the latter cannot maintain one action against both. Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 153. Y
- (d) But, although the remedies against the several defendants may be different where the cause of action is the same against all, the joinder of defendants will be proper. Drineghier v. Wood, (1899) 1 Ch. 398—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 154. Z
- (e) Where two defendants, one, the owner of a vehicle in which the plaintiff was driving and was injured and the other, the owner of another vehicle who had also a share in causing the plaintiff's injuries, were sued jointly for damages, held, the joinder of defendants was not improper, because they were sued jointly for joint negligence, although separate negligence was proved against each. Bullock v. London G. Omnibus Coy., (1907) 1 K.B. 264 (C.A.)—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 154. A
- (f) Where all the defendants were charged with conspiracy and certain of them also with negligence and breach of duty, the joinder was held proper. Kent Coal, etc., Coy v. Martin, 16 Times Rep. 486 (C.A.)—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 154. B
- (g) Where, in a suit against ten defendants for conspiracy to boycott plaintiff and for damages, and the judgment apportioned the damages, the joinder was held proper, since the conspiracy was the one substantial cause of action. O'Keefe v. Walsh, (1903) 2 I.R. 681 (C.A.)—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 154. C

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Continued).

(1) Contract.

- (a) All the three parties to the contract are necessary parties to a suit by one of them for his share of the profits under the contract. 14 C. 791. D
- (b) In a suit for specific performance of a single contract, the parties on each side must be marshalled as plaintiffs and defendants. 2 C.W.N. 42. E

(2) Deaf and dumb person.

- A—is not, on that account alone, to be deemed incompetent to sue or to be used. 2 N.W.P. 414. F

(3) Decree-holder, judgment-debtor, auction-purchaser.

- (a) In a suit by trustees for benefit of creditors to set aside attachment by an execution creditor, all the creditors are not necessary parties. 3 Agra 104. G
- (b) A grantee or vendee of defendant during the pendency of a suit need not be made a party to the suit. 11 B. 64. See 7 W.R. 225. H
- (c) In execution of a decree by the joint decree-holders, one of the joint decree-holders purchased the judgment debtor's property, in Court auction with Court's permission. He got a sale certificate in his name and took possession of the property. Subsequently, he was dispossessed by the judgment-debtor, who sued him for recovery of possession. It was held that the other joint decree-holders were not necessary parties to the suit. 8 M.L.J. 3. I
- (d) The judgment-debtor is a necessary party to a suit under S. 283 of the old Code. 21 A.W.N. 14. J
- (e) The execution-creditor is a proper party to a suit under S. 246, C.P.C., 1859 (=S. 283 of Act XIV of 1882) by the owner against the purchaser of property wrongfully attached to restore all parties to the position which they occupied prior to such attachment and sale. 5 Bom. H.C.R.O.C. 83. K
- (f) In an appeal by the judgment-debtor against an order refusing to set aside an execution sale under S. 312, C.P.C., the auction purchaser is a necessary party. 188 P.R. 1882. L
- (g) In a suit by attaching creditor dissatisfied with share of sale proceeds allotted to him under S. 270, Act VIII of 1859 (=S. 73 of the present Code) against the other attaching creditors, all who have shared in the distribution are bound to be made defendants. 23 W.R. 434. M
- (h) An auction-purchaser of property sold in execution of an ex parte decree is not a necessary party to an application by the judgment-debtor to set aside the decree as he is not an “opposite party” within the meaning of O. IX, r. 14=S. 109, old Code. 26 C. 267=3 C.W.N. 261. N

(4) Government.

A.—WHEN GOVERNMENT A NECESSARY PARTY.

- (a) Where an act of state is questioned, directly or indirectly. 11 M.I.A. 517 =10 W.R. (P.C.) 25. O
- (b) Where a purchaser sues his vendor to compel mutation of names, the Collector is a necessary party. 3 M. 134; 15 M. 350. P

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Continued).

- (c) Where the public revenue is affected, in a suit by a shareholder for partition of joint estate. 22 W.R. 245. Q
- (d) In a suit for recovery of possession of land thrown up by a navigable river, which the plaintiff alleged to be an accretion to his estate but the defendant claimed as holding under a settlement with the Government. 5 C.L.R. 154. R
- (e) In a suit by a person claiming certain lands resumed by Government and settled with another party. 13 B.L.R. (F.B.), 118=21 W.R. 327. See also 22 W.R. 52. But see 2 C.L.R. 467, infra. S
- (f) Where the nature of the tenure of ghatwali land is in dispute. 6 Bom. H.C.R.A.C. 265. T
- (g) In a suit to set aside a revenue sale, held under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, the Secretary of State is a necessary party. 8 C.W.N. 657=31 C. 159. U

B.—WHEN GOVERNMENT NOT A NECESSARY PARTY.

- (1) In a suit to redeem a mortgage of ghatwali land, where, under the terms of the mortgage-deed, the mortgagor gave in a razinama to Government giving up all claim to the land. 6 Bom. H.C.R.A.C. 265. Y
- (2) In a suit by a shareholder of a joint estate to establish a right to partition, where the public revenue is not affected. 22 W.R. 245. W
- (3) In a suit to set aside a sale for arrears of revenue; though, on the application of Government, they are entitled to be made a party. 9 C. 271=11 C.L.R. 466. See also 25 C. 833=25 I.A. 151=2 C.W.N. 513. X
- (4) Where a piece of land was first settled by Government with one party and then with another, in a suit by the former against the latter for possession of land. 2 C.L.R. 467. But see 13 B.L.R. 118=21 W.R. 327, supra. Y
- (5) In a suit by one of the shareholders of an estate adjoining a chur land resumed by Government for possession as against another shareholder of the estate with whom the Government made a permanent settlement and for declaration of his right to participate in the settlement. 8 B.L.R. 524; 17 W.R. 145. Z
- (6) In a suit against a farmer of Abkari revenue for refund of money illegally levied at his instance by the Collector, under S. 29, Bombay Abkari Act (V of 1878). 11 B. 519. A
- (7) In a suit by an owner of land against one who claims to use such land as public road. 15 C. 460. B
- (8) In a suit against a Municipal Council for a declaration of the plaintiff's title to a certain structure within the limits of the Municipality. 15 M. 292. C

(5) Husband and wife.

- (1) Husband is not a necessary co-defendant in a suit against a woman, married before 1865, in respect of her separate property. 10 C.L.R. 536. D
- (2) Wife was made party to the suit, on the ground that a building on the estate was erected by her husband with money forming her separate estate. Cor. 41. E

1—"All persons may be joined as defendants."—(Continued).

(6) Landlord and tenant.

A.—EJECTMENT SUITS.

- (1) A plaintiff with a legal title to the land can sue for ejectment the person in actual possession without making the person, under whom the latter claims to hold, a party to the suit though such person, if added, will be a proper party. 21 B. 229. F

(2) Suit by a landlord against his tenant under a registered lease.

In a—, the person from whom plaintiff holds the land, persons claiming to hold it from a third party and such third party should not be brought on record. 20 M. 375. G

- (3) The auction-purchaser of the raiyat's right and interest in the tenure, sold in execution of a decree obtained by the talukdar for rent, is a necessary party in a later suit by the talukdar for arrear of rent and ejectment against the same raiyat. 10 W.R. 494; reversing 10 W.R. 304. H

B.—SUITS FOR RENT.

- (a) In a suit for rent against a tenant by a landlord persons preferring opposing claims to plaintiff ought not to be joined as parties unless the opponent's position would be compromised by a decree in favour of plaintiff, e.g., when the opponent claims to be in actual possession by receipt of rents. 19 W.R. 248. I

- (b) Nor should he be added where such addition would change the scope and character of the suit. 20 W.R. 383; 24 W.R. 357; 4 C.L.R. 168. Or make it other than a bona fide suit for rent. 21 W.R. 88; 22 W.R. 526; 16 W.R. 132; 23 W.R. 168. J

- (c) Where the defendant in a suit for rent denied plaintiff's title and set up title in a third party, the third party might be added as an intervenor to try the question, who was the beneficial owner and entitled to the rent. 22 W.R. 440. K

- (d) But see 8 C. 238=10 C.L.R. 581, where it was held that the third party ought not to be made a party, so as to convert a suit for arrears of rent into one for determination of title. See 19 W.R. 248 and the other decisions thereunder. L

- (di) But see 24 W.R. 261, where it was held that an intervenor has no right to be made defendant or to introduce into the suit a new issue as to title. See also 24 W.R. 101, where it was held that the party added cannot raise an issue so as to change the scope and nature of the suit, but he is competent to raise all questions whether of title or otherwise which bear upon the issue, is the plaintiff entitled to recover the rent claimed? M

- (e) It is wrong to introduce in a suit for rent an intervenor who alleges that plaintiff is his benamidar, as the question of benami is quite foreign to the suit. 24 W.R. 349. N

- (f) But see 5 C.L.R. 179, where a person alleging to be a purchaser from the beneficial owner of property was allowed to intervene in a suit by one who denied title from the ostensible purchaser against talukdars for rent on the ground that the question of benami was properly raised in the suit and ought to have been tried. O

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Continued).

- (g) An intervenor, who claims to have acquired a share of the property for which rent is claimed, may be made a defendant at the discretion of the Court. The Court is bound to determine any question of title arising between parties for the purposes of the suit. 24 W.R. 350. P
- (h) In a suit for rent, where the defendant alleged that a third person had a joint interest with plaintiff in the property, and where the plaintiff disputed this and objected, it was improper to add such person as co-plaintiff and if added at all it should be as defendant. 7 C. 148. Q
- (i) In a suit by a landlord against his tenants for rent, where they pleaded that they had paid the rent to a co-sharer of the plaintiff, and the co-sharer alleged that he was entitled to rent as a co-sharer, as well as an agent of the plaintiff, the Court was justified in making him a party to the suit under S. 148 of the N.W.P. Rent Act though it was not competent to pass a decree against him. 9 A. 394. R
- (j) Where, in a suit for arrears of rent by the zemindar, the defendant pleaded that the rent was payable to another person as Mokuraidar, such third person was properly made a defendant to the suit. 8 B.L.R. 180=16 W.R. 235. See also 8 B.L.R. 184=13 W.R. 362 and 25 W.R. 29. S
- (k) Receipts for rent were granted separately by the landlord's Tahsildar to the tenants of a holding. The Tahsildar cannot be added as a defendant in the landlord's suit for rent, brought jointly against the tenants. 10 C.W.N. 216. T
- (l) Where some of the defendants had taken a lease in the name of a third person and the other defendants were sureties for the third person, in a suit for arrears of rent, the sureties could not be sued as such under Act X of 1859 (Bengal). 2 B.L.R.A.C. 287=11 W.R. 120. U
- (m) To a suit by purchaser, for rent accruing between the date of his purchase and the date of the transfer, the pre-emptor is a necessary party. 1 Agra Rev. 30. Y
- (n) Though the lambardar is ordinarily the proper party to be sued for rent of pattidari estate, under S. 7 of Act XIV of 1863, the several pattidars can be sued for their respective shares of rent instead of recovering it through the lambardar. 2 Agra Pt. II, 165. W
- (o) In a private partition between co-sharers, certain specific lands were allotted to one co-sharer in severalty, the rest remaining undivided. In a subsequent partition by the Collector under Bengal Act VIII of 1876, the same lands were allotted to plaintiffs. In a suit for rent against the tenants, the patnidar of the co-sharer to whom the lands were allotted in private partition were properly made parties. 20 C. 285. See also 23 W.R. 227; 4 C. 350 and 12 C. 555. X
- (p) Parties, not registered in the zemindari serishta, are not entitled to intervene in a suit against the registered tenants. 24 W.R. 151. Y

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Continued).

(7) Maintenance.

- (a) To a suit by an illegitimate son for maintenance, out of his deceased father's estate, all persons in possession of the father's property are necessary parties. 2 B. 140. Z
- (b) All the members of a Malabar Tarwad are necessary parties to a suit by one member against the Karnavan for an increased rate of maintenance. 7 M. 428. A

(8) Mortgages.

- (a) All persons in whom portions of the equity of redemption are vested, must be made parties to a suit by one of the joint tenants or tenants in common to redeem the whole estate. 10 B. 648. B
- (b) All persons interested in a property, which it is sought to redeem or recover on payment of a charge, are necessary parties, as, otherwise, the possessor may be exposed to many suits upon the same cause of action. 11 B. 425. C
- (c) Plaintiff, a Mahomedan, sued to recover his father's share in two portions of family property, which were mortgaged by plaintiff's father and father of 1st defendant jointly but were redeemed by the father of 1st defendant and 1st defendant alone. Plaintiff's brothers and sisters were necessary parties. 11 B. 425. D
- (cl) The plaintiff may implead persons, who claim the right of redemption, in opposition to him. 3 Agra 144. E
- (d) The person to whom the equity of redemption passed by purchase is a necessary party to the suit. 2 Bom. H.C.R. 202, 2nd Edn. 194. F
- (e) A patnidar, under a mortgagor, who had taken a patui lease prior to the mortgage, is a necessary party to a suit by the mortgagee on the mortgage as he should be given an opportunity to redeem. 8 C. 79 = 9 C.L.R. 173; 10 C.L.R. 113, followed in 21 C. 116; see also 5 C.L.R. 243. G
- (f) In a suit for foreclosure against assignee of mortgaged property the personal representatives of the mortgagor are necessary parties. He who has the equity of redemption is the only necessary party. Bourke O.C. 819. H
- (g) The parties in possession should be made parties to the suit and not the mortgagor alone. 16 W.R. 98. I
- (h) A suit for sale of the whole mortgaged property, brought by the representative of the purchaser from one of the heirs of the deceased mortgagee of his share in the mortgage right, is not maintainable without joining all the persons interested, as parties. 9 A. 68. J
- (i) The holder of a hypothecation bond can sue on the bond, impleading in the same suit the debtor and purchaser in whose hands the hypotheca is. 6 N.W.P. 323. K
- (j) Where part of the mortgaged property concerned is conveyed to different persons, all the alienees are entitled to be made parties to a suit on the mortgage. 25 W.R. 60. L

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Continued).

- (k) A creditor who purchases under an execution against the general assets of a testator's estate, takes subject to a mortgage created in pursuance of a power contained in the will; and the purchaser is rightly made a party in a suit to foreclose. 3 B.L.R.O.C. 7=11 W.R.O.C.21. M
- (l) All prior and puisne mortgagees of whose mortgages the plaintiff has notice should be made parties to a suit by a mortgagee on his mortgage. 9 A. 125; 13 A. 315; see 10 B. 224; 9 A. 125; 10 A. 520. N
- (m) A subsequent incumbrancer is a necessary party to a suit by a prior incumbrancer on his mortgage. 13 A. 432; 6 B. 11 and 10 B. 88. O
- (n) Where the patnidars were also second mortgagees, they were entitled as second mortgagees to be made parties to a suit on the first mortgage to have an opportunity of redeeming the prior mortgage. 21 C. 116; 5 C. 265=4 C.L.R. 358; 5 C. 269; 6 C. 317. P
- (o) In a suit by a mortgagee against two out of his three mortgagors, where incumbrance had been created subsequent to the mortgage sued on, it was necessary to bring the third mortgagor as well as the subsequent incumbrancers to the record under S. 85, T.P.A. 15 M. 487. Q
- (p) Where the subsequent mortgage is executed only after the filing of the suit on a prior mortgage, the subsequent mortgagees need not be made a party under S. 85, T.P.A. 21 A. 149. R
- (q) In a suit by a puisne mortgagee on his mortgage, a prior mortgagee is not a necessary party unless the puisne mortgagee offer to redeem his mortgage. 1 C.W.N. 453. S
- (r) See, contra, 22 B. 701, where it was held that a prior mortgagee should be made a party to a suit by the puisne mortgagee for foreclosure. T
- (s) In a suit by a second mortgagee (admittedly overpaid) to compel the first mortgagees to convey to him the mortgaged premises, the heir or legal representative of the deceased mortgagor is a necessary party. 5 B.O.C. 76. U
- (t) A prior mortgagee, under a mortgage executed by the minor's father, is not affected by the subsequent mortgage by the minor's guardian and the only person affected is the owner of the equity of redemption the minor—He is a necessary party to a suit by the subsequent mortgagee to redeem the prior mortgage. 23 B. 287. V
- (u) In a suit to determine the rights of mortgagee's inter se, the representatives of mortgagors are necessary parties. 15 C. 35. W
- (v) In a suit for possession as mortgagee against a third party where the mortgagee's title is denied, the mortgagor must be made a defendant to show the extent of the rights and interests of the mortgagor in the property sued for. 2 N.W.P. 72. Compare 2 B.L.R. A.C. 207=11 W.R. 80. X
- (w) Mortgage by the lambardar for himself and as agent for the other sharers. In a suit for possession by the mortgagee they should have been made parties as well as the lambardar. 2 Agra, Pt. II, 207. Y

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Continued).

- (x) The representatives of the mortgagor are not necessary parties to a suit for recovery of property from the mortgagee of the administrator of a deceased person, who had entered into a contract with plaintiff that the property should be the absolute property of plaintiff after his death if plaintiff should carry on a litigation concerning it at his own expense. 8 Bom. H.C.R. O.C. 1. Z
- (y) In a suit by a sub-mortgagee, to recover his debt by sale of the rights mortgaged to him, the original mortgagor is not a necessary party. A.W.N. (1905), 76=2 A.L.J. 434=27 A. 511. A
- (z) In a suit by a sub-mortgagee for sale of mortgaged property, both the original mortgagors and the mortgagees should be impleaded as parties, and opportunities should be given them to safeguard their interests. 5 A.L.J. 402. B
- (aa) In a suit by a mortgagee for possession of the mortgaged property, the mortgagor's sons are not necessary parties, even though they constitute a joint family, when the property was not the ancestral property of the family. 1 A.L.J. 367. C
- (bb) In a suit for possession under a mortgage, where the managing member is made a party, another member of the family is not a necessary party. 4 C.W.N. 297. D
- (cc) In a mortgagee's suit for sale of family property mortgaged by father, the sons need not necessarily be made parties. 1 O.C. 53. E
- (dd) The undivided sons of a Hindu father should be made parties to a suit on a mortgage of ancestral property executed by the father alone. A decree against the father alone cannot affect the son's right in the property. 17 A. 537; 27 C. 724=4 C.W.N. 701; see also 22 A. 394 and 408. F
- (ee) In a suit for foreclosure, on a mortgage of joint family property by the father alone, the sons also should be made parties and an opportunity should also be given them to redeem it. A.W.N. (1908), 106. G
- (ff) To a suit for khas possession of an undefined area of the mortgage land by one mortgagee, his fellow mortgagees are necessary parties. 25 W.R. 39. H
- (gg) Where two brothers had separated themselves from a third, the latter was not a necessary party to a suit by the other two jointly for a declaration of their rights to 2/3 of a mortgage debt which belonged to their father before his death. 21 M. 373 (383)=8 M.L.J. 139. I

(9) Negotiable Instruments.

- (a) In a suit on a pro-note against the representatives of a deceased, a bona fide purchaser for value of a portion of the assets of the deceased, is not a proper party. But, a person is in possession of the assets of the deceased as an executor de son tort, is a proper party. 6 M.L.J. 186. J
- (b) The payee of a bill of exchange should not join the drawer and the firm on which the bill was drawn as defendants in the same suit where the firm dishonoured the bill on presentation. 3 B. 182. K

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants”—(Continued).(10) Official Assignee.

- (a) The defendant having been adjudicated an insolvent under the Insolvent Act (11 and 12 Vic., C. 21), the Official Assignee was placed upon the record as a defendant and judgment entered against him for the sum claimed to be paid out of the insolvent's estate. The Official Assignee is not a proper party, there being nothing in the Insolvent Act which enables a suit of this kind to be continued against the Official Assignee. 18 C. 43 L
- (b) The Official Assignee is not a necessary party to a suit by the heirs of a deceased person for recovery of property acquired by the deceased after the vesting order was made on a petition of insolvency presented by him. The Official Assignee should, however, be given notice in case of a decree in plaintiff's favour. 16 B. 452. M
- (c) The Official Assignee is not a necessary party to any suit to recover a money debt from a person who is either an insolvent on the date of institution of suit or becomes insolvent pending the suit. 22 C. 259. See also 1 B.H.C. 251 ; 1 P.C. 43. N

(11) Partition.

- (a) A partition suit cannot be properly dealt with, unless all who are admittedly shareholders in the joint property are before the Court. 12 W.R. 256. See also 14 W.R. 339 ; 18 W.R. 48 ; 20 W.R. 138 ; 2 C. 149 ; 16 B. 608. O
- (b) A suit for a partition of a portion of a joint estate is maintainable, when such portion is the only property held jointly by the plaintiff and the defendants. 1 C.L.J. 40. P
- (c) In a suit by one member of a joint family for a share of the joint family property, all the members of the family are necessary parties. 2 C. 149 ; see also 12 W.R. 256 ; 14 W.R. 339 ; 18 W.R. 48 ; 20 W.R. 138. Q
- (d) In a suit for partition between sons of different wives of a deceased person, the wives if alive are necessary parties to the suit as they are entitled to share with their sons. 4 C. 756 = 4 C.L.R. 161. R
- (e) In a suit for partition by the son against the father and elder brother, a banker from whom the father had borrowed money hypothecating ancestral property is a proper and even a necessary party. 1 A.W.N. 36. S
- (f) A purchaser or mortgagee of a co-parcener's share in the joint property is a proper, and even necessary, party to a suit for partition. 16 B. 608. T
- (g) The plaintiff obtained a mukurari lease of a small portion of land of a joint zemindari from the owner of a 12 annas share. The owner of 4 annas share granted a patni of his share in the whole property to defendants. In a suit by plaintiff for partition of the small portion of land, for the defendants, the zemindars were necessary parties and in their absence the suit would not lie. 7 C. 577 = 9 C.L.R. 170. U

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Continued).

(12) Partnership.

- (a) An individual partner may sue for a winding up and for an account; but to such a suit all the members of the firm are necessary parties. 65 P.R. 1884 (Civil). Y
- (b) If there has been no adjustment of accounts between the partners of a defunct firm, in a suit by one or more members against another member for contribution to recover money paid in liquidation of a debt due by the firm, all the partners are necessary parties. 18 W.R. 408. W
- (c) In a contract by a partner on behalf of the partnership, the promisee can sue any or all of the joint promisors; and the non-joinder of a co-promisor is no ground of defence to such a suit. 97 P.R. 1902. X
- (d) Where a partnership which originally consisted of the defendant and another was dissolved, but the defendant continued to carry on the business and also continued his dealings with plaintiff, a suit for money on account of dealings against the defendant alone is not bad for non-joinder of the later partner.

It is not incumbent on a person dealing with partners to make them all defendants in a suit. 21 M. 256. Y

- (e) Where a suit was instituted against three persons as members of a firm and it happened that only one of them was a member with two persons other than those sued, it was not incumbent upon the plaintiff to sue all the partners in the firm and the plaintiff was entitled to proceed against the person who was a member alone. 4 C.W.N. 369; 6 B. 700; 21 M. 256. Z
- (f) In a suit brought upon a contract made by a firm the plaintiff may select as defendants those partners of the firm against whom he wishes to proceed, allowing his right of suit against those whom he does not make defendants to be barred. 6 B. 700. See also 21 M. 256. A
- (g) Where the plaintiff, as heir of his mother, sued a firm in which he was himself a partner, there was no objection to the frame of the suit on the ground of the plaintiff being also a defendant, as he was made a defendant in a totally different capacity. 10 B. 358. B
- (h) Where in the absence of a representative of a deceased partner, the surviving partners adjusted partnership accounts and agreed to hand over a portion of the partnership property to one of the partners on a compromise, in a suit by the partner for dissolution of partnership on the basis of the compromise, the representative of the deceased partner was a necessary party. 1 Bom. Ap. 51. C
- (i) To a suit for an account of dealings and transactions of a deceased partner in a Hindu family bank and for a dissolution of the partnership, the heir or legal representative of the deceased partner is a necessary party. 3 M.I.A. 175. D
- (j) The purchaser of the interest of one partner is properly joined as a defendant in a suit in respect of the partnership. 4 A. 437. E

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Continued).

- (k) The fact that surviving partners are made parties to an administration suit of the estate of a deceased partner does not alone enable the Court to direct such surviving partners to render an account of the partnership estate. Surviving partners should not be made co-defendants with the executors merely by reason of their partnership. They can be made co-defendants where the relation between executors or administrators and the surviving partners is such as to present a substantial impediment to the prosecution by the former of the rights of the parties interested in the estate against the latter. Bourke O.C. 350. F

(13) Pre-emption.

- (a) In a pre-emption suit the vendor is usually joined as a matter of convenience. There is no legal necessity for such a joinder, and a suit cannot fail for such a non-joinder. 80 P.R. 1888 ; 134 P.R. 1889. G
- (b) During pendency of a pre-emption suit against the vendor and the vendee, three others who had obtained a decree of pre-emption against the same parties in respect of the same sale, were also added as defendants. It was held that under S. 372, O.P.C., the vendor's interest devolved on the three decree holders, pending this suit, and that they were rightly joined as defendants. 29 P.R. 1887. H

(14) Proprietary body.

- (a) In a suit relating to an abadli of a village, (which was a shamilat) by one of three tarafs of the village, against the second taraf and one patti of the third taraf, all the tarafs are necessary parties ; and so, the proprietors of the remaining pattis of the third taraf ought to be joined as defendants. 92 P.R. 1881. I
- (b) Plaintiffs, being sharers in a village, can bring a suit against all the other sharers for settlement of accounts; and such a suit will not be bad for misjoinder of parties. 1 O.C. 215. J
- (c) In a suit to restrain the proprietors of one patti from closing a pathway over the shamilat of the village, it was not necessary to implead the other proprietors of the village, as the act complained of, was one of obstruction by a section of the proprietary body. 41 P.R. 1888. K
- (d) Where there is no dispute as to the land being shamilat, it is not necessary to make all the co-sharers, parties to the suit. 108 P.R. 1889. L

(15) Tort.

In an action for a wrong, independent of a contract, joinder of all the wrong-doers is not essential. 72 P.R. 1867 (Civil). M

(16) Trespasser.

- (a) There was no misjoinder of parties or causes of action in a suit to eject defendants as trespassers, brought by the reversioner, on the death of the widow, on the allegation that he had a right to possession vested in him on the death of the widow, though various defendants raised different defences in the suit. 24 P.R. 1899. N
- (b) A person who has trespassed cannot plead as a defence, that some one else has trespassed with him, and that, therefore, he alone cannot be sued. 2 Bom.L.R. 283. O

(17) Trustee.

- (a) The eldest son of the deceased eldest son of a trustee is a necessary party to a suit for the removal of the trustee and for appointment of another in his place, where the trustee contended that the succession to the office was by the rule of primogeniture. 4 C.W.N. 462. P
- (b) In a suit for removal of trustee under S. 539 of Act XIV of 1882 (=Ss. 92 and 93 of the present Code), the alienees from the trustee are not necessary defendants. 20 A. 46. See 15 C. 329=15 I.A. 1; 15 B. 612. Q
- (c) Where an application is made, to set aside a consent decree in a suit to set aside a trust deed in which though added as a party, the trustee did not appear and the suit was subsequently withdrawn as against him, the trustee was entitled to appear in the application and be heard on the motion as a necessary party. 27 C. 428=4 C.W.N. 169. R

(18) Miscellaneous.

- (a) In a suit by the assignee of a debt against the debtors, if the defendants dispute plaintiff's title itself, then, in order to have this satisfactorily tried and decided, the assignors should also be added as defendants. 28 P.R. 1903=4 P.L.R. 77. S
- (b) In a suit against a minor for rent, all the executors under the will of the minor's father, are necessary parties, subject to the proviso in S. 438, C.P.C. of 1882. C.L.J. 484. T
- (c) Plaintiff sued to establish his right to a goat sacrificed on the fourth day of each month on an alleged custom by which each of five families took certain goats in each month; the other families are necessary parties to such a suit. 17 C. 906. See also 12 W.R. 256. U
- (d) All persons who are parties to the fraud can be impleaded as defendants in a suit for cancellation of a bond as forgery, though their names do not appear on the bond as obligors. 8 A.W.N. 206. V
- (e) Intervenor irregularly admitted by himself on special appeal by the intervenor, held he was not entitled to be treated as a party added under S. 78, Act VIII of 1859. 17 W.R. 176; 17 W.R. 219; 24 W.R. 261. W
- (f) In a suit for damages for malicious prosecution instituted by the first defendant and sanctioned by the second defendant, a Subordinate Judge, the Court doubted whether the two defendants could properly be joined in one suit. 10 Bom. H.C.R. 182. X
- (g) The Nawab Nazim is a necessary party to a suit by a claimant against the Government and the grantee to recover property which the Commissioners appointed under the Nawab Nazim's Debt Act had certified to be nizamat property but which had been conveyed by the Nawab to his son before the passing of the Act. 9 C. 704=12 C.L.R. 595=10 I.A. 39. Y
- (h) In a suit for possession under Specific Relief Act, S. 9, when the defendants claimed to be in possession under a third party whom they set up as the real owner, such third party is not a necessary party to the suit as he had no physical possession. If he desires to maintain the expulsion as an act done on his behalf, he may claim to be admitted as defendant. 5 B. 208. Z

1.—“All persons may be joined as defendants.”—(Concluded).

- (i) To a suit to compel registration of a document under S. 77 of the Registration Act, 1877, after denial of execution, the Registrar is not a necessary party. 5 C. 445=5 C.L.R. 172. See also 8 B. 269. A
- (j) The reversioner is not a proper co-defendant in a suit to recover possession of property held by a widow. 15 W.R. 6. B.
- (k) In a suit by three or four joint shabants to set aside an alienation of debutter lands by the fourth, the latter is a necessary party, the general rule being that all the parties interested in the subject-matter of a suit should be joined in it. 8 C. 42. C
- (l) Where a minor is interested in contesting the execution and validity of a will by her father she should not be joined as co-plaintiff with the executor of the will but might be made a defendant. 2 Bom. H.C.R. 327, 2nd Edn., 310. D.

2.—“Against whom any right to relief.”

A.—PARTIES AGAINST WHOM RELIEF CAN BE CLAIMED.

- (a) A person getting renewal of pro-note unauthorisedly, is a trustee for the rightful owner; and in a suit by the rightful owner to recover the sum due under the renewed note, the debtor, the person who caused the renewal, and the person in whose name the renewal stood, all could be joined as defendants. 29 M. 87. E.
- (b) Persons who alleged that the plaintiff's vendors were not entitled to the full share of the property as they themselves had purchased a portion thereof were proper parties, under S. 73, C.P.C. of 1859 to a suit for possession and registration of names as proprietors. 16 W.R. 19. F.
- (c) In a suit by a mortgagee for possession, the subsequent mortgagees and purchasers who opposed him in obtaining possession were rightly joined as defendants. 22 W. R. 532. G.
- (d) Trustees for benefit of creditors are rightly added as defendants to a suit, by a creditor of an insolvent, against the insolvent for his debt, where they refused to register his claim. 3 A. 799=1 A.W.N. 72. H.
- (e) In a suit against a party, holding under a lessee, for declaration that certain pattas, alleged to have been granted to the lessee by a zemindar, are forgeries, all the parties interested in, and holding under, the pattas are necessary parties, the principle being that all persons who are interested in the question must be made parties to a suit in a Court of equity. 12 W.R. 247. I.
- (f) Where the purchaser from an auction purchaser in execution of a decree against the mortgagor sued the usufructuary mortgagee for possession of property alleging that the mortgage debt had been satisfied out of the usufruct, the heirs of the mortgagor were necessary parties to the suit, as they were interested in the account which must be taken in the suit and they should be bound by it. 6 N.W.P. 208. J.

A.—PARTIES AGAINST WHOM RELIEF CAN BE CLAIMED.—(Concluded).

- (g) A suit is not bad for misjoinder of parties, where there is really one cause of action against some defendants and the relief claimed against the other defendants is only ancillary to the main relief. 29 M. 29. K
- (h) In a suit for specific performance of an agreement for partition entered into by the plaintiff and the 1st defendant, the 1st defendant's son may be impleaded as a defendant under S. 28, C.P.C., though specific performance cannot be claimed against him. 4 M.L.J. 288. L
- (i) In a suit for specific performance of an agreement by the members of a joint family for partition, a minor member of the family is a proper party though he was not a party to the arrangement. 19 M. 211=4 M.L.J. 288. M
- (j) See, further, cases under “AGENTS” under O. I, r. 1, supra.

B.—PARTIES AGAINST WHOM THERE COULD BE NO RELIEF.

- (a) Where a principal is sued for the acts of the agent, the agent is not a necessary party to the suit. 8 Agra 181. N
- (b) The obligee of a money-bond is not liable to be made a defendant in a suit by his assignee to enforce payment of the bond. 1 M.H.C.R. 140. O
- (c) In a suit on a simple money bond, persons endeavouring to obtain transfer of property from defendant should not be made co defendant, as that bond did not create any charge on the lands. 9 W.R. (P.C.), 9=11 M.I.A. 458. P
- (d) Where plaintiff lent some money to defendant on a bond for carrying on a suit against a co-sharer for his share of the property, but, after the loan, the defendant colluded with the co-sharer and got much less than he claimed, allowed the property to be in possession of that co-sharer, in a suit for recovery of the amount so lent, the co-sharer should not be added as a party defendant on the ground of collusion with defendant. 5 N.W.P. 25. Q
- (e) Strangers to a contract cannot be made parties to a suit for specific performance of the contract, and a plaintiff cannot, therefore, in the same suit, pray for specific performance as against one defendant and for a declaration that he is not entitled to a charge on the property agreed to be sold as against another defendant. 5 B. 177. R
- (f) The above rule is, however, applicable only to cases where, from the plaintiff's case, it appears that the stranger has a distinct interest from that of the other parties to the contract. 10 C. 1061. See also 18 M. 415=5 M.L.J. 164 and 19 M. 211=4 M.L.J. 288. S
- (g) Where a Hindu minor, represented by his mother and guardian ad litem, was sued for specific performance of a contract for sale of his land entered into by his guardian, a subsequent purchaser of the same property from the guardian is a proper party. 18 M. 415=5 M.L.J. 164. See also 22 B. 46. T

2.—“Against whom any right to relief.”—(Concluded).

B.—PARTIES AGAINST WHOM THERE COULD BE NO RELIEF.—(Concluded).

- (h) In a suit for foreclosure, a plaintiff is entitled to exempt a portion of the property, the title to which was in dispute, or in doubt, and is also entitled not to implead the alleged owners in the suit. 2 A.L.J. 630 = A.W.N. (1905), 244 = 28 A. 174. U
- (i) In a suit by an auction-purchaser against the decree-holder for purchase money, on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no title to the property sold, the judgment-debtor was not a necessary party. 10 C.W.N. 274. Y
- (j) A suit to set aside a lease against the assignee of the lessee is not bad for non-joinder of certain persons in whose favour the assignee had executed a declaration of trust, as the interests of the assignee are not hostile to the persons entitled under the declaration. 18 M. 197. W

3.—“In respect of or arising out of the same act..or transactions.”

A.—GENERAL.

- (a) The words “in respect of the same matter” are wider in scope than the words “same cause of action” in S. 26, C.P.C., and indicate, that claims to relief might be joined in one suit against several defendants, whether they constituted separate causes of action or not, so long as they are in respect of the same matter. 18 M L.J. 238 = 31 M. 252. X
- (b) ‘Matter,’ in S. 28, C.P.C., means the subject-matter of the suit. In a suit on a pro-note, a person who subsequently became surety for the payment of the note, was rightly joined as a defendant. 8 L.B.R. 191. Y

B.—NO MISJOINDER OF DEFENDANTS OR CAUSES OF ACTION.

- (b) In a suit to cancel bonds executed in favour of separate defendants, in respect of the same matter, though the causes of action against separate defendants are different—plaintiff is entitled to sue all together. 5 P.R. 1896. A
- (c) Two persons had two decrees, respectively, against the same person, and both attached the same property. A third party put in a claim against one of these attachments, and the claim was dismissed. He brought a suit to set aside both the attachments, and for a declaration of his rights, as against both the decree-holders. It was held that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of parties, or causes of action. 10 M.L.J. 234. B
- (d) In a partition suit, the plaintiff can implead all the members of the joint family, and also those who were in possession of portions of family property—for, the main ‘cause of action’ against all defendants is, that they were in possession of plaintiff’s share of joint property, and refused to give them up. 10 O.C. 32. C

3.—“In respect of or arising out of the same act..or transactions.”

—(Continued).

- (e) In a suit for partition, one of the defendants died, and his widow was impleaded, on the ground that she had taken possession of her husband's estate, out of which, possession of $\frac{1}{3}$, was claimed by the plaintiff. It was held that there was no misjoinder of parties or causes of action. 79 P.R. 1899. D
- (f) In a suit for possession, different transferees, under different deeds of different times, may be joined as defendants, the plaintiff having only one cause of action against them. 4 A.L.J. 121=A.W.N. (1907), 36=29 A. 267. See, contra, 16 A. 279=14 A.W.N. 82. See also 7 M.H.C.R. 290; 2 N.W.P.H.C. 221; 3 N.W.P.H.C. 86; 5 A. 163; 7 B. 289; 14 C. 435; 14 C. 681. E
- (g) In a suit to set aside sales under S. 283, O.P.C., the cause of action being the alleged wrongful attachment, the different purchasers of the attached property at different sales, may be joined as defendants in the same suit. 13 M.L.J. 479=27 M.-94. F
- (h) In a suit by A against B and 30 others, for possession of property, alleging that B and himself are reversionary heirs to the widow, who, in her life time, transferred the whole of the said property to B, and that B had alienated portions of property to other defendants, it was held that there was no misjoinder of defendants. 13 C.P.L.R. 9; A.W.N. (1908), 235=5 A.L.J. 647=4 M.L.T. 392. See, contra, 16 A. 279=14 A.W.N. 82. See also 7 M.H.C.R. 290; 2 N.W.P.H.C. 221; 3 N.W.P.H.C. 86; A. 163; 7 B. 289; 14 C. 435; 14 C. 681. G
- (i) In a suit for possession against some 15 defendants, it was alleged that plaintiffs and defendants became jointly entitled to the property, on the death of a woman, and that some of the defendants claimed different titles for portions of the land; it was held that there was no misjoinder of defendants or causes of action. 6 O.C. 379. H
- (j) In a suit by a ward, against the guardian and others, for recovery of property, sold to the others by the guardian, it was held, that there was no misjoinder of parties, or causes of action. 3 M.L.T. 286=18 M.L.J. 265. I
- (k) In a suit against trustees for the appointment of a fresh trustee, and to recover trust properties, a third party, the widow and heir of a trustee, who was alleged to have some trust property with her, was also made a defendant. 4 L.B.R. 183. J
- (l) In a suit for account against A and B as agents, the plaintiff may ask for account as against A from 1265 to 1283 and as against B from 1281 to 1283. There is no misjoinder. 7 C. 654; 9 C.L.R. 265. K
- (m) Though a Revenue Court had, under Act X of 1859, no jurisdiction to take cognizance of a suit against the sureties of a lessee, a suit brought jointly against the lessees and their sureties was not bad for misjoinder. 5 N.W.P. 222. L

3.—“In respect of or arising out of the same act..or transactions.”

—(Continued).

B.—NO MISJOINDER OF DEFENDANTS OR CAUSES OF ACTION.—(Concluded).

- (n) Where the owner of property sold on two separate occasions under a mortgage decree, claims contribution proportionately against the owners of the other parts included in the mortgage, he can implead them all as defendants in one suit, separate suits against each and for each sale being unnecessary. 12 A. 110=10 A.W.N. 31. See also N.W.P.H.C. (1873), 215; 3 M.H.C.R. 187; 10 W.R. 10; W.R. (1864), 303. But see 1 A. 455. M
- (o) Where a plaintiff purchased a portion of the inheritance of a deceased Mahomedan from two of his heirs by two separate sale deeds of different dates, and sued for recovery of the shares of his vendors impleading another heir of the deceased and certain transferees from him, who kept him out of possession, as defendants, there was no misjoinder of parties or causes of action. 24 A. 358=1902 A.W.N. 85. See also 11 A. 33. N

C.—CASES OF MISJOINDER OF DEFENDANTS AND CAUSES OF ACTION.

- (a) The right to relief against an agent, for an alleged breach of contract, and that against a partner of the same firm, to have accounts taken and partnership wound up, cannot be said to be in respect 'of the same matter.' 27 M. 80. O
- (b) A suit, by the reversioners against all the alienees, and the widow, for a declaration, that the alienations by her, of her husband's estate, to different alienees, on different dates, would not be binding on the reversion, after the widow's death, is bad for misjoinder of causes of action. 1 P.R. (1905)=83 P.L.R. 1905. P
- (c) Seventeen of the village proprietors sued 36 persons, co-sharers and non-proprietors, for certain declarations and removal of buildings erected separately and independently by each defendant. It was held that the suit was bad for misjoinder. 127 P.R. 1892. Q
- (d) Where the plaintiff, vendee, sued for completion of a sale deed which the registering officer refused to register and for cancellation of a mortgage executed by the vendor in favour of a third person, impleading both the vendor and the third person (mortgagee) as defendants, the suit was bad for misjoinder. 7 N.W.P. 103. R
- (e) A suit by the vendee against the vendor and persons in possession of the property under him by subsequent sale and letting, is bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action, the cause of action against each defendant being separate. 5 A. 163=2 A.W.N. 202. S
- But see 11 A. 33=8 A.W.N. 283, where the above decision was distinguished and it was held that inasmuch as the title of one defendant was derived from the other, there were not two causes of action but one, viz., the infringement of the plaintiff's right by the 1st defendant and the suit was not therefore bad for misjoinder. T

3.—“In respect of or arising out of the same act..or transactions.”
—(Concluded).

C.—CASES OF MISJOINDER OF DEFENDANTS AND CAUSES OF ACTION—(Concluded)

- (f) In a suit for share of an estate by inheritance against a person in wrongful possession of the estate and several other persons to whom he had alienated portions of the estate, the “matter” of the various claims of the plaintiffs against the several defendants was not the “same” as used in S. 28, Act XIV of 1882 (“in respect of the same matter”) and the causes of action against the several defendants were distinct under the second clause of S. 31 of that Act. The suit was therefore rightly dismissed. 1 A.W.N. 172. U
- (g) Where a purchaser at a revenue sale brought a suit for possession against several persons claiming portions of the land under different titles, the suit was bad for misjoinder, unless the plaintiff was able to show that those persons acted in concert or under some common title. 14 C. 485. Y
- (h) Where the plaintiffs, alleging that certain of their lands had been incorrectly recorded in some settlement papers as belonging to the defendants, sued for the correction of the settlement record and for maintenance of possession, and it appeared that the lands were not recorded as jointly belonging to the defendants, the plaintiffs had no such common cause of action in the matter of the suit against the defendants as would justify their being sued together in one suit. 5 N.W.P.H.C. 72. W
- (i) Where two co-sharers sold their shares separately to the same person, a suit by a third co-sharer to enforce his right of pre-emption against the vendee and the vendors jointly is bad for misjoinder of defendants and causes of action. 6 A. 106=3 A.W.N. 229. X
- (j) A suit to enforce right of pre-emption in which the purchasers of different shares of the same mauza and their vendors were made defendants, is bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action. 5 A. 163=1 A.W. N. 171. Y
- (k) Where, in a suit for pre-emption, in respect of three separate shares, the plaintiff impleaded the several vendors who were different persons and had no community of interest in the subject-matter of the suit, there was misjoinder of parties. 7 N.W.P. 188. Z
- (l) A single suit for rent against the holders of separate tenures is bad for misjoinder of parties and the mere fact of non-registration as separate tenants will be no answer to the objection if, in fact, they have been dealt with as holders of separate tenures. 22 W.R. 334. A 4.—“Is alleged to exist whether jointly, severally, or in the alternative.”

- (a) A plaintiff can sue two sets of defendants to recover from either the one or the other set a sum of money for rent of his godown. 9 Bom. L.R. 482=31 B. 516. B

4.—“Is alleged to exist whether jointly, severally, or in the alternative.”—(Concluded).

- (b) In a suit to recover money lent by the plaintiff's agent, the latter was also made a defendant, and relief was prayed for, against him in the alternative, if the borrower-defendant did not pay. It was held that there was no misjoinder, the matter in the suit being the same. 16 M.L.J. 39=29 M. 50. C
- (c) In a suit for profits by a sharer against another co-sharer, who has mortgaged his share to a third party, and when both the mortgagor and the mortgagee are in possession, both may, at the option of the plaintiff, be impleaded as defendants. 9 O.C. 142. D
- (d) In a suit for partition by patnidars against dar-patnidars under his co-patnidars, the co-patnidars must be made parties; but a dar-patnidar is not a necessary party, if his patnidar is made a party. 9 C.L.J. 449. E
- (e) In a suit, by an assignee of a co-sharer of arrears of profit due by lambardar, to recover the arrears due, the assignor, the heirs of the lambardar on date of assignment and the present lambardar were rightly impleaded as defendants. A.W.N. (1905), 100. F

5.—“Where if separate suits...any common question of law or fact would arise.”

General.

The principle of joinder of defendants cannot apply to separate causes of action against separate defendants quite unconnected and not involving any common question of law or fact; and in such a case they cannot safely be joined in one action. 9 Bom. L.R. 482=31 B. 516. G

Court may give judgment for or against one or more of joint parties.

4. Judgment may be given without any amendment— O. XVI,
1 and 4

- (a) for such one or more of the plaintiffs as may be found to be entitled to relief, for such relief as he or they may be entitled to ¹;
- (b) against such one or more of the defendants as may be found to be liable, according to their respective liabilities ².

(Notes).

(Old Act).

Clause (a) of this rule corresponds with the second sentence in S. 26 of Act XIV of 1882, and clause (b) with the second sentence in S. 28 of Act XIV of 1882.

(English Rule).

Clauses (a) and (b) of this rule corresponds with the latter portion of Order XVI, r. 4 of the English rules.

For English cases, see under O. I, r 3, supra.

1.—“For such relief as he or they may be entitled to.”

(1) Judgment for one of the plaintiffs.

Where in a suit brought by four members of an undivided Hindu family against the widow of a 5th, to recover the property of the deceased by right of survivorship, the plaint contained the further allegation that the 4th plaintiff was the adopted son of the deceased and the widow pleaded division and also denied the adoption, the Court on finding the adoption proved may pass a decree in favour of the adopted son alone, even in the absence of a prayer in favour of the adopted son in the plaint and even without trying the other issues. 28 M. 500. H

2.—“Clause b—against such one or more of the defendants....”

(1) Suit against several defendants—Some not liable—Procedure.

Where a plaintiff brought a suit against eleven persons but on the allegation in the plaint only two were liable, the Court should give judgment against such one or other of the defendants as it found liable according to their respective liabilities without amendment or allow the plaintiff to amend, but should not dismiss the suit in toto. 15 A.W.N. 28. I

(2) Judgment against an exonerated defendant on appeal.

In a suit against two defendants, there was a decree exonerating one of them and there was no appeal against that defendant's exoneration. In the other defendant's appeal, the exonerated defendant was also made a party but it was held that he could not be made liable. 27 A. 28. J

O. XVI, r. 5. Defendant need not be interested in all the relief claimed.

5. It shall not be necessary that every defendant shall be interested as to all the relief claimed in any suit against him¹.

(Notes).

N.B.—This rule is new.

(English Rule).

It corresponds with the first portion of O. XVI, r. 5 of the English rules, the words “or as to every cause of action included” in the English rules having been omitted.

1.—“It shall not be necessary...against him.”

(General).

- (1) The general principle governing the joinder of defendants is that there must be a cause of action in which all defendants are more or less interested, although the relief asked against them may vary. 9 Bom. L.R. 482—31 Bom. 516. K
- (2) A suit is not bad for misjoinder of parties, where there is really one cause of action against some defendants and the relief claimed against the other defendants is only ancillary to the main relief. 29 M. 29. L
- (3) In a suit for specific performance of an agreement for partition entered into by the plaintiff and the 1st defendant, the 1st defendant's son may be impleaded as a defendant under S. 28, C.P.C. (=O. I, r. 8) though specific performance cannot be claimed against him. 4 M.L.J. 288. M
- (4) In a suit for accounts against A and B as agents, the plaintiff may ask for accounts as against A from 1265 to 1283 and as against B from 1281 to 1283. There is no misjoinder. 7 C. 654; 9 C.L.R. 265. N

6. The plaintiff may, at his option ¹, join as parties to the same suit all or any of the persons severally, or jointly and severally, liable on any one contract, including parties to bills of exchange, hundis and promissory notes ².

Joinder of parties liable on same contract.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

Section 29 of Act XIV of 1882 same as above.

(English Rule).

This rule corresponds with O. XVI, r. 6 of the English rules.

(General).

(a) Wherever more than one person is liable to contribute to the plaintiff's demands, they should all be made parties to the suit. Devaynes v. Robinson, 24 Beav. 99 (Note)—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 155. O

(b) In an action by a cestui que trust against a sole surviving trustee for an account and asking for a declaration that he had committed breaches of trust, the representatives of a deceased trustee were not necessary, parties. In re Harrison, (1891) 2 Ch. 349—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 155. P

If the defendant required them, he could get them added under Eng. O. XVI, r. 11 (= O. I, r. 10 (2) of the C.P.C.). McClellan v. Gyles, (1902) 1 Ch. 915—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 156. Q

(c) If the defendant thinks the suit is defective, he must apply under O. I, r. 13, infra. cf. Wilson v. Rhodes, 8 C.D. 777; Bergmann v. Macmillan, 17 C.D. 428; Re Bowden, 45 C.D. 444; Lloyd v. Dimmack, 7 C.D. 898—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 156. R

1.—“At his option.”

Defendants in a suit on contract made by a firm.

A plaintiff in a suit brought upon a contract made by a firm may select as defendants those partners against whom he wishes to proceed, under S. 48, Contract Act, 3 P.L.R. 25. S

2.—“Including parties to bills of exchange, . . . promissory note.”

(1) Adding of drawer and firm on which bill was drawn, as parties.

The payee of a bill of exchange should not join the drawer and the firm on which the bill was drawn, as defendants in the same suit where the firm dishonoured the bill on presentation. 3 B. 182. T

(2) Hundi—Endorser—Suit against—Drawer and acceptor.

The purchaser of a hundi, on its being dishonoured, is at liberty to sue his endorser alone, and it is not absolutely necessary to implead the acceptor and drawer in the same suit. If he does so he does not lose his right of suing them, within the period of limitation. 3 Agra 268. U

O. XVI, r. 7.

7. Where the plaintiff is in doubt¹ as to the person from whom he is entitled to obtain redress, he may join two or more defendants in order that the question as to which of the defendants is liable, and to what extent, may be determined as between all parties².

When plaintiff in doubt from whom redress is to be sought.

(Notes).

N.B.—This rule is new.

(English Rule).

This rule corresponds with O. XVI, r. 7 of the English rules.

(General).

- (a) Alternative relief of different kinds, either in tort or on contract, may be given against alternative defendants. Honduras, etc., Company v. Lefevre, 2 Ex. D. 307; Massey v. Hayes, 21 Q.B.D. 334—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 156. Y
- (b) A plaintiff, however, cannot bring separate causes of action against different persons in one action. Thompson v. London City Co., (1899) 1 Q.B. 884—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 156. W
- (c) Where there is one contract and one breach, and the question is which of two persons caused the breach, the joinder of both persons as defendants may be allowed. (Ibid). X

1.—“Where the plaintiff is in doubt.”

- (1) A person who had obtained a transfer of a pro-note for and on behalf of a firm brought a suit on it joining the firm also as plaintiffs. In spite of the objection of the defendant it was held that the suit was rightly instituted, as it was doubtful in whom the right to sue vested. 9 P.R. 1906=19 P.L.R. 1906. Y
- (2) A plaintiff can sue two sets of defendants to recover from either the one or the other set a sum of money for rent of godown. 9 Bom. L.R. 482=31 B. 516. Z

2.—“May be determined as between all parties.”

- (a) Where the action is in the alternative, e.g., against principal and agent, and judgment is signed against one, plaintiff cannot proceed against the other. Morel v. Westmoreland, (1904) A.C. 11, cf. French v. Howie, (1905) 2 K.B. 580; (1906) 2 K.B. 674, C.A.—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 156. A

O. XVI, r. 8.

8. (1) Where there are numerous persons¹ having the same interest² in one suit, one or more of such persons may, with the permission of the Court³, sue or be sued, or may defend, in such suit, on behalf of or for the benefit of all persons so interested.

One person may sue or defend on behalf of all in same interest.

But the Court shall in such case give, at the plaintiff's expense, notice of the institution of the suit to all such persons either by personal service or, where from the number of persons or any other cause such service is not reasonably practicable, by public advertisement, as the Court in each case may direct.

(2) Any person on whose behalf or for whose benefit a suit is instituted or defended under sub-rule (1) may apply to the Court to be made a party to such suit.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

S. 30 of Act XIV of 1882 same as cl. 1 above; but the word "persons" is used for "parties" and the words "or for the benefit of" are added after the words "on behalf of."

Fourth clause in S. 32 of Act XIV of 1882 same as cl. 2 above; but the words "or for whose benefit" are added after "on whose behalf."

(English Rule).

This rule corresponds with O. XVI, r. 9 of the English rules.

(General).

(1) Where there is a common interest and a common grievance, a representative suit is in order, if the relief sought is in its nature beneficial to all whom the plaintiff proposed to represent. Bedford v. Ellis, (1901) A.C. 8, cf. Taff Vale Ry. Co. v. Amalgamated Society, etc., (1901) A.C. 426 (448); Mercer v. Deane, (1905) 2 Ch. 538—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 159. B

(2) Where a person sues on behalf of himself and others, he may omit such as are not in the same interest and make them defendants. Fraser v. Cooper, 21 C.D. 718—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 160. C

I.—"Numerous persons."

A.—GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

(1) Scope of the section.

(a) All persons interested, however numerous they may be, should be made parties. This is the rule of law to which S. 30, C.P.C., is an exception under particular circumstances. 5 Bom. L.R. 937=28 B. 209. D

EXAMPLES.

(b) Trust for a specific purpose—Extent of trusts—Suits decide.

Where a trust had been created for specific purposes, there could be no decision as to the extent of the trusts nor as to whether the surplus profits would belong to the trustee, in a suit in which all the parties interested were not before the Court. 15 C. 329=15 I.A. 1. E

- (c) In the case of an infringement of a right of the general public, without proof of any special damage, no suit can be brought under S. 30 of the C.P.C. 10 C.W.N. 867=83 C. 905. F
- (d) This rule was not intended to allow individuals to sue on behalf of the general public, but to enable some of a class having special interests to represent the rest of the class. 9 M. 463. G
- (e) This rule applies only to cases in which many persons are jointly interested in obtaining relief and not to a case in which individual right has been violated. 7 A. 178=4 A.W.N. 324. H

EXAMPLES.

- (i) Every Mahomedan, who is entitled to use a mosque for purposes of devotion, is entitled to sue any one, who interferes with the exercise of that right. 7 A. 178=4 A.W.N. 324; see also 5 A. 497; 8 B. 432; 5 A.W.N. 219; 20 C. 810; 23 M. 99 and 11 C. 337. Contra, 8 C. 32 where it was held that certain Mussulmans were not entitled to sue for a declaration that certain property was waqf and that certain mortgages executed by the existing mutwalli were void and for the appointment of another mutwalli, on the ground of their being followers of the Moslem religion, without complying with the provisions of this rule. See also 9 C. 606. I
- (ii) Individual tax-payers can bring a suit against a Municipality for an injunction to restrain misapplication of funds. 22 B. 646. J
- (iii) The plaintiffs as worshippers at a Dharmasala had the locus standi to challenge the alienations of certain property attached to the Dharmasala, not as self-constituted representatives of the body of worshippers (who should have got permission under S. 30, C.P.C.) but as persons themselves interested in the preservation of the property. 66 P.R. 1892. K
- (f) This rule contemplates a case in which there are numerous parties having the same interest in a suit who are all before the Court and are all anxious to have the matter disposed of, but, in order to save trouble and expense, are desirous that one or more of such parties shall, with the permission of the Court, sue or defend on behalf of all in the same interest. 5 A. 602=3 A.W.N. 155. L

EXAMPLES.

- (i) This rule does not apply to a suit in which the plaintiffs claim to restrain the defendants from violating the common interests they all have in a land. 18 B. 699 (701). M
- (ii) Suit for the removal of masonry structures raised by one member of a community of Hindu priests upon a certain platform, on which every member of the community had individual right to perform religious rites. This rule is an enabling one allowing some persons interested to sue on behalf of all and did not debar the plaintiffs from suing in their own right. 24 C. 385. N

- (g) This rule is intended to prevent the record from being unnecessarily encumbered by many names. It embodies a rule of convenience based on reason and good policy, but it is not intended to take away any rights. 24 C. 385. O
- (h) The effect of the rule is that, unless permission is granted by the Court, a suit by one will have no binding effect upon the persons whom he chooses to represent. 24 C. 385 ; 23 M. 28 (32). P
- (i) This section is based on the general rule of English Courts of Equity, which refuses ordinarily to adjudicate on any matter, to bind any man's interest, or to make any declaration of any man's right in his absence. 5 A. 602 (607) = 3 A.W.N. 155. See also 8 A.W.N. 156. Q
- (j) Convenience requires that in suits where there is community of interest amongst a large number of persons, a few should be allowed to represent the whole; and if the whole body be represented in the suit, then it is proper that the whole body should be bound by the decree, though some members of the body are not parties named in the record. 3 M.H.C.R. 226. R
- (k) It may be consistent with general principles that certain judicial proceedings taken by or against a select number as representing a large class, may, if fairly and honestly conducted, bind or benefit the whole class. 7 B. 323 (328). S

EXAMPLE.

- (i) The fact that the plaintiffs sued on behalf of a sabha with the permission of the Court under this rule did not deprive one of them of the right to challenge an alleged compromise to which one of many plaintiffs would ordinarily be entitled. 23 M. 101 = 9 M.L.J. 350. T
- (l) Requirements of the rule.
 - (i) This rule is permissive and in no way prohibitive in its terms. It deals with procedure only and does not affect substantive rights. The omission to state in the plaint, that the suit is instituted on behalf of other persons similarly interested, cannot therefore be a fatal objection. 23 M. 28. U
 - (ii) This rule is regulative not constitutive. There must be right to sue before it can be applied. 7 B. 323 (328). Y
- (m) Plaintiffs and the numerous persons wishing to sue.

The first para of S. 30, C.P.C., should be read as implying that the plaintiff wishes to sue on behalf of other persons similarly interested in suing, they also wishing the same. 31 C. 839 at 845; 5 A. 602 (606) = 3 A.W.N. 155. W
- (n) Appellate Court's powers.

Where the procedure prescribed in this rule is not followed in a suit, the appellate Court should not dismiss the suit on that ground but should remand it for the procedure provided by the rule. 5 A. 602 = 3 A.W.N. 155. X

1.—“Numerous persons.”—(Concluded).

A.—GENERAL PRINCIPLES—(Concluded).

(a) Inapplicability of rule.

- (i) In a suit against trustees of a Chinese temple instituted by some members of a section of the Chinese community in Calcutta after obtaining sanction under S. 539 of the C.P.C. of 1882, it was held that, inasmuch as the infringement of plaintiff's private right to worship in the temple was alleged, they need not bring the suit under S. 30 of the Code of 1882 (=O. I, r. 8 of the present Code). 9 C.W.N. 594. Y
- (ii) The plaintiffs, some Muhammadans of Multan, sued for a declaration that a certain property was wakf and inalienable. It was held that the plaintiffs, as members of the Muhammadan community were competent to institute the suit and that Ss. 30 and 539 of the C.P.C. did not apply to the case. 78 P.L.R. 1908. Z

B.—MISCELLANEOUS.

(1) Malabar tarwad, suit against.

To obtain a decree binding on a Malabar tarwad, the procedure laid down in this rule should be followed if the members are numerous. 5 M. 201; 8 M. 484. See also 10 M. 322. A

(2) Numerous persons—Suit to remove Mohunt.

The “numerous persons” mentioned in the rule mean persons capable of being ascertained; and so, where two plaintiffs brought a suit, on behalf of themselves and 42 others, to declare certain alienations made by the Mohunt invalid and to remove the Mohunt and it appeared that the whole Hindu community, which is incapable of ascertainment was interested in the suit, this rule was held inapplicable, S. 92 of C.P.C. being applicable. 20 C. 397. B

2.—“Having the same interest.”

- (1) Plaintiffs, who were members of the satchasi community in their village, were held entitled to bring a suit, under S. 30, C.P.C., 1882 (=O.I. r. 8 of the present Code), on their own behalf and on behalf of their community, for a declaration of their right in the management of the worship of their goddess. 10 C.W.N. 867=83 C. 905. C
- (2) In a suit by some Kattalikars on behalf of themselves and other Kattalikars for the exclusive right to perform a certain festival, it was held the plaintiffs had the ‘same interest’ in the suit as the other Kattalikars and that therefore they could sue. 15 M.L.J. 458. D
- (3) In a suit to have property declared wakf, the plaintiff alone was not interested in the subject-matter of the suit. She could, therefore, sue on behalf of all interested only after having first obtained leave of the Court and otherwise complied with the provisions of this rule 11 C. 38. E
- (4) Where certain fishermen sued on behalf of themselves and other fishermen of their village for a declaration of their exclusive right to fish in a creek, the procedure laid down in this rule was directed to be followed. 12 B. 221. F

2.—“Having the same interest.”—(Concluded).

- (5) Under this rule, some of the raiyats of the village for themselves and for others, could sue the proprietor of it, for a declaration of their general rights and for an injunction restraining him from interfering with their rights. 19 B. 391. G
- (6) Where 13 persons were permitted to sue on behalf of themselves and 195 others for a declaration of their rights as priests in a certain temple, held that the suit was rightly constituted under this rule, the cause of action being the same to all persons interested. 15 B. 309. H
- (7) Where one co-sharer sued some other co-sharers for restoration to status quo, a common land, without making certain other co-sharers parties to the suit, though those co-sharers might have a “joint” interest in the subject-matter of the suit, there was nothing to show that they had “the same interest in the suit,” i.e., that they were “so interested” in like manner as plaintiff was, and it was quite possible that they were indifferent to the suit, and consequently this rule was held not applicable. 5 A. 602 = 3 A.W.N. 155. I

3.—“In one suit, . . with the permission of the Court.”

GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

- (1) Leave must be obtained before the suit is brought and cannot be given subsequently. 21 C. 181 note. See also 9 C. 606.
- But see 21 B. 784, 22 A. 269 = 20 A.W.N. 69 and 23 M. 28, where it was held that the permission might be granted subsequent to the filing of the suit. J
- (2) This rule does not require an express permission to be recorded by the Court but if such permission can be well gathered from the proceedings of the Court in which the suit was instituted, the appellate Court can infer such permission. 21 C. 180. See contra dictum of Stuart, C.J. in 5 A. 602. K

EXAMPLES.

- (a) In a suit by certain Tenjalai Brahmins for declaration about the mode of electing Dharmakartus of a certain pagoda, an order for proclamation inviting “all persons interested to come in and be made parties or see that others by whom they are content to be represented are made parties,” is not an order under this rule giving the plaintiff permission to sue on behalf of other persons interested. 14 M. 57. L
- (b) The Muhant of an akhara can bring a suit for pre-emption, on behalf of the akhara, after obtaining permission under S. 30, C.P.C. 4 A.L.J. 541 = A.W.N. (1907), 239. M
- (c) With respect to a shrine of a Muhammadan saint, plaintiffs sued on behalf of themselves and for the Dafali class generally for certain declarations. After the institution of the suit plaintiffs applied under S. 30, C.P.O., for permission to sue on behalf of certain other Dafalis. It was held that plaintiffs were not competent to sue for any Dafalis but themselves that they could have sued on behalf of the Dafali class generally obtaining permission of the Court under S. 30, C.P.C. 3 O.C. 351. N

3.—“In one suit, ..with the permission of the Court.”—(Concluded).

GENERAL PRINCIPLES—(Concluded).

- (d) The Mahomedan Association of Meerut has per se no status in law to institute a suit in its own name by its Secretary in respect of “wakf” property. If its members had empowered one of their number to act for them according to this rule, permission to sue would be granted. 6 A. 284=4 A.W.N. 76. O
- (3) The omission to apply for leave under this rule is not by itself ground for dismissing the suit. When the objection is taken, the plaint should be amended and the requisite leave obtained. 23 M. 28. P
- (4) See also dictum of Stuart, C J., in 5 A. 602. But see 8 C. 32 (41) where the suit was dismissed for not obtaining leave to sue. Q
- (5) When the appellant fails to apply within the prescribed time to bring upon record the representatives of one of the respondents selected for the service of notice under S. 80, C.P.C., the right to appeal does not survive against the remaining respondents and the appeal must abate under S. 368, C.P.C. 2 P.L.R. 160. R

O. XVI, r. 11. 9. No suit shall be defeated by reason of the misjoinder or Misjoinder and non-joinder of parties¹, and the Court may in non-joinder. every suit deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it².

(Notes).

(Old Act).

S. 31 of Act XIV of 1882, same as above; but the words “or non-joinder” are added after the word “misjoinder” and the second clause of S. 31, vis., “nothing in this section shall be deemed to enable plaintiffs to join in respect of distinct causes of action” has been omitted.

Difference between the old section and this rule.

- (1) The protection given in cases of misjoinder of parties was extended to cases of non-joinder also.
- (2) Owing to the alterations made in O. I, r. 1 of this Code regarding the joinder of plaintiffs, the 2nd clause of S. 31 of Act XIV of 1882 has been omitted.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds with the first portion of O. XVI, r. 11 of the English rules.

Even when the English rules did not contain the word “non-joinder,” the principle of the rule was held to apply to cases of non-joinder also.

The rule as to parties is for the purpose of justice and the Court has ample powers under rule 10 (2) to add parties whenever they ought to have been made parties or whenever without them the Court could not deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it. 21 M. 373=8 M.L.J. 139. See also 1 Agra 147, a decision under S. 78 of Act VIII of 1859 (=O. X, r. 10 (2) of the present Code).

(General).

- (a) Misjoinder or non-joinder is no defence. Abouloff v. Oppenheimer, 30 W.R. p. 430—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 165. S

1.—“No suit....defeated....misjoinder or non-joinder.”

N.B.—Under the old Codes, Act XIV of 1882 and its predecessors, misjoinder or non-joinder of parties were fatal to the suit. The following are cases of such suits having failed by reason of non-joinder or misjoinder of parties. Such cases are no longer law, by reason of the enactment of O. I, r. 9, as also by reason of the enactment of O. I, r. 10 (2) and also O. I, rs. 1 to 4, whereby the Court has ample powers to strike out or add parties to the suit :—188 P.R. 1882 (Civil); U.B. R. Vol. I (1892—1896), 581; 23 M. 239; 20 P.L.R. 1907; 69 P.R. 1906 = 118 P.L.R. 1906; 18 A. 109; 13 A. 432; 17 A. 537; 175 P.R. 1882 (Civil); 1 P.L.R. 4; 3 A.W.N. 230, but see 17 A. 274 = 15 A.W.N. 76; 6 A. 106 = 3 A.W.N. 229; 18 P.R. 1867; 110 P.R. 1876; 9 M.L.J. 312; 12 P.R. 1905 = 73 P.L.R. 1905; 56 P.R. 1901; 86 P.R. 1891; 10 C.W.N. 981. T

Misjoinder or non-joinder, when not fatal.

N.B.—The following cases of misjoinder or non-joinder were, even under the Codes of 1882 and 1859, not treated as bad on account of such misjoinder or non-joinder. They would, therefore, serve as illustrations of O. I, r. 9 of the present Code :—

- (1) Where the defendant was in possession of certain property as the result of a compromise with his brother's widow, a suit for possession against him by another brother should not be dismissed on the ground that the widow was not added as a party. 2 A.W.N. 80. U
- (2) Where, in a suit by one member of a joint Hindu family against several other members of the same family for a declaration, one of the members of that family was not added as a party, the non-joinder of that member is not a fatal defect. 11 A.W.N. 175. V
- (3) A suit for recovery of property from several persons holding under different sale deeds of different dates from different persons, though bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action, ought not to be dismissed but should be treated as a mere irregularity under S. 578 of C.P.C. of 1882. 2 A.L.J. 91. W
- (4) In a suit by a Hindu husband for a tort to himself and his wife, it was held that the non-joinder of the wife was an omission cured by S. 350 of Act VIII of 1859, C.P.C. 3 P.R. 1869 (Civil). X
- (5) Where two sets of plaintiffs having distinct causes of action sue together, then under S. 31, C.P.C., it is misjoinder. But even in such a case the Court should return the plaint for amendment so that any one set might elect to proceed with the suit. 38 P.R. 1903. Y
- (6) Three plaintiffs brought a joint suit for possession of immoveable property, two of them claiming half the property by inheritance and the third claiming the other half by purchase from the two former. The suit was bad for misjoinder of causes of action and should be returned that the plaintiffs might elect which of them should proceed with the suit. 18 A. 181 = 16 A.W.N. 2. Z

1.—“No suit....defeated....misjoinder or non-joinder.”—(Concluded).

- (7) Where the sons objected to the attachment of property in execution of a decree against their father, as the property had been previously partitioned and held in separate shares, a joint suit by them for a declaration that their shares were not liable to attachment was bad for misjoinder of causes of action

The plaintiffs should have been allowed to amend their plaint by striking out the name of one of them. 18 A.W.N. 150. A

- (8) Suit by one S and his mother as guardian of his minor brother to recover property. S had no interest and only his mother had interest as heir to her late father. The suit need not be dismissed for formal incorrectness. The name of S should be struck off and the suit allowed to proceed as that of the mother alone. 11 W.R. 507. B

- (9) Plaintiffs may bring a joint suit in respect of leases made in their respective names, without even assigning reasons in the plaint, but alleging a trading partnership and joint family subsequently in the suit. And even if it should appear at the trial, that there was a misjoinder of plaintiffs under S. 26, C.P.C. (=O. I, r. 1 of the present Code) the suit need not necessarily be fatal. 67 P.R. 1894. C

- (10) Six persons, who were removed from the office of trustees of a temple, cannot jointly sue for a declaration that the proceedings of the District Temple Committee removing them were illegal. Where they sued jointly, the plaint should be returned for amendment, and one of the plaintiffs allowed to use it as his own. 8 M. 361. D

- (11) The objection as to the defect of parties was not one affecting the merits of the case so as to be a ground of special appeal. 3 O. 26. But see 6 B.H.C.R. 20. E

- (12) The question of misjoinder of parties and causes of action was not a sufficient ground for granting leave to appeal to Her Majesty in Council. Supp. 1 O.U. 18. F

- (13) An order rejecting a plaint on the ground of misjoinder of parties or causes of action was open to revision either under cl. (a) or cl. (b) of S. 70 of the Punjab Court's Act (XVIII of 1884). 9 P.W.R. 1908. G

2.—“The Court may....so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it.”

- (a) Where, even if there were misjoinder of parties a Court proceeds to trial of the suit on merits, without rejecting the plaint or returning it for amendment or amending it, it should dispose of the suit on merits. 9 A. 221. H

- (b) A suit by one only of several co-heirs for his share, is a suit, which is open to the objection by the defendant on the ground that one co-heir cannot sue without making the other co-heirs parties and also on the ground that he ought to sue for the whole estate; but which, in default of such objections is maintainable. No. 2 P.R. 1882 (Civil). I

- (c) A party who had a right of pre-emption sued to enforce that right, joining with himself as co-plaintiff one who had no such right. It was held that the 1st plaintiff did not thereby forfeit his right but could maintain the suit. 1 O.C. 908; 83 P.R. 1893. J

2.—“The Court may....so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually before it.”—(Concluded).

(d) In a suit for land awarded at partition of the whole culturable land of the village, the plaintiff impleaded only 11 defendants and at the instance of the Court the whole proprietary body was brought in as co-defendants. On appeal, the plaintiff appellant again impleaded only the 11 people as respondents. It was held that the appellate Court should either deal with the appeal so far as the impleaded respondents were concerned under S. 31, C.P.C., or to direct under S. 559, C.P.C., that the others also be made respondents. 5 P.R. 1892. 10. (1) Where a suit has been instituted in the name of the O. XVI, r. 2.
Suit in name of wrong person as plaintiff¹ or where it is doubtful wrong plaintiff. whether it has been instituted in the name of the right plaintiff², the Court may at any stage of the suit, if satisfied that the suit has been instituted through a bona fide mistake³, and that it is necessary for the determination of the real matter in dispute so to do, order any other person to be substituted or added as plaintiff^{3A} upon such terms as the Court thinks just.

(2) The Court may⁴ at any stage of the proceedings⁵, either O. XVI, r. 11
Court may strike upon or without the application of either party⁶, out or add parties. and on such terms as may appear to the Court to be just, order that the name of any party improperly joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, be struck out⁷, and that the name of any person who ought to have been joined, whether as plaintiff or defendant, or whose presence before the Court may be necessary in order to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit, be added⁸.

(3) No person shall be added as a plaintiff suing without a next O. XVI, r. 1 friend or as the next friend of a plaintiff under any disability without (3).
his consent⁹.

(4) Where a defendant is added, the plaint shall, unless the O. XVI, r. 1
Court otherwise directs, be amended¹⁰ in such (4).
Where defendant Court otherwise directs, be amended¹⁰ in such added, plaint to be manner as may be necessary, and amended copies amended. of the summons and of the plaint shall be served on the new defendant and, if the Court thinks fit, on the original defendant.

(XV of 1877), section 22, the proceedings as against any person (4). added as defendant shall be deemed to have begun only on the service of the summons¹¹.

Order I, Rule 10 (1).

(Notes).

(Old Act).

S. 27 of Act XIV of 1882, same as sub-rule (1) above; but the words "or persons," "with his or their consent" and "or plaintiffs" are omitted and instead of "so commenced" the word "instituted" is used.

Though the words "with his or their consent" are omitted in sub-rule 1, sufficient provision on this point is made in sub-rule 3 of this rule.

(English Orders and Rules).

Sub-rule (1) corresponds with Order XVI, rule 2 of the English Rules of Practice.

General.

- (1) Unless the case falls under S. 27 [=O. I, r. 10 (1)], a person has no right to come in as a substitute for a plaintiff, who has no right to bring the suit, but who brings the suit alleging title. Against such a suit brought by an unauthorised person, the defendant has a right to the dismissal of the suit. 7 O.C. 78. L.
- (2) Where a suit has been instituted by one, who has no cause of action and the suit is therefore bad and liable to dismissal it is not competent to a Court to make some one a co-plaintiff and import into the suit a cause of action, which should date back from the date on which an unmaintainable plaint was filed. 12 Bom. H.C.R. 17 (22). See also 1 M. 383; 6 C. 827. M
- (3) A presentation of a plaint purporting to be in the names of all the partners, but signed and verified only by the managing partner, is not a mere irregularity which can be cured by adding parties under S. 27, C.P.C. = O. I, r. 10 (1), which applies only to cases where a wrong plaintiff or a doubtful plaintiff institutes it. 1 Sindh L.R. 191. N
- (4) Whether C.P.C. allows a fresh defendant to be substituted for a sole existing defendant against whom it has been found that there is no cause of action—is a question left open. 59 P.W.R. 1908. O

1.—"Where a suit... wrong person as plaintiff."

(1) Applicability of sub-rule.

S. 27, C.P.C. = O. I, r. 10 (1) of the present Code applies only where a 'wrong person' is made a plaintiff and not a defendant. 27 M. 315 at 326. P

(2) Meaning of 'wrong person as plaintiff'

The words 'wrong person as plaintiff' does not exclude the case of persons, who may institute the suit without any right to do so. In such a case, if it is done under a bona fide belief that he is entitled to do so, the Court has power to substitute the right plaintiff. 30 M. 419 = 2 M.L.T. 447. Q

(3) Suit brought by wrong person

Suits brought by parties without any status to sue, should either be righted as soon as objection is taken or dismissed. U.B.R. (Vol. 1892-96), 244.R

2.—“Or where it is doubtful....right plaintiff.”

Doubt whether suit was by right plaintiff.

A woman can maintain an action in her own name without even joining her father, though the contract was entered into by the father alone but on her behalf and for her benefit and as, according to the custom of the country, being a woman, she cannot appear in public on such occasions. The Court was of opinion that even if she cannot maintain the suit herself, her father may be added as co-plaintiff under O. I, r. 10, paras (1) and (2). 28 P.L.R. 1905=49 P.R. 1905. S.

3.—“If satisfied that the suit....bona fide mistake.”A.—EXISTENCE OF BONA FIDE MISTAKE.

Applicability of sub-rule.

- (a) Where, by a bona fide mistake, whether of law or fact, an action is brought in the name of a wrong plaintiff, S. 27=O. I, r. 10 (1), applies. 10 C.W.N. 662=38 C. 657. T
- (b) In a suit commenced through a bona fide mistake, upon the application of a party, he was added as a plaintiff, even at a late stage of the case. 7 O.C. 198. U-
- (c) In a suit by the managing members of a joint Hindu family firm, for a debt due to the firm, several minor members of the joint family were allowed to be added as plaintiffs under S. 27 as the omission of those names was due to a bona fide mistake in the belief that such addition was not necessary. 149 P.R. 1907. Y

B.—NON-EXISTENCE OF BONA FIDE MISTAKE.

- (1) In a suit for a share in the family property by the son of a Mahomedan in the life time of his father, who was insane, it was held that the father's name could not be substituted under S. 27, O.P.C.=O. I, r. 10 (1), as the suit could not have been instituted under a bona fide mistake, insanity being not a disqualification to inheritance under the Mahomedan Law. 91 P.R. 1887. W
- (2) A plaintiff, after institution of a suit for pre-emption, disclaimed interest in the subject-matter of the suit and applied to Court for substituting her son as plaintiff. It was not shown to the Court that the son consented to the substitution and the Court held that the son could not be substituted and dismissed the suit. 3 O.C. 347. X-
- (3) In a suit where the plaintiff had no right to sue, the Court allowed on the ground of equity the addition of the children of the plaintiff as plaintiffs, and a consequential amendment in the prayer of the plaint. 2 L.B.R. 245. Y
- (4) Where a suit was instituted in the name of a firm by its manager, and on defendant's objection, another partner was made a party to the suit subsequently, the case was one of misdescription and not of non-joinder, and the addition of the partner's name on the record came within the provisions of sub-rule (1) of this rule. 17 B. 413. Z

Order I, Rule 10 (2).

(Notes).

(Old Act).

The first para of S. 32 of Act XIV of 1882 corresponds with the first portion of this sub-rule, and the second para of S. 32 of the same Act corresponds with the second portion of this sub-rule.

Difference between the old section and this rule.

- (1) In the case of striking out parties under the old Act it had to be done "on or before the first hearing" and "upon the application of either party." Under this rule, the Court may strike out the name of any party "at any stage of the proceedings," and "upon or without the application of either party."
- (2) In the case of addition of parties, the old Act provided that the Court may "order that any plaintiff be made a defendant or that any defendant be made a plaintiff." This is omitted in this rule.

(English Orders and Rules).

This sub-rule corresponds with the second sentence of O. XVI, r. 11 of the English Rules of Practice.

(General Principles).

- (a) This rule enables a Judge to make such changes, in respect of parties to any suit, as he may think necessary, either by striking out unnecessary parties, or by bringing in necessary parties who ought to have been, but were not, originally added.—McCheane v. Gyles (No. 2), (1902) 1 Ch. p. 917; De Hart v. Stevenson, 1 Q.B.D., p. 314; Dalton v. Guardians of St. Mary Abbots, 47 L.T. 349; Norris v. Beazley, 2 C.P.D. 80; Pilley v. Robinson, 20 Q.B.D. 155; Barton v. L. and N.W. Ry. Co., 38 C.D. 144; Byrne v. Brown, 22 Q.B.D. p. 667; Montgomery v. Foy, (1895) 2 Q.B. 321—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 164. A
- (b) The evidence on the issues raised by the new parties need not be the same; it is sufficient if the main enquiry and the main evidence be the same. Byrne v. Brown, 22 Q.B.D. p. 666—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 164. B
- (c) Where a person would be indirectly or commercially affected by a judgment against the defendant and not legally, this sub-rule may not apply, Cf. Morser v. Marsden, (1892) 1 Ch. 487—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 164. C
- (d) It is doubtful whether S. 32, C.P.C.=O. I, r. 10 (2) applies to proceedings in execution. The purchaser is a necessary party to an application by the judgment-debtor under S. 311, C.P.C. S.C. 289. D
- (e) The High Court has power to revise the order passed by the lower Court refusing to join a party as defendant under S. 32, C.P.C.=O. I, r. 10 (2). S.C. 302; 5 O.C. 91. E
- (f) An order refusing or granting an application to be made a party is not open to revision by the High Court under S. 115 of this Code. 2 A.W.N. 55; 5 A.W.N. 259. So also an order by the appellate Court striking off the name of a defendant made a party under this rule. 2 A.W.N. 53. F

(General Principles)—(Concluded).

- (g) Where a Court permitted the junior widow to be made a party to the proceedings in execution of a decree obtained by the senior widow against a debtor of her deceased husband, the High Court declined to interfere in revision. 6 M. 227. G
- (h) An order rejecting an application to be made a party under S. 32 of C.P.C. of 1882=O. I, r. 10 (2) is not appealable. 12 C.P.L.R. 41. H
- (i) Where only one defendant objected to the frame of the suit and the original Court gave a decree overruling the objection of the misjoinder, the defect did not affect the merits of the case and the appellate Court ought not to reverse the decree of the lower Court. 5 A. 168=1 A.W.N. 171. I
- (j) Where an order adding a defendant is not appealed against and no objection thereto is taken in memorandum of appeal, an oral objection taken to such order should be disallowed. 20 A. 370=18 A.W.N. 75. J
- (k) It is not correct to substitute the assignee of the original plaintiff as the plaintiff on the record, the proper course being to add him as a party plaintiff, if he desires it. Where the substitution is made before judgment in the first Court and is not objected to, and neither party is prejudiced thereby, the error will not be considered in special appeal, 2 C.L.R. 297. K
- (l) An appeal lies from the Court's order returning the plaint for amendment, when the Court has struck off a co-defendant's name after the first hearing of the suit which the Court had no power to do under Act XIV of 1882. 71 P.R. 1907=37 P.L.R. 1908. L
- (m) Though an order under S. 32, C.P.C., adding a defendant, if passed by an appellate Court is final as an order under S. 588, C.P.C., yet it is capable, under S. 591, C.P.C. (=S. 105 of the present Code), of being questioned as supporting a decree, when the decree is appealed against. 83 P.R. 1894. M
- (n) This rule is wide enough to meet every case of defect of parties, the power to add parties must be exercised with reference to the interests which those parties have at the time when the addition is being considered. 24 C. 84.
- (o) The object of this rule is to enable the Court to try and determine, once for all, material questions common to the parties and to third parties, and not merely questions between the parties to the suit. 5 M. 52. See also 17 M. 122=4 M.L.J. 52. O
- (p) The Court has no power to allow the purchaser of the rights of plaintiff in a suit to be substituted for him on the record. 9 W.R. 309. See also 9 W.R. 487; 12 W.R. 87; 16 W.R. 183. P
- (q) It is not correct to substitute the assignee of the original plaintiff as the plaintiff on record, the proper course being to add him as a party plaintiff, if he desires it. 2 C.L.R. 297. Q

4.—“The Court may.”

Discretion of Court and its powers.

- (1) This rule is permissive, not imperative. Discretion is vested in a Court to make persons, not before it, parties to a suit. 1 W.R. 228. See also 2 W.R. 158. R

4—"The Court may."—(Concluded).

- (2) Nearly at the conclusion of a trial in a mortgage suit, plaintiff applied to add certain persons as defendants. It was held that the Court should have granted it in its discretion, though an opportunity was given the plaintiff at the trial to add parties and he failed to take advantage of it. A.W.N. (1905), 35. S
- (3) No person can bring himself or any one else on to the record of the Court unless with the cognisance and by the leave of the Court. 12 A.W.N. 139. T
- (4) Where, on the allegation made in the plaint, there appears also another person concerned in it, the Court should forthwith make him a co-defendant under S. 32, C.P.C. [= O. I, r. 10 (2)], without raising an issue on the point. 59 P.W.R. 1908. U
- (5) The question of limitation cannot arise with respect to the power of the Court to make an order adding a party defendant to a suit. 12 C. 642 (651). See also 24 C. 640; 27 C. 540; 3 C.L.J. 576; 38 C. 613; 10 C.W.N. 551 and 28 B. 11 (20). Y

See contra 14 A. 524 = 12 A.W.N. 104.

5.—"At any stage of the proceedings."

(1) Parties in the suit.

- (a) In a partition suit, before the decree therein is engrossed on stamp paper, the suit should be considered sub-judice and any addition of new parties is valid and proper. 32 C. 483. W
- (b) Where a subordinate Judge permitted the junior widow of a Hindu to be made a party, to the proceedings in execution of the decree obtained by the senior widow against a debtor of her deceased husband, the High Court declined to interfere in revision. 6 M. 227. X
- (c) The Court has power to add as fresh parties to the suit persons interested in its subject matter and likely to be affected by the result, even after a decree is passed referring the suit to a Commissioner to take accounts and sell properties. 8 Bom. H.C.R. O.C. 96. Y
- (d) A person can be added as a party under this rule after a suit has been reinstated on an application under O. IX, r. 13 made by one of the defendants. 20 A. 186 = 18 A.W.N. 12. Z
- (e) Under S. 32 of the old Code a Court was not competent to strike out a co-defendant's name after the first hearing of the suit. 71 P.R. 1907 = 37 P.L.R. 1908; 18 A. 53 = 15 A.W.N. 156; see also 20 M. 360 (362). A

(2) Appeal, addition of parties on.

- (a) Ss. 32 and 582 of the old Code gave an appellate Court power to add parties to the appeal persons who were not parties to the original suit. 8 C.W.N. 404. B
- (b) The terms of O. I, r. 10 (2) are very wide. An auction purchaser of a property sold in execution, after the institution of an appeal against that decree in the High Court, was allowed to come as a respondent in the appeal, to defend his interests. 2 A.L.J. 516. C
- (c) Beneficiaries were joined as co-plaintiffs on appeal, when the plaintiff trustee betrayed trust by surrendering decree. 12 C.W.N. 946; 12 M.L.J. 355. D

5.—“At any stage of the proceedings.”—(Concluded).

- (d) In a suit for possession of certain immoveable property, which was alleged by the plaintiff to be an impartible raj but which the Court found the plaintiff was entitled to, under an assignment deed executed to plaintiff's predecessor in title, the plaintiff's brother was a necessary party and was added as a party at the time of appeal. 26 A. 528 = (1904) A.W.N. 119. E

(3) Remand, addition of parties after.

- (a) A Court cannot add parties after a case is remanded to itself, under S. 566, C.P.C. of 1882. 20 P.L.R. 1907; 2 O.C. 25. F

- (b) Where there was non-joinder in a suit and it was not objected to, at the proper time, and the suit was disposed of on a preliminary point, the defect of non-joinder may be cured when the appellate Court reverses the decision on the preliminary point and remands the case for trial. 5 M.L.J. 95. G

(4) Second appeal, substitution of defendant on.

- A Court of second appeal cannot substitute one defendant for another in the plaint or record of the original suit, nor one appellant for another in the record of the first appeal. 1 L.B.R. 350. H

6.—“Either upon or without, .. of either party.”

- (1) A Court may, in the exercise of its discretion, under this rule, add a party to a suit upon his own application. 13 C. 90. I
- (2) This rule does not contemplate any application to the Court by the person proposed to be added. 5 C. 882. J

7.—“Whether as plaintiff or defendant, be struck out.”

(1) Court's powers in misjoinder.

- (a) In a case of misjoinder of defendants and causes of action, the lower Court should direct the amendment of the plaint by striking out causes of action and defendants and then proceed with the suit. 189 P.R. 1888. K
- (b) A suit for damages for alleged libel by six plaintiffs being bad for misjoinder, the Court can ask the plaintiffs to elect one among themselves to proceed with the suit and amend the plaint by striking off the other plaintiffs, &c. 11 C.W.N. 680 = 34 C. 662. L
- (c) A pre-emption suit by two plaintiffs, each entitled to claim, but having no joint right to claim pre-emption, is bad for misjoinder of plaintiffs and in such a case the Court should order that the name of one of the plaintiffs should be struck off under S. 32, C.P.C. (Act XIV of 1882). 29 P.R. 1894; 3 P.R. 1881. M
- (d) Where a person has once been admitted to the record as the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff that person is a party and any dispute raised inter partes as to the substituted plaintiff's right of representation (not inheritance) so as to have his name struck out comes properly under S. 92, C.P.C. and not under S. 367, C.P.C. 27 B. 162, 183 = 4 Bom. L.R. 980. N

8.—“Or whose presence.....to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions.....be added.”

A.—GENERAL.

- (1) To justify the addition of parties under S. 32, C.P.C., they must be persons immediately affected by the demands of the plaintiffs in the action. 118 P.R. 1890. O
- (2) The words “questions involved in the suit” in this rule must be taken to mean questions directly arising out of, and incidental to, the original cause of action, in which either as plaintiff or defendant the person to be joined has an identity or community of interest with the original plaintiff or defendant. 2 A. 788 (748). P
- (3) This rule, as far as the addition of plaintiffs is concerned, only applies to those cases in which the original party who brought the suit had some title to sue. 6 O. 370; 6 O. 827. Q
- (4) If a plaintiff at the time of suit has no interest in the subject matter thereof, the joinder of person, as co-plaintiff, who has an interest, cannot alter the plaintiff's position or confer on him any right of suit. 20 B. 337. See also 20 B. 677. R
- (5) When the Court finds that the plaintiffs, who, as reversioners, sued to set aside alienations by widow, had no right to sue, but another reversioner not represented in the suit, had such right, it should not adjudicate on the propriety or otherwise of the alienation but should dismiss the suit. 2 Agra 44. S
- (6) Only persons, whose claims must necessarily be taken into consideration before deciding on the plaintiff's title, should be joined as defendants in a suit. 9 W.R. 158. T
- (7) The object of S. 73 of Act VIII of 1859 was to prevent needless litigation, and there are cases, e.g., when it is necessary to make plaintiff's co-parceners defendants, when the Court should exercise the discretion vested in it by the section, even if the plaintiff omits to ask him to do so. 15 W.R. 492. U

B.—COURT'S POWER RE ADDITION OR TRANSPOSITION OF PARTIES.

- (1) The rejection of a plaint, after the first hearing, for non-joinder of certain necessary parties as defendants is illegal, the Court having a discretionary power under this rule to add parties to a suit. 2 A.W.N. 87. V
- (2) Where the rights of another person as well as those of the plaintiff have been contested in the lower Court, though the rights of the two are different, the Chief Court will, when no prejudice can occur, join that other person as a party to the suit to prevent further litigation. 11 P.R. 1870 (Civil). W
- (3) A Court could, under S. 73, Act VIII of 1859, add parties to a suit, as well as transpose a party from his position as pro forma defendant, and array him amongst the plaintiffs after amendment of plaint. 7 W.R. 89. See also 10 M. 44. X

8.—“Or whose presence.....to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions.....be added.”—(Continued).

- (4) Where the plaintiff in a partnership suit applied for leave to withdraw the suit or for dismissal of it, two of the defendants who objected to the application, applied that they might be made plaintiffs and that plaintiff be made a defendant. The application was allowed under S. 32 of the old Code. 7 B. 167. Y
- (5) Where the son of a Hindu widow died after her re-marriage, and she sued as guardian of her daughter by her first husband claiming the estate of her son, she was allowed to join as co-plaintiff in her own right. 10 W.R. 34. Z
- (6) Where a Mahomedan lady brought two suits, one to set aside a mortgage of a portion of her father's estate by her husband and the other against one of her brothers for her share of her father's estate, the Court ought not to dismiss the suit on the ground of non-joinder of the other brothers of plaintiff to the latter suit or that the plaintiff should have brought only one suit. It must exercise the powers conferred on it by this rule and add the necessary parties to the suit and cause the plaint to be amended accordingly. 1 A.W.N. 140. A
- (7) Where the defendants denied the agency of a certain person with whom the plaintiff entered into the contract sued on and who was alleged by the plaintiff to be their agent, on an application in time by the plaintiff, the alleged agent of the defendants against whom relief was proposed to be prayed for in the alternative could be added as defendants. 8 C. 170. B
- (8) Though no relief was asked in the plaint against the mutt, the representative of the mutt was rightly joined as a defendant under this rule in a suit against the sons of the obligor of a bond who described himself as the manager of the mutt in the bond. 13 M. 32 (33). C
- (9) Where a certain person had advanced moneys to plaintiff to enable her to carry on the suit and had obtained an assignment of half of her interest but the plaintiff disputed the assignment the assignee was made a defendant on his own application. 3 C.W.N. 754. D
- (10) In a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale, a subsequent purchaser may also be joined by Court as a party under S. 32, C.P.C., provided the circumstances mentioned in S. 27 (b), Specific Relief Act, exists. 1 L.B.R. 252. E
- (11) In a suit for declaration that certain immoveable property was not liable to attachment and sale in execution of certain decrees obtained by defendants 1 to 4 against defendants 5 to 7, certain other persons who had also attached the property in dispute in execution of decrees obtained by them against defendants 5 to 7 and had successfully resisted the claim preferred by plaintiff, were necessary parties “to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit” as the plaintiff had a right to relief against them in respect of the matter involved in the suit. 27 C. 493. F

8.—“Or whose presence.....to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions.....be added.”—(Continued).

- (12) Where, in a suit by one member of a joint Hindu family against several other members of the same family for a declaration, one of the members of that family was not added as a party, the non-joinder of that member is not a fatal defect. The Court should have added him as a party if it was of opinion that his presence was necessary. 11 A.W.N. 175. G
- (13) Where the plaintiff sought to establish his right to attach a house in execution of a decree which the defendants impugned as having been obtained by fraud, and the house was previous to the suit mortgaged to a third party and the defendant also entered into a contract of sale with that third party subsequent to the suit, the defendant undertaking to defend the suit, on defendant's failure so to defend, the mortgagee and would-be vendee is entitled to be added as a defendant under this rule. 8 B. 323. H
- (14) Where a suit instituted by a guardian for a minor was dismissed for want of a certificate under Act XL of 1858, the minor on coming of age was ordered to be added as plaintiff under S. 73 of Act VIII of 1859 and the suit proceeded with. 12 W.R. 102. I
- (15) Where a Hindu widow sued in respect of rights inherited by her from her deceased husband, and then adopted a son, under S. 73 of Act VIII of 1859 the adopted son might be made a co-plaintiff. 1 M.H.C.R. 197. J
- (16) In a suit under S. 30 of the Land Acquisition Act where there is a dispute as to the apportionment of compensation, it is not ultra vires of the District Judge to add a party to the proceedings before him. 25 A. 133=(1902) A.W.N. 215. K
- (17) Where the plaintiff had executed an instrument to a third person giving him the right to recover money from defendants and sued himself ignoring that instrument, the third person in whose favour the instrument is executed is properly made a party and as the plaintiff disputed the validity of the instrument, he should be joined as defendant rather than as plaintiff. 7 Bom. H.C.R.A.C. 10. L
- (18) In a mortgage suit, one of the heirs of a deceased purchaser of the mortgaged property was made a party, and on his objection, the other heirs were also added as parties—especially as the plaintiff had no notice of such heirs at the time of the suit. 12 C.W.N. 911. M
- (19) Where a suit on a mortgage bond was instituted by the benamidar and the real mortgagee had made over the debt prior to the suit but executed the formal deed of assignment subsequent to it, the assignees were rightly added as plaintiffs under this rule. 24 C. 34. N
- (20) Where a plaintiff was transported for life, since the institution of suit, his sons might properly be made plaintiffs as they had also a joint interest with the father in ancestral estate. 6 M. 331. O
- (21) The lessors might properly have been made co-plaintiffs and the Court of first instance should, under S. 73 of Act VIII of 1859, make them such. 22 W.R. 437. P

8.—“Or whose presence.....to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions..... be added.”—(Continued).

B.—COURT'S POWER RE ADDITION OR TRANSPOSITION OF PARTIES—(Concluded).

- (22) Where, in a suit by the owner of a firm who is also a member of a joint Hindu family, the other members of the family are proved to be partners in the firm, the Court ought to allow the plaintiff to bring them on record and to amend the plaint accordingly. 27 B 157=4 Bom. L.R. 968. See also 17 B. 413. Q
- (23) In a suit for possession, the assignee pendente lite of the defendant's interest by purchase in a Court sale, should also be made defendant by Court under Ss. 372 and 32 of the C.P.C. 5 O.C. 91. R
- (24) In a suit for possession by the heir, against one who claimed a life estate under a will, the vested remainderman is also entitled to come and defend the suit and the Court should allow it. S.C. 302. S
- (25) In a suit against two widows for possession of property on the allegation that plaintiff was the adopted son of the deceased husband, a mortgagee of the property from the widows was allowed to be made a defendant on the ground that otherwise he would be greatly prejudiced. 2 C.P.L.R. 236. T
- (26) A benami-holder of a pro-note has a right to sue on the note and in that suit the Court has jurisdiction to add the real creditor as co-plaintiff. 1 O.C. 10. U
- (27) Suit on a lost cheque by the endorsees of the cheque against the endorser, for a duplicate of the cheque or for refund of money paid. The plaint should be amended by joining the drawer of the cheque as a defendant in the suit. 2 A. 754. V
- (28) Persons interested as worshippers in a public religious institution may be added as parties to a suit instituted by a trustee on behalf of the institution against third parties, if such joinder is considered by the Court as desirable in the interests of the trust. 29 M. 106 (12 M.L.J. 355, F). W
- (29) In a suit originally against the owners of a ship, the plaint was allowed to be amended by adding the ship as a party defendant. 12 B. 237. X

C.—CASES WHERE THE COURT HAS NO POWER TO ADD PARTIES.

- (1) Contrary to rule 3, order 2, the Court cannot impose upon the plaintiff persons as defendants who have no community of title with the real defendant to the suit. 18 A. 306 (308). Y
- (2) In a suit to establish right to the attached property, a third party who merely drew the money deposited in Court by the plaintiff on account of the attached property, should not be joined by Court as a defendant under S. 32, because it was not the attachment, but the withdrawal of part of the money deposited which constituted the cause of action against such third party. L.B.R. (Vol. 1893 to 1900), p. 409. Z
- (3) The creditor of a defendant should not be added as a party in a suit praying for a decree in terms of an award to which the defendant consents, though the creditor impugns the award as fraudulent and as intended to save the defendant's property from his creditors. 22 B. 727. A

8.—“Or whose presence.....to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions.....be added.”—(Continued).

C—CASES WHERE THE COURT HAS NO POWER TO ADD PARTIES—(Concluded).

- (4) In a suit for damages by the vendee of goods against his vendors on the ground that the goods supplied did not correspond with the sample, the vendor to such vendors should not be added as a defendant as he was not necessary “to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit.” 4 C. 355=2 C.L.R. 330. B
- (5) A defendant who has assigned all his rights in the subject-matter of the suit, and has no longer any interest in it, has no right to be made a complainant. 20 B. 677. C
- (6) The Official Assignee has no legal right under the Insolvent Act to apply to be made a party to the suits against the insolvent pending at the time of a vesting order nor has he the power, after judgment and decree have been pronounced in a suit against the insolvent prior to his vesting order, to get himself made a party to such suit with a view of setting aside the judgment or appealing therefrom. 1 Bom. H.C.R. 251. D
- (7) The mortgagees of the right, title, and interest of the plaintiff in a suit for partition of joint family property, were not necessary parties “to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the suit” words of the section under this rule. 5 C 882. E
- (8) In a suit by the mortgagee against the mortgagor for possession of the mortgaged property, two persons who alleged that they were the owners of the property and not the mortgagor, and who applied to the Court to be made parties, were not made parties. 5 O.C. 94. F
- (9) In a suit for recovery of property illegally sold in execution of a decree, against the decree-holders and auction-purchaser, it is not competent to the Court, under this rule, to add as defendant a person who claimed the property in suit by a title quite distinct from that under which any of the parties to the suit claimed. 18 A. 306=16 A.W.N. 72. G
- (10) In a suit for rent when a defendant sets up title of a third party such third person ought not to be made a party to the case. 66 P.R. 1886 (Civil). H

D.—EFFECT OF COURT ADDING PARTIES.

- (1) A Court acting under S. 92, C.P.C. of 1882 and adding prior incumbrances as parties, would cure any defect of non-joinder if any by the plaintiff under S. 85 of the Transfer of Property Act. 27 A. 75=1 A.L.J. 476= (1904) A.W.N. 166. I
- (2) Where a party is admitted by the original Court and no objection is taken to such admission by the opposite party, the appellate Court ought to decide the issue between such newly added party and the original parties and should not ignore it. 3 A.W.N. 201. See also 20 A. 370=18 A.W.N. 75. J
- (3) Where two or more parties have been joined in a suit with rights various in degree and kind, the mere fact of such joinder cannot confer on any of the parties so joined new rights or rights adverse to those of others. 1 N.W. Ed. 1873, 44. K

8.—“Or whose presence.....to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions.....be added.”—(Concluded).

E.—APPELLATE COURT'S POWERS, RE ADDITION OF PARTIES.

- (1) When a person applies to be added as a party appellant, the test is whether he can urge any of the grounds upon which the validity of the original Court's order is called in question. If he cannot, he ought not to be added as an appellant. 5 C.L.J. 434. L
- (2) An appellate Court has no power, either of its own motion or on the application of a party, to direct that a party to the suit who has not appealed, be joined as an appellant in an appeal filed by another party in the suit. 118 P.R. 1890. M
- (3) An appellate Court before prejudicing a plaintiff, in an appeal by the defendant against a co-plaintiff, should make the first plaintiff a co-respondent. 1876. Select case Part X, No. 55. N
- (4) When a Court hearing an appeal, is of opinion that a certain party should have been joined in the suit, the proper course is to remand the case to the lower Court and direct the lower Court to add the party and re-hear the case. 2 L.B.R. 277 ; 18 A. 332 = 16 A.W.N. 91. O
- (5) Though the provisions of this rule are not applicable to suits under the N.W.P. Rent Act, it is not illegal for a Revenue Court of appeal to direct retrial of a suit by the Court of first instance after making a certain person party to the suit. 2 A. 264. P
- (6) Where the appellate Court finds it necessary to have certain persons as parties to the suit, the proper course is for that Court to add them as parties under this rule and not to return the plaint for amendment. 7 M. 428. Q
- (7) Where a suit was instituted by one partner of a firm and, on defendants taking objection of non-joinder, the plaintiff contented himself with putting in a petition on behalf of the other partners intimating their willingness that the suit should proceed in the sole name of plaintiff without praying for their addition as parties, the High Court, on appeal, refused to add the others as plaintiffs. 1 A. 458. R

Order I, Rule 10 (3).

(Notes).

(Old Act).

Third clause of S. 32 of Act XIV of 1882 which corresponds to sub-rule (3) runs thus:—

“No person shall be added as a plaintiff, or as the next friend of a plaintiff, without his own consent thereto.”

(English Orders and Rules).

This sub-rule corresponds with O. XVI, r. 11 (3) of the English Rules of Practice.

9.—“No person shall be added....without his consent.”(1) Person not consenting to be plaintiff—Procedure.

No person can be added as a plaintiff without his previous consent and where he objects the proper course is to make him a defendant. 7 C. 242=9 C.L.R. 13. See 22 W.R. 394, where it was held that under S. 73 of Act VIII of 1859 persons might be made co-plaintiffs without their consent. S

(2) Defendants cannot be made plaintiffs against their will

Where certain parties, who intervened in a suit for arrears of rent, were added as defendants in the original Court, the appellate Court cannot make them plaintiffs against their will. No person can be made a plaintiff against his will unless there is such an equity on the part of another as to compel him to be such. 22 W.R. 229. T

Order I, Rule 10 (4).(Notes).*(Old Act).

The first portion of the 5th clause of S. 32 and S. 33 of Act XIV of 1882 which corresponds to sub-rule (4) runs thus :—

“All parties whose names are so added as defendants shall be served with summons in manner hereinafter mentioned.”

S. 33. “Where a defendant is added, the plaint, if previously filed, shall, unless the Court direct otherwise, be amended in such manner as may be necessary, and an amended copy of the summons shall be served on the new defendant and the original defendant.”

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) The first portion of the clause 5 of S. 32 of the old Act is omitted.
- (2) The words “if previously filed” occurring in S. 33 of the old Act after the word “plaint” are also omitted.
- (3) Amended copies of the plaint as well as the summons are required to be served on the defendants.
- (4) While the service of the amended copy of the summons on the original defendant was compulsory under the old Act, under the present rule such service is necessary only if the Court thinks fit.”

(English Orders and Rules).

This sub-rule corresponds with O. XVI, r. 11 (4) of the English Rules of Practice.

10.—“Where a defendant is added, the plaint shall,...., be amended.”

- (1) A Court, considering that the addition of a defendant was necessary, returned the plaint for amendment. As the order was not complied with, it was held that the plaint was rightly rejected. 38 P.R. 1890. U
- (2) Where the plaintiff is allowed to amend the suit by withdrawing it against any particular set of defendants and he chooses not to amend the plaint, the proper course is to reject the plaint and not to dismiss the suit for misjoinder. 14 C. 435. Y

Order I, Rule 10 (5).

(Notes).

(Old Act).

Latter portion of the 5th clause of S. 32 of Act XIV of 1882. Same as above ; only instead of the word "them" the words "any person added as defendant" are substituted.

(English Orders and Rules).

This sub-rule corresponds with O. XVI, r. 11 (4) of the English Rules of Practice.

11.—"Subject to the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act,....begun only on the service of the summons."

(1) Limitation affecting the whole suit.

(a) If some co-parceners sue for joint property lost to the family and add other co-parceners as parties after the expiry of the period of limitation, the whole suit becomes barred. 6 M.L.J. 27. W

(b) In a suit by one of two brothers of a joint family to recover a debt due to them jointly, the other brother was joined after the expiry of the limitation period. It was held that as the brothers were only jointly entitled to sue, the whole suit was barred from the commencement. 79 P.R. 1906 ; 7 B. 217. See also 6 C. 815=8 C.L.R. 457 ; 14 A. 524 =12 A.W.N. 104, 21 B. 580. See contra 3 C. 26 and see 28 B. 11. X

(c) In a suit by one of several joint contractors, other plaintiffs were added after the lapse of the period of limitation. It was held that the suit should be dismissed against all. 8 P.R. 1886 (Civil). Y

(d) In a pre-emption suit all the representatives of the deceased vendee and persons in possession of his estate should be joined. If one of them is impleaded after the expiry of the limitation period, the whole suit must be dismissed. 141 P.R. 1889 ; 104 P.R. 1882. Z

(e) In a suit by a retired partner for account, etc., 11 partners were impleaded as defendants at first and then by an amended plaint 10 others were joined as partners-defendants, after the expiry of the limitation period. It was held that the whole suit must fail for limitation and non-joinder. S.C. 212. A

(f) If on objection, by a defendant, a necessary party without whose presence the suit could not be decided, is added after the expiry of the limitation period, the suit will be barred against all the defendants. 69 P.R. 1902. B

(g) Where, in a suit for partnership accounts, a necessary party-defendant was added at a time when the suit as against him was barred, the whole suit was rightly dismissed. 14 C. 791. C

II.—“Subject to the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, . . . begun only on the service of the summons.”—(Continued).

(2) Limitation affecting the added party alone.

General Principle.

- (a) S. 22 of the Limitation Act does not in itself purport to determine directly whether the joinder of parties after the institution of a suit shall in all cases necessarily involve the bar of limitation, if the period prescribed for such a suit has then expired. Such a result must depend upon consideration of the question whether the joinder was necessary to enable the Court to award such relief as may be given in the suit as framed.

If fresh parties are merely joined for the purpose of safeguarding the rights subsisting as between them and others claiming generally in the same interest, the determination (by application of the provisions of S. 22, Limitation Act) of the date of institution of the suit as regards such freshly joined parties does not ordinarily affect the right of the original plaintiff to continue the suit and S. 22 of the Limitation Act will not therefore apply. 28 B. 11 (17 and 18). D

- (b) If fresh parties are merely joined for the purpose of safeguarding the rights subsisting as between them and others claiming generally in the same interest, S. 22 of the Limitation Act does not affect the right of the original plaintiff to continue the suit and the suit will not therefore be barred. 28 B. 11=5 Bom L.R. 618. E

- (c) One of several co-promisees sued alone and on the objection of the defendant, others jointly interested in suing were brought on record as defendants after the period of limitation. The 1st defendant now pleaded limitation and it was held that the suit was not barred, inasmuch as one of the co-promisees can bring a suit under the Contract Act. 76 P.L.R. 1905 (F.B). F

- (d) In a suit against some of several promisors, the other promisors were also added as defendants after the period of limitation. It was held that as under the Contract Act the plaintiff could sue some or all of the original promisors as he pleases, the suit so far as they were concerned was not barred. 116 P.L.R. 1905. G

- (e) In a suit on a mortgage executed to plaintiff, the mere fact of the omission to add a purchaser of a small portion of the mortgaged property as a defendant until after the expiry of the limitation period will not operate as a bar to the suit. 33 C. 1079. H

- (f) A mortgagee-plaintiff joined an assignee of a portion of the mortgaged property as defendant after the period of limitation had expired. It was held that the suit was barred so far as this defendant was concerned; but with regard to others plaintiff was entitled to get proportionate part of his claim. 10 C.W.N. 551=3 C.L.J. 576=33 C. 618. I

- (g) Where a new defendant is added at the Court's instance after the period of limitation for the suit, S. 22 of the Limitation Act applies and bars plaintiff's remedy as against the added defendant. 35 C. 519=11 C.W.N. 350=5 C.L.J. 242=2 M.L.T. 137 (F.B.). J

11.—“Subject to the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act,....begun only on the service of the summons.”—(Continued).

(h) Where, in a suit for possession of immoveable property, some only or several persons in joint possession were originally made defendants while the others were joined after the expiry of the period of limitation, the suit would not fail as against all the defendants, but the plaintiff would be given a decree for joint possession with the defendants who were joined after the period of limitation. 17 A.W.N. 36. K

(i) In a suit for ejectment of trespassers by one co-sharer, where a question of non joinder, though raised in the written statements, was not pressed, and the Court, of its own motion, added a necessary party after the expiry of the period of limitation, S. 22 of the Limitation Act will be no bar to the suit. 26 A. 528=(1904) A.W.N. 119. See also 28 B. 11=5 Bom.L.R. 618. L

(3) Minors, Limitation against.

(a) Under S. 22 and S. 9 of the Limitation Act limitation would run even against minors, who are added as parties after the expiry of the period of limitation. 58 P.R. 1882 (Civil). M

(b) In a suit on a mortgage executed to plaintiff, the mere fact of the joinder of a minor grandson as co-plaintiff after the expiry of the time for bringing the suit was not fatal to the suit. 33 C. 1079. N

(4) Limitation in appeal.

(a) As for adding respondents in appeal, by its own motion or by the party's motion, the power of Court under S. 559, C.P.C., is not controlled by anything in the Limitation Act. 33 C 329. O

(b) Though the appellate Court is competent to make one a party to the appeal, it is not competent to pass a decree against the party so added where the addition was after the period of limitation for preferring an appeal had expired. 2 A. 487. P

(5) Limitation does not affect an assignee of a defendant pendente lite.

A pre-emption suit is not barred by limitation by reason of the assignee of the vendee-defendant, pendente lite, having been joined as a co-defendant after the period of limitation had expired. 42 P.W.R. 1907=3 P.L.R. 1908. Q

(6) Limitation against new party added by Court.

(a) S. 22 of the Limitation Act applies even where a Court of its own motion adds a party to a suit. 25 P.R. 1903. R

(b) Where a party is joined in a suit by Court of its own motion, the party can raise a plea of limitation in defence. 8 Bom. L.R. 942. S

(c) Limitation Act, S. 22, does not apply when the Court, of its own motion, orders that a defendant be made a plaintiff, under this rule. 17 M. 12=3 M.L.J. 177; 6 C. 815 and 7 B. 219, D. T

(7) Limitation under S. 27, C.P.C. (Act XIV of 1882).

Where persons are added or substituted as plaintiffs under S. 27 of the C.P.C., the period of limitation counts from the date when the suit was originally instituted. 149 P.R. 1907; 14 C. 400. But see 21 B. 580 where the ruling in 14 C. 400 was doubted. U

11.—“Subject to the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act,....begun only on the service of the summons.”—(Concluded).

(8) Effect on limitation of an objection to non-joinder taken late.

On an objection taken by a defendant not at the first hearing but six months after, the plaintiff applied for and got the names of fresh parties added after the expiry of the period of limitation. It was held that the suit was not barred by limitation. 5 A.L.J. 554. Y

(9) Period of limitation—Calculation of.

Where some of several co-sharers sued for their share of rent and the other co-sharers applied to be made co-plaintiffs but the application was refused by the Court of first instance and, on appeal, the appellate Court allowed the application and made them co-plaintiffs, but dismissed the suit on the ground that, on the date of their admission as parties their right was time-barred, held, that the co-sharers should be regarded as having been made parties when their application was made and that the plaintiffs should not suffer for the delay of the Court. 17 B. 29. W

I, r. 39.

Conduct of suit.

11. The Court may give the conduct of the suit to such person as it deems proper.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

The last clause of S. 32 of Act XIV of 1882. Same as above ; instead of the word “ plaintiff ” the word “ person ” is used.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to the second portion of O. XVI, r. 39 of the English rules.

12. (1) Where there are more plaintiffs than one, any one or more of them may be authorized by any other of them to appear, plead or act for such other in any proceeding ; and in like manner, where there are more defendants than one, any one or more of them may be authorized by any other of them to appear ; plead or act for such other in any proceeding.

Appearance of one of several plaintiffs or defendants for others.

(2) The authority shall be in writing signed by the party giving it and shall be filed in Court.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

S. 35 of Act XIV of 1882. Same as above ; but the words “ under this Code ” appearing after the first “ proceeding ” and the word “ such ” appearing before the second “ proceeding ” in the old Act, are omitted.

13. All objections on the ground of non-joinder or misjoinder of parties shall be taken at the earliest possible opportunity¹ and, in all cases where issues are settled, at or before such settlement², unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen, and any such objection not so taken shall be deemed to have been waived³.

(Notes).(Old Act).*S. 34 of Act XIV of 1882.—

"All objections for want of parties, or for joinder of parties who have no interest in the suit, or for misjoinder as co-plaintiff or co-defendants, shall be taken at the earliest possible opportunity, and in all cases before the first hearing; and any such objection not so taken shall be deemed to have been waived by the defendant.

Difference between the old Act and the new.

- (1) Instead of "for want of parties...co-defendants" in the old Act, the words "on the ground of non-joinder or misjoinder of parties" are substituted.
- (2) Instead of the words "before the first hearing," in the old Act, "where issues are settled, at or before such settlement, unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen" is substituted.
- (3) The words "by the defendant" in the concluding portion of the section in the old Act are omitted.

(General).An objection as to non-joinder is governed by S. 34.

- (1) An objection by a defendant that one of several co-promisees cannot sue alone to enforce payment of a debt due to them jointly is one falling within and governed by S. 34, C.P.C. (= O. I, r. 13 of the present Code). 156 P.R. 1889 (F.B.). X
- (2) This rule limits the time within which a defendant may object for want of parties, but it does not so limit the right of plaintiff to add parties. Vide 5 B. 609. Y

1.—"All objections..opportunity."Joinder of co-parceners.

In a suit by the manager, the right to insist on the other co-parceners being joined is for the benefit of the defendant to insure himself against further litigation and so the objection should be taken at the earliest possible opportunity or it would be deemed to have been waived. 5 Bom. L.R. 618=28 B. 11 at 19. Z

2.—"And in all cases..subsequently arisen."Where objection arises after the settlement of issues.

Where the ground of objection arises after the settlement of issues, e.g., where subsequent to such settlement, a co-parcener or remainderman or reversioner is born or a woman who is a party is married to a man not a party, it is enough if the objection is taken at the earliest opportunity after it came into existence. 5 B. 609. A

3.—“ And any such objection not so taken..waived.”

(A) Objection as to parties not raised—Court's powers.

- (1) Where an objection as to want of parties was not raised by the defendants, it must be deemed to have been waived, but the Court could add any one as a party if it thought it necessary. 3 A.L.J. 474=A.W.N. (1906), 199; 69 P.R. 1903; 64 P.R. 1881 (Civil); 104 P.R. 1882 (Civil). B
- (2) An objection as to a non-joinder of parties taken by the defendant not at the first hearing but six months afterwards should be disregarded by the Court. 5 A.L.J. 554. C

(B) Plea of misjoinder or non-joinder when to be raised.

- (1) A plea of misjoinder of parties, not raised in the lower Court, will not be allowed to be raised in first or second appeal. 2 N.L.R. 45; 9 O.C. 233, 28 M. 229; 151 P.R. 1883 (Civil); 4 P.L.R. 155; 2 A.W.N. 118; see also 20 A. 370=18 A.W.N. 75 and 15 A. 119. D
- (2) Where an objection as to misjoinder of plaintiffs is not taken in the Court of first instance, the appellate Court ought not to allow the objection. 16 B. 119. E
- (3) In a joint suit for pre-emption by numerous occupancy tenants and others, objection to misjoinder and non-joinder was taken on appeal. It was held that the objection could not be taken at that stage and that the tenants though they did not represent the whole body of tenants, can sue jointly. 19 P.R. 1898. F
- (4) Where one member alone of an undivided Hindu family brought a suit in respect of a family business without joining the other partners as parties, plaintiff was not allowed on appeal to amend the plaint by bringing his partners on to the record. 18 M. 33. G
- (5) The non-joinder in a suit on a mortgage of persons interested in the mortgaged property within the meaning of S. 85, T.P. Act and of whose interest the plaintiff has notice is a fatal defect in the suit. The Court will give effect to the objection of non-joinder and dismiss the suit, even though such objection be raised for the first time in appeal. 18 A. 109. See 13 A. 432 and 17 A. 537. H

ORDER II.

FRAME OF SUIT.

1. Every suit shall, as far as practicable, be framed so as to afford ground for final decision upon the subjects, in dispute¹ and to prevent further litigation concerning them.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

This rule corresponds to S. 42 of Act XIV of 1882.

(1) General.

The rule contains provisions of a directory nature regarding the framing of a suit with a view to secure finality of decision. 27 C. 724, 761. I

(2) Scope of rr. 1 and 2.

Sections 42 and 43 of the old Code (= O. II, rr. 1 and 2 of the present Code) are not exhaustive of the law of 'Res judicata.' 26 M. 760. J

.(3 Object of r. 1.

The object is to require the plaintiff to bring his whole case relating to the right involved in the suit and not to require him to unite all causes of action against a defendant in respect of the object-matter or corpus. 26 M. 760. K

1.—“Subjects in dispute.”

The phrase—denotes the jural relation between the parties, for deciding which the suit is brought. 26 M. 760. L

2. (1) Every suit shall include the whole of the claim which the plaintiff is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action¹; but a plaintiff may relinquish any portion of his claim in order to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of any Court².

(2) Where a plaintiff omits to sue in respect of, or intentionally Relinquishment of part of claim. relinquishes, any portion of his claim, he shall not afterwards sue in respect of the portion so omitted or relinquished³.

(3) A person entitled to more than one relief in respect of the same cause of action may sue for all or any of such reliefs⁴; but if he omits, except with the leave of the Court, to sue for all such reliefs, he shall not afterwards sue for any relief so omitted⁵.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this rule an obligation and a collateral security for its performance and successive claims arising under the same obligation shall be deemed respectively to constitute but one cause of action.

Illustration.

A lets a house to B at a yearly rent of Rs. 1,200. The rent for the whole of the years 1905, 1906 and 1907 is due and unpaid. A sues B in 1908 only for the rent due for 1906. A shall not afterwards sue B for the rent due for 1905 or 1907.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

This rule corresponds to S. 43 of the old Code and S. 7 of Act VIII of 1859.

Difference between the old section and this rule.

For the word “remedy” in para 3 of the old section, the word “relief” is inserted and the words “obtained before the first hearing” have been omitted in this rule. Para 4 of the old section is denoted as “Explanation” in the new rule and the words “and successive claims arising under the same obligation” have been newly added.

(General).

(1) The rule is founded on the maxim that a person ought not to be twice troubled for the same cause. 19 A. 383; 7 B. 134, 136; 19 A. 98, 99; 27 B. 379, 382. M

(2) Where a Court refuses to adjudicate on the subject-matter in dispute and dismisses the suit for defect in its frame, S. 43 of the old Code (=O. II, r. 2 of the new Code) cannot bar a subsequent suit founded on the same cause of action. The object of the final clauses of S. 43 of the old Code (=O. II, r. 2) is to prevent further litigation regarding the subject-matter in dispute and there can be no previous litigation concerning the subject-matter in dispute within the meaning of S. 42. (=O. II, r. 1 of the new Code), when a Court has refused to decide on the subject-matter. Consequently, a plaintiff, whose suit has been thus dismissed, can commence proceedings de novo, without any express permission. 66 P.R. 1884. N

(3) First suit for declaration of right to share in offerings, was dismissed, as the plaintiff had not claimed consequential relief. Second suit claiming consequential relief was not barred, assuming the cause of action in the two suits to be identical. (Ibid). O

(4) Object of the rule.

The——is to benefit a defendant, by preventing others from harassing him by numerous suits, and the rule must be expressly pleaded before judgment, if the defendant wants to take advantage of it. 37 P.R. 1885. P

(5) Application of the rule to S. 373 of the old Code (=O. XXIII, r. 1 of the present Code).

(a) The rule does not apply to a case, where a previous suit is withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit, in which the portion omitted in the first is also added. 17 A. 53. Q

(b) When a suit is dismissed or withdrawn under circumstances which do not preclude the plaintiff from bringing a fresh suit, the rule does not apply. 14 C.P.L.R. 104; 1 A. 324; 7 B. 182; 10 M. 60; 17 A. 53; 7 A. 624, R. R

(6) Application of rule to execution proceedings.

(a) The rule is not applicable to proceedings in execution of decrees. 19 A. 98 = 13 A.W.N. 57 (N.W.P.H.C. Rep. 95; 18 C. 515, cited). S

(b) Where a decree grants different reliefs such as, possession of land and mesne profits, it is competent to the decree-holder to execute the decree by successive and separate applications in respect of each relief. (Edge, C.J., Tyrrel, Blair and Burkitt, JJ.). (Ibid). T

(7) Application of rule to S. 525 of the old Code (=cl. 20 of schedule II of the present Code).

The rule can have no application to an application under S. 525 of the old Code. 4 N.L.R. 14; 22 M. 24, diss; 18 B. 537, F. U

(8) Application for leave to sue in forma pauperis,

An——which was rejected, does not bar a subsequent regular suit. 2 A. 359 = 19 A.W.N. 123. Y

(9) Matters outside the Province of O. II, r. 2.

S. 43 of Act XIV of 1882=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code has nothing to do with the evidence that may be necessary or may be produced to support or defend a cause of action or with the plaintiff's desire to bring more suits than one or with the devolution of title, where the cause of action relates to land or other kind of property. 16 A. 165 = 14 A.W.N. 65. W

(10) Comparison of pleadings.

If the question is whether the second claim should have been included in the first, the pleadings and judgments of the first case can be referred to. 19 C. 159; 18 I.A. 165. X

(11) Court taking plea suo motu.

A Court is not bound to take up proprio motu, the question involved in the rule, unless the defendant urges it. 37 P.R. 1885. Y

(12) Decision on one construction—Acquiescence—Different construction.

Where a case is decided on one view of a document, which view is acquiesced in by a party, he cannot succeed on a different construction subsequently. 30 C.D. 57. Z

(13) Limitation Act XV of 1877, art. 105.

—must not be construed so as to conflict with the provisions of S. 43 of the old Code. 5 A.L.J. 192; 7 W.R. 564; 34 C. 223, R. A (14) Onus of proof.

The onus of proving that a former cause of action sued on in a previous suit, is identical with the cause of action in a subsequent suit, lies on the defendant. 20 C. 716. B

(15) Question of title under colour of rent suit.

Deciding a—is a proceeding opposed to the principle laid down in Act VIII of 1859, S. 7 (=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code). 19 W.R. 91; 16 W.R. 235=8 B.L.R. 180. C

(16) Rent suits.

(a) S. 7 of Act VIII of 1859 (=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code) was held applicable to——. W.R. 1864, Act X, 88. D

(b)——to suits under N.W.P. Rent Act; 5 A. 406 and to suits under Act X of 1859 (Bengal); 17 W.R. 380; 12 C. 50; and also to suits under the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act. 7 B. 377. E

(17) Splitting of claims—Splitting of remedies.

S. 43 of the old Code (=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code) is directed against two evils, viz., the splitting of claims and the splitting of remedies. 2 Bom. L.R. 864=25 B. 161. F

(18) Transfer of Property Act, S. 85.

(a)——declares a suit on a mortgage liable to dismissal if a person known to have an interest in the mortgaged property is not added as a party. But neither that section nor S. 43 of the old Code (=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code) is a bar to a subsequent suit against the omitted party for adjustment of their respective rights. 5 C.W.N. 423. G

(General)—(Concluded).(18-A) Transfer of Property Act, S. 90.

There is nothing to prevent a mortgagee relinquishing his claim against a portion of the mortgaged property, and, if the sale of the remaining portion proves insufficient to satisfy the mortgage-debt, obtaining a decree under S. 90 of the Transfer of Property Act against the unhypothecated property of the mortgagor. 25 A. 79. H

(19) Upper Burma stamps and Limitation Regulation (X of 1887).

As to the application of this rule to suits under—see S. 7 (2) (a) of that Regulation. I

(20) Vested right—Course of procedure.

There is no vested interest in any course of procedure and the circumstance that the provisions of O. II, r. 2 were not enacted in the Civil Justice Regulation, does not imply any intention, on the part of the Legislature, that those provisions should not take effect at once upon the introduction of the Civil Procedure Code, which contains them. U.B.R. (1897-1901), Vol. II, p. 222; 242 B.D. 557; 11 B.H.C. 117; 6 B. 26; 7 B. 182, 272; Broom's Legal Maxims, pp. 28 and 29 (sixth edition), R. J

Order I, Rule 2 (1).(General).*(1) Object of sub-r. 1.

The—is to provide against splitting a cause of action and not to unite distinct causes of action. 2 W.R. Act X, 81. K

(2) Application of the rule.

The—is by seeing whether the cause of action in the second suit is the same as that in the first. The second is barred regarding any portion omitted in the first, if there is the same cause of action and not otherwise. 8 B.H.C. (A.C.), 205. See also 15 C.B. (N.S.), 99; 18 I.A. 158 and 19 C. 123. L

(3) Relief—Cause of action.

Relief is not synonymous with cause of action, that term including all the relief covered by the facts on the strength of which a plaintiff comes into Court. 5 A. 345. M

1.—“Every suit shall include...the whole of the claim...cause of action.”

GENERAL.(1) Inclusion of whole claim in one suit.

For cases under—see p. 263, (Lawyer's Companion, Civ. Pro. Code, Vol. I), and the cases noted therein.

(2) Cause of action.

For meaning and construction of the term—see pages 268, 426, 427, supra. (L.C., Civ. Pro. Code, Vol. I).

(3) Cause of action—English decisions.

(a) The expression “cause of action” has the same meaning as is attributed to it in the English decisions. 16 A. 165; 18 A. 131; 25 A. 48; 6 C.W.N. 585; 22 C. 840; B.L.R. (F.B.), 990; 12 M. 136. N

1.—“Every suit shall include...the whole of the claim...cause of action.
 —(Continued).

GENERAL—(Concluded).

(b) The phrase...has reference entirely to the grounds set forth in the plaint and has no relation whatever to the defence. It is not something independent of the defendant, but has reference to the defendant against whom relief is claimed. 25 M. 736=12 M.L.J. 103 (L.R. 8 C.P. 107; L.R. 15 I.A. 66, L.R. 15 I.A. 156, Ref.). O

(4) Distinct cause of action—Separate suit.

The rule contemplates a separate suit with reference to each distinct cause of action, subject to the provisions of O. II, rules 3 to 6. 23 C. 821, p. 825. P

(5) Splitting cause of action.

All the grounds must be included in one suit. A second suit on a different ground omitted in the first cannot stand, as it is splitting the cause of action. 12 W.R. 386=3 B.L.R. (A.C.), 421; 20 W.R. 492. Q

(6) True test.

The—is to see whether there is a splitting of the cause of action. 10 B.L.R. (P.C.), 1=14 M.I.A. 176, 187. R

(7) Joining different causes of action—Necessity.

There is no provision of law which makes it obligatory on the plaintiff to include different causes of action in one suit. 9 B.I.C. 257; 3 N.W.P. 20; 23 P.R. 1894. See also 1 A.L.J. 498 =1904 A.W.N. 191=27 A. 142. S

(8) Different and distinct transactions.

The mere fact that the defendant's title rests on—does not imply different causes of action warranting separate suits. 20 W.R. 108. T

(9) Four corners of plaint—Cause of action.

A second suit by the same plaintiff will not be barred, unless the same cause of action is found within the four corners of the plaint in the first suit. 8 C. 819 (8 C. 825; 12 C. 291; 8 C. 819, 7). U

(10) Plaint, disclosing no cause of action—Second suit.

If it has been held in the first suit that the plaintiff has disclosed no cause of action, the second suit will not be barred. 17 W.R. 380. V

(11) Principle.

All remedies by suit on all the securities a creditor may hold need not be enforced together. 2 N.W.P. 20. W

(12) Rights arising out of the same cause of action—Rights under same or similar titles—Distinction.

All rights arising under the same cause of action must be sued for together. All rights under the same or similar titles cannot be sued for together, as the right to sue in such cases may arise under different dates or under different causes of action. 5 W.R. (P.C.), 182; 20 W.R. 450. X

(13) Remedy only barred—Right not barred.

Although a party may be barred from suing in respect of the same cause of action, it is only the remedy of suing, which is barred. The right, whatever it might be, to which a party is entitled, still subsists. 7 B.L.R. 188. Y

(14) Premature suit is not within the purview of the rule.

A—. When the cause of action arises, a second suit may be brought for the whole claim arising out of it. 35 P.R. 1898. Z

I.—“Every suit shall include...the who'e of the claim....cause of action.”

A.—CLAIMS ARISING OUT OF SAME CAUSE OF ACTION.

(1) Accounts, suits for.

A person, who has a right of action against another for money payable on account stated, is not entitled to sue for one portion of the money payable on the stated account and then bring another action in respect of the balance. He must include the whole amount in one suit.
 1 C.L.J. 364=32 C. 654. A

(2) Alienations by co-proprietor.

(a) Where distinct parcels of land belonging to a Hindu in an ancestral estate are alienated by his co-proprietor, there is only one single cause of action against the co-proprietor and all the alienees may be included in one suit. 5 B.H.C. (A.C.), 30. B

(b) In the above case, the correct procedure is to institute a separate suit against the co-proprietor and also separate actions against the alienees and cause the proceedings in the latter to be stayed till the former suit is determined. 5 B.H.C. (A.C.), 30. C

(3) Assault—Actual loss and injury to feelings—District Court and Small Cause Court.

A claim for damages out of assault made up partly of actual pecuniary loss and partly of general damages for injury to feelings, should be heard in the District Court. The Small Cause Court has jurisdiction only in respect to the actual loss, and the claim cannot be split up by suing for part in Small Cause Court and for the other part in the District Court. 53 P.R. 1868 (Civil), 1103. D

(4) Award directing title-deeds and money—Separate suits not maintainable.

An award directed the respondent to pay title-deeds and money to the appellants. First suit was for money. The second suit was for delivery of title-deeds. The second was barred. 1 A.W.N. 72. E

(5) Bond payable by instalments—Same cause of action.

First suit to recover money due for an instalment only, although by that time two instalments had accrued due. Second suit to recover the second instalment was barred. 8 Bom. J. R. 547. F

(6) Contract—Breaches of terms.

(a) Failure to accept and pay for goods purchased under one contract must be construed as one cause of action and the whole claim must be included in one suit. 19 C. 372 (View of Wilson, J, in 12 C. 339, approved). G

(b) A contract for the sale and purchase of goods is a claim arising out of one cause of action and a purchaser who refuses to take delivery and does not pay for goods delivered, must be sued by the vendor in a single suit. 19 C. 372. See also 19 Q.B.D. 32. H

(c) A claim for price of goods is different from a claim for non-acceptance of goods and separate suits can be brought. (Per Garth, C.J.). 12 C. 339. I

(7) Covenants, breaches of, in one contract—Separate suits.

Where there are several breaches of terms under one contract, all the covenants to be performed are to be treated as joint and merged into one by the contract, and the breach of all the covenants enforceable before that time, deemed as one breach. 28 P.R. 1907–98 P.L.R. 1908. (8 C.P. 107; 22 Q.B.D. 128; 15 I.A. 156; 22 C. 883; 16 A. 165; 25 A. 48; 6 C.W.N. 585; 17 P.R. 1897; 123 P.R. 1881; 120 P.R. 1889; 21 B. 267; 18 M. 257; 11 M. 210; 24 M. 481; 27 M. 116; 12 C. 339; 19 C. 372; 12 A. 208; 15 I.A. 66; 5 B. 181; 7 Q.B.D. 498, R. EXAMPLES.

(1) Where principal and interest are both due under a mortgage bond, there can only be one suit for both. This cannot be overridden by an agreement between the debtor and the creditor that separate suits might be brought. 28 P.R. 1907. K

(2) Quære.—Whether the rule prohibits the bringing of separate suits in respect of two separate and distinct breaches of the same contract? A.W.N. (1908), 199; 12 C. 339 and 19 C. 372, R. L

(8) Co-sharers, suits between.

Three brothers had each one-third share in an estate. First suit was brought by one of the brothers for one-third share, although one of them was dead at the date of suit and the defendant brother in possession of the whole estate. Second suit for one-half of the one-third share belonging to the deceased brother, was barred; as the cause of action in the two suits was identical, viz., the defendant's refusal to acknowledge the plaintiff's right to enter, not on one-third but on a half of the estate. 15 P.R. 1885. M

(9) Damages, suits for.

(a) A person is bound to claim in a single suit all the damages flowing from a breach. (Per Muthusami Iyer, J, in 2 M.L.J. 190). Child v. Stenning, L.R. 11 Ch. D. 82, followed. See also 15 Q.B.D. 559; 11 App. Cas. 127; 14 Q.B.D. 141. N

(b) A servant, engaged for a particular term on a monthly salary and dismissed by his master before the term without just cause, must sue at once for damages for breach of contract. He cannot sue month by month as each month's wages fall due. 36 P.R. 1868 (Civil), 108. O

(c) A suit having been brought for Rs. 400 damages for wrongful dismissal, a decree for Rs. 75 per mensem, was given, up to the filing of the plaint, the Judge intimating that for damages accruing after the filing of the plaint, further suits month by month might be brought. Two suits were subsequently brought for the two months succeeding the first suit. The decrees in both those two suits were set aside on the ground that after the first suit, no further suits could lie. 6 C.L.R. 91. P

- (d) A lessee, evicted once and for all by the Malguzar, who has a paramount title to that of the lessor, can bring only one suit for damages for the breach of the covenant for quiet enjoyment. The case of an eviction by a person with paramount title differs from other breaches of covenants for quiet enjoyment, upon which damages may be recovered from time to time as they accrue. 3 N.L.R. 80. Q
- (e) First suit for specific performance was decreed. Second suit for damages arising out of the vendor's breach of contract was barred. 15 W.R. 48.R
- (f) Defamation by several persons—Same cause of action.
First suit for damages against one, out of several persons who joined in defaming plaintiff's character, was decreed. Second suit against another of the wrong-doers barred, the causes of action in both the suits being identical and satisfaction having been obtained in one of them. 4 N.W.P. 142. See also 4 App. Cas. 504. As to the splitting of the cause of action in the case of a libel, see 25 Q.B.D. 1. S
- (g) First suit for value of cattle, wrongfully taken. Second suit for damages caused by the wrongful act barred. 4 W.R. (S.C.O. Ref.), 20; 18 W.R. 337. See also 15 Q.B.D. 549. T

(10) Declaratory suits.

- (a) First suit for a declaration that a certain property was not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree, was dismissed on the ground, that the plaintiff was able to seek further relief than a mere declaration, as the property was sold and consequently the declaration could not be granted. Second suit for the value of property as compensation for illegal attachment, was barred, as the cause of action was the same and as the claim for the value of property must have been included in the previous suit. 5 O.C. 804. U
- (b) Where the first suit was for a—, a second suit for partition of the same land was barred, the claim and the remedy having had reference to the cause of action litigated in the prior suit. 10 M. 847. Y
- (c) First suit for declaration of right and partition of property purchased in the joint names of the parties. Second suit for partition of other property, which was also purchased in the joint names of the parties was barred, the cause of action in both the suits being identical. 5 A.L.J. 278. W
- (d) First suit for a declaration, that lands recorded as the property of the defendant, really belonged to the plaintiff. Second suit for the lands, having no separate number but included with the river-bed as the property of the defendant, was barred, as the claim for them must have been included in the previous suit. 90 P.R. 1877 (Civil), 102. X
- (e) The defendant's predecessor in title, having obtained a decree for possession of a village under S. 108, cl. 10 of the Oudh Rent Act, the plaintiff first brought a suit for declaration of his right before a Civil Court, amending the prayer so as to read that a decree for possession may be passed. The first suit having been dismissed for non-cognisance by a

(11) Defendant's allegation of different titles.

The defendant's allegation of different titles in herself to different portions of the property would not split the plaintiff's cause of action into different and distinct causes of action. So also, the fact that the plaintiff's judgment-debtors held, under different titles, portions of the property, would not split the plaintiff's cause of action into different causes of action. 16 A. 105=14 A.W.N. 65.

Z

EXAMPLE.

The holder of a money-decree attached the judgment-debtors' mortgagee-interest in a mortgage and also a house belonging to them. An objection to the attachment was made and an order under S. 280, Act XIV of 1882, was passed releasing the attachment. The plaintiff brought two suits, one in respect of the mortgagee-interest and the other in respect of the house. The latter suit was barred, the only cause of action being the order made under S. 280, C.P.C. (Ibid).

(12) Deposit of rent by tenant—Suit for balance—Second suit for rent due from date of deposit to date of first suit.

A deposit was made in Court by a tenant and on receiving the notice of deposit, the landlord withdrew the money under protest. First suit for the balance due was decreed. Second suit for the rent due from date of deposit to the date of the first suit was barred, as the plaintiff ought to have claimed all arrears of rent at the date of the first suit. Deposit is equivalent to part-payment and notice of deposit does not give a fresh and independent cause of action in respect of the balance then due. 1 C.L.J. 114.

B

(13) Estates in different districts—Same cause of action.

(a) The plaintiff claimed two estates of her deceased husband, from which she alleged she was dispossessed by the defendants, the estates being situated in different districts. First suit for the estate in one of the districts was decreed. Second suit for the estate in the other district, with reference to which a different act of dispossession was alleged, was barred, as the cause of action was the same and also as the plaintiff could have brought one suit under S. 12 of the old Code of 1859. 2 W.R. 149. But see 3 M.H.C. 376, where this principle was not followed. See also U.B.R. Vol. II. (1897-1901), p. 222.

(b) First suit for immoveable property situated within the jurisdiction of one Court. Second suit for other immoveable property situated within the jurisdiction of another Court was barred, as the plaintiff ought to have included the second claim in the first suit. U.B.R. (13-a) Heir, suit by.

First suit by father, second suit by his heir for different property, which might be included in the first, is barred. 3 W.R. 25. But see (1902) A.W.N. 170=24 A. 553. E

(14) Interest—Suit for principal and interest.

A usufructuary mortgagee, not having obtained possession, brought first a suit for unpaid interest due and got a decree. Second suit for principal and residue of interest up to date of suit was barred. 12 A. 208=10 A.W.N. 87. F

(15) Land, suit for.

A—must include the whole case of the plaintiff; and a second suit for the same cause of action cannot be maintained on the ground that the Collector's order sought to be set aside is of a different date and description from that sought to be set aside in the first. 2 Agra 305. G

(16) Land and trees.

First suit for land alone, alleging claim to certain trees in the plaint, dismissed on the ground of the land belonging to defendant's tenure. Second suit for declaration of title to and possession of the trees, was barred, the claim arising out of the same cause of action. 20 C. 322. H

(17) Maintenance, suits for.

First suit by a widow for maintenance. Second suit for the same to be charged on land was barred. 11 M. 127; 12 M. 285. See also 5 M. 47. I

(18) Mesne profits, suits re.

(a) Unless the decree declares mesne-profits to be payable, the executing Court cannot decide the amount of mesne-profits; and neither mesne-profits before nor after the institution of the suit or after the date of the decree, can be given by such Court. But where the decree in a first suit declares mesne-profits, the further mesne-profits from the date of the decree to the date of possession, can only be decided by the executing Court and not by a regular suit. J

(b) Where the decree is silent as to mesne-profits, a second suit for mesne-profits, can be brought, although they were not claimed in the first suit. 44 P.R. (1869), 352. K

(c) The cause of action in a claim to recover possession of immoveable property is identical with the cause of action in a claim for the mesne-profits of that property. Recovering possession and mesne-profits constitutes the whole of the claim which a plaintiff is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action. 3 L.B.R. 56. L

(a) First suit by mortgagor for redemption, in which he has alleged that the mortgagee has been overpaid. Second suit for such over-payment is barred. 6 B.H.C. (A.C.), 97. S

(b) Accounts having been settled, the mortgagor agreed to pay a portion of the sum due on a certain day, failing which he would execute a mortgage of some properties to the mortgagee. Second suit for voidance of the mutation order and to establish the right to the orchard was barred. 1 A.W.N. 98. Y

(21) Partition, suits re.

(a) A —cannot be brought unless the whole estate is brought into division. U.B.R. (1897-1901), Vol. II, p. 229; 12 C. 567; 14 C. 122; 7 B. 272, R. Z

(b) First suit for possession of a moiety of a house, of which the plaintiffs were dispossessed by the defendants, was dismissed. Second suit for a declaration of title to possession of the same house by partition, was barred. (1908) A.W.N. 97; 25 B. 189, R. A

(22) Price of goods sold—Suit by vendor.

A vendor must sue for the price of all goods sold till the date of the plaint. (Obiter, 27 M. 116). B

(23) Promissory note—Instalments.

Where two or more instalments of a promissory note payable by instalments are due, the holder must sue for all the instalments in one action. 12 B.L.R. 37=20 W.R. 358. See also 7 W.R. 309. C

(24) Promissory note for part of medical-fees—Suit for balance.

A Vakıl, having agreed to pay a medical man Rs. 100 per day, executed a pro-note for part of the fees, agreeing to set off the balance, against his fee for conducting a case of the medical man in a Civil Court. First suit by the medical man on the pro-note was decreed. Second suit for the balance was barred, as the plaintiff ought to have sued for it in the first suit, the cause of action being the breach of the agreement to pay Rs. 100 per day. 4 A.L.J. 85=A.W.N. (1907), 41=29 A. 256. D

(25) Property dispossessed in three villages.

The plaintiffs, having been dispossessed of the rights held by their father in three villages, brought first a suit to recover property in one village alone. Second suit to recover possession in the two other villages, was barred. 9 P.R. (1881), 596. E

(26) Property inherited from different persons—Same cause of action.

The owner of an one-third share died, leaving her husband and a son. The son died subsequently, leaving his wife, who sold away the one-third share. First suit by the owner's husband for portion of the property as heir to his wife, was decreed. Second suit for the remaining portion as heir to his son barred, as the real cause of action was the taking possession of the one-third share by the purchaser, although the persons from whom the plaintiff derived his title died on two different dates. 7 A.W.N. 108; see also 4 A. 171=1 A.W.N. 174--211. (28) Rent, suits re.

(a) First suit for rent for only the Bengali year 1281, while the rents for 1281, 1282 and 1283 were due. Second suit for rent for the years 1282, 1283 and 1284 was barred under S. 43 of Act X of 1877=O. 11, r. 2 of the present Code. 6 C. 791=8 C.L.R. 297, (2 W.R. (b) First suit for arrears of rent from one field, when the arrears of rent from another field also had accrued due. Second suit for arrears from the other field, was barred. 8 C.P.L.R. 9. I

(c) First suit by sharer against lambardar in respect of the profits of his share for fashi 1285, profits for fashi 1287 also being due. Second suit for 1287 fashi was barred. 3 A.W.N. 142. J

(d) Rent for successive years constitutes one whole claim in respect of the cause of action. 2 C.L.J. 490. K

(29) Simultaneous suits for balance of account.

(a) Where, after settling accounts, the defendants ordered their agents to pay plaintiff a certain sum and promised to pay the balance afterwards, the plaintiff had one cause of action. 9 M. 279. But see 14 A.W.N. 65. (1 A. 650, R.); 76 P.R. 1890 [1 A. 650 and W.N. 1888, p. 147, R; 9 M. 279, not preferred]. L

(b) Two suits, having been instituted simultaneously, and one of the suits having been determined, the other suit not barred, assuming that the claims in the two suits arose out of the same cause of action and should have been included in one suit. 14 A.W.N. 65 (1 A. 650, R). But see 9 M. 279. M

(30) Specific performance of contract.

First suit for possession, according to the terms of the contract, was dismissed on the ground that the vendee failed to perform his part of the contract. Second suit for specific performance of the contract to sell was barred. 8 Bom. L.R. 299; 6 C.W.N. 17; 24 M. 491; 28 I.A. 221 (P.G.). N

(31) Suit on improperly stamped instrument—Suit on account-book.

Accounts having been settled, the defendant gave to the plaintiff an instrument, by which he agreed to pay to the plaintiff the debt in four annual instalments. The plaintiff wrote in his account-book also about the defendant's liability to pay in instalments. The instrument having been found to be a promissory note and improperly stamped, the plaintiff withdrew his suit with liberty to bring a fresh one. A suit was then brought on the basis of the account-book for two instalments. A second suit on the account-book for the third instalment was barred, as the agreement by the debtor to pay the money in instalments could be proved only by the promissory note and not by the account-book. 3 A. 717=1 A.W.N. 47. O

(32) Trees and fruits.

First suit for possession of land and trees, the wrongful taking of fruits also being mentioned. Second suit for the value of the fruits on trees was barred, as the taking of fruits, which was the cause of action, was identical in both suits and also the value of the fruits must have been claimed as mesne profits in the first suit. 3 A. 543=1 A.W.N. 38. P

(33) Trustees, failing to ask for account—Suit by Advocate-General.

Certain trustees failed to ask for an account in a suit brought by them. The Advocate-General was held barred under this rule from suing for an account, as he represented the same interests as the trustees did. 18 B. 551. Q

(34) Withdrawal without permission.

Where a suit is withdrawn without permission of the Court, a second suit founded on the same cause of action will be barred. 5 A.L.J. 278. R

(b)—is to see whether a plaintiff in the second suit could have included his cause of action in the first suit. 8 B.H.C. (A.C.), 64; 12 B.H.C. 148; 23 M. 608. T

EXAMPLES.

- (1) Where the first suit is for actual division, a second suit for division of property not capable of division at the time of the first, is not barred. (Ibid). U
- (2) First suit for partition of property. Second suit for partition of mortgaged property, not redeemed at the date of the first, not barred. (Ibid). Y

(5) A widow suing for the allowance provided for in a will in lieu of her share in ancestral property can bring a second suit for her share of inheritance, in spite of S. 172 of the Indian Succession Act. 12 C. 60. Y

(2) Object and issues.

In considering whether there is any splitting of the cause of action, it is necessary to look at the object with which the suits are brought and the issues arising in them. 24 P.R. 1882. Z

C.—SPECIAL CASES.

(1) Account stated.

An account stated, respecting a debt, constitutes a new and distinct cause of action, the consideration being the ascertaining of the previously uncertain state of the transaction between the parties. 6 Bom. L.R. 454 = 28 B. 447. A

(2) Account, suit for balance on.

First suit was for recovery of receipt, deposited as security for advance of money. Second suit for balance due on the whole account between them was not barred. 1 N.W.P. 70. B

(3) Administrator's refusal to pay interest—Suit for share in the inheritance.

The cause of action, which arises against an administrator, who fails to administer the estate and render accounts, differs from the cause of action against a trespasser or a person, who wrongfully withholds possession of property to which the plaintiff is entitled. 2 O.O. 17. C

EXAMPLE.

First suit was for recovery of a certain sum on the allegation, that the plaintiff as heir to the estate of a certain person, was entitled to receive his share from the defendant, who collected some amount under the Succession Certificate Act. The defendant refused to pay the plaintiff's claim but did not deny the plaintiff's title to a share in the estate. Second suit by the plaintiff for a share in the inheritance against the same defendant was not barred. (Ibid). D

(4) Alienations.

A person claiming by inheritance a piece of land and trees can maintain two separate suits against the defendant, the causes of action being the unlawful alienations made by the latter of the respective properties. 9 B.H.C. 257. E

(5) Alienations by widow—Separate deeds to different persons—Different causes of action.

In the case of alienations made by Hindu widows by separate deeds in favour of different persons, the reversioner can bring separate suits, the causes of action being different. 9 O.O. 326. F

(6) Alienations by widow—Suit for declaration by reversioner—Suit for possession.

(a) First suit by reversioner for declaratory decree in respect of alienations by the widow. Second suit, after death of the widow, for possession of certain houses not included in the first, was not barred, as the right to possession of the houses could not accrue during the lifetime of the widow. 91 P.R. 1898. G

(b) First suit was decreed in favour of the reversioner, for one-half of the property, the property being in the possession of a person, who was not a party to the suit. Second suit against the person in possession was not barred. 58 P.R. 1896. H

(8) Bodily injury—Injury to cab—Collision.

The plaintiff sustained bodily injury and his cab also was damaged by the defendant's servant's wrongful act. First suit for damage to the cab was paid by the defendant. Second suit for bodily injury was not barred. 14 Q.B.D. 141; 11 App. Cas. 144. I

(9) Bonds, suits on.

(a) Where two or more bonds appear to have been passed in respect of one claim, it is not incumbent on a plaintiff to sue upon all the bonds in an action. 7 B. 134. J

(b) There is nothing in S. 43 of the old Code=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code, justifying a Court to go behind the bonds to consider the circumstances out of which they sprung, although those circumstances by themselves might at that time have constituted a cause of action. (Ibid). K

(c) Where property is mortgaged by the same defendant on the same day by means of two separate bonds, two separate suits can lie, as the failure to pay the money secured by each bond, constitutes a separate cause of action. 4 C.L.R. 164. See 3 C. 785. L

(d) Where parties, for some reason or other, agree to execute two distinct instruments, there is not a single cause of action, because the loan was received at the same time and as part of one transaction. 24 M. 96=10 M.L.J. 383. M

(e) First suit on bond for whole claim, the decree obtained being partly infructuous for want of jurisdiction. Second suit for the infructuous part against a third party deriving title from borrower subsequent to the date of the bond, was not barred. 22 W.R. 308. N

(10) Buddhist Law—Divorce—Suit for partition—Principle.

(a) A suit for divorce and for partition of property do not constitute a single cause of action. Partition of property is not an essential feature of a divorce. The termination of the marriage status in itself is a sufficient cause of action and till that cause is settled, the grounds for partition do not arise. L.B.R. (1900), Vol. I, Part I, p. 7. U.B.R. 97, p. 1, Diss. O

- (b) When under Buddhist Law, a suit has been brought for divorce without partition of property, a subsequent suit for partition of the joint property is maintainable. (11) Cancellation of documents.

- (a) A suit to cancel a document on the ground that it had not been executed, is not the same as a suit to obtain a declaration that it had been executed only for a nominal purpose. 13 M. 44. Q
- (b) Where, after settling accounts, the plaintiff and the defendant entered into a partnership and afterwards a release was extorted from the plaintiff, a second suit by the plaintiff to wind up the partnership was not barred by a previous suit for cancellation of the release and for recovery of amount due. 6 M. 49. R

(12) Certificate of sale—Suit for exclusive possession of lands—Suit to recover share in other lands jointly held.

- (a) First suit by purchaser at a Court sale, to recover exclusive possession of certain lands of the judgment-debtors, was decreed. Second suit to recover by partition the share of the judgment-debtors in other lands jointly held by them with their co-parceners was not barred, although he based his claim, in both the suits, on the self same certificate of sale. (Per Chandavarkar and Astor, J.J. 5 Bom. L.R. 233=27 B. 379. S
- (b) The plaintiff has relied on the title as evidenced by the certificate of sale in both the suits. He may be entitled to more than one remedy in respect of the same cause of action and he may sue for all or any of his remedies, but if he omits without the leave of the Court, he cannot afterwards sue for the remedy he omits. The second suit is, therefore, barred. Per Crows, J. (dissenting). (Ibid.) T

(15) Claims that could not be joined—Zemindar's hagq-i-chaharram, (i.e.), one-fourth of the price paid for house.

A zemindar's lessee sold a house and the land on which it stood. First suit for cancelment of the sale and for rent, was decreed. Second suit for one-fourth of the price paid by the vendee for the house was not barred, as his cause of action did not occur at the date of the first and also because looking at S. 44 (a)=O. II, r. 3, sub-rule (1), he could not have joined his present claim with the former. 7 A.W.N. 77. X

(16) Compromise—Second suit on the deed of compromise.

First suit for a share in a certain village was compromised, the defendant agreeing to give plaintiff a share in another village also. Second suit for recovering the share in the other village, based on the deed of compromise, was not barred, as the plaintiff had a right of action arising out of the deed of compromise, independent of any right expressly reserved. A.W.N. (1905), 128=2 A.L.J. 680. Y

(17) Co-owners.

(a) Where two persons jointly own houses in two different districts, a first suit for partition of all the houses in one district, on the ground of exclusion from enjoyment of one of the houses, does not bar a second suit for partition of all the houses in the other district, as there is no splitting of claim. 162 P.R. (1884), 596; (9 P.R. 1881, D.). Z

(b) A mere co-owner of several properties need not sue his co-sharers, for a division of all their joint properties in one suit, if he wants a division of only one or some of them. 7 M.L.J. 73. A

(c) See U and Y, at p. 273, L.C., C.P. Code, Vol. I.

(18) Co-sharers.

First suit by a purchaser against some co-sharers, one of them having been omitted to be joined as a party. Second suit against the co-sharer whose name was thus omitted was not barred. (Per Bashyam Iyengar and Moore, JJ. 13 M.L.J. 83; 12 M.L.J. 103, appd.) B.

(19) Damages, suits for.

(a) First suit for refund of excess of rent, pending against defendant. Second suit for damages for excess received subsequent to the institution of the first, is not barred. 1 B.L.R. (F.B.), 97=10 W.R. (F.B), 41. C

(b) First suit for damages for wrongful dispossession of land. Second suit against the same defendant for wrongfully removing standing trees and logs, not barred. 22 M. 197. D

(c) First suit for possession of land and damages, was dismissed, on the ground that no dispossession had taken place, the plaintiff having been referred to a Small Cause Court for damages. Second suit for possession and mesne-profits of other lands, the land mentioned in the first suit also being included, was decreed. Subsequent to this suit, the plaintiff brought his suit for damages in the Small Cause Court. Held that the suit was not barred. 16 C. 545. E

(d) A person having been killed in a railway accident, first suit was brought against the Railway Company for damages and decreed. Second suit for damages suffered by the personal estate and effects of the deceased, was not barred. 1 Q.B.D. 599. F

(e) First suit for possession of land from which the plaintiff was evicted and for damages for cutting and removing trees. Second suit for damages for cutting of trees and removal of timber, subsequent to the institution of the first, was not barred. 8 M.L.J. 273. G

(20) Declaration of lien by mortgagee.

First suit for—over mortgaged properties. Second suit for declaration of lien against mortgagor's attaching creditors, over surplus-money in Collector's hands, realised before the institution of the first, by a sale of the properties for arrears of Government revenue, free from incumbrances, not barred. 6 C. 142=7 C.L.R. 396. H

(21) Declaration of right to share—Appropriation.

First suit for declaration of right to share in bond-debts due to the joint estate. Second suit by same plaintiff for moneys realized upon the same debts and appropriated to themselves by the defendants, not barred, a fresh cause of action having arisen from the date of appropriation. 18 W.R. 202. I

(22) Suit for declaration of right to an estate—Suit for possession by transferees.

(a) A zemindar, having made a gift of an estate, the donee's name was recorded in the Revenue register, after his death, in spite of the objections of his illegitimate son. First suit by the illegitimate son for declaration of his right to the estate, was decreed. The donee and the illegitimate son, both having sold the estate, the transferees of the illegitimate son sued for the possession of the moiety transferred. Their suit was not barred, although in the first suit by the illegitimate son, he omitted to ask for possession. 5 A. 345=8 A.W.N. 81 (2 A. 356; 8 C. 483, F). J

(b) The suit is barred by reason of such omission. (Stuart, C.J., dissenting, 2 A. 356, D.) (Ibid). K

(24-a) Declaration of title and confirmation of possession—Suit for possession.

(a) First suit for declaration of title and confirmation of possession. Second suit for possession not barred, as plaintiff was not in possession at the date of the first suit. 8 C. 819=10 C.L.R. 537 (11 M.L.A. 551, Disc); 8 C 825 (note)=11 C.L.R. 183; 12 C 291 (8 C. 819, F); 7 C.P.L.R. 63 (8 C. 819; 14 A. 512; 4 A. 261, F). Q

(b) First suit for declaration of title to land, was dismissed, the plaintiff not being in possession at the time of suit. Second suit for possession was not barred. 14 A. 512=12 A.W.N. 80 (8 C. 819, F). R

(c) The mere fact, that a person suing for a declaration of title, was in a position to sue for possession also, is no bar to a second suit for possession. 1 A. 252. See also 4 A. 261. S.

(25) Declaratory decree—Consequential relief.

(a) First suit for declaratory decree without consequential relief. Second suit for amount due under adjustment of accounts, not barred. 8 C. 483=11 C.L.R. 57 (1 A. 252, F). T

(b) First suit for a declaratory decree without prayer for consequential relief. Second suit to set aside sale and recover possession would not be barred, notwithstanding S. 42, Specific Relief Act. L.B.R. (1893—1900), p. 410. U

(26) Decree-holder getting formal possession—Receipt of rent by judgment-debtor.

The decree-holder who gets formal possession completely satisfies the order of the Court. There is a new cause of action, if the judgment-debtor persists in receiving rents from tenants, even after such possession. 1 A.L.J. 20. V

(27) Different deeds regarding different properties—Right to sue for possession under each deed.

After settling accounts, the defendants sold to the plaintiff two different properties under two separate sale-deeds. Separate suits for possession can be brought on each sale-deed, as the transaction between the parties resulted in two separate sales of distinct properties, giving rise to distinct causes of action. 110 P.R. 1883. (9 P.R. 1881, D). W

(28) Different trespasses—Same plot of land.

Two distinct trespasses committed at different times on different parts of the same land, cannot be regarded as one cause of action. A suit on one trespass cannot bar a suit on another, unless the previous suit is so framed as to make it necessary to claim the whole land in that suit. 10 M.L.J. 139. X

(29) Dispossession—Separate suits.

Two houses, purchased under the same sale-deed, having been dispossessed by the defendant's ancestor, on different occasions, a first suit for possession of one house was decreed. Second suit for possession of the other is not barred, although the plaintiff's title is the same sale-deed, because the ouster from the two houses on different occasions, gives rise to different causes of action. 6 A. 616=4 A.W.N. 185 (13 W.R. 196; 20 W.R. 103, R). C.—SPECIAL CASES—(Continued).

(30) Dispossession—Suit for value of produce—Suit for land.

First suit by a landlord for value of produce, of which he was dispossessed.
 Second suit for the land on which the produce stood, was not barred, as the two suits were based on different causes of action. 78 P.R. 1902. (11 M. 210; 9 C. 283; 19 C. 615, 22 M. 197 and 129 P.R. 1889, cited). Z

(31) Ejectment.

An occupancy tenant having mortgaged his tenancy, a zemindar got him ejected under S. 36 of the Rent Act for arrears of rent. The Revenue Courts having declined to eject the mortgagee of the tenancy who was in possession, a second suit brought by the zemindar for redemption of the mortgage was not barred. 7 A.W.N. 283. A

(32) Ejectment, suit for, based on an unregistered lease—Suit based on title.

First suit for ejectment based on a lease for a term of years, which was unregistered. Second suit based on title was no bar. 13 M.L.J. 475. B

(33) Enhancement of rent, suit for.

The dismissal of a—does not bar a suit for rent at the rate originally fixed. 15 C. 145, overruling 9 C. 919=12 C.L.R. 509 C

(34) Execution-purchaser, suit against.

First suit against execution-purchaser to set aside Court sale. Second suit for possession not barred, the plaintiff not being aware at the date of the first that the execution-purchaser was in possession. 14 M. 23=1 M.L.J. 28. D

(35) General account, suit on.

The defendant became personally responsible to the plaintiff for a certain amount and as part of the same transaction gave a sub-mortgage to him of certain shops over which he had a mortgage.

The plaintiff debited a certain sum in the general account in the name of the defendant. First suit, on the general account was decreed. Second suit to enforce the rights under the sub-mortgage was not barred, as the cause of action in the first was the adjusted account, while in the second it was the mortgage. 6 Bom. L.R. 454=28 B. 447. E

(36) Government sanction.

First suit for share of property. Second suit for property, not included in the first, for want of Government sanction, is not barred, notwithstanding the party omitted to apply for the sanction before the previous suit. 5 M.H.C. 419. F

(37) Ground of title common—Different defendants—Different lands.

(a) First suit by plaintiffs as the daughters of the last male-holder to recover certain lands was decreed. Second suit to recover certain other lands which had belonged to their father was not barred. Although the ground of title was the same and the cause of action also arose at the same time, the properties in the suit were different and the persons who severally withheld the same were also different. 12 M.L.J. 103=25 M. 736. G

(b) A cause of action against one person is not a part of the cause of action against another, if it is not a joint one against both. 25 M. 796=12 M.L.J. 103 (1 Agra H.C. Part III, 109; 14 M.I.A. 176, 14 M.I.A. 187, F.). H

(c) Where a widow alienates properties, a plaintiff may bring a single suit against the several defendants to set aside the alienations or different suits against each defendant, the ground of title being the same, but the persons infringing the plaintiff's right being different. (Ibid). I

(d) The omission to include an alienee in a prior suit does not bar a subsequent suit against him. (Ibid). J

(38) Hindu father and sons, suits against.

First suit on mortgage against father and sons, the decree being personal and providing for payment of the debt in instalments within a certain time. Second suit against other sons, not born at the date of the first decree, and their nephews for the unpaid instalments, to be paid out of the family property, was not barred. 17 M. 122=4 M.L.J. 52. (5 M. 232, 7 M. 328; 16 M. 99, F.). See also 2 Agra 323. K

(39) Hypothecated property—Obligor—Jurisdiction—Different Courts.

The obligor of a bond was residing within the jurisdiction of one Court, while the property was within the jurisdiction of another. First suit against the obligor personally, for principal and interest and also for the sale of the property, was dismissed, the interest claimed personally being decreed. Second suit for principal, in the Court within whose jurisdiction the property was situate, by sale of the mortgaged land, was not barred. 16 M. 481. L

(40) Incumbrances, annulment of, purchaser—Second suit by lessee.

First suit by purchaser at a Revenue sale to annul incumbrances against a certain co-sharer was decreed. Subsequently the purchaser leased the property to the plaintiff. Second suit by the lessee or the plaintiff to annul incumbrances against the remaining co-sharers, was not barred. 8 C.W.N. 54. M

(41) Injunction to restrain defendants from removing shells—Conversion—Suit for their value.

First suit for an injunction to restrain defendants from removing shells stored on a certain land, was dismissed on the ground that injunction could not be granted. Second suit for the value of the shells subsequently converted by the defendants, was not barred. 12 M.L.J. 406=25 M. 669. N

(42) Interest, stipulation to pay—Default—Principle.

(a) The stipulation in bonds, by which the principal sum is to be paid with interest in default of the payment of interest at the fixed time, is inserted for the exclusive benefit of the plaintiff. 2 M.L.J. 235=18 M. 257. O

- (b) The mere fact that a person states in his plaint that he chooses to sue only for interest, while he is entitled to sue for both principal and interest, default having been made by the debtor, does not preclude him from suing afterwards for the principal as well as the interest that accrues since the date of the first. (Ibid). P
- (c) The provision in a bond being that if interest is not paid at the fixed time, principal and interest must be paid at once, a first suit for interest alone, omitting to sue for principal, does not bar a second suit for principal and interest subsequently accrued. (Ibid). Q
- (d) In the above case, although the creditor's election not to seek a decree for the full amount, so stated in the first suit was not communicated to the defendants before the first, the second suit was not barred. (Ibid). R
- (e) A bond provided that, in default of payment of principal in one year, interest must be paid every month, failing which principal and interest were both payable. First suit for interest due up to date was decreed. Second suit for principal and interest and for lien on the mortgage property was not barred, as the distinct agreement to pay interest month by month, in default of payment, constituted a distinct cause of action. 123 P.R. 1881 (15 P.R. 1866, R.). S
- (f) A covenant to pay interest each year, not being confined to the fixed period of the mortgage is distinct from and independent of a claim for mortgage-amount, the performance of which is secured in a different manner. The cause of action in these two are entirely distinct. 21 B. 267. T
- (g) First suit to recover arrears of interest due on a mortgage-bond without suing for principal. Second suit for principal and interest by sale of mortgaged property, not barred. (Ibid) U
- (h) The provision in a bond, being the re-payment of loan with interest by a stated time, failing which the loan might be added to a mortgage-debt for a term of years and repaid at the end of the term with the mortgage-debt, a first suit was decreed for interest accrued at the date of the suit. Second suit for further interest since the date of the first suit, was not barred, although principal and interest were both due at the date of the first suit because according to the condition in the bond, the plaintiff must be taken to have elected to add the principal to the mortgage-debt, in which case he forfeited nothing by merely suing for arrears as they became due. 7 B. 446. V
- (i) Interest, suit for—Suit for principal and interest barred. 70 P.R. 1889. W

(44) Lease for a term—Breach of contract by lessee—Suits for rent.

(a) A lessee, after paying a month's rent, vacated the house and communicated to the plaintiff that he was not liable for further payment. First suit for the second month was decreed. Second suit for rent for the remaining term as damages, was not barred, as the rent for the subsequent period had not accrued due on the date of the first. 70 P.R. 1882. Y

(45) Lease, suit for registration of—Possession.

First suit by lessee to have a lease registered was decreed. Second suit for possession of the fields leased was not barred. 3 A.W.N. 6. Z

(46) Lessee resuming possession—Lessee retaining possession.

Where, in one case, a lessee resumes possession of lands on behalf of his landlord and in another case retains portions leased to him, although the lessor's title to recover is the same, the causes of action are distinct. 24 W.R. 212. A

(47) Maintenance—Claim for.

A claim for maintenance by a Mahomedan sister against one of her brothers and the sons of another brother, is entirely different from her claim against them for the share of her brother in her deceased sister's estate. Also a decree awarding her own share in her deceased sister's estate does not bar a second suit by her for the share of her brother in the said estate, as the causes of action are entirely distinct. 8 O.C. 65. [F.C.A. No. 19 of 1901, D; 17 W.R. 108, Exp.; 17 W.R. 1 (5) (P.C.), R]. B

(48) Malabar Uralans—Devasom property.

First suit by the holder of a bond against the executant Uralans and a third Uralan, was decreed. Second suit for declaration against a fourth Uralan for binding the debt on him and on the devasom property, the fourth having objected to the attachment in execution of the first decree was not barred. 16 M. 449. See also 10 C. 924. C

(49) Malikhana, suits for.

First suit for ‘malikhana’ was returned for presentation to the proper Court. Second suit for the sum, which had accrued after the plaint was presented in the first Court, but before its representation in the Munsiff's Court, not barred. 10 A.W.N. 242. D

(50) Mesne-profits, suit for.

(a) The right to possess immoveable property and the right to enjoy profits are two distinct rights.

Suit for possession. Second suit for mesne-profits accrued due before the first, is not barred. 129 P.R. 1889 (11 M. 210, appd; 11 M. 151 and 138 P.R. 1882, dis; 9 C. 282, D). See also L.B.R. (1900), Vol. I, part I, p. 13; 19 C. 615, F. E

(51) Mortgages, suits on

- (b) A mortgage-deed, having provided for possession in default of interest, a first suit for interest alone was brought and decreed. suit, N assigned his mortgage rights to M. M was aware of the suit and K was aware of the assignment, when he paid money into Court. K afterwards purchased three-eighths share from the mortgagor and he brought a second suit against N and M for recovering possession of the same. The plea that K might have recovered five-eighths in the first suit against N was bad and S. 48=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code was no bar. 9 M. 92. Y

(p) First suit by mortgagee for money was decreed. The money decree having been assigned, the assignee brought a second suit to establish a lien over the mortgaged-properties sold to the defendant, subsequent to the money decree. Held that the second suit was not barred. 142 P.R. 1882; 112 P.R. 1880, cited. B

(q) Two persons, each holding a mortgage over the same property from the same person brought suits for sale on the same day and in execution each purchased it at the sale under his decree. Neither of these made the other a party. The representatives of one of the decree-holders got possession as against the representatives of the other. A suit brought by the latter for possession of a moiety of the property or in the alternative for redemption of the other mortgage was not barred. 17 A.W.N. 94. C

(52) Partition, suits relating to.

(a) A tenant-in-common, who obtains a decree for partition of some of the items of property is not precluded from bringing a fresh suit for partition of the remaining items, as the causes of action are not the same. 8 M.L.J. 92. E

(b) The right of a tenant-in-common to have each field separately divided between himself and his co-tenants is one thing, and his right to claim a partition of all the fields held by them as tenants-in-common is another. (Per Shepard, J.) (Ibid.) F

(c) The claim to partition confined to the particular parcels of land is different from a general and complete partition of the entire property held by the plaintiff and the defendant. (Per Subramania Iyer, J.) (Ibid.) G

(d) First suit by members of a joint family for partition. Second suit for other properties held by family members and strangers, not barred.

B. 597.

(e) First suit by a joint family member for a share of a particular portion of the family property, leaving the rest undivided. Second suit by him to have the whole property divided, not barred. 8 B.H.C. (A.C.) 205. I

(53)—suits for, in Revenue and Civil Courts.

(a) First suit in a Civil Court for possession of a share in certain houses, only the sites of which were partitioned in a Revenue Court, was defeated on the ground that the supposed partition of the same by a Court of Revenue never could have taken place. Second suit for partition of the same was not barred. (1904) A.W.N. 89=26 A. 50=1 A.L.J. 228. J

(b) A suit by the Zamorin of Calicut for partition of parcels of land as belonging equally to two stanams does not bar a suit by him for a partition of moiety of property belonging in equal undivided shares to his stanam and that of the defendant. 21 M. 153. K

(54) Partners, suits by.

First suit by partners, an amin having adjusted accounts. Second suit for the amount due under the adjusted account was not barred. 22 C. 692. L

(55) Penalty for insufficient stamping.

First suit was brought on an instrument, for which the plaintiff had to pay stamp duty and penalty, the defendant being bound by law to stamp the document. Second suit to recover the amount paid for penalty, was not barred, although the amount was not included as costs in the former suit. 6 A. 70=3 A.W.N. 211. M

(56) Permanent interest—Leasehold interest—Injury.

An injury done at the same time to a plaintiff's permanent as well as temporary interest in an estate, gives rise to two causes of action and two suits for redress can be brought. 20 C. 716. N

(57) Possession, suits relating to.

Property, which the plaintiff claims by right of succession, being in the hands of various persons separately and some of these having mortgaged the same, the plaintiff could sue each party in possession of the portion claimed, and the mortgagees from him. 21 A.W.N. 115. O

(58) Pre-emption, right of.

See E, at p. 259, L C., C.P. Code, Vol. I.

(59) Premature suit—Dismissal—Second suit.

First suit dismissed as premature. A second suit may be brought for the whole claim arising out of the cause of action and it need not be for the same claim or the same remedies as was sued for in the first plaint. 35 P.R. 1898. P

(60) Purchase at different times.

A suit for share of joint family property standing in the name of one of the members cannot bar a subsequent suit for other property purchased in another member's name at another time. 20 W.R. (P.C.), 450. Q

(61) Real property—Personal property.

A person claiming under a will, both real and personal property, can maintain a first suit against the defendant for wrongful dispossession of the real property, and a second suit for his share in the personal property. 8 M. 520; 12 I.A. 116 (11 M.I.A. 551, R.) R

(62) Revenue and Civil Courts.

(a) Where a person had two separate rights of action, one on the contract to pay rent and the other on a mortgage-security for the same, the mere fact that he obtained a decree for rent in the Revenue Court did not bar his remedy in the Civil Court on the mortgage-security. 9 A. 29 = 6 A.W.N. 279 (15 B.L.R. 408, R.) S

(b) A contract to pay rent for the leased land and also security in Rs. 3,000 by mortgage of landed property were both given by a lessee. First suit was decreed in Revenue Court for arrears of rent and partial satisfaction was obtained. Second suit to recover the balance due by enforcement of the mortgage-security was not barred, there being two causes of action, one on the mortgage-security and the other on the contract to pay rent. (Ibid.) T

(c) Land was leased to a person by a usufructuary mortgage and the same land was hypothecated by the lessee as security for payment of rent. First suit, by mortgagee for arrears of rent in Revenue Court, was decreed. Second suit in a Civil Court to recover the amount of the decree by sale of the land claimed under hypothecation, was not barred. 4 A. 180 = 2 A.W.N. 47. See also 4 A. 318 = 2 A.W.N. 46. U

(63) Reversioners.

(a) Two sisters took possession of the share of a deceased sister and mortgaged it including their own joint property to a certain person. First suit against sisters and the mortgagee by plaintiff, as reversioners, for possession of one-third share, praying that as regards the remaining two-thirds their rights should not be affected, was decreed. Second suit for possession of the remaining two-thirds, against the sisters alone, was not barred. 87 P.R. 1903. (14 M.I.A. 187; 6 C. 142; 21 M. 153; 149 P.R. 1890 24 P.R. 1899 24 C. 831, R.) Y

(b) First suit by reversioners to contest daughter's succession was compromised. Second suit by the same persons to set aside alienation by daughters was not barred, as the causes of action are entirely distinct. 47 P.R. 1894. W

(c) A conditional mortgagee from a widow, having obtained possession under his decree, a reversioner sued to recover from him certain resumed revenue-free grants on the ground that they were not included in the mortgage or in the decree for possession. The only issue being, whether the land was included in the mortgage, the Court decided it in plaintiff's favour, although the suit was dismissed in appeal. A second suit for setting aside the mortgage as not binding upon the reversioner was not barred, as the object in it was to question the validity of the sale, while the object in the first was to show that the property claimed therein was not included in the mortgage. 24 P.R. (1882), 598. X

(64) Simultaneous suits—Principle.

Even supposing there was no necessity for bringing two suits, yet, if both had been instituted simultaneously, one could not be said to have priority over the other in point of time and there could be no question of relinquishment or a subsequent suit for the portion relinquished. 76 P.R. 1890 (1 A. 650 and W.N. 1888, p. 147, F. in preference to 9 M. 279). Y

(65) Specific performance—Co-defendants—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), S. 27.

- (a) First suit for specific performance of a contract of sale against defendants Nos. 3 to 7, was decreed. Second suit for possession against them and the principal defendants, who were removed from the former suit at the request of the plaintiff, was not barred, as the claim against both the sets of defendants did not arise out of the same cause of action. 6 C.W.N. 314. Z
- (b) In the former case, it was not necessary, under S. 27 of the Specific Relief Act, to bring the previous suit against both the sets of defendants. (Ibid). A
- (c) Where the right to a conveyance arises coincidently with the right to possession, a first suit for conveyance and then a second suit for possession, cannot be brought. But where the right to possession arises only on the execution of the conveyance, a fresh suit for possession is not barred. 12 M.L.J. 71. See also 18 B. 537; 22 M. 24. B
- (d) First suit for specific performance of a contract of sale, specified in an arbitration award. Second suit for possession on the basis of a sale-deed executed by Court, owing to the failure of the defendants to obey the terms of the award, was not barred. 4 N.L.R. 14; 22 M. 24, diss; 18 B. 537, F. See also 6 C.W.N. 314. C
- (e) First suit for specific performance of a contract of sale, and to compel the defendant to execute a sale-deed. The Court executed a deed of sale in plaintiff's favour under S. 262, C.P.C. (Act XIV of 1882), on failure of the defendant to do so. Second suit on the strength of the Court's sale-deed, to recover possession, was not barred. 18 B. 537. But see 22 M. 24, where this case is distinguished. D
- (f) In the above case, the cause of action is not the alleged breach of contract, but it is a new and distinct one arising from the deed of sale, which the defendant had contracted to pass. (Ibid). E
- (g) First suit for specific performance failed. Second suit for the return of the consideration money was not barred. 27 M. 380; 6 M. 760, R. But see 8 M.L.J. 61. F

1.—“Every suit shall include..the whole of the claim..cause of action.”
—(Concluded).

C.—SPECIAL CASES—(Concluded).

(h) First suit against father and son for specific performance of a contract, the decree awarding only the value of the father's share, the son's share not being bound. Second suit for recovering balance of consideration, was not barred, as the cause of action arose, only when it was determined in the first suit that the son's share was not bound. 24 M. 27=10 M.L.J. 217. G

(66) Trees and fruits of trees.

First suit for damages for alleged misappropriation of the fruits on trees, was dismissed, the defendants denying the plaintiff's title to the trees. Second suit for possession of trees including those to which the former suit related, was not barred, as S. 43 of Act XIV of 1882=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code does not apply to such a suit. 14 A.W.N. 61 (12 W.R. 290, R). H

D.—MISCELLANEOUS CASES.

(1) First suit by plaintiff or his ancestor as next reversioner to set aside alienations by a widow. Second suit by same plaintiff on the ground that the widow being a step-mother was not the heir and that the plaintiff was entitled to possession was not barred. 13 M.L.J. 58. I

(2) First suit based on a deed of gift for one-third share in the property, was dismissed. One of the defendants in the suit stated in his written statement that the other defendant was solely entitled to the property. Second suit by plaintiff for a half share in the inheritance, in view of this relinquishment was not barred. 9 O.C. 235 (7 N.W.P.H.C. Rep. 60 and 11 B.H.C. Rep. 224, R). J

2.—“But a plaintiff....bring the suit....any Court.”

(1) Abandonment to bring within the jurisdiction.

A portion of a claim abandoned to bring it within the jurisdiction of a Court, may be revived within the Court, having jurisdiction over the entire claim, when the suit is transferred to such other Court. 1 C.W.N. 32. K

(2) Suit for rent—Jurisdiction.

(a) Two separate suits for rents due for two successive years under the same lease on the same day exceeded the pecuniary limits of a Court of Small Causes. The suit for first year, was dismissed on the ground that the claim must have been included in the suit for second year. 8 M. 147. L

(b) As the parties had no intention of abandoning either claim, the proper course was to allow them to withdraw both suits and file a fresh suit in a competent Court. 8 M. 147. M

Order II, Rule 2 (2).

(General).

(1) Scope of the sub-rule.

What is contemplated in this sub-rule is a second suit advancing a claim supplementary to the first and in respect of “the portion omitted or relinquished in the first suit.” 35 P.R. 1893. N

General—(Concluded)

(2) "To sue," meaning of.

"To sue," in this rule, means to make a legal claim or to take legal proceedings against any person—it does not necessarily mean to file a suit by means of a plaint such as is referred to in the Code. Taking any legal proceedings in matters of any kind would be 'to sue.' 7 Bom. L.R. 198. O

(3) Application to file arbitration award.

The privilege given to a plaintiff to abandon the excess of a claim applies also to a case where the party comes in with an application to cause an arbitration award to be filed. 20 W.R. 56. P

(4) Fraud—Second suit not barred.

If there is fraud, the second suit will not be barred. 1 A. 543. Q

(5) Burden of proof.

The—lies on the defendant who objects to the plaintiff suing for portion of claim omitted in a former suit. 19 W.R. 429. R

(6) Former recovery—Later action—Bar.

If a plaintiff has had no opportunity in the former suit of recovering what he seeks to recover in the second, a second suit is not barred by the former recovery. 14 Q.B.D. 148; 15 Q.B.D. 549, p. 556. S

(7) Madras Rent Recovery Act VIII of 1865, S. 18.

First suit for recovering arrears of rent for two years, rent for the third year also being due but omitted. Attachment of land by landlord subsequent to the first by summary process under the Rent Recovery Act. The landlord is not precluded from pursuing his remedies under the Rent Recovery Act and a suit by the tenants to set aside the attachment as illegal cannot stand. 21 M. 286. T

3.—"Where a plaintiff....relinquishes....shall not afterwards sue.... relinquished."

(1) "Omit to sue"—Meaning of.

(2) Omission to sue—Effect of want of knowledge.

(a) The plaintiff, not being aware of his right when he sued before, it could not be regarded as a portion of his claim and he would not be precluded, by having omitted it, from bringing it forward in a subsequent suit. 15 C 800=15 I.A. 106 (P.C.). Y

(b) First suit for partition of family property. Second suit to recover share of other family debts collected by defendant, which were not within the knowledge of the plaintiff at the date of the first, not barred. 15 M. 296; 1 A. 543. W

(c) First suit on hypothecation-bond, the plaintiff not knowing that portion of hypothecated property had been acquired, under the Land Acquisition Act, by a Railway Company and the money lodged in the Treasury. Second suit to recover the sum in the Treasury, was not barred, the plaintiff not having known, at the date of the first suit, of the acquisition by the Company. 6 M. 344. X

(3) Omission to sue—Effect of knowledge.

- (a) If a plaintiff can be fixed with knowledge, at the time of the first suit, of the circumstances, which made it probable that he had another claim out of the same cause of action and which should put him on enquiry to find out its details, a subsequent suit for the whole or any portion of such a claim would be barred. 17 P.R. 1897. Y
- (b) A mortgagee, who fails to implead certain persons in a first suit, is not precluded from bringing a second suit, if it is shown that he had no notice of the existence of such persons when he brought the first suit. 6 A.W.N. 269. Z

(4) Accidental or involuntary omissions.

- (a) S. 43 of Act XIV of 1882=O. II, r. 2 of the present Code includes accidental or involuntary omissions as well as acts of deliberate relinquishment and cannot be controlled by any considerations of the motives of the party to whom it is applied. 2 C.L.J. 490; 11 M.I.A. 551, F. A
- (b) This section applies, whether the omission to sue is the result of knowledge and intention or not. 3 B.L.R. (A.C.), 265; 12 W.R. 79; 3 N.W.P. 27. But see 15 M. 296, supra. B

(5) Omission by mistake.

- (a) First suit for Government paper and other property. Second suit for a piece of Government paper, omitted in the first, was barred. 8 W.R. (P.C.) 3; 11 M.I.A. 551, Marsh, 286=2 Hay, 190. But see 10 P.R. 1869 (Civil), 103. C
- (b) First suit was brought jointly with another under a mistake of fact, that the latter also was entitled to a share. Second suit for the portion omitted on account of such mistake, was not barred, the omission having arisen on account of the mistake in question. 10 P.R. 1869 (Civil), 103. D

(6) Omission by negligence.

A plaintiff omitting, by negligence or other cause, a portion of his claim which sought to charge land or, having preferred it, is content to accept an imperfect adjudication or one, which awards him a portion of the relief claimed, cannot bring forward, in a second suit, matter which might have been disposed of in the first suit. 2 N.W.P. 29. E

(7) Effect of relinquishment.

Relinquishment of a portion of the claim does not cause dismissal of the suit in which the portion is relinquished, but bars a second suit for the relinquished portion, and a person will gain nothing by stating that he will sue again for the relinquished portion. 2 N.W.P. 90. F

(8) Suit for partition—One out of a number of villages.

A—of one, out of a number of villages left by an ancestor, cannot be dismissed. Such a suit might operate as a bar to any future claim by plaintiff for partition of the remaining villages. 1 Agra Rep. (A.C.), 55. G

(9) Part of claim included in former suit—Dismissal—Second suit.

A claim for portion of land included in a former suit which was dismissed does not bar a second suit for the same portion. 19 O. 159=18 I.A. 165 (P.C.). H

3.—“Where a plaintiff..relinquishes..shall not afterwards sue..
relinquished.”—(Continued).

(10) Abandoning a ground of claim.

—which is in question and proper for consideration and decision in a suit cannot be a cause for a fresh suit in respect of the same subject-matter.
2 M.H.C. 131. I

(10-A) Omission to sue for difference of value.

First suit for rent to be paid in Company's rupees, the plaintiff being entitled to be paid in Azeemabad rupees, which were more valuable than the former. Second suit for recovering the difference of value, was barred, the omission to sue for such difference being held to be an abandonment of claim. 5 W.R. Act X, 90. J

(11) Accretion to land.

First suit for a certain specified quantity of land as being within specified boundaries. On measurement, it was found that there was more land within those boundaries than the plaintiff claimed. First suit was decreed for what the plaintiff claimed, the excess portion being deducted. Second suit for land which had accreted to the excess portion which was not decreed in the former suit, was not barred. 9 B.L.R. 150=16 W.R. (P.C.), 5=5 W.R. 211. K

(12) Anticipation of claim.

A second suit would not be barred, if, at the time of the previous suit, the necessity for making the present claim could not have been anticipated. 10 M.L.J. 204. L (12-A) Damages.

First suit for damages. Second suit for portion already accrued at the date of the first was barred. 9 C. 143=12 C.L.R. 34; 12 C. 482 (6 C. 791, F). M

(13) Defendant claiming set-off, cannot split.

(a) A defendant, who sets up a claim by way of set-off, cannot split it; and while enforcing a portion of it under S. 111 of the old Code=O. VIII, r. 6 of the new Code, he cannot bring a suit to enforce the remainder. 1 C.L.J. 364=32 C. 654. N

EXAMPLE.

(b) First suit for money due on account against a defendant, who pleaded set-off only in respect to a portion due to him, omitting the remainder. Second suit by defendant for the remainder was barred, inasmuch as he was in the position of a plaintiff, in the previous suit, so far as his claim to set-off was concerned. (Ibid.) O

(14) Exclusion of lands by survey award.

First suit by plaintiff to set aside sale of land, the plaintiff specifying that he excludes certain lands on the ground that they have been joined to the adjacent taluq by a survey award.

Second suit for the excluded portion not barred. W.R. (1864), 134. P

(15) Guardian omitting claim—Minor's suit.

A minor cannot sue for portion of claim omitted by his guardian in a previous suit, unless the conduct of the guardian is shown to be unreasonable or improper. 22 M. 309; 76 P.R. 1893. Q

3.—“Where a plaintiff..relinquishes..shall not afterwards sue..
relinquished.”—(Continued).

(16) Misappropriation by joint family manager.

(a) A suit for—must be for all moneys misappropriated by him. 3 B.L.R. (A C.), 265; 12 W.R. 79. R

(b) Whether the omission is by mistake or not, a second suit cannot lie for the portion omitted. (Ibid). S

(17) Misappropriation by agent.

The acts of—having occurred before the plaintiff called on him to account, all the claims against him for all moneys misappropriated must be included in one suit. 23 W.R. 418. T

(18) Mortgages.

(a) A suit for redemption of land includes improvements and accretions made to the land in the hands of mortgages. 10 B.H.C. 369. U

(b) An omission to adjudicate upon part of a claim does not preclude the mortgagor from bringing a second suit in respect of the part. 10 B.H.C. 369. V

(c) First suit to redeem a Kanom, which was not proved, dismissed. The plaintiff knew at the time of the first suit that the defendants had admitted that they were Kanomdars in various documents. Second suit, based on the admissions, barred, as the plaintiff could have based his claim, in the alternative, on the admissions instead of confining himself to the mortgage which he failed to prove. 22 M. 259. W

(19) Shamilat land.

First suit by plaintiff's ancestors against the defendant's ancestors for possession of half a share in a certain patti was compromised. Second suit by plaintiffs for half of the shamilat land, that had fallen to the share of their patti, was not barred as the plaintiff's ancestors were under no obligation to sue for a share in the shamilat in addition to their claim for possession as khewadars of part of the holding. 113 P.R. 1900 (52 P.R. 1866; 10 P.R. 1894; 42 P.R. 1897; 115 P.R. 1894; 65 P.R. 1889, F). X

(20) Suit on false claim—Second suit on true claim.

(a) It is not the law, that, if a plaintiff sued for property on a false claim, when in reality he has, in fact and law, a true claim and cause of action for the same property, of which he is aware, he must be taken in law to have abandoned or relinquished his true claim and cause of action. 13 M.L.J. 448 (22 M. 259 treated as overruled by the Full Bench decision in 26 M. 104). But see case noted infra. Y

(b) A person must be taken to have relinquished or abandoned his claim on the real cause of action, if he brings a first suit on a claim known to him to be false. 6 M.L.J. 51, cf. 20 M. 83=6 M.L.J. 229, where this is explained. Z

EXAMPLE.

First suit in ejectment as a trespasser, dismissed on the ground that the defendant had a charge on the lands in dispute. Second suit for redemption on payment of the charge barred, as the plaintiff was fully aware of the charge at the time of the first. (Ibid). A

3.—“Where a plaintiff..relinquishes..shall not afterwards sue.. relinquished.”—(Concluded).

(21) Suit for demurrage.

In a suit for demurrage the plaintiff must sue for the whole of the demurrage due.

A second suit cannot be brought for the portion omitted in the first. 14 W.R. 253. B

(22) Suit for possession—Suit for declaration of title.

First suit for possession, was dismissed, the plaintiff not having asked for declaration of his title. Second suit for declaration of title was barred, as the plaintiff omitted to sue for it in the first suit. 5 O.C. 173. C

(23) Withdrawal of suit—Institution of fresh suit including portion omitted in the first.

First suit was permitted to be withdrawn with a view to bringing a fresh suit. Second suit which should include a portion omitted in the first, was not barred. 1 A. 324 ; 7 A. 624 ; 10 M. 160, cf. 7 B. 182. D

(24) Withdrawal of suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit on conditions—Conditions, non-fulfilment of—effect of.

A plaintiff, who is permitted to withdraw on conditions, which he does not fulfil, must be taken to have withdrawn his suit without the permission of the Court and he cannot bring a fresh suit for the same matter.. 2 C.L.J. 480=10 C.W.N. 8. E

(25) Withdrawal without permission.

Where property consisted of debts and lands, a first suit for partition of debts only, which was withdrawn without the Court's permission, precludes a second suit for partition of the whole. 7 B. 182. See also 2 C.L.J. 480=10 C.W.N. 8. F

4.—“A person entitled..reliefs.”

(1) Application of sub-rule 3 in O. II, r. 2.

The rule has no application to the case of a person, who, being entitled to one remedy only, sues by mistake, not for that remedy, but for another remedy to which he is not entitled. 47 P.R. 1884. See also view of Elsmie, J., in 66 P.R. 1884. But see 10 O.C. 44. G

(2) The object of the sub-rule (3).

—is to provide against the splitting of remedies. 6 M. 159. H

(3) Principle.

A person must be entitled to more than one remedy at the date of the first suit and he must omit to sue for such remedies. If he is not entitled to more than one remedy at the date of the first suit, even if he omits in it to sue for that to which he is entitled, a second suit is not barred with reference to the remedy he omits. 3 A. 857 ; 1 A.W.N. 100. But see 10 O.C. 44. I

4.—“A person entitled..reliefs.”—(Concluded).

(4) Mortgagee, not entitled to two remedies at the date of the first suit—Second not barred.

In respect of the mortgagor's breach to pay interest at the time fixed, a suit for foreclosure and a suit to enforce lien against mortgaged property are the two remedies of the mortgagee. First suit for foreclosure, omitting the second remedy, was dismissed on the ground that the plaintiff was not entitled to it, until the expiration of the mortgage-term. Second suit for second remedy is not barred, as, at the time of the first suit, the mortgagee was not a person entitled to more than one remedy, being entitled only to the second remedy and not to the first.. (Ibid.) J.

(5) Suit for partition.

First suit by one out of four brothers in a joint family for partition of one-fourth share, was decreed. The share of the brother who was not joined as a party and whose whereabouts were unknown, was reserved in the joint possession of the parties. Second suit by the same plaintiff, for one-third in the one-fourth of the unknown brother, was not barred, as this was not a claim which the plaintiffs were entitled to make in respect of their cause of action in the first suit, as the proceedings then contemplated that the unknown brother would return and take his share. 127 P.R. 1890. K

(6) A person entitled to more than one relief.

First suit for possession of the entire grain, was dismissed on the ground that the plaintiff was not entitled to more than a half share of the grain. Second suit to recover the revenue due to the plaintiff, on the ground that defendant took possession of his half share without paying revenue, was not barred, because this was a claim to which the plaintiff was not entitled under the terms of the agreement, when the former suit was instituted. 168 P.R. 1882 (90 P.R. 1881, R.). L

(7) Compensation to Hindu widow under Land Acquisition Act—Reversioner suing for wrong remedy by mistake.

First suit by reversioner, to restrain a widow from making any alienation of the compensation-money awarded for a house taken under the Land Acquisition Act, was dismissed; the Court stating nevertheless that a suit for apportionment of the compensation might be brought by the plaintiff. Second suit for apportionment of the compensation was not barred. 47 P.R. 1881; 35 P.R. 1885 (47 P.R. 1884, F.). M

(8) Suit for wrong remedy—Suit for right remedy.

A person suing by mistake for the wrong remedy cannot afterwards bring a second suit for the right remedy. 10 O.C. 44 (5 O.C. 173; 8 O.C. 889; 24 M. 491, F.); (3 A. 857 14 B. 81; 8 C. 819, R.). But see 3 A. 857. N

5.—“But if he omits.....so omitted.”

(1) Leave to omit to sue for a remedy—First hearing.

Where a deed of immoveable property contains a personal covenant to pay and the plaintiff's counsel applies, directly the case is called on for hearing, for leave to reserve his remedies under the mortgage, taking only a money-decree, the application to reserve [remedies contemplated by S. 43 para. 4 of the old Code = O. II, r. 2 (3) of the present Code, was held not to be too late. 5 B. 468. O

5.—“But if he omits...so omitted.”—(Continued).

(2) Splitting of remedies—Effect.

(a) A lets a land to B for five years, on condition that if B fails to pay rent every year, the lease should be void. B fails to pay rent for second year. A has now two remedies, viz., (1) to sue for rent, (2) to sue for possession. If he sues for rent only, and does not reserve his right to sue for possession with the leave of the Court, he cannot afterwards sue for possession. 6 M. 159. P

(b) First suit for specific performance of an agreement, was decreed. Second suit for possession of the land was barred, for the plaintiff was entitled at the time of the first suit to ask for possession. 22 M. 24. Q

But if the remedy in respect of which the subsequent suit was brought, did not exist at the date of the first suit, the second suit would not be barred. 3 A. 857. R

(d) First suit against mortgagor's representatives, for possession of the mortgaged land of which the plaintiff was dispossessed, was dismissed on the ground that possession could not be claimed without establishing the debt. Second suit for the amount found to be due, to be decreed against the mortgaged land was barred, as the plaintiff omitted without the leave of the Court to sue for this remedy in the first suit. 90 P.R. (1881), 597. T

(e) First suit for a declaratory decree to build a drain on a piece of land. Second suit for damages caused by the defendants' refusal to allow the plaintiff to build the drain, was barred, inasmuch as there was only one act and one cause of action giving rise to more than one relief, which the plaintiff ought to have claimed in the first suit. 5 P.W.R. 1907=28 P.L.R. 1907. U

(f) First suit by the Malguzar to set aside a deed of gift by an absolute occupancy tenant and also to recover possession in exercise of his right of pre-emption. The decree, not having awarded him possession, a second suit for possession was barred as the relief asked for could and should have been secured in the first suit. 3 C.P.L.R. 28. V

(g) A Hindu widow, having leased certain land, a first suit was brought by her husband's heir against herself and the lessee for possession of half the land leased and possession was given. Second suit, by the same person to set aside the lease in respect of the moiety decreed and for mesne-profits, was barred, as, at the time of the first suit, the plaintiff was aware of the lease and sought no relief in respect of it. 3 A.W.N. 193. W

(h) First suit for specific performance of a contract of sale, failed. Second suit for part of the price, consideration paid as deposit was barred, as the plaintiff ought to have sought for this relief in the previous suit. 8 M.L.J. 61. But see 14 A.W.N. 157. W-1

5.—“But if he omits... so omitted.”—(Concluded).

- (i) First suit for injunction restraining the wrongful act of the defendant. Second suit for damages for the same, was barred, as the plaintiff could not sue twice for different remedies and different claims arising out of the same cause of action. 190 P.R. 1888. X
- (j) First suit for mesne-profits alone, though the plaintiff had a cause of action to sue for possession and mesne-profits. Second suit for possession was barred, as the plaintiff did not obtain permission from Court to bring a subsequent suit for possession. 138 P.R. (1882), 599; 9 O.C. 322. But see 9 C. 283 = 12 C.L.R. 434. Y

(1)—in the case of mortgage suits.

The exception to this sub-rule is provided for in Order XXXIV, rule 14, sub-rule (1), which corresponds to S. 99 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). Z

(2) Transfer of Property Act, S. 99.

- (a) The effect of S. 99 of the Transfer of Property Act is to allow the mortgagee to split his remedies but it does not allow him to split his claim. 25 B. 161; 30 B. 156. A
- (b) A mortgagee who had brought the mortgaged property to sale in execution of a simple money decree held by him against the mortgagor, which sale was set aside, could bring a suit for sale on his mortgage notwithstanding this rule. (1904) A.W.N. 2 = 26 A. 223; 16 A. 415; 25 B. 161, R. B

(3) Execution proceedings.

- (a) The rule does not apply to proceedings in execution of decrees. If a decree gives reliefs of a different character, such as a decree for possession and a decree for costs, there is nothing in the rule which prevents separate and successive applications for execution as regards each of them. 18 C. 515. But see 12 A. 392. C
- (b) Where a mortgagee obtains a decree for sale of the mortgaged property in terms of S. 88 of the Transfer of Property Act, and the property is sold, but the net proceeds are insufficient to pay the mortgage-debt, he may subsequently apply for a decree for the balance under S. 90 of the Transfer of Property Act, notwithstanding anything contained in this rule, although a claim to such relief has not been included in his suit. 14 A. 513; 20 A. 886. D

6.—“Explanation—‘For the purpose of this rule,’ etc.”(1) ~~Bond~~—Immoveable property as collateral security.

The obligee of a bond for payment of money, had also immoveable property hypothecated as collateral security. First suit was decreed for payment of the amount of the bond debt. Second suit to enforce the lien on the mortgaged property was barred. 2 A. 888. E

(2) ~~Separate suits~~ by obligee of bond, having mortgaged property as collateral security.

First suit, by obligee of a bond, for money, claiming enforcement of the mortgage granted to him as collateral security was decreed. At the time of the first suit, a third person was in possession of the property having purchased the same in execution of a money-decree against the obligor. Second suit by obligee—against the purchaser, for declaration that the property was liable to be sold under his decree was not barred. 2 A.W.N. 7=4 A. 257. F

6.—“Explanation—‘For the purpose of this rule,’ etc.”—(Concluded).

(3) Mortgage—Money decree—Transfer of Property Act, not in force.

A plaintiff, who omits to obtain a mortgage decree, and merely claims a money decree on a mortgage-bond, cannot enforce his mortgage-lien on the property, after it has been sold to a third party.

Rulings in suits in provinces where the Transfer of Property Act in force, held to be inapplicable. L.B.R. (1893-1900), p. 14. Ruling in Civil Second appeal No. 19 of 1892, F. G

3. (1) Save as otherwise provided, a plaintiff may unite in the Joinder of causes same suit several causes of action¹ against the of action. same defendant, or the same defendants jointly ; and any plaintiffs having causes of action in which they are jointly interested against the same defendant or the same defendants jointly may unite such causes of action in the same suit.

(2) Where causes of action are united, the jurisdiction of the Court as regards the suit shall depend² on the amount or value of the aggregate subject-matters at the date of instituting the suit.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

O. II, r. 3, sub-rules 1 and 2 correspond to the 1st and 3rd paragraphs respectively of S. 45 of Act XIV of 1882.

Sub-rule i :—For the words “subject to the rules contained in chapter II and in S. 44,” in S. 45 (Act XIV of 1882), the words, “save as otherwise provided,” are substituted in sub-rule (i).

Sub-rule ii :—The words, “whether or not an order has been made under the second paragraph of this section,” in the last para of S. 45, Act XIV of 1882, are omitted. Such an omission was due to the splitting up of the provisions of the old Code into two Rules, viz., rr. 3 and 6.

(General).

Scope and applicability of the rule.

(1) The rule applies only to cases where there are either only one plaintiff, one defendant and several causes of action or where the plaintiffs or defendants, though consisting of two or more individuals, may be considered as one with reference to all the causes of action. 6 A. 106 ; 2 C.L.J. 602. H

(2) S. 45 of Act XIV of 1882=(O. 2, r. 3 of the present Code), is meant to apply to cases, in which questions arise as to the joinder or severance of several causes of action against the same defendant. 8 B. 616. I

(3) The plaintiff may, in one action, join not³ several actions, but several causes of action. 26 C.D. p. 39. (=Ann. Pr., 1908, p. 224). J

General—(Concluded).

- (4) But the joinder in one suit of different causes of action against different individuals separately is not permissible under the law. 5 A. 163; 2 B.L.R. 53; 11 W.R. 397; 8 W.R. 64; 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 245; 1 N.W. 75; 2 N.W. 153; 8 W.R. 364; 10 W.R. 187; 8 W.R. 461. K
- (5) There is no authority expressed in, or to be implied from, the provisions of the Code, which would warrant the joinder in one suit of different and distinct causes of action under circumstances not mentioned in sub-rule (1). 2 C.L.J. 602; 23 C. 826. L
- (6) This rule does not apply to suits for rent. 3 A.L.J. 610=A.W.N. (1906), 253=29 A. 18. M
- (7) The power given by the rule does not extend to an order for dismissal. Such an order would not be one for the separate disposal of the several causes of action; it would be an order preventing the disposal of them in the suit before Court. 8 B. 616; 20 M. 360; 9 C.W.N. 498; 2 A.L.J. 91; 14 A. 531; 12 A.W.N. 154. N
- (8) The rule does not preclude the plaintiff from bringing a single suit, merely because some of the defendants were not interested in the subject-matter of the suit, when the cause of action to claim the relief sought in respect of two bonds was a single one. 5 P.R. 1896. O

1.—“A plaintiff may unite....several causes of action.”Causes of action—Definition and meaning.

- (1) The—means causes of action, which are distinct, upon the face of the facts as stated in the plaint itself or as proved at the hearing; if, upon the facts stated in the plaint, the causes of action stated therein cannot be joined together, then there would be misjoinder. They would not constitute different causes of action simply because they would be such according to the facts alleged by the defendant and not according to the facts alleged in the plaint. 7 Bom. L.R. 925. P
- (a) The words—comprise every fact which is material to be proved to enable the plaintiff to succeed. Cooke v. Gill, 8 C.P. p. 116 (An. Pr., 1908, p. 224). Q
- (b) Every fact, which it would be necessary for the plaintiff to prove, if traversed, in order to support his right to the judgment of the Court. 18 A. 131 [W.R. (1864), 81; 2 W.R. 219; 3 Agra 242; 8 C.P. 107; Read v. Brown, 22 Q.B.D. 128 (131); An. Pr., 1908, p. 224; 16 C. 98; 15 I.A. 156; 16 A. 165; 6 B. 266; 8 M. 361; 4 A. 261, refd. to). R
- (c) These facts must be so connected that, as regards evidence, etc., they can be “conveniently disposed of together,” or any of them may be excluded. An. Pr., 1908, p. 224. S
- (2) (a) If the various subjects as to which relief is sought are such as, if fit for discussion, can be properly dealt with in one suit, then they constitute one cause of action. L.R. 12 Eq. 547; L.R. 19 Eq. 56. T
- (b) It is a good test to ask whether the causes of action are such that, if separate actions were brought in respect of them, an order to consolidate would be made. Sandes v. Wildsmith, (1893) 1 Q.B. p. 774. (An. Pr., p. 224). U

I.—“A plaintiff may unite several causes of action.”—(Continued).

- (3) It is not the title but the infringement of it that constitutes cause of action. 18 W.R. 196; 91 P.R. 1898. Y
- (4) The cause of action arises on each definite and separate act, in defeasance of plaintiffs' rights, by alienation to each alienee or group of alienees and it is in reference to that act that the plaintiffs can claim relief. Each specific act of alienation does not give him a cause of action against the alienation for a several declaration of his right against them all. 1 P.R. 1905=88 P.L.R. 1905. A.—Joinder of causes of action held proper.

- (a) A suit by plaintiff for khas possession of a four-anna share in a certain lot or in the alternative for a decree for arrears of rent. 4 C. 949. X
- (b) Suit, by some of the junior members of a Malabar tarwad, against the Karnavan and other members of the tarwad and certain alienees of the tarwad property, for a declaration that the alienations were not binding on the tarwad. 11 M. 106; 12 M. 234; 7 M.H.C. 290, F. Y
- (c) Suit by an auction-purchaser against several persons obstructing delivery of possession under different titles, if combination between them is proved. 14 C. 435. Z
- (d) Suit against 86 tenants, holding under distinct and different tenures, when they had united together to resist plaintiff from taking possession. 13 C. 147. But see 8 W.R. 461. A
- (e) Suit against the vendors, the decree-holders and the purchasers, where all defendants have a common defence. 8 W.R. 15; 9 C. 703, dist; 12 C.L.R. 556. B
- (f) Suit for ejectment against several defendants, setting up several titles to various parts of the land claimed. 24 C. 831; 4 A.L.J. 121=A.W.N. (1907), 36=29 A. 267 (16 A. 279, dist.); 24 C. 831; 29 C. 871; 11 A. 83 and 24 A. 358, R.). C
- (g) Suit by certain persons claiming possession of distinct plots of land in two different districts, under the same right, against the same defendants, who allege dispossession on different dates. 16 A. 259. D
- (h) Suit by plaintiff, against his former guardian and his alienees during minority. 7 M.H.C. 260; 11 M. 106; but see 7 B. 289. E
- (i) Suit by a judgment-creditor against the judgment-debtor's representatives and other persons, who had bought distinct properties of the judgment-debtor, for impugning the sale. 13 W.R. 271; 149 P.R. 1890; but see 5 N.W.P. 215. F
- (j) Suit to set aside different leases to different persons and to recover the profits, which they had misappropriated. 4 W.R. 109. G
- (k) Suit to recover possession of two distinct portions of property, under the same title, though dispossession was at different periods and under different circumstances. 1 Hay. 555. H

1.—“A plaintiff may unite several causes of action.”—(Continued).

- (l) Suit by a son, against several purchasers, to set aside a sale by his father, notwithstanding the fact of each purchaser being concerned in a portion of the case. 3 W.R. 102. I
- (m) Suit for possession of different portions of property, after ejectment, though defendants claimed to hold portions under different titles. 23 W.R. 400. J
- (n) A suit including plaintiff's whole claim, where his cause of action was that the Revenue Commissioners had dispossessed him and given it in pattah to other people. 14 W.R. 381. K
- (o) Suit, by plaintiff, to recover possession against persons alleged to be joint trespassers, notwithstanding various and distinct defences on behalf of the defendants. 4 C.L.R. 455. L
- (p) Suit for contribution, when the cause of action on which the plaintiffs relied was simply the joint liability of the parties under the decree. 35 W.R. 41. M
- (q) Suit for money contracted to be paid and for the cancellation of a Kistbundi and for money deposited on the Kistbundi. 3 W.R. 128; 7 W.R. 409. N
- (r) Claim against one defendant for breach of express contract, and against another defendant for breach of implied contract in neglecting to exercise reasonable skill as a doctor. An. Pr., 1908, p. 224. O

- (u) Suit for recovery of land or for refund of purchase money. 6 C.W.N. 300 = 29 C. 257. R
- (v) Suit both for enhancement and for arrears of rent at an enhanced rate. 5 C.W.N. 880. S
- (w) Suit for the whole rent regarding two different, but exactly similar, leases, the shares covered by them being undivided. 9 C.W.N. 656. T
- (x) Suit by two persons, owning a plot of land, one as Melvaramdar and the other as Kudivaramdar against the wrong-doer, the act affecting the interests of both similarly. 19 M. 335; 6 M.L.J. 13; 2 M. 232, R. U
- (y) Suit for recovery of consolidated sums of money, made up of the rents of the agricultural lands and the amounts contracted to be paid by them on account of fishery. 33 C. 601. V
- (z) Suit for declaration of title to immoveable property and also for cancellation of two sale deeds affecting the same property. A.W.N. (1906), 54 = 3 A.L.J. 123 (5 M. 161; 17 A. 274; 25 A. 229, refd. to). W
- (aa) Suit on mortgages held by the plaintiff, three of them binding on defendants 1 to 10, members of a joint Hindu family, the 4th, on 2nd defendant and his son; the 11th and 12th defendants joined as subsequent and prior mortgagees of certain items. 17 M.L.J. 515 (25 M. 108, R.). X

1.—“A plaintiff may unite...several causes of action.”—(Continued).

- (bb) Suit by two sets of plaintiffs, although the claim of one is not the same as that of the other and although all of them may not be entitled to a decree, especially if the plaintiffs claim under a common title in respect of the same matter. 1 A.L.J. 188. Y
- (cc) Suit, by plaintiff, to set aside a deed of assignment as void against him and to declare the same, on his own behalf and that of the other creditors of the 2nd defendant, as voidable at their option. 26 B. 577=4 Bom. L.R. 180. Z
- (dd) A suit by a Mahomedan widow and her daughter for their respective shares, against the heirs and their transferees. 3 B.L.R. 658; 22 C. 833. A
- (ee) Claim to be declared the proprietor of the whole village in suit or, failing that, to be declared occupancy tenant. 41 P.R. 1887. B
- (ff) As to whether the joinder of different causes of action is proper or not, see 12 W.R. 11 under heading ‘B’ (w), infra. C
- (gg) Two persons may be joined as defendants if the cause of action against them were exactly the same, otherwise the object of legislature would be defeated. Child v. Stenning, 5 C.D. p. 702—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 224. D
- (hh) Two separate alternative causes of action against the same defendant may be joined. Bagot v. Easton, 7 C.D. 1—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 225. E

(B)—Joinder of causes of action held improper.

The suit would be bad :—

- (1) When a plaint discloses different causes of action against different parties. 2 B.L.R. 13; 11 W.R. 397; 2 Ind. Jur. N. S. 245; 8 W.R. 64, 127 P.R. 1892; 43 P.R. 1897. F
- (2) (a) When the suit is against several defendants for causes of action, accrued against each of them separately and in respect of which they are not jointly concerned. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 731; 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 216; 8 W.R. 15; 9 W.R. 490; 18 W.R. 464. G
- (b) Where claims for damages against two or more defendants in respect of their several liability for separate torts are joined. Sadler v. G.W.R. Co., (1896) A.C. 450—An. Pr., 1906, p. 224. H
- (3) When different causes of action are joined against different parties, where each has a distinct and separate interest. 21 W.R. 206; 1 N.W. 75; 2 N.W. 153; 8 W.R. 364; 10 W.R. 187; 8 W.R. 461; 9 B.L.R. 241; 18 W.R. 288; 8 O.C. 65. I
- (4) When a plaint includes claims of the most miscellaneous character. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 241. J
- (5) When two or more plaintiffs join in one suit in respect of distinct causes of action. 24 C. 540; 27 C. 493. K

But, see 16 B. 119 and 3 Bom.L.R. 658, where it was held that the above rule did not apply to cases in which there were no antagonistic claims joined and where the plaintiffs were both jointly interested in disproving defendant's title.

2.—“The jurisdiction of the Court, etc.”

Court to have jurisdiction over all causes of action.

The right to join, in one suit, two causes of action against a defendant, cannot be exercised unless the Court to which the plaint is presented has jurisdiction over both causes of action. 5 A. 178; 7 M. 171. I

O. XVIII,
r. 2.

Only certain claims to be joined for recovery of immoveable property.

4. No cause of action shall, unless with the leave of the Court¹, be joined with a suit for the recovery of immoveable property, except—

- (a) claims for mesne-profits or arrears of rent in respect of the property claimed or any part thereof;
- (b) claims for damages for breach of any contract under which the property or any part thereof is held; and
- (c) claims in which the relief sought is based on the same cause of action:

Provided that nothing in this rule shall be deemed to prevent any party in a suit for foreclosure or redemption from asking to be put into possession of the mortgaged property.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

Corresponding section—This rule corresponds to Rule (a) of S. 44 of Act XIV of 1882.

- (i) The words to obtain a declaration of title to immoveable property is omitted in para (1).
- (ii) The words “or any part thereof” in (a) is new.
- (iii) The provision (c) of R (a) of S. 44 is omitted and the omission is supplied by means of the proviso in the new Act.
- (iv) (c) in the rule is new.
- (v) The proviso is also new.

(General).

(1) Scope and applicability of the rule.

- (a) The rule does not forbid the joinder of several causes of action, entitling the plaintiff to the recovery of immoveable property, but a joinder, with such causes of action, of other causes of action of a different character except in the cases therein specified. 5 M. 161. J
- (b) The rule only prohibits the joinder, with a suit for recovery of immoveable property, of a cause of action of a different nature. A.W.N. (1906), 54; 17 A. 274; 25 A. 229; 23 A.W.N. 19; 5 M. 161. K
- (c) There is nothing irregular in seeking to recover moveable and immoveable property in the same suit, if the cause of action is the same in respect of both. 10 M. 375; 14 M.L.J. 8; 31 C. 262=31 I.A. 10=8 C.W.N. 146. L
- (d) Joining a claim for grain in a suit to recover possession of a house will be a misapplication, unless leave of the Court is obtained. 8 A. 191; 6 A.W.N. 46. M
- (e) A suit for recovery of a mortgage-debt, with an alternative prayer for sale of the mortgaged property, is not a suit for recovery of immoveable property within the meaning of the rule. 14 M. 284. N
- (f) The rule merely permits the joinder in one suit of a claim for recovery of immoveable property with one for mesne-profits in regard to the same property. It does not prohibit separate suits in respect of land and mesne-profits, which are distinct claims. 19 C. 615 (8 C. 593=10 C.L.R. 359; 17 C. 968; 12 C. 482, R); 11 M. 151, dissented from. O
- (g) The rule is not applicable to a suit unless it is for the recovery of immoveable property. Even in those cases, defect of multifariousness is cured if leave of the Court is obtained previous to the bringing of the suit. 7 C.W.N. 353. P
- (h) The rule does not apply to a case where the plaintiff mortgagee sues for sale or foreclosure of the mortgaged properties combining in the same suit both the mortgages which he holds over separate properties. 25 A. 229; 1903 A.W.N. 19. Q
- (i) The words "cause of action" are not used in their ordinary meaning and are simply equivalent to "claim." The obscurity of S. 44 is no reason for disregarding the plain rules given in S. 43 of Act XIV of 1882. 3 L.B.R. 56. R
- (j) There is no bar to separate reliefs, arising from the same cause of action, being claimed in the same suit. 5 P.W.R. 1907=28 P.L.R. 1907 (10 M. 375 and 506; 23 B. 379; 190 P.R. 1898, F); 24 A. 553; 129 P.R. 1889, 78 P.R. 1902 and 87 P.R. 1903, dist.). S
- (k) The rule forbids a joinder of declaration of title to immoveable property and a claim to recover damages on account of obstruction, slander and injury to property on a particular occasion. 17 M.L.J. 135(31 I.A. 10, dist.). T

(2) Appeal.

- (a) No—lies from an order rejecting an application for leave to join another cause of action with a suit for the recovery of immoveable property. But an order rejecting the plaint was a decree and was appealable. 8 A. 191; 6 A.W.N. 46. U

(General)—(Concluded).

- (b) When there is material error as to misjoinder in the trial of the suit, the duty of the appellate Court is to direct the Court of first instance to amend the plaint. 126 P.R. 1862; 80 P.R. 1888; 189 P.R. 1888. Y

(3) Objection as to misjoinder.

- (a) —should be taken in the Court of first instance and not for the first time on appeal. 5 B. 554; 16 A. 190; 14 A.W.N. 11. W
- (b) When objection is disallowed in the Court of first instance and the suit decreed, the proceedings of the lower Court imply and indicate that leave was given to the joinder. 2 A.W.N. 207. X

(4) Limitation.

Where leave was not obtained for the institution of a suit for money due on accounts and for land and the suit was dismissed for misjoinder, the time occupied in the previous proceedings should be deducted in computing the period of—for instituting separate suits. 20 M. 48. Y

(5) Waiver.

The rule was intended for the protection of the defendant. The defendant may, by his conduct, waive the benefit of the rule. 8 C.L.J. 196. Z

1.—“Unless with the leave of the Court.”

(General).

- (a) Under English rule leave should be obtained before writ is issued. 11 C.D. 905. Pulcher v. Hinds—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 226. A
- (b) Leave may be given afterwards if good cause is shown. Musgrave v. Stevens, W.N. 1881, p. 168; Clark v. Wray, 11 R. 31 C.D. 68; Wilmott v. Freehold House &c. Co., 51 L.T. 552—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 227. B
- (c) Leave is only required when another cause of action is to be joined. Where the other claims are mere machinery leave is not required. Gladhill v. Hunter, 14 C.D. p. 494—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 227. C
- (d) The law does not require a plaintiff at once to assert all his titles to property; or to be thereafter estopped from advancing them. A plaintiff may, with the leave of the Court, join causes of action; but he is nowhere compelled to do so. 6 A. 358. D
- (e) One suit for both moveable and immoveable property without leave of the Court did not contravene the provisions of the rule. 2 A.W.N. 85; 24 A. 358; 11 A. 33, fol.; 10 M. 375 at p. 506, refd. to. E
- (f) Suit for specific performance of an agreement to sell a share may be joined with a suit to recover a sum of money due from defendant on promissory notes. 7 C.L.R. 171; 6 C. 328. F
- (g) Defect of misjoinder is cured, if the Court proceeds to the trial of the suit and does not reject the plaint or return it for amendment. 9 A. 221; 7 A.W.N. 81. G
- (h) Leave will be given, where it is sought to recover real and personal estate comprised in the same instrument. Cook v. Enchmarch, 2 C.D. 111—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 228. H

(1) Joinder of causes of action.

A.—Administration.

Suit to administer the assets of a deceased person and in the claim various dealings by the executors of the estate are complained of as acts of bad administration and sought to be redressed are not separate causes of action. 26 C. 891. I

B.—Damages.

There is nothing to prevent a claim for damages and a claim for title being joined with a claim for possession under S. 9 of Specific Relief Act. 15 A. 384=13 A.W.N. 163 J

C.—Declaration.

(a) Suit for a declaration of title to certain immoveable property and also for the cancelment of two sale deeds affecting the same property is not bad. A.W.N. (1906), 54=3 A.L.J. 123. K

(b) Suit, by plaintiff's representing a community, for declaration of title to a temple and a personal claim for damages bad. 17 M.L.J. 135. L

D.—Mortgage.

(a) Suit for the realisation of the amount of two mortgages of separate properties held by the plaintiff by their foreclosure not bad. 25 A. 229; 23 A.W.N. 19. M

(b) But as it to enforce a mortgage in which the adverse claims of persons, not privy to the mortgage and setting up a title paramount to that of the mortgagor and mortgagee, are sought to be investigated not maintainable. 3 C.L.J. 205=33 C. 425. N

(c) Joinder of compensation for portions of the land mortgaged which had been taken for public purposes in a suit for redemption of certain property usufructuarly mortgaged to defendant is barred. 1 A.W.N. 41. O

E.—Mesne profits.

(a) Where a plaintiff sued for possession of immoveable property upon a forfeiture and for rent in respect of the said property and got a decree, a subsequent suit for mesne profits is barred. 17 A. 533 (3 A. 160; 11 M. 151, refd. to). P

(b) Claims for the recovery of possession of immoveable property and for mesne profits are distinct claims. Joinder in one suit for recovery of immoveable property and mesne profits in regard to the same property is permissible. 19 C. 625. Q

(c) Suit by plaintiff for mesne profits with respect to land for which he was then entitled to possession; subsequent suit for possession not maintainable. 9 O.C. 322. (19 C. 615; 17 A. 533; 9 O.C. 225; 3 A. 857, refd. to). R

(d) In a suit on title in which the recovery of immoveable property and mesne profits are claimed, the Court may order separate trials. 14 A. 531; 12 A.W.N. 154; 18 A. 219. S

1.—“Unless with the leave of the Court.”—(Concluded).

(General)—(Concluded).

F.—Partition.

- (a) Where, in a suit, cause of action arose in the refusal of three male defendants to recognise the right of a widow to succeed to her deceased husband's share in the family property, under a partition, which had not been completed by actual division, at the time of her husband's death, it would be a denial of justice to hold that relief could not be given in respect to moveable and immoveable property. 6 B.L.R. 1. T
- (b) Where in a suit for—plaintiff claimed a share for himself and another share as heir of a deceased co-parcener, no misjoinder. 28 C. 785. U

G.—Possession.

- (a) The rule refers to a suit formed upon an existing title, in which the plaintiff asks for a declaration of such title or possession. 6 C. 328; 5 C.L.R. 487; 7 C.L.R. 171. V
- (b) Leave refused to join, in a suit for possession, claims to one-third share of immoveable property and one-third share of certain ornaments. 3 A.W.N. 37. W
- (c) Leave of Court necessary to join in a suit for possession of land, a claim for an injunction to restrain breach of covenant running with the land. Hambling v. Wallavi, W.N. 89, 133—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 228. X
- (d) An action to establish title and recover rent is not an action for the recovery of land; but if possession is asked for, then it becomes an action for the recovery of land. Gladhill v. Hunter, 14 C.D. 492—Annual Practice, p. 226. Y
- (e) Not so an action to restrain trespass or entry on certain premises. Spears & Co (Lims) v. Spear, 37 L.J.N.C. 578—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 226. Z

H.—Pre-emption.

- (a) Where a zemindari share and the sir land, held with it, were sold to the same vendee by two separate sale deeds executed on the same day, a suit to pre-empt both the zemindari and the sir land is no misjoinder. 17 A. 274; 15 A. 272. A
- (b) Suit for specific performance of contract of sale and for pre-emption. Quare.—Whether the causes of action could lawfully be combined in one suit. 96 P.R. 1895. B

I.—Rent—Suit maintainable.

- (a) A suit for both enhancement of rent and arrears of rent at an enhanced rate. 5 C.W.N. 880. C
- (b) A suit for a consolidated amount of rent of an agricultural holding and a right appurtenant to the holding. D

J.—Infant.

Suit by an infant, on attaining age, to set aside certain alienations made by his mother and guardian during minority, to recover the properties alienated, and to recover certain monies alleged to have come into the hands of the second defendant; claim with respect to the money paid, though no objection had been taken in the first Court and though a fresh suit on the claim might be barred. 5 M.L.J. 63. E

K.—Property belonging to a religious institution.

Suit for possession of some— which had been mortgaged more than 12 years before institution of suit, together with Rs. 400 on account of its rent, not bad for misjoinder. 35 P.W.R. 1908. F

5. No claim by or against an executor, administrator or heir, as such, shall be joined with claims by or against him personally, unless the last mentioned claims are alleged to arise with reference to the estate in respect of which the plaintiff or defendant sues or is sued as executor, administrator or heir, or are such as he was entitled to, or liable for, jointly with the deceased person whom he represents.

O. X
r.(Notes).*(Old Act).

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 44, Rule B of Act XIV of 1882.

(1) General.

- (a) In suing an executor or administrator it frequently becomes a question whether he should be sued as legal personal representative or personally. Harding v. H, 17 Q.B.D. 446; Prince v. Haworth, (1905) 2 K.B. 768—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 229. G
- (b) Where the executor or administrator has been dealing with the assets or making contracts in his character of executor or administrator, it becomes a question whether the contracts, being personally entered into by him, he should be sued in his character of legal personal representative or in his personal character being left afterwards to get payment if he could out of the assets in the course of administration. Padwick v. Scott, 2 O.D. 743—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 229. H
- (c) Those to whom the rule relates have the common characteristic that they owe their legal condition to the death of another. But there are others of whom this can be predicated, e.g., legatees or next-of-kin and yet they are not named in the rule. But the common characteristics of executors, administrators, and heirs, which is not shared by legatees and next-of-kin is that the former not only acquire a title from the deceased but they may represent him. In this is to be found the clue to the meaning of the rule. 8 Bom. L.R. 784=81 B. 105. I
- (d) With reference to plea of misjoinder within the terms of the rule, the Court, having proceeded to trial of the suit and not having rejected the plaint or returned it for amendment or amended it, should dispose of it on the merits. 9 A. 221. J
- (e) Personal claims against executors which have not any reference to the estate are not within this rule and may be struck out. Whitworth v. Darbishire, 41 W.R. 817—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 229. K

(2) Misjoinder.

- (a) Suit for the declaration that a certain portion of the estate in the hands of the first three defendants had been ancestral property, for an account and administration and for the delivery of jewels and ornaments. The claim relating to the ornaments was personal to the first plaintiff. 6 B. 390. L
- (b) Suit comprising a claim for possession in private capacity and a claim for injunction in the capacity of a manager of a temple. 12 A.W.N. 111. M

(3) Joinder—Valid.

(a) Suit by the assignee of a Mahomedan widow for the recovery of part of the assignor's dower and of part of the assignor's late husband. 18 A. 256=16 A.W.N. 52. But see 6 B. 390. N

(b) A claim may be made by or against the heir of a deceased Hindu as his representative and again, the same person may claim for his own benefit and in his own personal right property of which the beneficial ownership has devolved on him by inheritance. 8 Bom. L.R. 734=31 B. 105. See also 79 P.R. 1899. O

r. 1.

6. Where it appears to the Court that any causes of action joined in one suit cannot be conveniently tried or disposed of together, the Court may order separate trials¹ or make such other order as may be expedient².

(Notes).

(Old Act).

Corresponding section—This rule corresponds on the whole to second para of S. 45 of Act XIV of 1882.

(1) It seems that this rule to a certain extent embodies the provisions in Ss. 46 and 47.

(2) The words 'any causes of action joined in one suit' are new.

(General).

(1) Under this rule the Court or a Judge may take the initiative and may order separate trials. Any defendant may apply, and the Court may confine the action to some of the causes of action or may exclude any cause of action. Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 225. P

Or may order the pleading to be struck out as embarrassing. United Telephone & Co. v. Tasker, 59 L.T. 852—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 225. Q

(2) The Court may order the plaintiff or plaintiffs to elect which cause of action shall be proceeded with. Universities of Oxford and Cambridge v. Gill, 1 Ch. 55—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 225. R

1.—“Order separate trials.”

General.

(1) As far as practicable, all matters in dispute between the parties should be disposed of in the same suit. 25 C. 371. S

(2) When there is misjoinder, the proper order of the Court should be to reject the plaint. Dismissal of the suit in against law. 14 C. 435. T

(3) In case of misjoinder, the best course for the Court is to order separate trial in respect of each cause of action. 8 M. 75; 4 W.R. 100; 8 B. 616; 5 Maddock's R. 188; 2 N.W.P. 158; 5 B.H.C. 30; 3 N.W. 86; 20 W.R. 482. U

(4) Separate trial for mesne profits may be ordered in a suit on title in which the recovery of immoveable property and mesne profits are claimed. 14 A. 531; 23 C. 826. Y

2.—“Make such other order as may be expedient.”

(1) Rejection of plaint.

A plaint, against several defendants for separate causes of action in respect of which they are not jointly concerned. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 781; 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 216; 8 W.R. 15; 9 W.R. 490; 18 W.R. 464; 8 W.R. 64. W

(2) Consolidation of claims.

Where plaintiffs sued the defendant regarding the same subject matter, the right procedure is to consolidate the suits or to try each case separately. To try only one case and regard the others as governed by it is against law. 15 W.R. 110; 20 W.R. 482. X

(3) Joint suit—Procedure.

(a) Where a joint suit was brought by two persons for a declaration that their shares in a property attached in execution were not liable to attachment on the ground of a previous partition between them and the judgment-debtor, and no objection was taken to the frame of the suit, it was held that the suit ought not to have been dismissed but that the plaintiffs ought to have been allowed to amend the plaint by striking out the name of one of them. 15 A. 380. Y

(b) S. 45 of the old Code (=O. 2, rr. 3 and 6) is meant to apply to cases in which questions arise as to the joinder or severance of several causes of action against the same defendant. The Judge can only strike out the name of party upon an application being made. 8 B. 616. Z

(c) If it appears to the Court that the cause of action, alleged against one of the defendants alone, and that alleged against him jointly with other defendants, cannot be conveniently tried together, the Court may, under S. 45 (=O. 2, rr. 3 and 6), order the several causes of action to be tried separately. This power can only be exercised before the first hearing. 20 M. 360 (362). A

(d) Where a suit is so framed as to be bad for misjoinder of causes of action and of plaintiffs, the proper course is to return the plaint in order that the plaintiffs may elect which of them should proceed with the suit. 18 A. 131 (W.R. 1864, p. 81; 2 W.R. 219; N.W.P.H.C. 1868, p. 242; L.R. 8 C.P. 107; L.R. 22 Q.B.D. 128; L.R. 1894, A.C. 494; 15 I.A. 156; 16 A. 165; 6 B. 266; 8 M. 361; 4 A. 261, R.). B

7. All objections on the ground of misjoinder of causes of Objections as to action shall be taken at the earliest possible misjoinder. opportunity¹ and, in all cases where issues are settled, at or before such settlement, unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen, and any such objection not so taken shall be deemed to have been waived.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

¹This rule corresponds to S. 46 of Act XIV of 1882.—The words “on the ground of misjoinder of causes of action,” “the earliest opportunity and in all cases before issues are settled” “unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen” are new.

(1) Scope of the rule.

- (a) The rule does not cover a case where several distinct causes of action are joined, as against several defendants, but only applies when there are several causes of action against the same defendant or the same defendants jointly. 27 M. 80. C
- (b) Plaintiff, the owner of 23 patents, sued defendant for infringement, all the 23 patents being included in one writ. Held, that the plaintiff was not entitled to unite the 23 patents in one action, but must be limited to selecting a certain number of them, not exceeding three, in the first instance, as being "such of the causes of action as may be conveniently disposed of altogether." *Saccharin Corp v. (1) General.

- (1) The words "before the first hearing" in the corresponding section of Act XIV of 1882 (i.e., S. 46) are imperative. 7 A. 79 at p. 100. E
- (2) The objection should be taken in the first Court. 5 B. 554; 9 A. 221; 16 A. 130. F
- (3) Objection taken only in appeal will not be given effect to unless it is clearly apparent that there was a defect in the trial in consequence of misjoinder. 20 W.R. 240; 11 W.R. 273. G
- (4) If objection is disallowed by lower Court, the High Court in special appeal will not interfere. 20 W.R. 147; 2 N.W.P. 443. H
- (5) When there is misjoinder of causes of action and of defendants, but when only one out of several defendants takes the objection, and the first appellate Court dismisses the suit altogether and it is not shown in second appeal that the defect has affected the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court (vide S. 578 of the old Code=S. 99 of the present Code), the High Court may reverse the first appellate Court's decree and remand the appeal for disposal on the merits. 4 A. 168 (165). But see 6 A. 106. I
- (6) If objection as to misjoinder is taken in the written statement, the Court must raise an issue and decide it. 8 W.R. 15; 9 B.L.R. 241. J

(2) Function of an appellate Court when misjoinder allowed by lower Court.

It should dispose of the suit in the manner in which the lower Court ought to have disposed of it by returning the plaint for amendment. 6 M. 23 15 A. 380; cf. 4 A. 163 and 6 A. 106, supra. But see 7 A. 860. K

ORDER III.

RECOGNIZED AGENTS AND PLEADERS.

1. Any appearance¹, application or act² in or to any Court, required or authorized by law to be made or done by a party in such Court, may, except, where otherwise expressly provided by any law for the time being in force, be made or done by the party in person³, or by his recognized agent⁴, or by a pleader duly appointed to act on his behalf⁵:

Provided that any such appearance shall, if the Court so directs, be made by the party in person.

Appearances, etc., may be in person, by recognized agent or by pleader.

(Notes).(Old Act).

This rule corresponds to S. 36 of Act XIV of 1882—

- (1) The words, "by a party to a suit or appeal in such Court" in S. 36 of the old Code have been replaced by the words "to be made or done by a party in such Court."
- (2) The words in the proviso "If the Court so directs" are placed between "shall" and "be" in the rule, instead of at the end as in the old Act.

I.—"Appearance."(1) General.

- (1) To appear for a client in Court is to be present and represent him in the various stages of the litigation, at which it is necessary that the client should be present in Court, by himself or by some representative. 6 C. at p. 500. L
- (2) The word "appearance" does not mean actual presence before Judge in Court, e.g., of a mookhtear standing behind a pleader. 10 W.R. 355. M

(2) What constitutes appearance.

- (a) The defendant, having once appeared, failing to appear on a subsequent day. 5 I.A. 233=2 A. 67; 3 B.L.R. 121; 21 C. 269; but see 23 C. 738. N
- (b) When a pleader appears but has no instructions. 20 W.R. 53. O
- (c) When a counsel leaves the Court after application for postponement on his client's behalf is refused. 23 C. 991; 27 C. 529=4 C.W.N. 287. P
- (d) When a decree is passed on a solehnamah and the defendant afterwards says it is a forgery. 14 W.R. 299. Q
- (e) Written statement refused and issues framed in the presence of defendant's pleader. 1 B. 217. R
- (f) A party present by pleader but no written statement filed. Marsh 32, 7 W.R. 295. S.
- (g) Party present in Court merely for applying for an adjournment, which is refused. 23 B. 414. T
- (h) Vakil present and saying he had no time to prepare. 20 A. 294; 16 B. 23; 26 M. 267; cf. 20 A. 195 and 12 C. 608. U

(3) Appearance, held not to be appearance.

- (a) Appearance by a pleader with a vakalatnamah but without any instructions to conduct the client's case. 8 A. 140; 20 A. 195. V
- (b) A pleader appearing for a client but able, if not instructed, to go on with the case. 12 C. 605; 4 B.H.O. 206; 6 B.L.R. 688; 22 A. 66; 8 B.L.R. 44; 8 C.W.N. 621. W
- (c) Appearance by a pleader, appointed not by the party but by a third person. 18 A. 241. X
- (d) The mere filing of a vakalat on a previous day for the purpose of objecting to an attachment before judgment. 7 A. 538; 7 W.R. 81; 11 C.L.R. 537. Y
- (e) Mere appearance on a previous date of hearing, the party being absent at a later hearing. 23 C. 738; 19 A. 355; 20 B. 736; 6 W.R. 86. Z

1.—“Appearance.”—(Concluded).

- (f) The absence of a defendant when he is prevented by the fraud of the plaintiff from appearing on the last day of hearing. 18 W.R. 457. A
- (g) The absence of the plaintiff's pleader, when the case was decided. 10 W.R. 348. B
- (h) Appearance by pleader merely to ask for an adjournment. 31 C. 159. C
- (i) Where a party appears by a pleader, who is instructed only to apply for an adjournment and whose duty ends when the adjournment is refused, and the party absents himself at later stages of the suit. 23 B. 414; 8 C.W.N. 621. D
- (j) Where an appellant is refused postponement and the appeal is disposed of in his absence. 15 W.R. 143. E

2.—“Act.”

‘To ‘act’ for a client in Court is to take, on his behalf, in the Court or in the offices of the Court, the necessary steps that must be taken in the course of litigation in order that his case might be properly laid before the Court. 6 C. at p. 500. F

The mere writing a petition for a party, who presents it in Court, is not acting for him. 9 B.L.R. 18. G

3.—“By the party in person.”

A person alleged to be a lunatic may appear by a vakil or in person. 7 C. 242 9 C.L.R. 13; (1864) W.R. 268. H

4.—“Or by his recognized agent.”

- (1) Recognised agent not entitled to sue or to appear in his own name. 13 W.R. 344; 5 B.L.R. 11. I
- (2) An application, under S. 258 of Act XIV of 1882, is not legal, if it is made by the general attorney of a decree-holder, at a time when the decree-holder is resident within the jurisdiction of the Court. 26 A. 19= 1908 A.W.N. 172; 23 A. 499 (1 A. 510, dist.). J
- (3) A recognised agent is incompetent to address the High Court as a suitor himself may do. 3 W.R. 18. K
- (4) An application to sue in forma pauperis cannot generally be made by a recognised agent. 4 B.H.C. 91. L
- (5) The filing of a plaint, not by a recognised agent within the meaning of S. 17 of Act VIII of 1859, is not proper. But the objection on such ground is purely technical. 15 W.R. 245. M
- (6) The agent could not be prevented from executing the decree, which he had obtained as agent, if the objection is virtually waived. 12 B. 68. N
- (7) A person holding a power of attorney may act on the power or not as he may think proper. 8 C. 317. O
- (8) Presentation by agent of a pardahnashin woman is good, S. 8 of the Letters Patent notwithstanding. 24 A. 172; A.W.N. (1901), 213 (22 A. 33, dist.). P

4.—“Or by his recognized agent.”—(Concluded).

- (9) Filing and verification of a plaint by an agent, when party is residing within the jurisdiction of the Court not proper. 1 Agra 115. Q
- (10) Neither a pleader nor an agent, holding a power of attorney authorising him to act and appear for a party to a suit, can bring the suit to a close, by offering to be bound by oath of the opposite party in a particular form. 14 B. 455; 75 P.R. 1900; 18 P.R. 1891; 27 C. 229; 72 P.R. 1894, dist. R
- (11) A mere power to sue does not authorise an agent to do more than employ a vakil on the condition of paying him a reasonable remuneration. 10 B. 18. S
- (12) A recognised agent is competent to act on his client's behalf in submitting a matter in dispute to arbitration. 64 P.R. 1870; 1 P.R. 1882; 48 P.R. 1882; 170 P.R. 1883. T

5.—“By a pleader duly appointed to act on his behalf.”

(1) Pleader of Court.

The words—do not simply mean a person duly appointed by the party in suit, but a pleader duly appointed, according to law regarding pleaders in force in the particular Court. 8 B. 105. U

(2) Advocate.

He is not entitled to file an application in the Registrar's Office of the High Court. 13 W.R. 60. Y

2. The recognized agents¹ of parties by whom such appearances, applications and acts may be made or done

Recognized agents.

are—

- (a) persons holding powers-of-attorney, authorizing them to make and do such appearances, applications and acts on behalf of such parties;
- (b) persons carrying on trade or business for and in the names of parties not resident² within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court within which limits the appearance, application or act is made or done, in matters connected with such trade or business only, where no other agent is expressly authorized to make and do such appearances, applications and acts.

(Nótes).

(Old Act).

This rule corresponds to S. 37 of Act XIV of 1882—

(i) The provisions contained in (b) and the last paragraph are omitted.

(ii) The words “general” “from parties..is made or done” are omitted in (a)

Objects and Reasons.

"The provisions of the existing Code, which are represented by this clause are in somewhat different terms and are limited to persons holding general power of attorney within certain local limits. The Committee think it necessary to preserve these limitations and have made the sub-clause general. It follows that the present clause 37 (b) becomes unnecessary. It is included in sub-clause (a)."

The last paragraph of S. 37 has been omitted as no longer necessary."
(See the Statement of Objects and Reasons).

Scope of the rule.

S. 432 of Act XIV of 1882 (= S. 85 of the present Code) does not prevent the institution of a suit by an Independent Prince in his own name and through a recognised agent other than one appointed under this rule. 10 C. 186; 19 A. 510; 17 A.W.N. 135; 165 P.R. 1889.

1.—"Recognised agents."(1) General.

The manager or agent is one, who has an initiative and independent discretion, albeit possibly subject to principles and general orders prescribed for his guidance.

A mere servant employed to carry out orders to execute a particular commission, or a factor, or a common agent, who is not identified with the firm, for which he acts, is not such an agent. 4 B. 416. W

(2) Recognised agents, who are.

(a) An attorney, having a warrant of attorney of a defendant to receive a declaration or plaint, &c., in any action or suit to be brought for the recovery of certain moneys and to confess the same action or suit or else to suffer or consent to, a judgment or decree in the said action or suit by default or in any other way to pass or be pronounced against the defendant. Bourke Rep. O.C. 244. X

(b) A person holding a general power of attorney from a marwadi who had been absent upwards of four months. 6 B. 100. Y

(c) The munim of a firm, which has ceased to carry on business, engaged in collecting the assets of such firm and otherwise winding up its affairs. 9 B.H.O. 427. Z

(d) The daughter-in-law of plaintiff who is extremely ill acting as recognised agent without a written authority to present the plaint. 9 P.R. 1878. A

(3) Who are not recognized agents.

(a) A gumasta of a firm, when the business of the firm ceased before the institution of suit. 5 B.L.R. 11; 13 W.R. 344. B

(b) An agent of a party residing within the jurisdiction of the Court. 1 Agra 115. C

(c) The munim of a firm, when the partner is present within the jurisdiction. Both of them should join together in presenting a plaint or appointing a pleader. 6 B.H.C. 150. D

(d) A mere mukhtar, unless specially authorised. 17 W.R. 389. E

(e) A political agent. 11 B. 53. F

1.—“Recognised agents.”—(Concluded).

- (f) The donee of a power having mere authority to look after a case, 12 C. 173 at p. 178 or having mere power to sue. 10 B. 18. G
- (g) A person holding a general power of attorney at a time when the principal is resident within the jurisdiction. 23 A. 499 ; [26 A. 19=A.W.N. (1903), 172. H
- (h) An agent carrying on business at Lyallpur in the name of the partners of a firm resident in England. 109 P.R. 1907= [19 C. 678 ; A.W.N. (1899), 55 ; A.W.N. (1891), 152, R.]. I
- (i) Partner under Cl. 1. S. 17 of Act VIII of 1859. 1 Hyde 97, but see contra 7 B.L.R. 58. J
- (j) A Bombay firm simply employed by the owners of a Ship visiting Bombay. 7 B.H.C. 159 ; 8 B.H.C. 159. K

2.—“Not resident.”

Meaning of the term.

- (a) The term—covers every absence which may reasonably be supposed to have been within the contemplation of the Legislature in using that term. 6 B. 100. L
- (b) “Reside” is an ambiguous and elastic expression and has to be interpreted with the object and character of the provision in which it occurs. A liberal construction should be placed upon the term “non-resident.” 14 M.L.J. 223. M
- (c) The term ‘Non-resident’ signifies a person, who is not, at the time when some act is done by the agent, present within the jurisdiction of the Court. It may include a person temporarily absent. 2 A.L.J. 626=A.W.N. (1905), 221=28 A. 185. N

3. (1) Processes served on the recognized agent¹ of a party shall be as effectual as if the same had been served
 Service of process on recognized agent. on the party in person, unless the Court otherwise directs.

(2) The provisions for the service of process on a party to a suit shall apply to the service of process on his recognized agent.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

This rule corresponds to S. 38 of Act XIV of 1882—

The words “or appeal” are omitted in sub-rule (1).

The words “of this Code” are omitted in sub-rule (2).

1.—“Processes served on recognised agents, etc.”

Service of process on recognised agent.

- (1) Where one of several representatives of a deceased judgment-creditor applies for the execution of a decree, a general power of attorney is not necessary, but it is sufficient if the applicant is authorised, under S. 115 of Act VIII of 1859, to act for the other representatives. 2 B. 109 ; 2nd Ed., 103. O

1.—“Processes served on recognised agents, etc.”—(Concluded).

- (2) Service of notice on the parties and not on their pleaders, is not barred by this rule. W.R. 1864 (Mis.), 21. P
- (3) A person holding a power of attorney, even if authorised by the power to appear and defend suits, is at liberty to refuse to accept service of summons. 8 C. 317. Q
- (4) Service upon an attorney's clerk of an order directed to be served on the attorney is not good. 2 Hyde 117. R

4. (1) The appointment of a pleader¹ to make or do any appearance, application or act for any person shall be in writing², and shall be signed by such person or by his recognized agent or by some other person duly authorized by power-of-attorney to act in this behalf.

(2) Every such appointment, when accepted by a pleader³, shall be filed in Court⁴, and shall be considered to be in force until determined with the leave of the Court, by a writing signed by the client or the pleader, as the case may be, and filed in Court, or until the client or the pleader dies or until all proceedings in the suit are ended so far as regards the client.

(3) No advocate of any High Court established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, (24 and 25 Vict. c 104), or of any Chief Court, and no advocate of any other High Court who is a barrister shall be required to present any document empowering him to act.

(Notes).

(Old Act).

This rule corresponds to S. 39 of Act XIV of 1882—

The words “for any person” “and shall be signed...to act in this behalf” are new in sub-rule (1).

The words “Every,” “when accepted by a pleader,” “determined,” “or the pleader as the case may be,” “until the suit is,” in sub-r. (2) are new.

The words “under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861,” “or of the Chief Court ...Sind” in sub-r. (3) are new.

Objects and Reasons.

“The Committee are uncertain whether it is necessary to make a reference to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Sindh. The point is one for the Government of Bombay.”

“They also suggest, in the alternative, that the privilege now enjoyed by all Advocates, enrolled in Chartered High Courts, shall be extended to those Advocates enrolled in non-Chartered High Courts, who are members of the English or Irish bar or of the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland.”—(See the Statement of Objects and Reasons).

1.—“The appointment of a pleader.”

Not merely authorised mukhtars, but other persons, generally, are at liberty to appoint pleaders by vakalatnamas. 7 W.R. 481; 134 P.R. 1890. S

2.—“The appointment...shall be in writing.”

- (a) The appointment of a pleader to make or do any appearance, application or act in or to a Civil Court must be in writing and it must be executed by the party or by a person acting on his behalf and acting under the authority of a general power of attorney or Mukhtarnama. 7 W.R. 681; 16 A. 240; 14 A.W.N. 62. T
- (b) A letter held to be sufficient authority, if sufficiently stamped. 1 C.W.N. ccvii.
- (c) A Mukhtarnama under seal is as good as a Mukhtarnama under signature. The vakil is responsible for the authenticity of the signature and the Judge should not inquire into it. 7 W.R. 475. Y
- (d) A person having a power-of-attorney executed by the agent-in-chief of a company can validly appoint a pleader to conduct the case. 6 A.W.N. 172. W
- (e) Certain illiterate appellants caused their signatures to be put on a vakalatnamah by the pen of their family priest and in their presence. The vakalat is a valid document. 14 A.W.N. 90. X

3.—“When accepted by a pleader.”

- (a) The acceptance of a vakalat should be unconditional in all cases. 14 W.R. 7; 12 A.W.N. 78. Y
- (b) Vakalat, executed in favour of two vakils, may be accepted by one of them. 16 M. 285. Z

4.—“Shall be filed in Court, etc.”(1) Vakalatnamah, how long in force.

- (a) Every appointment filed in Court remains in force until revoked, by leave of the Court, by a writing signed by the client and filed in Court. 6 B. 416 at p. 420; 22 C. 945. A
- (b) A vakalatnamah remains in force until all proceedings in the suit are ended. 20 B. 198. B

(2) Fresh vakalatnamah not necessary.

- (a) Where the Collector of a district, agent for the Court of Wards, filed a suit on behalf of the ward and executed a vakalatnamah to a pleader, whom he retained to conduct it, and the Collector died before the suit was determined, no fresh vakalatnamah was necessary. 15 M. 185; C
- (b)—to appear in execution proceedings after a decree is passed, e.g., to answer a claim advanced to attached property. 5 B.H.C. 83; 20 B. 198; D
- (c) to appear in a remanded case. 4 M.H.C. xiii; E
- (d) for an application for a new trial. 12 W.R. 465; F
- (e) to appear in proceedings in the High Court, referring to a subsequent appeal to the Privy Council. 8 W.R. 92; G
- (f) for restoration of an appeal. 15 A. 55; 12 A.W.N. 222. H

4.—“Shall be filed in Court, etc.”—(Concluded).(3) Delegation of authority.

(a) A pleader may hand over his brief to another. 9 A. 613 (Mis. case No. 1);
9 O.C. 65. I

(b) The applicant's duly appointed pleader could not delegate his authority to the pleader of his co-defendant, when the applicant was not present to accede to such delegation. 20 B. 293 J

(4) Neglect of pleader.

—should not be visited on an innocent client when it is in the power of the Court to mitigate the result by the exercise of a little indulgence. 11 C.L.R. 11. K

(5) Advocate of the High Court.

He can perform, on behalf of a suitor, all the duties that may be performed by a pleader, subject to his exemption in the matter of a vakalatnamah and to any rules, which the High Court may make regarding him. 9 A. 617. L

5. Any process served on the pleader of any party or left at the office or ordinary residence of such pleader, and whether the same is for the personal appearance of the party or not, shall be presumed to be duly communicated and made known to the party whom the pleader represents, and, unless the Court otherwise directs, shall be as effectual for all purposes as if the same had been given to or served on the party in person.

(Notes)

(Old Act).

This rule corresponds to S. 40 of Act XIV of 1882—

The word “Processes” is changed into “Any process.”

The words “relative to a suit or appeal,” “in relation to the suit or appeal” are omitted.

(General).

S. 40 of Act XIV of 1882 (=this rule) applies as much to advocates as to any other persons coming within the definition of pleader in S. 2. 7 O.C. 303. M

1.—“Service of process on pleader.”

(a) Service of summons on a pleader calling on a party to appear and give evidence is good service. 6 B.H.C. 14. N

(b) So also is service of notice of appeal upon respondent's pleader. 15 W.R. 290. O

(c) Service on the attorney on the record is good after a decree nisi in a divorce suit. 6 B. 416. P

(d) Service on a pleader is equivalent to service on his client, and the pleader cannot withdraw merely by writing on a notice that he no longer appears in the case. 7 O.C. 303. Q

6. (1) Besides the recognized agents described in rule 2 any person residing within the jurisdiction of the Court may be appointed an agent to accept service of process.

(2) Such appointment may be special or general and shall be made by an instrument in writing signed by the principal, and such instrument or, if the appointment is general, a certified copy thereof shall be filed in Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 41 of Act XIV of 1882—

“In section 37” is changed into “in rule 2.”

For the words “duly attested,” the word “certified” is substituted.

ORDER IV.

INSTITUTION OF SUITS.

1. (1) Every suit shall be instituted by presenting a plaint¹ to the Court or such officer as it appoints in this behalf².

(2) Every plaint shall comply with the rules contained in Orders VI and VII, so far as they are applicable.

(Notes).

Old Act.

I. The sub-rule 1 corresponds to S. 48 of Act XIV of 1882.

II. The sub-rule 2 is new. See OO. VI and VII, infra, in which the greater part of existing provisions on this subject are to be found.

1.—“Every suit....by presenting a plaint.”

(1) Suit when commenced.

(a) A suit must commence with a plaint. A proceeding capable of terminating in a decree or an order having the force of a decree cannot on that ground alone be deemed to be a suit. 22 M. 258. R

(b) An action means a civil proceeding to be commenced by writ or in such other manner as may be prescribed by rules of Court. Where, therefore, the rules prescribe an originating summons as the method of procedure, the proceedings so commenced constitute an action. Re Fawcitt, 30 C.D. 231—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. 1, p. 5. S

(2) Date of suit—Presentation of plaint.

The date of the original presentation of the plaint in a suit determines the date thereof, notwithstanding the subsequent stages through which it may pass, such as transfer, return or otherwise. 3 W.R. 20; 16 W.R. 47; 19 W.R. 159; 7 W.R. 241; 3 N.W.P. 202; 23 W.R. 447; 4 A. 97; 19 B. 46; 19 B. 320; 27 B. 30; 5 B.L.R. 198; 19 C. 780; 12 A. 129; 15 A. 65; 24 A. 218; 27 C. 814; 31 C. 75; 82 P.W.R. 1907; 3 M.L.T. 68; 29 A. 749; 27 A. 411; 23 A. 423; 15 M. 29; 15 M. 78; 22 M. 494; 7 M.L.J. 197; 7 M.L.J. 257. T

ORDER V.

ISSUE AND SERVICE OF SUMMONS.

Issue of Summons.

1. (1) When a suit has been duly instituted a summons may be issued¹ to the defendant to appear and answer the claim on a day to be therein specified :

Summons. Provided that no such summons shall be issued² when the defendant has appeared at the presentation of the plaint and admitted the plaintiff's claim.

(2) A defendant to whom a summons has been issued under sub-rule (1) may appear³—

(a) in person, or

(b) by a pleader duly instructed and able to answer all material questions relating to the suit, or

(c) by a pleader accompanied by some person able to answer all such questions.

(3) Every such summons shall be signed by the Judge or such officer as he appoints, and shall be sealed with the seal of the Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 64 of Act XIV of 1882—

- (i) For the words "When the plaint has been registered and the copies or concise statements required by S. 58 have been filed" the words "When a suit has been duly instituted" are substituted.
- (ii) "A defendant to whom a summons has been issued under sub-rule (1) may appear" is new.
- (iii) The provisions as to summons, in this rule, have been re-arranged for the sake of greater clearness.

1.—"Summons may be issued."(1) Issue of summons.

Summons ought not to be ordered to issue after the lapse of the period of limitation. 5 C. 136. N (N.B.)—It is presumed that this decision is no authority at present.

(2) Minor.

The summons must issue whether the defendant is a minor or otherwise. 14 C. 204. O

(3) Fresh summons.

- (a) An application for a fresh summons to appear should be issued on petition showing (1) that a fruitless endeavour has been made on the part of the plaintiff to serve the first summons and (2) that it was not by any default of his that he had failed. 1 Ind. Tur. N. S. 224; 3 C. 312; 14 W.R. 336; 20 W.R. 62. P

EXAMPLES.

- (a) The law does not contemplate the issue of a second summons. But, at any rate, it gives the Court a full discretion either to issue a second summons or not. 14 W.R. 336. Q
- (b) Application for fresh summons rejected :—
When the time for the return of the first summons having long since expired. 3 C. 412. R
- (c) When an appellant failed, for 12 months, to serve notice of appeal. 20 W.R. 62. S

2.—"Provided . . . no such summons . . . issued."Summons not issued.

The summons need not be issued if the defendant appears voluntarily and confesses judgment. 3 B.L.R. 396; 14 C. 204. T

Omission to serve summons is cured by appearance. Bourke O.C. 244. U

3.—"may appear."(1) Principle.

An appearance may be made by the party in person, by his pleader or by his recognised agent; but the concurrence of the pleader or agent is essential. As soon as he ceases to intend to represent the principal, the latter is unrepresented. 23 B. 414 (418). Y

3.—“may appear.”—(Concluded).(2) Appearance valid.

- (a) When a party is present in person merely for the purpose of applying for an adjournment. 23 B. 414. W
- (b) —in person or by a pleader without putting in a written statement. 7 W.R. 295. X

(3) Appearance held not an appearance.

- (b) The previous filing of a vakalat and objecting to an attachment before judgment. 7 A. 538. Z
- (c) No instructions on the part of the pleader or the recognised agent on the day of hearing. 4 B.H.C. 206; 8 A. 140; 20 A. 195. A
- (d) The mere filing of a written statement. 1 N.W.P. 154; 6 B.L.R. 688. B
- (e) Pleader present with a power of attorney executed by a third person on behalf of the defendant. 18 A. 241. C
- (f) Pleader, with no other instructions, applying for an adjournment, the party being absent. 6 B.L.R. 688; 23 B. 414. D

Copy or statement annexed to summons.

2. Every summons shall be accompanied by a copy of the plaint or, if so permitted, by a concise statement.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 65 of Act XIV of 1882—

- (i) The words “mentioned in S. 58” are omitted.
- (ii) The words “if so permitted” are new.

Court may order defendant or plaintiff to appear in person.

3. (1) Where the Court sees reason to require the personal appearance of the defendant, the summons shall order him to appear in person¹ in Court on the day therein specified.

(2) Where the Court sees reason to require the personal appearance of the plaintiff on the same day, it shall make an order for such appearance.

(Notes).Old Act.

The sub-rule (1) corresponds to the first para of S. 66 of Act XIV of 1882—

- (i) For the word “if” the word “where” is substituted.
- (ii) The sub-rule (2) corresponds to the second para of S. 66 of Act XIV of 1882.
- (iii) The word “may” is changed into “shall” in the new Act.

1.—“The summons shall order....person.”

- (a) On the non-appearance of the party, the case may be heard ex-parte.
1 Cor. 3. 8 A. 20. B
- (b) Great caution should be used in ordering personal attendance on account of the penalty attached by law to the non-appearance. N.W.P. 1865, p. 371. F

No party to be ordered to appear in person unless resident within certain limits.

4. No party shall be ordered to appear in person unless he resides—

- (a) within the local limits of the Court's ordinary original jurisdiction, or
- (b) without such limits but at a place less than fifty or (where there is railway or steamer communication or other established public conveyance for five-sixths of the distance between the place where he resides and the place where the Court is situate), less than two hundred miles distance from the Court-house.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 67 of Act XIV of 1882—

In (b) the words “steamer communication or other established public conveyance” are new.

(General).

- (1) The rule does not expressly take into account parties exempted from personal attendance. See Marsh 627. G
- (2) The prohibition in this rule applies to suits for rent under Act X of 1859, 3 W.R. 162. H

5. The Court shall determine, at the time of issuing the summons, whether it shall be for the settlement of issues only, or for the final disposal of the suit; and the summons shall contain a direction accordingly:

Summons to be either to settle issues or for final disposal.

Provided that, in every suit heard by a Court of Small Causes, the summons shall be for the final disposal of the suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 68 of Act XIV of 1882.

(General).

The summons ought to state whether the defendant is to appear for settlement of issues or for the final disposal of the case. See Marsh 907. I

6. The day for the appearance of the defendant shall be fixed with reference to the current business of the Court, the place of residence of the defendant and the time necessary for the service of the summons ; and the day shall be so fixed as to allow the defendant sufficient time ¹ to enable him to appear and answer on such day.

Fixing day for appearance of defendant.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 69 of Act XIV of 1882—

The words “by the Court with reference to its current business” are changed into “with reference to the current business of the Court.”

The last para of S. 69 is omitted.

(General).

The nature of the rights involved, the importance of the claim, the distance of the parties from the Courts and often various other circumstances will be elements essential to the determination of what time is reasonable. 3 M.H.C. 167. J

1.—“The day shall be so fixed.....sufficient time.”

- (1) The defendant should be given sufficient time to appear and file his written statement. 5 W.R. 39. K
- (2) Two days held sufficient in a claim for Rs. 6,000 involving questions of Mahomedan Law. 3 M.H.C. 167. L
- (3) When the time allowed is clearly insufficient, an appellate Court will interfere (3 Mad. H.C. 167) ; and order a new trial. 7 B.H.C. 138. M

Summons to order defendant to produce documents relied on by him.

7. The summons to appear and answer shall order the defendant to produce all documents in his possession or power upon which he intends to rely in support of his case.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 70 of Act XIV of 1882—

The words “containing evidence relating to the merits of the plaintiff's case” are omitted.

The words “any document” are changed into “all documents.”

On issue of summons for final disposal, defendant to be directed to produce his witnesses.

8. Where the summons is for the final disposal of the suit, it shall also direct the defendant to produce, on the day fixed for his appearance, all witnesses ¹ upon whose evidence he intends to rely in support of his case.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 71 of Act XIV of 1882—

The word "when" is changed into "where."

The word "also" is new.

1.—"It shall direct....to produce....all witnesses."

- (N.B.) (d) and (e) are inapplicable on account of the change in the Rule.

18. The serving officer shall, in all cases in which the summons has been served under rule 16, endorse or annex, or cause to be endorsed or annexed, on or to the original summons, a return stating the time when and the manner in which the summons was served, and the name and address of the person (if any) identifying the person served and witnessing the delivery or tender of the summons.

Endorsement of time and manner of service.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 81 of Act XIV of 1882—

The words “and the name and address of the person (if any) identifying the person served and witnessing the delivery or tender of the summons” are new.

19. Where a summons is returned under rule 17, the Court shall, if the return under that rule has not been verified by the affidavit of the serving officer, and may, if it has been so verified, examine the serving officer on oath, or cause him to be so examined by another Court, touching his proceedings, and may make such further inquiry in the matter as it thinks fit; and shall either declare that the summons has been duly served or order such service as it thinks fit.

Examination of serving officer.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to first para of S. 82, Act XIV of 1882 as amended by Act VII of 1888—

The words “when” and “section” are changed into “where” and “rule.”

20. (1) Where the Court is satisfied that there is reason to believe that the defendant is keeping out of the substituted service way for the purpose of avoiding service, or that for any other reason the summons cannot be served in the ordinary way, the Court shall order the summons to be served by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the Court-house, and also upon some conspicuous part of the house (if any) in which the defendant is known to have last resided or carried on business or personally worked for gain, or in such other manner as the Court thinks fit¹.

Effect of substituted service².

(2) Service substituted by order of the Court shall be as effectual as if it had been made on the defendant personally.

Where service substituted, time for appearance to be fixed.

(3) Where service is substituted by order of the Court, the Court shall fix such time for the appearance of the defendant³ as the case may require.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 82 (second para), 83 and 84 of Act XIV of 1882—

The words "or carried on business or personally worked for gain" in sub-rule (1) are new.

The word "whenever" is changed into "where" in sub-rule (3).

(General).

- (a) Whenever personal service of a writ of summons or other document is required, and it is made to appear that the plaintiff is from any cause unable to effect prompt personal service, an order may be made for substituted or other service, or for the substitution of notice for service by letter, advertisement, or otherwise as may seem just. Jay v. Budd, (1898) 1 Q.B. p. 16 and cf. Whitley v. Honeywell, 24 W.R. 851—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 57. M
- (b) "The object of the rule was to obviate the difficulties that the plaintiff might be exposed to by reason of a defendant going abroad and keeping abroad, and it being impossible to effect personal service, and to prevent the plaintiff's right being entirely defeated by reason of these difficulties. It was intended in such cases to enable the Court to order substituted service, and that when a substituted service is directed, it shall have all the effects of personal service." *Watt v. 3.—“The Court shall fix....appearance of the defendant.”

A sufficient time ought to be given for notice of the fact to reach the defendant. 2 B. 449. X

21. A summons may be sent by the Court by which it is issued,

Service of summons where defendant resides within jurisdiction of another Court.

whether within or without the province, either by one of its officers or by post to any Court (not being the High Court) having jurisdiction in the place where the defendant resides.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 85 (first para) of Act XIV of 1882—

(a) Brevity and clearness are secured by this rule.

(b) The old section has almost been re-arranged and is embodied in the Rule in a condensed form.

22. Where a summons issued by any Court established beyond the limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay and Rangoon is to be served within any such limits, it shall be sent to the Court of Small Causes within whose jurisdiction it is to be served.

Service, within Presidency-towns and Rangoon, of summons issued by Courts outside.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 86 of Act XIV of 1882—

For the words “ whenever any process,” the words “ where a summons ” are substituted.

The second and third paragraphs are omitted.

23. The Court to which a summons is sent under rule 21 or rule 22 shall, upon receipt thereof, proceed as if it had been issued by such Court and shall then return the summons to the Court of issue, together with the record (if any) of its proceedings with regard thereto ¹.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 85 (second para) of Act XIV of 1882—

The words “ from which it originally issued, together with the record (if any) made under the paragraph ” are omitted.

The words “ of issue, together with the record (if any) of its proceedings with regard thereto ” are new.

1.—“ Shall proceed...thereto.”

Duty of Court to which summons is sent.

The duty of the serving Court, under this rule, is to proceed, on receipt of the summons, as if it had itself issued it, and then to return it with the record, if any, to the Court from which it originally issued and the sufficiency of service is to be determined by the transmitting Court.

24. Where the defendant is confined in a prison, the summons shall be delivered or sent by post or otherwise to the officer in charge of the prison ¹ for service on the defendant.

Service on defendant in prison.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 87 and 88 of Act XIV of 1882—

(1) The second para of S. 87 and the latter part of S. 88, beginning with the words “ and such officer shall,” etc., are omitted.

(2) The words “ where,” “ is confined,” “ in prison,” “ or sent by post or otherwise,” “ prison for service on the defendant ” are new.

1.—“The summons shall be delivered....prison.”Signature of jailor.

The Court will take judicial notice of it. 4 B.L.R. 51.

- (4) In the absence of evidence that the person to be served was residing at the place to which the summons was sent,—not sufficient evidence of service. There must be some evidence as to the receipt by defendant. 23 A. 99=21 A.W.N. 1. D

Service in foreign territory through Political Agent or Court.

26. Where—

- (a) in the exercise of any foreign jurisdiction vested in His Majesty or in the Governor General in Council, a Political Agent has been appointed, or a Court has been established or continued, with power to serve a summons issued by a Court under this Code in any foreign territory in which the defendant resides, or
- (b) the Governor General in Council has, by notification in the Gazette of India, declared that any summons so issued may be served by any Court situate in any such territory and not established or continued in the exercise of any such jurisdiction as aforesaid, the summons may be sent to such Political Agent or Court, by post or otherwise¹, for the purpose of being served upon the defendant; and, if the Political Agent or Court returns the summons with an endorsement signed by such Political Agent or by the Judge or other officer of the Court that the summons has been served on the defendant in manner hereinbefore directed, such endorsement shall be deemed to be evidence of service.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 90 of Act XIV of 1882—

- (1) In the marginal heading the word 'British' has been changed into 'Political.'
- (2) For the words "If there is a British Resident or Agent, or a Superintendent appointed by the British Government, or a Court established or continued by the authority of the Governor-General in Council, in or for the territory in which the defendant resides," which appear in the old Code, the words "where, in the exercise of any foreign jurisdiction vested in His Majesty or in the Governor-General in Council, a Political Agent has been appointed or a Court has been established or continued, with power to serve a summons issued by a Court under this Code in any foreign territory in which the defendant resides" have been substituted.
- (3) Cl. (b) is new.
- (4) For the words "Resident, Agent, Superintendent or Court", wherever they occur, the words "Political Agent or Court" have been substituted.
- (5) For the words "under his hand," the words "signed by such Political Agent or by the Judge or other officer of the Court" have been substituted.
- (6) For the words "shall be evidence," the words "shall be deemed to be evidence" are substituted.

1.—"The summons may be....Political Agent....or otherwise."

Service in foreign territory.

27. Where the defendant is a public officer (not belonging to His Majesty's military or naval forces or His Majesty's Indian Marine Service), or is the servant of a railway company or local authority¹, the Court may, if it appears to it that the summons may be most conveniently so served, send it for service on the defendant to the head of the office in which he is employed, together with a copy to be retained by the defendant.

Service on civil public officer or on servant of railway company or local authority.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This section corresponds to S. 422 of Act XIV of 1882—

The words “(not belonging..service),” “or is the servant of a Railway Company or local authority,” “together with a copy to be retained by the defendant” are new.

For the words “for the purpose of being served on him,” the words “for service on the defendant” are substituted.

1.—“Or is the servant of a Railway Company or local authority.”

Service on Railway Company.

(2) The commanding officer of the defendant is bound to cause the summons to be served on him. 10 M. 319. L

(3) The Commissary of ordnance is bound to serve the summons though defendant is privileged under the Army Act. 11 M. 475. M

(4) As for substituted service in case of military officers on furlough. 41 P.R. 1871. N

29. (1) Where a summons is delivered or sent to any person for service under rule 24, rule 27 or rule 28, such person shall be bound to serve it, if possible, and to return it under his signature, with the written acknowledgment of the defendant, and such signature shall be deemed to be evidence of service¹.

Duty of person to whom summons is delivered or sent for service.

(2) Where from any cause service is impossible the summons shall be returned to the Court with a full statement of such cause and of the steps taken to procure service, and such statement shall be deemed to be evidence of non-service.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 468 (third para) of Act XIV of 1882—

- (1) The sub-rule (1) is new.
- (2) For the words "the copy cannot be served," the words "service is impossible" are substituted.
- (3) For the words "with information of...service," the words "with a full statement...service" are substituted.
- (4) This rule clearly provides for what is evidence of service and non-service.
- (5) The changes in the rule are presumably intended to meet the development of case law on service of summons.

1.—"Evidence of service."

(1) Return of service.

The return of service of notice with the name of the officer, who effected the service on the back of it is evidence of service. 15 W.R. 203; 19 W.R. 102. O

(2) Burden of proof.

Substitution of letter for summons.

(2) A letter substituted under sub-rule (1) shall contain all the particulars required to be stated in a summons, and, subject to the provisions of sub-rule (3), shall be treated in all respects as a summons.

(3) A letter so substituted may be sent to the defendant by post or by a special messenger selected by the Court, or in any other manner which the Court thinks fit; and, where the defendant has an agent empowered to accept service, the letter may be delivered or sent to such agent.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 91 and 92 of Act XIV of 1882—

For the words “which entitles him,” the word “entitling” is substituted in sub-rule (1).

The words “substituted under sub-rule (1)” are new in sub-rule (2).

“In section 92” is changed into “of sub-rule 3.”

For the words “where a letter is substituted for summons,” the words “a letter so substituted” are substituted in sub-rule 3. “Unless” is changed into “and, where.”

ORDER VI.

PLEADINGS GENERALLY¹.

Pleading. 1. “Pleading” shall mean plaint or written statement.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

1.—“Pleadings generally.”

GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF THE ORDER.

(1) Construction of Indian pleadings.

- (a) Pleadings in Indian Courts should not be construed with the same strictness as they are in the English Courts. 21 W.R. 59 ; 6 W.R. (P.C.), 1 = 2 M.I.A. 344 ; 7 W.R. (P.C.), 8 = 3 M.I.A. 383 ; 13 W.R. 248 ; 6 A 406 ; 4 A.W.N. 140 = 6 A. 406. S
- (b) The Courts in India are not governed by the technical rules of pleading, which obtain in Courts administering English Law. 7 W.R. 39. T
[But the English rules of pleading are imported in the present Code.]
- (c) The strict rule, that averments not traversed, must be taken to be admitted, is not applicable to Indian Courts. 11 C.W.N. 225 = 5 C.L.J. 181 = 34 C. 57. Contra 53 P.W.R. 1907. U
- (d) Mofussil pleadings should not be construed strictly. 6 Bom. L.R. 475. Y
- (e) Under the Civil Procedure, parties are not bound so strictly to the pleadings as in any equity suit under the old Procedure. Bourke A.O.C. 48. W
- (f) The actual form of the suit is of little consequence. The substance and merits of the case should be kept in view, and not merely the words in the plaint. 111 P.R. 1900. X

(2) Objects of pleading.

The object of every system of pleadings is to fix the parties to certain specific issues to enable them to be prepared to answer the questions raised by those issues. Even though a point is not specifically raised in the pleadings, a decision may be given on the point, if the parties have full notice of that point and, if there is an issue about it. 22 C. 324 = 22 I.A. 4. Y

(3) Decree of non-suit.

The Courts in India have no power to make a decree of non-suit. 7 A.W.N. 254 = 9 All. 690. Z

2. Every pleading shall contain, and contain only, a statement in a concise form of the material facts¹ on which the party pleading relies for his claim or defence, as the case may be, but not the evidence by which they are to be proved², and shall, when necessary, be divided into paragraphs, numbered consecutively. Dates, sums and numbers shall be expressed in figures.

Pleading to state material facts and not evidence.

O. XIX, r. 4.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new—It may be compared to S. 114 of Act XIV of 1882—

1.—“ Every pleading shall contain....material facts.”

(1) Facts and not law.

- (a) Where the words “ complained of ” were not necessarily actionable and there was no innuendo, the suit should be dismissed. 62 L.T. 121. A
- (b) If a plaintiff's cause of action or his title to sue, depends on a statute, he must plead all the facts necessary to bring him within the statute. 16 C.D. 121; 26 C.D. 778—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I. p. 248. B
- (c) The Code of Civil Procedure does not deal with forms of action; it requires a statement of facts in the plaint, and that the plaint should disclose a cause of action. 11 P.R. 1891. C
- (d) Neither party should plead to any matter of law set out in his opponent's pleading. (1793) 2 Black H. 182—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 239. D

2.—“ But not the evidence..proved.”

(1) Accounts.

In every case in which the cause of action is a stated or settled account, the account should be alleged with particulars; but in cases in which a statement of account is relied on, only by way of evidence, or admission of another cause of action, the account should not be alleged in the pleadings. Eng. O. 20, r. 8. E

(2) Admissions.

It is wrong to set out in the pleadings admissions made by the opponents. (1878) 7 C.D. 473; (1884) 49 L.T. 772—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 238. F

3. The forms in Appendix A when applicable, and where they are not applicable forms of the like character, as nearly as may be, shall be used for all pleadings¹.

4. In all cases in which the party pleading relies on any misrepresentation¹, fraud², breach of trust, wilful default, or undue influence³, and in all other cases in which particulars may be necessary beyond such as are exemplified in the forms aforesaid⁴, particulars (with dates and items if necessary) shall be stated in the pleading.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

(General Principle).

The pleadings should state those facts which will put the other party on their guard, and tell them what they will have to meet. 4 Q.B.D. 139;

(c) In a suit for damages against the defendant caused by his fraud ranging over a certain period, the plaint could not be amended in second appeal so as to bring in specific instances of fraud. 18 B. 144. N

(d) When a party avoids the bar of limitation by pleading the fraud of the other party, the particular fraud must be alleged in detail. 3 Times Rep. 329; 15 App. cases 210; (1893) 2 Ch. 545; (1895) 2 Ch. 474;
(1899) A.C. 351—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 348. O

3.—“Undue influence.”Evidence.

- (a) The pleadings raised only a question of undue influence, but only unsoundness of mind was proved in evidence. The question of undue influence could not be discussed upon such evidence. 10 C.W.N. 570 (P.C.). P
- (b) In an action for using threats to induce the party to break a contract, the plaint should state the kind of threat used, and when it was used, and whether they were verbal or oral. 3 Times Rep. 318, 319; 59 L.T. 888. Q

4.—“And in all cases...aforesaid.”(1) Account.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

(General Principles).

- (1) There should be no variance between the plaint and the decree. 97 P.R. 1868. U
- (1-a) The rule, that the decree should be in accordance with what is alleged, is intended to prevent surprise, and is not applicable to a case in which the defendant's own admission is adopted as the basis of the decision. 11 M. 367. Y
- (2) The determination in a cause must be founded upon a case, either to be found in the pleadings, or involved in, or consistent with, the case thereby made. 14 C. 801=14 I.A. 168; 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 87=6 W.R. (P.C.), 57=11 M.I.A. 7; 18 W.R. 274. W
- (3) No decree should be given in favour of a party on a point, not raised in the pleadings nor embodied in an issue. 8 C. 975=11 C.L.R. 399; 12 W.R. 204; 21 W.R. 132; 22 W.R. 216; 13 W.R. 464; 15 W.R. 363; 18 W.R. 334; 23 W.R. 404. X
- (3-a) A Court should not base its judgment on facts not found either in the plaint or in the written statement. 36 P.R. 1879; 1 A.W.N. 158; 7 A.W.N. 130=8 A. 234; 2 N.W.P. 182. Y
- (4) As a general rule the plaintiff is not entitled to reliefs not founded on the pleadings; but, where, on the pleadings, issues and evidence, the relief is clear, the general rule does not apply. 6 B.L.R. 288. Z
- (5) A plaintiff should not be precluded from basing his claim upon a ground which, though not referred to in the plaint, was, clearly and in express terms, put in issue at the very beginning. 78 P.R. 1904. A
- (6) A plaintiff, who claims too much or fails to admit reasonable deductions from his claim, should not be deprived of that to which he is legally entitled. 1904 A.W.N. 166=1 A.L.J. 476=27 A. 75; 10 C.W.N. 626=3 A.L.J. 360=3 C.L.J. 481=1 M.L.T. 143=8 B.L.R. 397=16 M.L.J. 269=28 A. 482 (P.C.). B

General Principles—(Concluded).

- (7) A man cannot be deprived of his rights as they exist, merely because he put forward rights that did not exist. 6 B.L.R. 594; 1903 A.W.N. 18 = 25 A. 256. C
- (8) The plaintiff cannot prove a different title, from that which he alleged in the plaint. 15 W.R. 84; 12 W.R. 487; 11 W.R. 550; 24 W.R. 444; 25 W.R. 315; 12 W.R. 80. Contra 22 W.R. 391; 10 W.R. 360. D
- (9) Where a plaintiff alleges one cause of action and proves another, his suit must be dismissed. 10 W.R. 242. E
- (10) When a plaint is defective, it cannot be supplemented by subsequent statements. 22 A.W.N. 35. F
- (11) When a plaintiff asks for one thing, he must not be given a quite different relief, because he proves that he is entitled to it. 3 B.L.R. Ap. 111 = 12 W.R. 69; 12 W.R. 248; 15 W.R. O.C. 7; 10 W.R. 243; 20 B. 569, 627; 16 W.R. 311; 19 W.R. 195; 12 W.R. 248, 107. G
- (12) A relief can be granted, though upon grounds different from those set up in the plaint. 22 C. 589. H
- (13) When a Court sees that a person is entitled to a relief which he asks, although on grounds different from those in the plaint, it should give that relief. 7 A.W.N. 43. I
- (14) If the prayer in the plaint does not accurately describe the relief sought, the Court can decree the proper relief. 1904 A.W.N. 174 = 1 A.L.J. 435 = 27 A. 97 (F.B.); 2 C.L.J. 173. J
- (15) A relief which is not claimed by a person either in the plaint or in the course of trial of his suit, and the granting of which would affirm the very opposite of the plea claimed in the plaint should not be decreed to him. (1877) S.C. Part 10, No. 19. K
- (16) A general prayer for relief on behalf of one plaintiff does not include a relief for other plaintiffs. 8 C.W.N. 408 = 31 C. 433. L
- (17) A general prayer for "any other relief" in the plaint must be taken to mean some relief arising out of the cause of action. 1904 A.W.N. 207 = 1 A.L.J. 628 = 27 A. 174. M
- (18) The plaintiff is bound by his case set up in the plaint.
- Where the plaintiff stated in his plaint that a tenancy of the defendant under him arose on a certain date was not allowed to vary this date. 6 O.C. 119. N

1.—"No pleading shall,.....the same."(1) Accounts.

- (a) In a suit on accounts stated, which could not be proved, the plaintiff was allowed to recover advances made to the defendant, within three years. 2 A.W.N. 93; Agra F.B. 47; 1 N.W.P. 28. Contra 15 W.R. 24. O
- (b) When a settlement of accounts was not proved, the plaintiff was not allowed to prove the original debts. 1 C.W.N. 710. P

(2) Acknowledgment of Liability.

An—under S. 19, Limitation Act, could not be first taken in second appeal. 6 C.W.N. 218; 9 C.W.N. 56.

1.—“No pleading shall,.....the same.”—(Continued).

(3) Adoption.

(a) Where, in a suit on an——, the parties go on an issue in the lower Courts only on the basis of Hindu Law, they cannot in appeal allege that they are governed by a special custom. 53 P.W.R. 1908. R

(b) A plaintiff, suing to establish his rights as an adopted son and failing therein, cannot claim relief on the ground of being an heir. W.R. (F.B.), 4. Contra 11 M. 867. S

(4) Advancement, presumption of.

Where property is purchased in the name of another and the question of advancement is raised, it ought to be pleaded in the plaint. 5 Bom. L.R. 788=27 B. 103 at p. 112; 5 B.L.R. 991. T

(5) Adverse possession.

A plea of——should not be allowed when it is not taken in the pleadings. 3 C.L.J. 316. U

(6) Agent.

The plaintiff sued the defendant, who was his agent, for some moneys, which he entrusted to another man whom he appointed as sub-agent, without authority from the plaintiff. When it was proved that the sub-agent was appointed with authority, the defendant could not be made liable, on the ground that he did not appoint a proper person. 5 All. 456=3 A.W.N. 99. Y

(7) Agreement opposed to public policy.

The plea of an——cannot be for the first time pleaded in second appeal. 25 B. 10 at p. 19. W

(8) Alternative cases.

It is open to a defendant to set up alternative defences even in the appellate Court and the plaintiff will not be allowed to object if he is not prejudiced. 8 C.L.J. 289. X

(9) Appeal.

(b) An appellant before the Privy Council can succeed on a new case, if the issues are sufficiently wide to cover that case, if the foundation has been laid for it in the Courts below, and if the other party is not taken by surprise. 2 C.L.J. 194=9 O.W.N. 1009=8 O.C. 317=15 M.L.J. 352=27 A. 634 (P.C.). Z

(10) Appeal ground.

A ground of appeal taken in the lower appellate Court and not argued can be pressed in second appeal. 3 M.L.J. 293. A

(11) Appellate Court.

An appellate Court should not raise a new case in appeal, which the parties have not set up in the first Court. 29 B. 1 (P.C.); 9 O.W.N. 460; 89 P.R. 1905 4 M.L.J. 15. B.

1.—“No pleading shall.....the same.”—(Continued).

(12) Argument.

In a suit to set aside a mortgage by a widow on the ground that there was no consideration, the plaintiff was not allowed to plead in argument that, even though there was consideration, the mortgage was not valid, as there was no necessity for it. 4 O.C. 847. C.

(13) Betrothal.

In a suit for enforcing a contract of—, damages cannot be awarded for breach of the contract. 5 N.W. 102. D.

(14) Bond, suit on.

Plaintiff sued on a bond which recited that the defendant executed it after going through the accounts of the plaintiff. The Court found that the defendant did not execute the bond. The plaintiff was not allowed to recover on an account stated. 32 P.R. 1876. E.

(15) Breach of trust.

When the plaintiff states that there was a negligent—, it should not be changed into a fraudulent—. 29 L.R. Ir. 364. F.

(16) Confirmation of possession.

In a suit for—where it is found that the plaintiff has falsely alleged that he was in possession, no decree for possession could be passed. 31 C. 319 at p. 331. G.

(17) Contract—Illegal consideration.

Even if the illegality of the consideration is not pleaded by the defendant, the Court must take it into consideration. 1904 A.W.N. 298=1 A.L.J. 632=27 A. 266. H.

(18) Declaratory suits.

(a) In a suit for declaration that a property belonged to the judgment-debtor as absolute owner, the plaintiff was not allowed to succeed on the ground that the defendant had an attachable interest in the property. 17 B. 772. I.

(b) The plaintiff sued to recover property, on the ground that the property was joint between him and the widow's deceased husband. When this failed, he could not seek to come in as a reversioner. 17 W.R. 98. J.

(c) In a suit for declaration of possession, the Court should not give him any relief, when it is found that the allegation, that the plaintiff was in possession, is false. 4 C. 46. K.

(19) Deeds.

(a) In a suit for cancellation of a sale-deed on the ground that there was no consideration, the Court should not decree payment of purchase money. 54 P.R. 1866. L.

(b) Suit for cancellation of a deed on the ground of insanity. The insanity not being established, the Court cannot set aside the deed on the ground of the weakness and helplessness of the plaintiff or on the ground of undue influence. 31 I.A. 235=27 A. 1 (P.C.); 10 C.W.N. 570=3 A.L.J. 353=3 C.L.J. 484=8 Bom. 1.—“No pleading shall.....the same.”—(Continued).

- (c) In a suit to set aside a sale, on the ground that it was made for the father's profligate expenditure, the defendants alleged that the sale was made to pay a former mortgage debt. The plaintiff was not allowed to prove that such mortgage also was void for want of consideration. 17 W.R. (P.C.), 106. N

(20) Delivery of papers.

In a—, the defendant pleaded that he made over certain papers to the plaintiff's son. The lower Court passed a decree for the remaining papers. In appeal, the question whether delivery to the son amounted to a valid defence, was newly raised, but was not allowed. 14 W.R. 466. O

(21) Divorce.

The plaintiff stated that her husband ill-treated her, took a second wife, and did not give her maintenance. At the hearing she was allowed to change her case that she was induced to marry on a misrepresentation that her husband was unmarried. L.B.R. (1893–1900), p. 130. P

(22) Ejectment suit.

(a) In an—on the ground, that the defendant was a tenant, the tenancy was not proved. The plaintiff could not succeed on his general title. 9 B.H.C. 1; 15 A. 186; 25 W.R. 448. Q

(b) A suit for ejectment on the ground of defendant being a tenant, the tenancy was not proved but the plaintiff was allowed to succeed on the ground of his title. 1908 A.W.N. 112=25 A. 498 (F.B.). R

(23) Enhancement of rent.

In a—, if the plaintiff is unable to show, that he is entitled to the rent exactly as he claims it, the Court can grant him whatever rent he is entitled to. 22 W.R. 456. S

(24) Evidence inadmissible.

Objections to inadmissibility of evidence must be pleaded in the first instance and cannot be pleaded in the appellate Court. 5 M.L.J. 81. T

(25) Execution of deed.

A plea of non-execution cannot be substituted by a plea of invalidity of execution owing to fraud, undue influence, etc. 10 B.L.R. 494; 14 Bur. L.R. 65. U

(26) Forgery.

The plaintiff stated that two deeds had been forged, as containing his signature. The Court found that the plaintiff signed those deeds, but that he did it under pressure from defendant. The Court acted illegally in finding facts which the plaintiff did not allege. 8 A.W.N. 242=10 A. 627. Y

(27) Fraud.

(a) Where a specific fraud was alleged, no fraud can be proved other than the one alleged. 22 W.R. 221. W

(b) When the plaintiff alleges a specific fraud, and the evidence goes to show a different fraud, the Court can give a decree, if the fraud proved is not altogether different from the one alleged. 14 A.W.N. 6. X

(c) The plaintiff sued to set aside a compromise, as being fraudulently brought about. When this failed, he was not allowed to say, that the document was invalid for want of registration. 4 C.L.R. 52. Y

(d) When the defendant alleges that he did not execute the deed, he cannot be heard to say that the deed is invalid because it was executed through fraud and misrepresentation. (1907) 1 Ch. 537. Z

1.—“No pleading shall.....the same.”—(Continued).(28) Inconsistent allegations.

(2) The person verifying shall specify, by reference to the numbered paragraphs of the pleading, what he verifies of his own knowledge and what he verifies upon information received and believed to be true ⁴.

(3) The verification shall be signed by the person making it and shall state the date on which and the place at which it was signed.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-Rule (1).

Sub-rule (1) corresponds to the second clause of S. 51 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Act.

The words “Save as....force” and the words “or by one of the parties” are new.

According to the old section it would appear that all the parties should verify ; but according to this rule it is enough if one of the parties verifies.

Sub-Rule (2).

This sub-rule corresponds to first para of S. 52 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Act.

The old section did not specially provide that the verifier should state which paras he verified of his own knowledge and which upon information and belief.

Sub-Rule (3).

This sub-rule corresponds to second para of S. 52 of Act XIV of 1892.

Difference between the old and the new Act.

The words "and shall state..signed" is new.

(General).(1) Objection to verification.

Objection to insufficient verification must be taken before settlement of issues.
24 W.R. 71. I

(2) Unsigned plaint.

(3) Suits should be dismissed.

When a plaint is verified by a person, who is not shown to be acquainted with the facts of the case, the suit should be dismissed. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 39. K

(4) Plaint should be amended.

(a) When an agent verified instead of the plaintiff, held, that the plaint should be amended. Marsh 344=2 A. 325. L

(b) When a plaint is verified, when it is incomplete, it should be returned for amendment and not dismissed. 20 A. 442. M

1.—"Every pleading shall be verified..party."(1) Benamidar.

It is not necessary that the real plaintiff should verify; it is enough if the benamidar does. 1 B.L.R.A.C. 100; 10 W.R. 145. N

(2) Plaint to be verified when complete.

Where the substantive portion of the plaint was written on two ordinary papers and signed and verified by the plaintiffs, and, subsequently, the stamp paper with the names of the parties was attached, but without any verification, the plaint was defective and returned. 20 A. 442=18 A.W.N. 110; 20 A. 444 (note); (20 A. 445 note). O.

2.—"Or by one of the parties."(1) Suit by partners.

One only of several partners can verify plaint. 5 B.L.R. Ap. 89; 12 B.L.R. 35. P.

(2) Joint creditors.

Three suits were filed by one of three joint creditors, the others being named as co-plaintiffs in the plaints, which he alone signed and verified; held the plaints were proper plaints. 17 C. 580. Q

3.—"Or by some other person."(1) Inability of plaintiff to verify.

—must be pleaded and permission must be granted by the Court for a third party to verify. 5 W.R. Mis. 33. R.

(2) Verification to be made before the Court.

When a third party verifies, he must generally do it before the Court. 4 B. 468. S (N.B.) For other cases falling under this sub-rule, see 6 W.R. 213; Marsh 176; W.R. (F.B.), 54; 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 63; 1 A. 379; 6 W.R. Mis. 59; 7 W.R. 168; 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 226; Reported under O. VI, r. 14 (3).

4.—“The person verifying shall specify..true.”

Verification, particulars of.

The party verifying should state, shortly, which paras he verifies of his own knowledge and which he believes to be true upon information.

INSUFFICIENT VERIFICATION.

“I affirm that the contents of the plaint are true to the extent of my knowledge and belief.” Held, insufficient. 16 A.W.N. 75. Y

16. The Court may ¹ at any stage ² of the proceedings order to be struck out or amended any matter in any pleading which may be unnecessary ³ or scandalous ⁴ or which may tend to prejudice, embarrass ⁵ or delay the fair trial of the suit.

Striking out pleadings.

O. XIX,
r. 27.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This is new. But may be compared to S. 53 (b) (2) of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“May.”

Application to be made by whom.

One or both of the parties may apply to the Court to exercise the power conferred by this rule. They must show that they are prejudiced by the irregularity. See Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, pp. 266, 277. W

2.—“At any stage.”

Power when to be exercised.

The power under this rule should be exercised promptly and before the judgment. 62 L.J. Ch. 342—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 266. X

3.—“Unnecessary.”

(1) Plaint containing matters already adjudicated upon.

If a plaint not only asks for relief, which a Court can afford, but seeks to open up matters already adjudicated upon, in another suit, the proper course is to amend the suit by striking off such issues, which have already been adjudicated upon. W.R. (F.B.), 41=Marsh 127=1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 44=1 Hay. 269. Y

(2) Plaint unnecessarily prolix.

A plaint, which is unnecessarily prolix or argumentative or which contains irrelevant matter, ought to be rejected by the Court, or to be returned for amendment. 8 W.R. 295. Z

(3) Harmful matter to be struck out.

The mere fact^a that a statement in the pleading is unnecessary will not justify the Court in striking it out. It must be harmful also. 84 L.T. Jo. 45; 57 L.T. 860; 3 R.P.C. 291—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 267. A.

4.—“ Scandalous.”(1) Disrespectful pleadings.

Pleadings disrespectful to the Court are scandalous, and ought to be expunged.
22 M. 155. B

(2) Misconduct.

If the statement in the pleadings imputes any—to the other party, it should be struck out. 49 L.T. 772; 55 L.T. 343; (1897) 1 Ch. 85—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 268. C

(3) Irrelevant matter.

Any matter by itself scandalous should be expunged, if they are not relevant. If they are relevant, it should be retained, but unnecessary details should not be given. 12 Sim. 963; L.R. 13 Eq. 443; 8 C.D. 653; 6 Q.B.D. 196; 45 L.J.C.P. 663; 1 Times Rep. 291; 94 L.T. Jo. 12; 27 W.R. 529—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 268. D

(4) Test.

The—to find out whether scandalous matter should be allowed, is to see if it would be admissible in evidence to prove any allegation, which is material for the relief prayed. L.R. 8 Ch. 499; 3 C.D. 376; 24 Q.B. D. 630—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 268. E

5.—“ Embarrass.”(A) Pleading will be embarrassing.

- (a) If the party does not clearly state how much he admits and how much he denies. 4 Times Rep. 574—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 268. F
- (b)—if the party does not clearly state if he is denying the facts, or is objecting to their validity in law. 4 C.P.D. 25—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 268. G
- (c)—if the defendant pleads jurisdiction generally, and not with reference to particulars. 23 Q.B.D. 388; 8 Times Rep. 58—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 269. H

(B) Pleading will not be embarrassing.

- (a)—if it is merely prolix. 2 Q.B.D. 630—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 269. I
- (b) A statement by the other party, that a particular statement is untrue, will not make the pleading embarrassing. 40 L.T. 544—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 269. J
- (c)—even if it contains any number of inconsistent defences. 33 C.D. 492; 3 Ex. D. 251 (255)—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 269. K
- (d)—if the pleading does not contain all the details, which are necessary. 4 Q.B.D. 139; 22 C.D. 481; 26 C.D. 778—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 269. L

17. The Court may at any stage of the proceedings ¹ allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings in such manner ² and on such terms as may be just ³, and all such amendments shall be made ⁴ as may be necessary for the purpose of determining the real questions in controversy between the parties.

Amendment of pleadings.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 53 (b) of Act XIV of 1882 but is more general and wide.

Difference between the old and new sections.

- (1) An amendment by the party may be allowed at any time according to the new rule whereas, according to the old section an amendment by the party can be allowed only before the settlement of issues.
- (2) The payment of costs by the party amending to the other party is obligatory in the old section which it is discretionary according to the new rule.
- (3) Again according to the old section making amendments is left to the discretion of the Court whereas according to this rule all amendments which are necessary for the determining the real question at issue should be made.
- (4) There is no provision in the old Code to amend a written statement. According to this rule both the plaint and written statement can be amended.
- (5) The words used in the present rule are "alter or amend" whereas the word "amend" only is used in the old section.
- (6) The new rule is more wide in that it leaves to the Court to decide on what terms the amendments should be allowed. Whereas according to the old rule the Court had power to decide only with regard to what costs the amending party was to pay.

General Principles.

- (1) The general rule is that any amendment allowed must be such as is either raised in the pleadings or is consistent with the case as originally laid, and that the state of facts and the equities raised and the grounds of relief originally alleged and pleaded should not be departed from. 11 M.I.A. 7; 14 C. 801=14 I.A. 168; 8 C. 871 (875); 5 A. 456=2 I.A. 100 (107); 23 W.R. 208; 10 W.R. 243, 10 B. 461=13 I.A. 66. M
- (2) Where, by the proposed amendment, no new claim is introduced, nor a claim founded on a new cause of action, and the opposite party is not prejudiced, an amendment of the plaint may be allowed. 9 C.W.N. 421=32 C. 582. N
- (3) The object of allowing amendments is to avoid multiplicity of suits. 25 C. 371. O
- (4) An amendment, which radically transforms the claim, cannot be made under S. 53, Act XIV of 1882 and certainly not in appeal. L.B.R. (1893-1900), p. 578. P
- (5) The direction in S. 53 of the old Act that an amendment should be made before the issues are framed is only directory and not mandatory. An amendment, which does not alter the cause of action, can be made at any time. Even if an amendment is made contrary to the terms of S. 53 of the old Act, if the amendment does not affect the merits of the case and the jurisdiction of the Court, it is only an irregularity which can be cured. 186 P.R. 1882. Q

General Principles.—(Concluded).

- (6) When parties are ignorant of their rights and of the law, considerable freedom ought to be allowed in the amendment of plaints. U.B.R. 1892-1896, p. 573. R
- (7) Amendments should not be allowed if it will affect the rights of third parties. 20 W.R. 17. S
- (8) When a new trial is granted under S. 21 of Act XI of 1865, the plaint can be amended. 110 P.R. 1892. T
- (9) The right to amend is discretionary. 27 M. 80. U
- (10) The amendment is in the discretion of the Court and not the right of the suitor in all circumstances. 21 B. 570. Y
- (11) The Court should exercise its discretion and pass an order on the petition for amendment. 1906 A.W.N. 220. W
- (12) Where a plaint is returned for amendment and the plaint is accordingly amended, it cannot afterwards be again returned for amendment. 2 A. 671. X
- (13) It is not intended by the Legislature that any necessary amendment should take any other form than that of an amendment in writing on the face of the plaint. 14 B. 581. Y
- (14) An amendment may be made on separate paper. 13 A.W.N. 225. Z
- (15) Amendments can be made by oral statements of the plaintiff or his agent. 7 P.R. 1896. A
- (16) The Court can examine the plaintiff's pleader to see if there are any grounds for amendment. 15 C. 533=15 I.A. 119. B
- (17) A plaint may be amended upon subsequent application, with reference to an objection taken when it was filed. Bourke O.O. 273. C
- (18) A defendant is bound by all amendments in pleadings and he is not entitled to any notice of amendments. 3 C.W.N. 375. D

1.—“The Court may at any stage....proceedings.”A.—Amendment by original Court.*(1) General principles.

- (f) An amendment, which will add the plea of fraud, should not be allowed. 9 Times Rep. 580; 50 L.J. Ch. 456; 34 W.R. 364; W.N. (1887), 107. Contra 14 P.D. 56—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 355. J
- (g) If a specific sum is claimed as damages, and the Jury find the amount of the damages to be more, the plaint should be amended. 16 Times Rep. p. 484; L.R. 9 Ex. 1; 2 Times Rep. 282; 10 Times Rep. 69—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 355. K
- (h) An amendment at the hearing can only be allowed, on payment of all the costs of the defendant. 62 L.T. p. 122; 1 O.D. 57; 2 Times Rep. 300; 44 C.D. p. 125; (1904) 2 Ch. 86—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 359. L
- (i) If an amendment is sought to be made at the hearing, the other side must be given time to meet the new case, if he asks for it. 2 Times Rep. 300—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 359. M
- (j) The Judge may sometimes require evidence that the party applying to amend could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered the new facts sooner. 38 C.D. 604—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 359. N

(1-a) At any time.

The Court has power to amend a plaint at any time, so long as it does not substitute a new cause of action. 66 P.R. 1873. O

(2) Before registration of plaint.

A plaint should not be returned for amendment before it is registered. 32 P.W.R. 1908. P

(3)¹ Before first hearing.

- (a) Amendment of plaint can be allowed only before first hearing. 7 A. 79. Q
- (b) In a suit for a declaration that certain alienations by the Karnavan of a Malabar tarwad were invalid, the suit should not be amended after the first hearing. 11 M. 106. R

(4) After settlement of issues.

- (a) The plaintiff sued alleging an adoption for recovery of property. With him was joined a daughter of the deceased as plaintiff who sought for the recovery of the same property as heir to the deceased in case the adoption was found not true. The suit was bad for misjoinder but could not be amended by the party after issues. A.W.N (1903), 240. S
- (b) Amendment of a plaint is not allowable after issues are framed. 5 W.R. 234. T
- (c) Amendment cannot be made by the parties after settlement of issues. 26 A. 218. U

(5) After judgment.

Amendment by a Court can be made only before its judgment and not after. 19 B. 303. Y

N.B.—It should be noted that under the present Code (O.VI, r. 17, supra), the Court may allow amendment at any stage of the proceedings.

1.—“The Court may at any stage . . . proceedings.”—(Concluded).B.—Amendment by first appellate Court.*(1) General principles.

- (a) An amendment ought not to be permitted on appeal, when it may create a necessity for fresh written statement and for fresh issues. 2 M.L.J. 29; 6 M.L.J. 189. W
- (b) A plaint cannot be amended in an appellate Court. 1 B.L.R.A.C. 212; 11 W.R. 40; 18 W.R. 424; 56 W.N. 273. X

EXAMPLES.

- (a) In a suit for arrears of rent, it having been found that there were other persons who were entitled to the rent, an amendment adding the other parties could not be made in appeal. 8 C. 277. Y
- (b) Suit for redemption cannot be amended into a suit for setting aside sale when the suit is before the appellate Court. 25 B. 337. But see the following cases.— Z
- (2) Amendment allowed.

- (a) The addition of a prayer ancillary to the principal one does not alter the character of the suit and such an amendment could be made even by the appellate Court. 5 C.W.N. 273. A
- (b) An appellate Court is competent, at any stage, to allow objections to be taken to a defect in plaint. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 212=11 W.R. 40. B

C.—Amendment on second appeal.

- (a) —allowed. 25 W.R. 425; 22 C. 692; 21 A.W.N. 39=23 A. 167; 20 M. 467. C
- (b) A plea of misjoinder, having been allowed by the first Court, and the suit having been decided, on appeal, against the decision of the first Court, the High Court, in second appeal, being of opinion that the first appellate Court ought to have returned the plaint for amendment, returned it to that Court, with a view to its being amended. 6 M. 239, diss.; 2 A. 669; 9 C. 695; 12 M. 481; 12 B. 158. D
- (c) Plaintiff not allowed to alter his case on second appeal. 9 C. 526=13 C.L.R. 114. E

D.—Amendment by Privy Council.

(N.B.) For other cases relating to addition of parties, etc., see cases under O. I, r. 10 (2) at pp. 88 to 97, supra.

B.—Starting or altering cases.

(1) Duty of Court.

- (a) The Court should guard against parties being taken by surprise by the starting of new cases in the progress of litigation. 28 M. 500. K
- (b) Amendments which bring in new causes of action should not be allowed. 1 N.W.P. 250; 18 B. 664. L
- (c) The Court should not make a new case for the plaintiff which he has not made for himself. 7 W.R. 478. M
- (d) The Court should not amend the pleadings so as to raise a different question. 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 118; 5 C. 64=4 C.L.R. 353.

EXAMPLE.

In a suit against the Secretary of State, an amendment substituting a new party and also a new cause of action was not allowed. 1 N.W.P. 118, Ed. 1878, 204. O

(2) Rights of parties.

The parties may, by consent, enlarge the claim and then include an additional cause of action. 7 A.W.N. 19=9 A. 229. P

(3) Omission to state date of cause of action.

An—can be supplied by stating it subsequently. 7 A.W.N. 354; 3 Agra 33, 218. Q

EXAMPLE.

Where the date of the commencement of the kabuliyat is not given, the plaint should be amended. B.L.R. (F.B.), 974=10 W.R. (F.B.), 14.R

(4) Insufficient disclosure of cause of action.

- (a) Where the plaint does not sufficiently disclose the cause of action, and a cause of action exists, the proper course is to amend the plaint. Where, in a particular case, the plaintiff is not allowed to amend, he is at liberty to prove any cause of action, which is not inconsistent with the plaint. 12 W.R. 313. S
- (b) If there is not sufficient disclosure of cause of action in the plaint, the plaint should be amended. U.B.R. (1892-1896), p. 251. T

EXAMPLES.

- (i) Where in a suit for misappropriated property or for value, the plaint omitted to state that there was a demand and refusal of the property, the plaintiff was allowed to amend the plaint by supplying the omission. 7 M.H.C. 400. U
- (ii) Where the plaintiff, by his right of inheritance, sued for the recovery of a certain sum of money, and the defendant alleged a sale of such right to himself, the plaint was allowed to be amended so as to state that the sale was invalid owing to the fraud of the defendant. 6 B. 309. But see the next case. Y

B.—Starting or altering cases.—(Concluded).

- (iii) Suit for malicious prosecution. Plaintiff sued the first defendant for prosecuting, and second defendant for sanctioning the prosecution. There was no allegation in the plaint that the first defendant prosecuted him maliciously and without any reasonable or probable cause. The plaint could not be amended by inserting such an allegation. 10 B.H.C. 182. W

(5) Misstatement of cause of action.

Plaint can be amended if there is a mistake in the statement of the cause of action. 68 P.R. 1886; 7 N.W.P. 354; 11 W.R. 223; 12 W.R. 313; 11 W.R. 223.

(6) Wrong date of cause of action.

- (a) Where a wrong date is given in the plaint, it should be ordered to be amended by giving the right date. 7 N.W.P. 354; 21 A.W.N. 140; 7 M.H.C. 364; but see the following case :— Y

- (b) In a suit for recovery of debt attached, the debt was wrongly described as due under an agreement of one date instead of another. An amendment correcting the date could not be made. 7 C.W.N. 651=30 C. 699. Z

(7) Suit on a mortgage.

In a—, the defendant denied the specific mortgage but admitted another mortgage of a different date. The plaint was amended so as to make it a suit upon the admitted mortgage. 17 B. 365; 5 B.L.R. 643; 4 B. 584; see contra, 18 A. 403 and 18 M. 462. A

(8) Suit on a sale-deed.

In a suit on the sale-deed it was recited that for a certain portion of the purchase money the defendant would execute a bond. This recital was allowed to be amended into a promise by the defendant to pay the money at a certain place a few days hence. S.C. 120. B

C.—Changing character of suit.

(1) General principles.

- (a) Where a suit, if tried as of one character, e.g., a suit for use and occupation, would, if amended into one of another character (e.g.) a suit for rent, involve issues of an entirely different character from those on which the first suit proceeded and would necessitate a new trial of the case upon fresh evidence, an amendment ought not to be allowed. 22 C. 752 (756); 13 B.L.R. 243=21 W.R. 208; 11 M.I.A. 7 (20); Marshal 70. C
- (b) An amendment inconsistent with the original claim should not be made, a year after the institution of the suit. 3 C.L.J. 306=10 C.W.N. 738. D
- (c) If a Court allows a plaint to be so altered as to convert a suit of one character into a suit of another and inconsistent character, it acts ultra vires. S.C. 92. E

1. —AMENDMENTS ALLOWED.

- (q) A suit for enhancement of rent for specific share of land can be amended into one for enhancement of plaintiff's share of the rent. 10 W.R. 362. Q

D.—Granting of additional relief.

(1) General principles.

- (a) The addition of a prayer ancillary to the principal one does not alter the character of the suit and such an amendment could be made even by the appellate Court. 5 C.W.N. 273. R
- (b) When a Court finds that a plaintiff claims only a minor relief, when he is entitled to the major relief, in order to evade Court-fees, it should compel the plaintiff to amend the plaint by including the major relief. 21 T.L.R. 1. S

2.—“In such manner.”—(Continued).D.—Granting of additional relief.—(Concluded).

- (c) The Court can permit such amendment, as may enable it to give relief in respect of the original cause of action. 1 N.W.P. 171, Ed. 1873, 250.T

EXAMPLES.I.—ADDITIONAL RELIEF ALLOWED.

- (1) In a suit for recovery of money received for plaintiff, the plaint was amended by adding an additional prayer for account. 9 B. 355. U
- (2) In a suit upon a will and for administration where the plaintiff's right to ask for administration depended upon the invalidity of an adoption, there being no prayer that the adoption should be declared invalid, such a prayer was allowed to be added. 5 C.W.N. 162. Y
- (3) In a suit for possession by the mortgagee, the plaint can be amended by the addition of prayer for a money decree, if the possession could not be granted. 131 P.R. 1883. W
- (4) In a suit for mutation of names in a Revenue Register, the plaint could be amended by adding a prayer for a declaration of the plaintiff's right. 2 L.B.R. 4; 2 L.B.R. 243. X
- (5) In a suit for declaration when the suit was not sustainable for want of prayer for consequential relief, a prayer for injunction could be added even at a late stage. 29 B. 19. Y
- (6) A plaintiff, who has been ousted after suit brought for declaration of title, should be allowed to amend the plaint by adding a prayer for possession. 2 M. 295. Z
- (7) Where a purchaser of a mortgage-bond sued to enforce the bond, but did not pray for sale of the mortgaged property, he was allowed to add a prayer for such relief. 20 C. 805. A
- (8) A suit should not be dismissed by the appellate Court on the ground of its asking only for a declaration of title without consequential relief, where this objection is not taken by the defendants, the plaintiffs should be given an opportunity to amend the plaint. 13 B. 548. B

II.—ADDITIONAL RELIEF NOT ALLOWED.

- (1) After a suit for declaration that certain alienations by a Hindu widow were invalid was filed, the widow died. An amendment adding a prayer for possession could not be made. 12 M. 136. C
- (2) A suit was brought in a Munsiff's Court to declare that a certain land was liable to be sold in execution of a decree for more than Rs. 2,500. It could not be amended by the plaintiff withdrawing his claim to execute the decree against the land for more than Rs. 2,500. 10 M. 152. D

E.—Changing relief.I.—AMENDMENT ALLOWED.

- (1) Where plaintiff sued for redemption of a mortgage, he should not be given possession without his paying the mortgage amount, because the defendant denied the mortgage. 6 B.H.C.A.C. 9. E
- (2) The plaintiff the mortgagee of the defendant's mortgage interest sued for the sale of such interest. In second appeal the prayer for sale of mortgage interest was amended into a prayer for sale of the mortgage property. 25 A. 46. F

2.—“In such manner.”—(Continued).E.—Changing relief.—(Concluded).*II.—AMENDMENT NOT ALLOWED.

Where a plaintiff, in a suit for pre-emption, alleged that the property was sold for a less price than what was mentioned in the sale-deed and offered to pre-empt on paying the smaller price, he was not allowed to amend his plaint by offering to pay any sum, the Court may find, the vendor got for the property. 1 A. 591. G

F.—Changing ground of relief.I.—AMENDMENT ALLOWED.

Plaintiff brought a suit for a share in two houses as heir to his wife. The suit was amended into a claim for the whole of the two houses on the ground of his purchase benami in his wife's name. 1907 A.W.N. 203. H

II.—AMENDMENT NOT ALLOWED.

- (1) In a suit to set aside an alienation on the ground that the alienor was an illegitimate son of the plaintiff's grandfather the suit could not be amended to state that the alienation was bad because under the Mitakshara Law the owner of a share in joint property cannot alienate his share. 6 B.L.R. 555=14 W.R. 386. I
- (2) A suit was brought to declare that a certain mortgage decree against the father was not binding on the sons on the ground that the debt was contracted for an immoral purpose. An amendment that the sons were divided from the father when the decree was passed, was not allowed. 12 B. 431. J
- (3) Plaintiffs sued a company upon a contract. In order to contend that a certain faction of the directors of the company was ultra vires, the plaintiffs sought to amend the plaint by stating that they were also shareholders of the company. The amendment was not allowed. 6 B. 266. K
- (4) The plaintiff sued for newly formed land on the ground that the new land was in extension of an old land belonging to her. This claim could not be amended into a claim that the land belonged to her as she was the owner of the bed of the river as zemindar. 22 M. 464=26 I.A. 107. L
- (5) Where a plaintiff sued to enforce a right of pre-emption founded on a certain agreement, he could not amend the plaint basing his claim on a custom. 1 A. 563; 1 A. 567, contra 7 A.W.N. 28. M
- (6) Suit for rent by one of the co-sharer landlords cannot be amended into one for rent by him on behalf of all the landlords for the whole of the rent. 6 C.W.N. 326. N
- (7) In a suit for the recovery of a sum paid to a man, after a compromise by Official Assignee, which payment the Court did not authorize, the plaintiff alleged that the payment was fraudulently kept from the knowledge of the Official Assignee. When it was proved that Official Assignee knew of the payment, the plaintiff sought, but he was not allowed, to amend his plaint by stating that even if the Official Assignee knew of it, it was not binding on him as it was a fraud upon the Court. 11 B. 620=14 I.A. 11 (P.C.) O

G.—Claiming alternative relief.

(1) General principle.

Where the plaintiff has not put forward an alternative case as he might have done, owing to misinformation, ignorance of law or fact, mistake or misconstruction of documents, he might be allowed to amend his plaint. 9 B.H.C. 1 : contra 7 B. 155. P

EXAMPLES.

- (i)-A suit for the recovery of enhanced rent on a kabuliyat can be amended, when the kabuliyat is not proved, into one for the recovery of rent at the old rent even if no alternative case is put forth. 8 C. 926. Q
- (ii) A suit for possession on the ground of survivorship can be amended by adding an alternative prayer that if the undivided status is not proved, the plaintiff was entitled as a preferential heir. 8 O.C. 266 ; but see next case. R

(2) Suit upon a will.

Where a claim was based on the invalidity of a will, an amendment stating that even if the will was valid it did not dispose of the whole of the property of the testator was not allowed. 7 B. 155. S

H.—Raising new issues.

General principle.

The Court is bound to raise new issues if those issues are supported by the facts of the case and does not come upon the parties as a surprise. 2 Hyde. 268. T

EXAMPLES.

- (1) The plaintiff sued on a contract to sell indigo seed to the defendants. The contract was not proved but a contract that the plaintiffs should buy as agents for defendants was proved. The suit could be amended by framing an additional issue as to the latter agreement. 6 B.L.R. 273 = 14 W.R. 181. U
- (2) Where a suit was instituted under Act V of 1866 on two promissory notes, and when leave to appear was given to the defendant and statements were filed by both parties which disclosed that the consideration of the pro-notes were some items in an account, an additional issue was given as to the amount due in respect of the consideration for the notes, and the plaint also was amended accordingly. 9 B.L.R. 441 = 18 W.R. 424. Y

I.—Formal defects.

(1) General principles.

- (a) It is the intention of the Legislature that all matters in dispute between the same parties should be disposed of in the same suit. The proviso to S. 53 of the old Act should not interfere with this principle. 25 C. 371 = 2 C.W.N. 18, 201. Cf. O.VI, r. 17 and S. 153 of the new Code which give to Courts wider powers of discretion in matters of amendment. W
- (b) A defect on the face of the plaint, which would have rendered it inadmissible, is not a matter of amendment at the final hearing of the suit. 3 M.H.C. 372. X

(2) Bona fide mistake.

An amendment should not be allowed save when the plaintiff has an honest case, and by some mistake or misapprehension has failed to put things properly before the Court. 16 W.R. 123 ; 8 C. 871 ; but not when the plaintiff is acting mala fide. S.C. 261. Y

2.—“In such manner.”—(Continued).

(3) Boundaries.

In a suit for possession if the boundaries of the land sought to be recovered is not described, the plaint should be amended. 21 W.R. 187. Z

(4) Defective verification.

—must be corrected by an amendment of the plaint. 16 A.W.N. 102=18 A. 396; 57 P.R. 1904; but not want of verification of plaint. 16 A.W.N. 75. A

(5) Deficiency in extent.

Where there is a deficiency in extent, the proper course is to amend the plaint. 17 A. 288=15 A.W.N. 80. B

(6) Document on which suit is based.

A suit based on accounts, having been registered, was dismissed for failure of the plaintiff to produce, in Court, the original account book, for comparison with the copy extract of account accompanying the plaint. Held, the dismissal was wrong and that the proper procedure was by amendment of the plaint. 22 B. 971; so, also, where the original document, on which the plaint is based, was not produced along with the plaint. 2 B.H.C.R. 369. C

(7) Doubtful meaning.

If there is any doubt as to the meaning of the plaint, it should be amended. 42 P.R. 1874. D

(8) Error.

A plaint should be amended if it does not contain a specification of the land sued for and if there is error in the description of defendants' residence. 6 B.L.R. Ap. 84=14 W.R. 474. E

(9) Form.

If the suit is not in proper form, the suit should be amended. 2 Hay. 351. F

(10) Inconsistency.

Where there is absolute inconsistency between a statement in the plaint and a statement made by the plaintiff under examination, on a material point, the plaint should be amended. L.B.R. 1893-1900, p. 337. G

(11) Insufficiency of stamp.

Whenever there is a deficiency of stamp the pleadings should be amended by supplying the deficiency. 6 N.W.P. 139; 15 M. 29; contra 12 A. 129; 18 C. 445; 2 A.L.J. 55=1905 A.W.N. 12=27 A. 411; 123 P.R. 1907=82 P.W.R. 1907. H

(12) Language of plaint.

If a plaint is not in the language of the Court, it should be amended. 8 W.R. 495; W.R. (F.B.), 159. I

(12-a) Issues, wording of.

The substance, and not the mere wording of the issues, should be regarded. If, by some cause or other, the recorded issues do not enable the Court to try the whole case on the merits, an opportunity should be afforded by amendment, and, if need be, by adjournment, for the decision of the real points in dispute. 6 M.I.A. 393 (411). J

2.—“In such manner.”—(Concluded).

I.—Formal defects.—(Concluded).

(13) Misjoinder.

Where a plea of misjoinder was allowed by the lower Court and the suit decided on merits; the lower Court, failing which, the appellate Court, should return the plaint for amendment. 6 M. 239. K

(14) Plaint signed by unauthorised person.

— is void ab initio and cannot be amended by the plaintiff signing it. 14 A.W.N. 95. L

(15) Prolixity in plaint.

If there is—, it should be amended. See W.R. (F.B.), 41=Marsh 127=1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 44=1 Hay. 209, reported under O. VI, r. 16. M

(16) Unsigned plaint.

A plaint, which is not signed by the party, can be amended by getting the signature of the party. 6 M.L.J. 213; contra, 19 A.W.N. 55. N

(17) Wrong Act, suit under.

When a suit is brought under a wrong Act, the plaint should be amended. 19 W.R. 61. O

(18) Wrong description.

Amendment should be allowed where the defendant is wrongly described. 12 B.L.R. 443. P

(N.B.) See 27 M. 80 and 9 A. 188=7 A.W.N. 17, where plaints were not allowed to be amended for formal defects.

J.—Limitation.

General principle.

(a) An amendment should not be allowed which will have the effect of depriving the defendant of the plea of limitation. 1 N.L.R. 117; 2 N.L.R. 79. Q

(b) A plaint barred by time cannot be so amended so as to bring the claim within time. 10 Bom. L.R. 969. R

(c) A Court is not precluded from returning a plaint for amendment, because at the time it is returned for amendment the period of limitation for the suit might have expired. 17 A. 288. S

18. If a party who has obtained an order for leave to amend O. XXVII
r. 7.

Failure to amend after order.

does not amend accordingly within the time limited for that purpose by the order¹, or if no time is thereby limited then within fourteen days from the date of the order, he shall not be permitted to amend after the expiration of such limited time as aforesaid or of such fourteen days, as the case may be, unless the time is extended by the Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 53 (b) and 54 (d) of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Act.

(a) In the present rule words "or if no time..date of the order" are newly added.

(b) According to the old section if the amendment is not made within the time allowed, then the plaint should be rejected.

According to this rule the amendment should not be allowed but the suit may go on as it is.

1.—"Within the time....order."

(1) Extension of time.

(a) The Judge has discretion to extend the time, even after the time originally fixed expires. 9 M.L.J. 348; 16 B. 263; 4 O.C. 108; contra 23 A. 423. T

(b) Where there is a defect in the verification, the plaint should be amended. If the plaint is not amended within the time allowed, then it should be rejected. 57 P.R. 1904. U

(2) Unauthorized amendment.

If the party makes—, the other party must apply to have the amendments disallowed with costs. W.N. (1879), 175—Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 354. Y

(3) Costs.

Costs can be allowed to the defendant if the plaint is rejected. 28 C. 567. W

ORDER VII.

2.—“Name.....of the plaintiff.”—(Concluded).(4) Company, suit by.

(a) In a suit by a Company, the manager of it cannot be the plaintiff. 12 C. 41.B

(b) Suit by unincorporated and unregistered companies, should be brought in the names of its members. 20 A. 167. C

(5) Firm, suit by.

In a suit by a firm, the names of the partners should be named as plaintiffs and not the name of the firm. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 904; 9 W.R. 190; 25 W.R. 118. D

(6) Official liquidator.

An——cannot be a plaintiff on behalf of a company in liquidation. 17 A. 292 =15 A.W.N. 81; 9 A. 188; 18 A. 198. E

(7) Official assignee.

An——suing, must himself appear as plaintiff and not his recognised agent. 2 N.W.P. 179. F

3.—“Description....of the plaintiff.”(1) General.

The full description should be given, such as age, father's name, caste, etc. 7 M.L.J. 81. G

(2) Objections to description of parties.

All objections to the description of parties, should be taken at the first hearing. 7 C. 594, p. 602. H

(3) Effect of misdescription.

(a) A mere misdescription of the plaintiff is no ground for dismissing the suit. 17 W.R. 17. I

(b) A suit by a major in which the next friend is the plaintiff must be dismissed. 17 A.W.N. 203. J

4.—“Place of residence of the plaintiff.”

In big towns, the name of the street and the number of the house in which the plaintiff lives, must be given. 4 C.L.R. 366. K

5.—“Name (of the defendant).”(1) Agent.

In a suit against the proprietor of an estate, the proprietor's name and not the agent's name, should appear as the defendant. 4 Agra 127. L

(2) Company, suit against.

In a suit against an unregistered Company, if the plaintiff does not know the names of the partners, he can sue the firm, alleging in his plaint his ignorance. 8 W.R. 45; contra 21 A. 346. M

(3) Contract by a club.

In a suit on a——, the members of the club should be the defendants. 20 A. 497. N

(4) Corporation.

The——and not the agent, should be sued. 2 B.L.R. S.N. 6; 10 W.R. 366; 15 W.R. 534; 14 B. 286. O

(5) Firm, suit against.

In a suit against a firm, the partners should be described as defendant. 1 B.H.C. 85.

6.—“Description (of the defendant).”(1) Titles.

When the Government has recognized a person, as being entitled to certain titles, he should be described by those titles. 12 B.L.R. (P.C.), 443=18 W.R. 301. Q

(2) Effect of misdescription.

When the defendant is not described by his title, and it is shown that the right man is sued, the plaint need not be amended by adding the title. 12 B.L.R. 445 (note)=12 W.R. 450. R

7.—“Place of residence of the defendant.”Ignorance of the defendant's address.

It is not enough if the defendant's former address and place of residence is given. If the plaintiff does not know where the defendant is, he must allege his ignorance in the plaint. 4 C.L.R. 366. S

8.—“Plaintiff.”Mother suing as guardian.

It is not absolutely necessary for the mother to describe herself as guardian in the plaint, when she sues on behalf of her minor son. 17 W.R. 144; 12 C. 48. T

9.—“Cause of action.”(1) Definition, construction, etc., of the term ‘cause of action.’

(a) Cause of action means the bundle of essential facts which it is necessary for the plaintiff to prove, before he can succeed in the case. 30 B. 167; 7 Bom. L.R. 925; 7 Bom. L.R. 20=29 B. 368; 6 C.W.N. 585 at 588; 31 C. 274; 12 M.L.J. 103=25 M. 786; 27 M. 494; 13 M.L.J. 448; 6 Bom. L.R. 1038; 1 N.L.R. 4; 8 O.O. 389; 1 P.R. 1905; 34 C. 668. U

(b) An assertion or denial of a right in a written statement does not give rise to a cause of action. A cause of action must be antecedent to any allegation made in the pleadings. 8 C.W.N. p. 415; 9 C.W.N. 928; 28 C. 223; 9 C.W.N. 25 (31). Y

(c) A party must show due right or interest in the subject-matter of the suit, in order to be able to complain. 2 N.W.P. 41; 15 W.R. 106. W

(d) The plaint must include all the existing grounds on which the plaintiff can succeed. 20 W.R. 482; 2 C. 152; 8 C. 483 (501). X

(e) The plaint must not contain arguments. 8 W.R. 296. Y

(f) It is enough if there is sufficient disclosure of action, and if the defendant has understood the claim rightly, though the cause of action is not correctly set out, 25 M. 50=11 M.L.J. 125. Z

(g) The schedule annexed to the plaint, cannot disclose a cause of action not revealed in the plaint. Bourke O.C. 8=Cor. 94; 2 Ind. Jur. 117. A

(h) If the cause of action is not distinctly stated, the plaintiff or his pleader, may be examined to make the cause of action appear clear. 3 Agra 162; 15 W.R. 286. B

(i) The plea of non-existence of cause of action may be raised, for the first time, on appeal. 41 P.R. 1873; contra 3 M.H.C. 157; 7 W.R. 486. C

9.—“Cause of action.”—(Continued).

(2) Effect of misstatement of cause of action.

A.—SUIT TO BE DISMISSED.

- (a) A plaint, which simply stated that the cause of action arose previous to a certain date, was removed from the file. 8 B.L.R. Ap. 23. D
- (b) If the plaint is intentionally made to be indistinct, the Court can dismiss the suit. 20 W.R. 147; 11 W.R. 273. E

Grounds of exemption from limitation law.

6. Where the suit is instituted after the expiration of the period prescribed by the law of limitation, the plaint shall show the ground upon which exemption from such law is claimed ¹.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the sixth para of S. 50 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words “where.....of” in the new Act have been substituted for the words “if the.....beyond” in the old Act.
- (2) The words “prescribed.....limitation” in the new Act have been substituted for the words “ordinarily.....suit” in the old Act.
- (3) The word “shall” in the new Act has been substituted for the word “must” in the old Act.

(General).

A plaintiff cannot take advantage of any ground of exemption from limitation which he has not pleaded in his plaint. 8 C.W.N. 171=31 C. 195 ; 17 M.L.J. 281 ; contra 10 Bom. L.R. 346. Q

1.—“The plaint shall show.....ground upon which exemption.....is claimed.”

Appeal.

The Court refused to allow a question of acknowledgment of liability to be raised, for the first time, in appeal. 6 C.W.N. 218 ; 9 C.W.N. 56. R

7. Every plaintiff shall state specifically the relief which the plaintiff claims either simply or in the alternative¹, and it shall not be necessary to ask for general or other relief which may always be given as the Court may think just to the same extent as if it had been asked for². And the same rule shall apply to any relief claimed by the defendant in his written statement.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule is new.

(1) General principles.

- (a) As a general rule, the plaintiff is not entitled to reliefs not founded on pleadings; but where, on the pleadings, the issues and the evidence, the relief is clear, the general rule does not apply. 6 Bom. L.R. 288. S
- (b) Reliefs not founded on the pleadings and not prayed for, may be granted, if they touch matters in issue and in evidence. 21 A. 53=2 C.W.N. 681. T
- (c) If the prayer of the plaint does not accurately describe the relief sought, that is no reason for refusing to give the plaintiff redress. 1904 A.W.N. 174 (182, 184)=1 A.L.J. 435=27 A. 97 (F.B.), at p. 122. U
- (d) A plaintiff need not ask for all the reliefs he is entitled to. 6 Bom. L.R. 475=28 B. 567. Y

1.—“State specifically the relief..or in the alternative.”(1) Amendment of plaint.

Omission to claim reliefs in the alternative, can be remedied by subsequent amendment of the plaint, if the reliefs are not inconsistent. 9 B.H.C. 1; 7 B. 155; 5 C. 692=5 C.L.R. 455. W

(2) Inconsistent pleas.

- (a) Two—cannot be put forward to get a further measure of relief. 6 Bom. L.R. 790; 1904 A.W.N. 38=26 A. 381. X
- (b) A party, praying for a relief inconsistent with a previous sale, must pray to set it aside. 25 B. 337=27 I.A. 216=5 C.W.N. 10 (P.G.). Y

2.—“....it shall not be necessary to ask for general....relief....for.”(1) General prayer.

- (a) When the plaint contains a statement of all the material circumstances, but the prayer is inartistically framed, the Court should, if there is a prayer for further relief, give the plaintiff the appropriate relief. 2 C.L.J. 173. Z
- (b) A—for “any other relief” must be taken to mean some relief arising out of the cause of action set forth in the plaint. 1904 A.W.N. 207=1 A.L.J. 628=27 A. 174. A
- (c) Upon a—, a plaintiff is not entitled to any relief, which is inconsistent with his plaint. 5 B.L.R. 632; 7 W.R. 145. B

2.—“....it shall not be necessary to ask for general....relief....for.”

—(Continued).

(d) A——for relief on behalf of one plaintiff cannot be construed to enable the Court to give relief to the other plaintiffs. 8 C.W.N. 408=31 C. 433. C

(e) Even though the relief granted is quite different from that asked for, the decree should not be disturbed in appeal, if substantial justice is done. 7 W.R. 180. D

(2) Declaratory relief.

Where the plaintiff claimed a declaratory relief with respect to one half of the suit property, the Court could give, under the general prayer, a declaratory relief for the whole of the property. 26 P.W.R. 1907. E

(3) Surplus relief.

If a plaintiff asks for a relief which the Court cannot give, the prayer for such relief may be treated as a mere surplusage. 10 C. 525. F

(4) False allegation.

Where the plaintiff falsely alleges that he is in possession and asks only for a declaration, a relief for possession should not be given him. 31 C. 319 (331); 1903 A.W.N. 64=25 A. 337. G

(5) Injunction.

The plaintiff sued for an injunction, restraining the defendant from obstructing him from building in a lane, which he claimed as his property. On finding that the lane is not the property of the plaintiff, the Court could not give a relief on the ground of easement. 15 M. 489. H

8. Where the plaintiff seeks relief in respect of several distinct

Relief founded on claims or causes of action founded upon separate separate grounds. and distinct grounds, they shall be stated as far as may be separately and distinctly.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

(1) The plaintiff shall endorse on the plaint, or annex thereto, a list of the documents (if any) which he has produced along with it; and, if the plaint is admitted, shall present as many copies on plain paper of the plaint as there are defendants, unless the Court by reason of the length of the plaint or the number of the defendants, or for any other sufficient reason, permits him to present a like number of concise statements of the nature of the claim made, or of the relief claimed in the suit, in which case he shall present such statements.

(2) Where the plaintiff sues, or the defendant or any of the defendants is sued, in a representative capacity, such statements shall show in what capacity the plaintiff or defendant sues or is sued.

(3) The plaintiff may, by leave of the Court, amend such statements so as to make them correspond with the plaint.

(4) The chief ministerial officer of the Court shall sign such list and copies or statements if, on examination, he finds them to be correct.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 58 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words " memorandum " and " be " in the old Act are substituted by the words " list " and " is " in the new Act.

The last para of S. 58 is omitted in the new Act.

10. (1) The plaintiff shall at any stage of the suit be returned to be presented to the Court in which the suit should have been instituted ¹.

(2) On returning a plaint the Judge shall endorse thereon the date of its presentation and return, the name of the party presenting it, and a brief statement of the reasons for returning it.

Old Act.

Sub-rule (1).

This sub-rule corresponds to para 1, S. 57 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "at any stage" are newly added in the new Act.
- (2) The words "to the proper Court" in the old Act are replaced by the words "to the Court in which the suit should have been instituted."
- (3) The new Act is made more wide by omitting cls. (a), (b), and (c) of the old Act.

Sub-rule (2).

This corresponds to the last para of S. 57 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words, "with his own hand" in the old Act, are omitted in the new Act.

Suits on lost negotiable instruments.

as it would have passed if the plaintiff had produced the instrument in Court when the plaint was presented, and had at the same time delivered a copy of the instrument to be filed with the plaint.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 61 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "in the case of," "if it be" and "make" in the old Act are replaced by the words "where," "and it is" and "pass" in the new Act, respectively.

Lost cheque.

When the endorsee of a lost cheque sues the endorser for the value of it, or for a duplicate of the lost cheque, the drawer of the cheque also should be made a party and the plaint should be so amended. 2 A. 754. G

17. (1) Save in so far as is otherwise provided by the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891 (XVIII of 1891), where Production of shop-book. the document on which the plaintiff sues is an entry in a shop-book or other account, in his possession or power, the plaintiff shall produce the book or account at the time of filing the plaint, together with a copy of the entry on which he relies.

(2) The Court, or such officer as it appoints in this behalf, shall Original entry to be marked and returned. forthwith mark the document for the purpose of identification¹; and, after examining and comparing the copy with the original², shall, if it is found correct, certify it to be so and return the book to the plaintiff and cause the copy to be filed.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 62 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "save in....(XVIII of 1891)" are newly added.
- (2) The words "if" and "book" in the old Act are replaced by the words "where" and "account" in the new Act.
- (3) The words "or other account" are newly added.
- (4) The words "attesting the copy" are omitted.

General.

The Code does not require the Judge to inspect the document. It only requires that it should be marked for identification. 3 B.H.C. 92. H

2.—"Examining....original."

Extract from account books.

Where a copy of extract from account books was annexed with the plaint, but the copy was not compared and verified by the production of the original account books, the plaintiff will not be able to put in that account book, without the special leave of the Judge. 22 B. 971. I

18. (1) A document which ought to be produced in Court by the plaintiff when the plaint is presented, or to be entered in the list to be added or annexed to the plaint, and which is not produced or entered accordingly, shall not, without the leave of the Court, be received in evidence on his behalf at the hearing of the suit.

(2) Nothing in this rule applies to documents produced for cross-examination of the defendant's witnesses, or in answer to any case set up by the defendant or handed to a witness merely to refresh his memory.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 63 of Act XIV of 1882.

General principles.

- (1) The rule is enacted to prevent fraud by the late production of suspicious documents, and not to shut out formal evidence beyond suspicion, such as certified copies of public documents. 12 C.W.N. 312. J
- (2) Giving a document to a witness to refresh his memory, is not receiving the document in evidence. 1 M H.C. 168. K
- (3) The penalty for non-production of a document along with the plaint is its non-admission later on, and not the dismissal of the suit. 2 B.H.C. 369, 391 ; 22 B. 971. L

ORDER VIII.

WRITTEN STATEMENT AND SET-OFF.

1. The defendant ¹ may, and, if so required by the Court, shall, at or before the first hearing or within such time as the Court may permit ², present ³ a written statement ⁴ of his defence.

Written statement.

(Notes)

Old Act.

S. 110 of Act XIV of 1882 corresponds to this rule.

S. 110—“The parties may, at any time before or at the first hearing of the suit, tender written statements of their respective cases, and the Court shall receive such statements and place them on the record.”

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the words “parties,” “at any time before or at the first hearing of the suit,” “tender,” and “of their respective cases” the words “defendant,” “at or before the first hearing,” “present,” and “of his defence” have been substituted respectively in the new Act.
- (2) The words “and the Court shall receive such statements and place them on the record” have not been inserted in the new Act.
- (3) The words “and, if so required by the Court, shall” after the word “may” and the words “or within such time as the Court may permit,” after the word “hearing” have been newly inserted in the present Act.

“1.—The defendant.”

Verifying and filing of a written statement by a third party.

A third party will not be allowed to verify and file a written statement on behalf of a party in the suit, and a Court has no authority to allow it. Bourke O.C. 153 ; 25 W.R. 17. Z

2.—“At or before....as the Court may permit.”A.—Permission of Court.

- (1) Ss. 120 and 122 of the C.P.C. of 1859 do not permit of the admission of the written statements of different parties on various dates except when specially called for by the Court, because the word ‘before’ did not occur in the Code of 1859. W.R. (1864), p. 44. A
- (2) If the defendant neglects to furnish a written statement, he should be first examined by the Court, and then if the Court considers that a written statement should be put in, it should adjourn the case for that purpose at the cost of the defendant. 2 Hyde. 89. B

B.—Time for filing written statement.

- (1) Reasonable time should be given to the defendant to file his written statement. 5 W.R. 39. C
- (2) Supplemental written statements cannot be filed, after the parties have entered upon the trial of the suit. 4 B. 576. D
- (3) Under C.P.C. a plaintiff cannot file a written statement by way of rejoinder, after having seen the written statement of the defendants. 5 W.R. 56. E

3.—“Present.”

For the word ‘present’ the word formerly used in the Code of 1859 was ‘tender,’ which is commented upon in 10 B.H.O.R. 425. F

4.—“A written statement.”A.—Construction of a written statement.

A written statement like any other document must be construed with reference to the entire document, and not merely to parts of it, in order to ascertain what defence it contains. S.C. 264. G

B.—Contents of a written statement.Irrelevant matter.

- (1) Where matters irrelevant and improper were found in the written statement, the Court ordered it to be taken off the file with leave to file a fresh one. 3 B.L.R. Ap. 12. H
- (2) The test of ‘Relevancy’ is not whether it discloses a good defence, but whether the defendant believes it to be material to his case. 10 B.H.O. 425. I
- (3) An offer without prejudice being an irrelevant matter should be omitted from the written statement by the Court. 12 B.L.R. Ap. 19. J
- (4) The Court can take a written statement off the file for irrelevancy, until it is ‘tendered,’ which is, when it is produced at the hearing of the suit. 10 B.H.O. 425. K

C.—Court-fee on a written statement.

- (1) A written statement tendered by a party at the proper time, or called for by the Court after the first hearing, is not liable to any Court-fee. 5 B. 400; 12 C.L.R. 307. L
- (2) A written statement claiming a set-off, under S. 111, C.P.C., need not bear Court-fee stamps. 13 B. 672; 8 A. 396 and 15 M. 29, dissenting from. 2 L.B.R. 186. M

4.—“A written statement.”—(Continued).

D.—Evidentiary value of a written statement.

General.

- (1) A written statement is not evidence so as to dispense with the defendant's proving the facts stated in it. 12 W.R. 39; 7 W.R. 493; 5 W.R. 50 (51), 16 W.R. 257. N
- (2) Where a party makes a qualified statement, the statement cannot be used against him apart from the qualification. 1 B.L.R. A.C. 133=10 W.R. 190, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 904=9 W.R. 90 (overruling 1 W.R. 24); 9 W.R. 130; 22 W.R. 220; 9 W.R. 290; 7 W.R. 29. O
- (3) Any one of a series of unqualified independent statements in a written statement may be used against the party. 1 B.L.R.A.C. 133 (137). P
- (4) A written statement can only bind the party who makes it and those who are bound by it. 5 W.R. 50. Q
- (5) An admission in the written statement by one defendant does not bind the others. 5 W.R. 50; 6 A. 395, 7 A. 353; 16 C. 627 (635). R
- (6) As against the party affected, his written statement primarily operates by way of admission and not estoppel. 14 B. 78 (82); 13 I.A. 32 (42); 10 C. 196; 11 C. 111. S
- (7) From the non-denial in a written statement of an allegation made in the plaint against a defendant, the plaint allegation should be presumed true. 26 B. 735. T
- (8) A written statement could be treated as an acknowledgment for the purposes of limitation. 24 M. 361. U
- (9) If a person has notice of a fact contained in a written statement filed in a case, he is fixed with it; and it is immaterial that the written statement was thrown out. 6 Bom. L.R. 284. Y
- (10) Where a defendant's written statement is referred to as evidence in plaintiff's favour, the Court should take the whole statement as evidence, and attach what value it can to the whole or portions of it. 9 W.R. 290. W
- (11) When a defendant admits any one fact in the written statement of the plaintiff and thereby excludes independent evidence of it, he cannot go further, and claim that the whole statement should be read as evidence in his favour. 16 W.R. 257. X

EXAMPLES.

- (1) In a suit by plaintiff for possession of a house, purchased from defendant, defendant pleaded that the sale deed was invalid for want of consideration. Helld, that though the execution of the deed was admitted, the plaintiff should establish the validity of the deed. 14 B. 516. Y
- (2) In a suit in ejectment against a tenant holding a jote or an Anubhavam Tenure in Malabar, mere denial of the plaintiff's title, even though it be false, will not entitle a plaintiff landlord to succeed against his tenant. 13 C. 96; 15 M. 123. Z
- (3) A denial of the landlord's title in a written statement would not operate as a forfeiture of his tenancy under Bengal Act VIII of 1869. 5 C.W.N. 263=28 C. 135. A 4.—“ A written statement.”—(Concluded).E. Form of a written statement.*General.

- (1) Under S. 123 of the C.P.C. of 1859, a defendant in a written statement should state only the case which he would make good at the trial, and should set out only the bona fide nature of the defence. 1 B. 209; 3 B.L.R. Ap. 12. B
- (2) A written statement should not be argumentative. 8 W.R. 296. C

EXAMPLE.

A defendant alleging a purchase by him from the plaintiff cannot, at the trial, be allowed to prove a continuous user and possession adverse to plaintiff. 1 B. 209. D

EXAMPLE “CONTRA.”

A defendant, who in his written statement denied the adoption of the plaintiff, was allowed in appeal to raise the further and inconsistent plea that the adoption, if any, was conditional on the provisions of the will being acquiesced in. 14 M. 172 E

F.—Objections to a written statement.

Under S. 124 of C.P.C. of 1859 objections cannot be taken when the suit is ripe for hearing. Cor. 39. F

G.—Verification of a written statement.General.

- (1) Verification is intended for the protection of the opposing party. So the opposing party may waive objection to the sufficiency of the verification. 22 C. 268. G
- (2) Verification is necessary, but if admitted without it, the allegation in the statement should be noticed and issues framed accordingly. 13 W.R. 342.
- (3) A written statement not signed or verified, but received and acted upon by Court without being objected to by the plaintiff could not, for the first time, be objected to in appeal. 11 C.W.N. 871. I

Verification on behalf of a corporation.

Ss. 116 and 435 of C.P.C. of 1882 enable the principal officer of a corporation to verify pleadings; but he must admit in the pleadings or show by affidavit that he is a principal officer of the corporation and is able to depose to the facts of the case. 22 C. 268. J

Notice.

- (1) Where application is made that the pleadings be verified by a third party on behalf of a party in the suit, it is desirable that notice of it should be given to the opposite party, though not absolutely necessary. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 39. K
- (2) When application is for verification by the constituted attorney of the party, no notice need be given to the other side. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 40. L

O. XIX,
r. 15.

2. The defendant must raise by his pleading all matters which show the suit not to be maintainable, or that the transaction is either void or voidable in point of law, and all such grounds of defence, as if not raised, would be likely to take the opposite party by surprise, or would raise issues of fact not arising out of the plaint, as, for instance, fraud, limitation, release, payment, performance, or facts showing illegality.

(Notes).

(English Rules and Orders).

This corresponds with Eng. O. 19, r. 15.

General.

It is not often enough for a party to deny an allegation made by plaintiff. He must go further and dispute its validity in law, or set up some affirmative case of his own, in answer to it. In the old technical language, it is not enough if he merely traverses the allegation; he must confess and avoid it by special pleas. A defendant, however, is not bound to admit an allegation, which he seeks thus to avoid, or which he alleges to be bad in law. He may take to all the three courses at once. The same allegation may be traversed in point of fact and objected to as bad in law, and at the same time collateral matter may be pleaded to destroy its effects. Ann. Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 257. M

What question need not be raised in the written statement.

- (1) There are cases in which the Court itself will take notice of the illegality of the contract on which plaintiff is suing, if it appears on the evidence which he adduces, although the defendant has not pleaded the illegality. Holman v Johnson, Cowp. 341; Windhill Local Board v. Vint, (1890) 45 O.D. 357; Scott v. Brown and Co., (1892) 2 Q.B. 724; Gedge v. Royal Exchange, (1900) 2 Q.B. 214; Conolly v. Consumers' Cordage Co., (1903) 89 L.T. 347. N
- (2) A defendant is not precluded from taking benefit of the equities arising in the trial, though he has not raised the equities on the face of the written statement. 7 W.R. 120. O

O. XIX,
r. 17 and
XXI, r. 4.

3. It shall not be sufficient for a defendant in his written statement to deny generally the grounds alleged by the plaintiff, but the defendant must deal specifically¹ with each allegation of fact² of which he does not admit the truth, except damages³.

(Notes).

(English Rules and Orders).

This corresponds with Eng. O. 19, r. 17 and O. 21, r. 4.

I.—“Deal specifically.”

The words ‘deal specifically with each allegation of fact’ mean that the party pleading must make it perfectly clear, how much of it he admits and how much of it he denies. If he does this, the Court will not quarrel with the phrase which he uses. He must not deny en bloc everything alleged against him. Ann. Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 261. P

2.—“Each allegation of fact.”

The defendant should never traverse matter not alleged against him. He should be content to answer what is laid against him in the plaint, and not trouble about any other matters, which the plaintiff might have, but has not raised. Rassam v. Bridge, (1893) 1 Q.B. 571. Q

3.—“Except damages.”

“No denial or defence shall be necessary as to damages claimed, or their amount; but they shall be deemed to be put in issue in all cases, unless expressly admitted.” This is Eng. O 21, r. 4. This rule applies to damage of all kinds, whether special or general, and whether the alleged damage is part of the alleged cause of action or not. Wilby v. Hilston, (1849) 8 C.B. 142; 18 L.J.C.P. 320; and see also the remarks of Hawkins, J., in Wood v. Earl of Durham, 21 Q.B.D. 508. R

4. Where a defendant denies an allegation of fact in the plaint, O. 1

r.

Evasive denial. he must not do so evasively¹, but answer the point of substance². Thus, if it is alleged that he received a certain sum of money, it shall not be sufficient to deny that he received that particular amount, but he must deny that he received that sum or any part thereof, or else set out how much he received. And if an allegation is made with divers circumstances, it shall not be sufficient to deny it along with those circumstances³.

(Notes).

(English Rules and Orders).

This corresponds with Eng. O. 19, r. 19.

1.—“Evasively.”

A defendant must either admit frankly every allegation of fact made by plaintiff, or deny it boldly. Any half-admission or half-denial is evasive. A defence in these words, “The terms of the arrangement were never definitely agreed upon as alleged,” was held evasive. Jessel, M.R., said: “The defendant is bound to deny that any agreements or any terms of arrangement were ever come to, if that is what he means; if he does not mean that, he should say that there were no terms of arrangement come to, except the following terms, and then state what the terms were.” Thorp v. Holdsworth, 8 C.D. 641. S

2.—“Point of substance.”

A traverse often becomes evasive, if it follows too closely the language of the allegation traversed. Thus, a plaint alleged that the defendant offered the plaintiff a bribe of £500. The defendant pleaded, following the exact words of the plaint, that “the defendant had never offered the plaintiff a bribe of £500”, which would have been true, if he had offered £400, or £499, or any other sum. Fry, J., held that the point of substance was that a bribe had been offered, and that that was not fairly or substantially denied. The defendant should have pleaded that he never offered “a bribe of £500, or any other sum.” Tildesley v. Harper, 7 C.D. 403. T.

3.—“Along with those circumstances.”

If the plaintiff alleges that he “paid the defendant £500 at 35 Fleet Street on 3rd March, 1904, in the presence of A B,” it is an evasive traverse for the defendant to plead. “The plaintiff did not pay the defendant £500 at 35 Fleet Street on March 3, 1904, in the presence of A B.” For, he might have paid the defendant £500 on another day, or in another place, or when A B was not present. And these details are only “circumstances”; they are not of the essence of the allegation. The defendant should have answered the ‘point of substance,’ and pleaded, “The plaintiff never paid the defendant £500, or any other sum.”
Annual Practice, 1908, Vol. I, p. 262. U

O. XIX,
r. 13.

5. Every allegation of fact in the plaint, if not denied ¹ specifically or by necessary implication, or stated to be Specific denial. not admitted in the pleading of the defendant, shall be taken to be admitted ² except as against a person under disability :

Provided that the Court may in its discretion require any fact so admitted to be proved ³ otherwise than by such admission.

(Notes).

(English Rules and Orders).

This rule is taken from Eng. O. 19, r. 13, but the rigour of the English rule is modified here by the power given to Courts.

1.—“If not denied.”

Denial and admission.

There is no difference in effect between denying and not admitting an allegation (per Grove, J., in 35 L.T. 848). The distinction usually observed is, that a party denies any matter, which, if it had occurred, would have been within his own knowledge, while he refuses to admit matters, which are alleged to have happened behind his back. But whether he denies, or does not admit, he must make it perfectly clear, how much he disputes, and how much he admits. Thorp v. Holdsworth, 3 C. D. 640; Harens v. Gamble, 7 C. D. 877; British Land Association v. Foster, 4 Times Rep. 574; Rutter v. Tregent, 12 C. D. 758. Y

2.—“Shall be taken to be admitted.”

A defendant must be taken to admit all material allegations in the plaint which he does not traverse. 1 B.H.C. 85; 18 W.R. 287. W

3.—“Require any fact so admitted, to be proved.”

The mere fact that an allegation is not traversed does not relieve the plaintiff from the burden of proving his case. 7 B.H.C.A.C. 136; 17 W.R. 171. X

6. (1) Where in a suit for the recovery of money ¹ the defendant
Particulars of set-off to be given in written statement. claims to set off ² against the plaintiff's demand any ascertained sum ³ of money legally recoverable by him from the plaintiff ⁴, not exceeding the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court ⁵, and both parties fill the same character as they fill in the plaintiff's suit⁶, the defendant may, at the first hearing of the suit, but not afterwards unless permitted by the Court⁷, present a written statement containing the particulars of the debt sought to be set-off⁸.

(2) The written statement shall have the same effect as a plaint in a cross-suit⁹ so as to enable the Court to pronounce a final judgment in respect both of the original claim and of the set-off: but this shall not affect the lien, upon the amount decreed, of any pleader in respect of the costs payable to him under the decree¹⁰.

(3) The rules relating to a written statement by a defendant apply to a written statement in answer to a claim of set-off.

Illustrations.

(a) A bequeaths Rs. 2,000 to B and appoints C his executor and residuary legatee. B dies and D takes out administration to B's effects. C pays Rs. 1,000 as surety for D; then D sues C for the legacy. C cannot set-off the debt of Rs. 1,000 against the legacy, for neither C nor D fills the same character with respect to the legacy as they fill with respect to the payment of the Rs. 1,000.

(b) A dies intestate and in debt to B. C takes out administration to A's effects and B buys part of the effects from C. In a suit for the purchase-money by C against B, the latter cannot set-off the debt against the price, for C fills two different characters, one as the vendor to B, in which he sues B, and the other as representative to A.

(c) A sues B on a bill of exchange. B alleges that A has wrongfully neglected to insure B's goods and is liable to him in compensation which he claims to set-off. The amount not being ascertained cannot be set-off.

(d) A sues B on a bill of exchange for Rs. 500. B holds a judgment against A for Rs. 1,000. The two claims being both definite pecuniary demands may be set-off.

(e) A sues B for compensation on account of trespass. B holds a promissory note for Rs. 1,000 from A and claims to set-off that amount against any sum that A may recover in the suit. B may do so, for, as soon as A recovers, both sums are definite pecuniary demands.

(f) A and B sue C for Rs. 1,000. C cannot set-off a debt due to him by A alone.

(g) A sues B and C for Rs. 1,000. B cannot set-off a debt due to him alone by A.

(h) A owes the partnership firm of B and C Rs. 1,000. B dies, leaving C surviving. A sues C for a debt of Rs. 1,500 due in his separate character. C may set-off the debt of Rs. 1,000.

Old Act.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the words "if," "tender," "such set off," and "both on the original and on the cross claim," the words "where," "present," "the written statement," and "in respect both of the original claim and of the set off" respectively have been substituted in the new Act.

- (2) The words "if in such claim of the defendant against the plaintiff," and the whole of second para and the words "in the same suit" have not been inserted in the new Act.
- (3) The words "not exceeding the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court," and the whole of sub-rule (3) have been inserted in the new Act.

- (1) It was doubted whether a suit for an account can be held to be one for the recovery of money under S. 111, C.P.C. 13 C. 124=13 L.A. 48. Y
- (2) A suit for dissolution of partnership, with a prayer for accounts, is a suit for money under S. 111, C.P.C. 10 A. 587; 8 A.W.N. 258. Z
- (3) A suit for mesne profits or unliquidated damages is not a suit for a 'debt' and no set-off is therefore admissible—the word 'debt' being restricted to an ascertained sum. 5 W.R. 160; 10 W.R. 295; 17 W.R. 177; 22 W.R. 1; 22 W.R. 15=13 B.L.R. 440; 3 Agra 48. A
- (4) When a right to sue for a personal decree was barred by limitation, a suit brought merely to enforce the mortgage security, is not a suit for the recovery of money, and so a set off cannot be claimed. 8 C.W.N. 174. B
- (5) In a suit by a widow, administering her husband's estate to recover certain moveables against her own son, a set-off of a claim against the deceased father should not be allowed. 14 W.R. 186. C

2.—"Claims to set-off."

A.—Costs in the suit where set-off is claimed.

Notwithstanding S. 9 of Act XXVI of 1864, the plaintiff was entitled to his costs, though defendant proved a set-off and reduced the amount claimed by plaintiff for breach of contract. 4 B. 407. D

B.—Effect of a set-off.

A set-off claimed in a letter by the defendant to the plaintiff was held not to be an acknowledgment of liability, under S. 19 of the Limitation Act. 60 P.R. 1887. E

C.—Jurisdiction of Court to allow set-off.

Under S. 24 of Act X of 1859, Revenue Courts had jurisdiction to allow set-off. 18 W.R. 839. F

D.—The right to set-off.

(1) General.

- (a) A plaintiff cannot compel a defendant to set-off. 21 C. 419. G
- (b) Neither at common law nor in equity is there any right of set-off between parties mutually indebted, in the absence of an agreement to that effect. 53 P.R. 1898. H
- (c) S. 111 of C.P.C. of 1882 does not take away from parties any right to set-off, whether legal or equitable, which they would have had independently of that Code. 11 C. 557; 7 A. 284; 5 A.W.N. 40; 4 B. 407; 47 P. R. 1885 (Civil); 1904 A.W.N. 193=1 A.L.J. 529=27 A. 145; 17 M.L.J. 481. I

(2) Equitable set-off.

- (a) A right of set-off exists not only in cases of material debts and credits (legal set-off), but also where cross demands arise out of the same transaction, or are so connected in their nature and circumstance as to make it inequitable that the defendant should be driven to a separate cross-suit (equitable set-off). 2 M.H.C. 296; 4 M.H.C. 120; 16 C. 711; 4 B. 407; 11 C. 557; 7 A. 284; 5 A.W.N. 40; 20 W.R. 410; 15 A. 9; 12 A.W.N. 115.
- (b) If cross-claims are closely connected with each other, they may be set-off against each other. 2 C.L.J. 73=32 C. 576. K.
- (c) An equitable set-off may be claimed even in an informal manner of damages arising out of the same transaction. 1904 A.W.N. 198= A.L.J. 529=27 A. 145; 19 A.W.N. 143. L.
- (d) Equitable set-off is in the discretion of Courts. As in legal set-off it cannot be claimed as of right. So, where the Court found that the investigation of the cross-claim would entail great delay, it refused to allow the set-off. 21 B. 126. M.
- (e) In counter-claims arising out of the same transaction, a set-off of one claim against another should not be allowed, if special damages in addition to general damages could be asked in one claim. 10 W.R. 295. N.
- (f) In claims of different nature, it is not equitable to allow a set-off. 17 W.R. 177. O.

SAME TRANSACTION—EXAMPLES.

- (a) In a suit for money due under the terms of an award, the defendant was allowed to set-off half of what he had paid on his own and the plaintiff's behalf to a third party, which, under the terms of the award, should have been paid jointly by both. 7 N.W.P. 157. P.
- (b) In a suit for money under a contract, the defendant was allowed to set-off the amount of damages proved by him to have sustained by reason of plaintiff's breach of the contract sued on. 4 M.H.C. 120; 4 B. 407; 20 C. 527; 15 A. 9; 12 A.W.N. 115; 47 P.R. 1885 (Civil). Q.
- (c) In a suit by one for contribution for having been obliged to pay the whole decree amount in respect of a suit for arrears of rent of an ijara, held jointly by the plaintiff and defendants, the defendants were allowed to set-off their claim for the share of rents paid by them on behalf of the plaintiff in previous years on account of the same ijara. 11 C. 557. R.
- (d) In a suit for damages, damages arising from the same transaction may be set-off. 21 Trav. L.R. 211. S.
- (e) In a suit for the purchase money of a mortgage decree sold to the defendant, free of incumbrances, defendant was allowed to set-off the amount he had had to pay to relieve the prior incumbrances. 9 C.W.N. 178. T.
- (3) Set-off allowed under justice, equity, and good conscience.

In a pre-emption suit, the pre-emptor paid the money in Court under the decree, but attached a part of it on account of the costs in the suit awarded to him. Defendant objected to this, but the Court held that, though there was no specific provision in the C.P.C. applicable to the case, yet under justice, equity, and good conscience, the decree-holder was entitled to an equitable set-off. 3 O.C. 323. U.

2.—“Claims to set-off.”—(Continued).

D.—The right to set-off—(Concluded).

(4) Special cross-claim provided or not by acts.

- (a) Under S. 491 of C.P.C. of 1882 a claim for compensation for arrest before judgment on insufficient ground was allowed as a set-off in the same suit. 18 B. 717. Y
- (b) The present rule in S. 111, C.P.C., does not affect the special provisions of the Insolvency Act 11 and 12, Vic. ch. 21, S. 39, relating to set-off. 6 C.L.R. 294; 1 M.L.A. 87 and 19 C. 146. W
- (c) Where there was mutual debt due between two persons and one of them became insolvent, under Insolvency Act 11 and 12 Vic., ch. 21, a set-off may be claimed by the defendant in a suit brought by the Official Assignee for the debt due to the insolvent. 6 C.L.R. 294. X
- (d) In a suit by the usufructuary mortgagee for the mortgage money, a set-off may be claimed for waste committed by the mortgagee in possession under S. 76, T.P.A. 15 M. 290; see contra 2 A. 252. Y
- (e) Under N.W.P. Tenancy Act, in a suit for rent no set-off can be allowed except for a sum due to the defendant on an unsatisfied decree under that act or any enactment. 4 A.L.J. 681=A.W.N. (1907), 269. Z
- (f) S. 140 of the Oudh Rent Act is a bar to a thekadar claiming a set-off in a suit for arrears of rent. 1 O.C. 100. A

E.—What is or is not a set-off.

(1) A set-off and not a payment.

- (a) In a rent suit, a defence of payment for cesses of previous years was held to be not a part payment, but one in the nature of a set-off. 10 C.W.N. 199. B
- (b) In a suit for rent, defendant's plea that he, having regard to the lease, was entitled to a certain amount which the plaintiff had received, was held to be a claim of set-off, and not a part payment of the rent to the plaintiff. 19 A.W.N. 143. C
- (c) In a suit for wages, defendant claimed the right to deduct sums paid for plaintiff's passage money and house rent. There was no agreement that these should be deducted from plaintiff's wages. The Court held that defendant was not entitled to deduct the amounts, but must plead a set-off under S. 111, C.P.C. U.B.R. (Vol. 1897 to 1901), p. 244. D

(2) Not a plea of set-off.

- (a) There can be only one suit between an agent and his principal for the whole account of the agency. In a suit by the principal, the agent's plea of cross-claims for monies spent by him for his principal, is not a plea of set-off, but of debit and credit, and in such a suit, the whole accounts must be gone into. 2 P.L.R. 138. E
- (b) In a suit for money by plaintiff after allowing a certain amount in favour of defendant, it was held that the whole suit was for balance of account, and that the amount allowed in favour of the defendant could not strictly be regarded as a set-off. 13 A. 296; 11 A.W.N. 85. F
- (c) In ascertaining mesne profits, deductions allowed in the nature of allowances made for costs of cultivation or collection expenses, are not in the nature of a set-off. 25 W.R. 275. G

2.—“ Claims to set-off.”—(Continued).E.—What is or is not a set-off—(Concluded).

- (d) A plea of payment is not a set-off. 4 C.L.R. 296; 12 C.L.R. 539. H
- (e) A lambardar who had paid arrears of Government Revenue out of the collections of the subsequent years, without reference to the co-sharers, was entitled, in a suit against him by a co-sharer for his share of the profits for such subsequent years, to claim a deduction on account of such payment. 1 A. 135 (F.B.). I

F.—When set-off allowed.

- (a) In a suit for rent, defendant called for an account alleging that under arrangement with plaintiff's ancestors, he paid rent in cash or kind. Held that the accounts should be called for and allowed as set-off. 23 W.R. 20. J
- (b) In a suit for rent, liquidated sum due on a bond may be set off. 16 W.R. 225. K
- (c) Costs may be set-off against costs. A.W.N. (1906), 198=3 A.L.J. 804=28 A. 676. L
- (d) Costs allowed may be set-off against mortgage amount payable. 4 C. 742; 17 B. 32. M
- (e) A debt due from the deceased husband of a widow may be set-off against a debt due to the widow herself. 1 W.R. Mis. 23. N
- (f) In a rent suit, a money decree against plaintiff may be set-off. But if the defendant had applied for execution of the decree, then the present rule will cease to apply. 8 C.W.N. 118=30 C. 1066. O
- (g) In a suit for wages, the defendant was allowed to set-off under S. 111, C.P.C., the amount claimed as due for goods sold on commission by the plaintiff. 8 A. 896. P
- (h) In execution of a decree for mesne profits against a widow, she was allowed to set-off her maintenance and the amount spent for the funerals of her husband. 25 A. 266. Q
- (i) Some patnidars of a zemindari purchased shares in the same zemindari and thus became part owners. It was held that they can set-off their patni liability against their zemindari right. 20 W.R. 409. R
- (j) In a suit for rent of a house, defendant's plea that he had spent the amount in repairs which the plaintiff was bound to but did not execute, was allowed as a set-off under S. 121 of C.P.C. of 1859. 25 P.R. 1876 (Civil). S

Set-off allowed by appellate Court.

When a set-off was asserted in a written statement, though no issue was framed upon it, or nothing was decided by the lower Court, and though it was not pressed in appeal, the appellate Court considering it to be material, framed issues, and sent it back for trial to the lower Court. 6 Bom. L.R. 790. T

G.—When set-off not allowed.

- (a) Where the High Court omitted to award the cost of the first Court, a set-off cannot be allowed on the costs, as it was not actually awarded. W.R. 308. U

2.—“Claims to set off.”—(Concluded).

G.—When set-off not allowed—(Concluded).

- (b) In a suit for money on dishonoured hundis, unascertained damages with respect to an alleged breach of contract cannot be set-off under S. 121, C.P.C. of 1859. 3 Agra Rep. A.C. 43. Y
- (c) In a suit on a pro-note given for goods bought, a claim for damages for failure to supply goods of the contract quality and description in different consignments cannot be set-off, under S. 111, C.P.C. 2 L.B.R. 186. W
- (d) In a suit for money paid as Government revenue to protect a lease in the nature of a mortgage, a claim for rent cannot be pleaded as a set-off. 1 W.R. 297. X
- (e) In a suit for plaintiff's share of the arrears of rent against lessee of a portion of the estate, a set-off under S. 121 of C.P.C. of 1859 of the plaintiff's share of the Government Revenue of the whole estate, was not allowed. 13 B.L.R. 440=22 W.R. 15. Y

3.—“Any ascertained sum.”

- (a) A sum decreed, being an ascertained sum, may be set-off. 10 W.R. 380=2 B.L.R.A.C. 84. Z
- (b) In a suit for arrears of salary, a claim of a certain amount received by plaintiffs on behalf of the defendant in the course of service, not being in the nature of unliquidated damages, was allowed as a set-off. 3 A.W.N. 5. A
- (c) Unascertained sums may be set-off by the consent of parties themselves, when they compromise the suit. 17 W.R. 113=10 B.L.R. 45. B
- (d) A claim for unascertained damages unconnected with the bills of exchange upon which a suit was brought, could not be pleaded as a set-off in the suit. 2 M.H.C. 296. C
- (e) In suit for damages on an agreement, a claim of unascertained damages on a previous agreement between the same parties, was not allowed to be set-off. 21 B. 126. D
- (f) In a suit for rent, unascertained damages, which the defendant suffers in execution of a decree of the Civil Court, cannot be set-off. 3 Agra Rep. 177. E
- (g) In a claim for rent, unascertained mesne profits of previous years could not be pleaded as a set-off. 22 W.R. 1. F

4.—“Legally recoverable by him from the plaintiff.”

General.

- (a) The words ‘legally recoverable’ have no reference to a full payment; on the other hand a sum is ‘legally recoverable,’ though in the result the creditor will have to be satisfied with a dividend. 30 B. 173=7 Bom. L.R. 246. G
- (b) If a receiver sues for a debt due to a person, the defendant can claim a set-off which he could have urged against the creditor himself, though under O. VIII, r. 6, a set-off may not be claimed, when it is not “legally recoverable by the defendant from the plaintiff.” 17 M.L.J. 481. H

4.—“Legally recoverable by him from the plaintiff.”—(Concluded).

EXAMPLES.

- (a) The provisions of S. 111 of Act XIV of 1882 do not apply, where the debt sought to be set-off was barred by limitation before the suit was filed. 53 P.R. 1898; 7 A. 284; 1 W.R. 296.
- (b) In a case of equitable set-off where the transactions were closely connected, a barred debt was allowed to be set-off. 2 C.L.J. 73=32 C. 576.
- (c) In a suit for contribution by a co-sharer who had paid the whole amount of a joint rent decree, the defendants were allowed a set-off of previous payments of similar decrees by them on behalf of plaintiff, though the remedy as regards them might have been barred by limitation. 12 C.W.N. 60. K
- (d) A claim, if it is not barred as res judicata, may be set-off. 8 A. 396. L
- (e) A claim based on a decree incapable of being enforced cannot be set-off. 16 W.R. 308. M
- (f) In a suit on an instalment bond given for Nazar or Salami by a tenant contemporaneously with the execution of an unregistered patta and a kabuliati which could not be received in evidence, a set-off by the defendant on the footing of a contract contained in the patta and kabuliati was not allowed. 5 B.L.R. Ap. 1=13 W.R. 307. N
- (g) A claim in respect of an infant's debt cannot be set-off. Rawley v. Rawley, 1 Q.B.D. 460. O
- (h) In a rent suit, the amount of a new road cess paid by defendant, which plaintiff could not be compelled to pay under the terms of the lease, could not be set-off. 4 C. 576; 11 C.L.R. 140. P
- (i) A debt, not due or payable at the time of suit, could not be set-off in a claim for rent. 22 W.R. 1; 6 W.R. Ref. 26. Q
- (j) In a suit by the Liquidator of a Company the defendant was allowed to set-off his deposit amount in the Company—which amount, though not due at the time when the Company went into liquidation, was due and legally recoverable at the time of the suit. 15 M.L.J. 230=28 M. 240. R

Barred amount not allowed as a set-off was taken into account.

Though the profits of a certain year were not allowed as a set-off, under S. 111, C.P.C., as having been barred by limitation, yet, it is not equitable to refuse to take them into account, as the mortgagee was in possession of the property. 6 C.P.L.R. 22. S

5.—“Not exceeding.....of the Court.”

General.

- (a) To enable a Court to act under S. 111, C.P.C., the amount of set-off pleaded should be within the pecuniary limits of the Court's jurisdiction. 17 P.R. 1890. T
- (b) No Court can entertain a set-off, if it would not have had jurisdiction to entertain a suit if one had been brought to recover the money sought to be set-off. 15 A. 404. U
- (c) For the purposes of jurisdiction, the value of the suit as instituted by the plaintiff, should alone be taken into consideration, and not the value of the plaintiff's suit plus the value of set-off claimed in it. Where both the value of the suit and the set-off are separately within the powers of the Court, then the Court can adjudicate upon both, under S. 111, C.P.C. 69 P.R. 1889. Y

5.—“Not exceeding.....of the Court.”—(Concluded).

EXAMPLES.

- (a) In a small cause suit in the Presidency Small Cause Courts, defendant was not allowed to set-off a claim exceeding the limits of the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court. 20 C. 527; 3 A.W.N. 5; 3 N.W.P. 114. W
- (b) In the Presidency Small Cause Court, Calcutta, plaintiff claimed damages exceeding the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court, but in order to bring it within jurisdiction, set-off a sum due by him to defendant in a different transaction. Defendant did not agree to its being set-off. Under S. 18, Exp. 1 of Act XV of 1882, it was held that the plaintiff could not set-off the amount and the suit was consequently dismissed. 21 C. 419. X
- (c) In a small cause suit before a Subordinate Judge a set-off of an amount exceeding its small cause jurisdiction may be pleaded. 12 B. 31 Y
- This was apparently overruled by 14 B. 371.

6.—“Both parties fill....plaintiff's suit.”

General.

- (a) A separate debt cannot be set-off against a joint debt or vice versa. 9 B. 373; 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 354; Old S.C. 30. Z
- (b) In a set-off the debts should be mutual, i.e., due from and to the same parties and in the same right. 2 C.L.R. 414. A
- (c) A defendant has no right to set-off a debt due to him against the debts due to the plaintiff from the same persons. 23 W.R. 134. B

EXAMPLES.

- (a) Though an assignee of a person brings the suit, defendant's right of set-off against the person is not affected, and he can plead the set-off in the assignee's suit, though the assignment is by a sale, in execution of a decree, against the person. 2 B.L.R.A.C. 84. C
- (b) In a suit for rent by plaintiff who took an assignment of the rental claim from the landlord, the defendant-tenants could claim a set-off in respect of money decrees which they held against the landlord, under S. 111, C.P.C. 16 C.P.L.R. 118. D
- (c) In a suit by the assignee of the lessor's right against lessee for rent, the latter having previously taken a mortgage of the same property was allowed to set-off the mortgage amount against the lease amount. 17 M.L.J. 87=30 M. 235. E
- (d) In a suit for money by a Company, a director can set-off a debt due to him by the Company; but, if a liquidator brings a suit against him under S. 214 of the Indian Companies Act, he cannot claim a set-off. 30 B. 173=7 Bom. L.R. 246. F
- (e) In a suit on a bond by the heir of a deceased vakil, the defendant was allowed to plead a set-off of funds collected by the deceased as his vakil. 1 M.L.J. 598=15 M. 29. G
- (f) An ism farzi concealment of names fraudulently to defeat a rule of public policy cannot be pleaded by a party to such an act for his own benefit. When a set-off is pleaded the identity of the parties in whole, not only in part, must be shown. The Court is not bound to decide a suit between defendant and a person not a party to the suit under colour of a set-off to a suit brought by a third party. Old S.C. 57. H

6.—“Both parties fill....plaintiff's suit.”—(Concluded).

- (g) The heirs of M appointed one of the heirs A as manager to M's estate to pay off the debts of M. A creditor of M sued the heirs, and, in the execution of the decree got by him, sold Z's share in M's landed estate. Z now sued the other heirs for contribution and they pleaded set-off in respect of Z's share of the liabilities of M's estate, which had been satisfied by A as manager. It was held that the set-off could not be entertained in the suit. 3 A.W.N. 45; 5 A. 299. I
- (h) In a rent suit, the claim of the defendant-tenant to set-off costs awarded to him in a previous rent suit brought by the benamidar of the landlord, and in which the landlord also was made a pro forma defendant, was not allowed. 11 C.W.N. 215. J

7.—“At the first hearing....permitted by the Court.”

A question of set-off could not, for the first time, be raised in cross-appeal. 13 C. 124=13 I.A. 48. K

8.—“May present a written statement....set-off.”

- (a) If a defendant claimed a set-off, under S. 121 of Act VIII of 1859, he was bound to tender a written statement of his claim. 14 W.R. 473. L
- (b) Where no specific sum was claimed as a set-off, and no written statement containing the particulars of the set-off was tendered, under S. 111, C.P.C., the defendant would not be allowed to set-off unascertained sums alleged to have been deposited with the plaintiffs on account of the defendants. 45 P.R. 1899=1 P.L.R. 5. M

9.—“Same effect as a plaint in a cross suit.”

A.—General.

- (a) When a defendant pleads set-off and an issue is raised on the claim of set-off, he must be considered as plaintiff. 5 B.L.R. 639. N
- (b) A claim to a set-off should be considered as a plaint in a cross suit and is therefore governed by O. II, r. 2. 1 C.L.J. 364=32 C. 654. O
- (c) If, in a suit, plaintiff admits a set-off, but fails to prove his claim, a decree should be given to the defendant of the amount of set-off admitted. 9 C.W.N. 748. P
- (d) A defendant may deny plaintiff's claim and also plead a set-off and obtain a decree for it, although no sum may be found to be due to the plaintiff. 6 B.H.C.A.O. 151. See also 5 W.R. 32. Q

B.—Appeal.

In a cross-claim, an appeal will lie to the same Court as if the sum had been demanded in a separate suit. 3 N.W.P. 114. R

C.—Court-fee.

(1) Court-fee on a claim of set-off need not be paid.

- (a) A written statement claiming a set-off, under S. 111, C.P.C., need not bear Court-fee stamps. (13 B. 672; 8 A. 396 and 15 M. 29, dissented from); 2 L.B.R. 186. S

9.—“Same effect as a plaint in a cross suit.”—(Concluded).

C.—Court-fee—(Concluded).

- (b) In a set-off claimed as damages arising out of the same transaction, no ad valorem Court-fee for the unascertained sum need be paid on the written statement. 80 P.W.R. 1908. T
- (c) If a receiver sues for a debt due to a person, the defendant can claim a set-off which he could have urged against the creditor himself; and the written statement claiming the set-off need not be stamped as a plaint. 17 M.L.J. 481. U
- (2) Court-fee on a claim of set-off must be paid.
 - (a) The Court-fee payable on the claim for set-off was the same as for a plaint in a suit. 8 A. 396; 13 B. 672; 15 M. 29; these cases have been dissented from by Banerji, J., in 8 C.W.N. 174. Y
 - (b) In a rent suit, a defence of payment for cesses of previous years, was held to be in the nature of a set-off and as such Court-fee should be paid on it. 10 C.W.N. 199. W
- (3) Court-fee on the excess claim.

The excess of the set-off, the defendants cannot claim to recover from the plaintiffs, unless they pay Court-fee on it. 7 A. 284; 5 A.W.N. 40. X

D.—Whether excess set-off to be allowed.

Excess set-off should be allowed. Per Oldfield, J.

Excess set-off should not be allowed unless Court-fee is paid. Per Duthoit, J. 7 A. 284; 5 A.W.N. 40. Y

10.—“But this shall not affect the lien.....decree.”

In a redemption suit, costs were awarded to the plaintiff, who was ordered to pay mortgage money and interest to defendant. The plaintiff was allowed to set-off his costs against the mortgage money, notwithstanding any claim that defendant's attorney might have against the defendant in respect of defendant's costs. 4 C. 742; 4 C.L.R. 122; 15 A. 9; 12 A.W.N. 115. - r. 7. 7. Where the defendant relies upon several distinct grounds of defence or set-off founded upon separate and distinct facts, they shall be stated, as far as may be, separately and distinctly.
Defence or set-off founded on separate grounds.

(English Rules and Orders.)

R. 7 is taken from Eng. O. 20, r. 7.

- 8. Any ground of defence which has arisen after the institution of the suit or the presentation of a written statement claiming a set-off may be raised by the defendant or plaintiff, as the case may be, in his written statement.
New ground of defence.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

9. No pleading subsequent to the written statement of a defendant other than by way of defence to a set-off shall be presented except by the leave of the Court and upon such terms as the Court thinks fit¹, but the Court may at any time require a written statement² or additional written statement from any of the parties and fix a time for presenting the same.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Except as provided in the last preceding section, no written statement shall be received after the first hearing of the suit.

Provided that the Court may at any time require a written statement, or additional written statement, from any of the parties, and fix a time for presenting the same.

Provided also that a written statement, or an additional written statement, may, with the permission of the Court, be received at any time for the purpose of answering written statements so required and presented.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The first part of the new rule corresponds to the first and the third paras of the old section.
- (2) For the words "provided that," the word "but" has been substituted in the new Code.

1.—"No pleading subsequent....as the Court thinks fit."

A.—Additional statement allowed.

- (a) A statement explaining plaint and not putting forth a new case, was allowed to be put in after evidence was taken—as the admission of it did not prejudice the defendant in any way. 22 W.R. 377. A
- (b) Additional written statement by the defendant was allowed to be put in, on condition of the whole costs of the other party being paid. 3 B.L.R. Ap. 11.
- (c) Subsequent to the filing of the written statement an application for raising an issue as to jurisdiction was granted on payment of the costs of the adjournment to enable the plaintiff to meet the new issue. Cor. 8. C
- (d) Defendants, owing to ignorance of the true state of facts, omitted to include certain items in their counter-claim. They were allowed subsequently to put in a supplemental written statement extending their counter-claim. 24 B. 408. D
- (e) If a party becomes aware of a fact after his plaint or written statement was filed, and wants to prove it at the trial, he should file a supplementary written statement before the hearing. 4 B. 576. E
- (f) A further written statement allowed by Court to be filed within a certain time, if filed after that date, will not be ordered to be taken off the file, if the other party delays to make an application until the trial. 9 B. 873 (881). F

1.—“No pleading subsequent....as the Court thinks fit.”—(Concluded).

B.—Additional statement not allowed!

- (a) Under the old C.P.C., a plaintiff cannot file a rejoinder after having seen the written statement of the defendant. 5 W.R. 56. G
- (b) Supplemental written statement cannot be filed after the parties have entered upon their case at the hearing. 4 B. 576. H

C.—Effect of an improper admission of a written statement.

An appellate Court would not interfere in the case of an improper admission of a written statement, if it did not cause any prejudice to the other party. 22 W.R. 377. I.

2.—“But the Court may at any time require a written statement.”

A supplemental written statement called for by the Court, which did not add or vary plaintiff's claim, was held to have been rightly admitted. 11 W.R. 71.

Procedure when party fails to present written statement called for by Court.

10. Where any party ¹ from whom a written statement is so required fails to present ² the same within the time fixed by the Court, the Court may pronounce judgment against him, or make such order in relation to the suit as it thinks fit ³.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

For the words “if,” and “pass a decree,” the words “where” and “pronounce judgment” respectively have been inserted in the new Act.

1.—“Any party.”

A third party will not be allowed to verify and file a written statement on behalf of a party in the suit, and a Court has no authority to allow it. Bourke O.C. 153; 25 W.R. 17. K

2.—“Fails to present.”

Plaintiffs asked by Court to put in a rejoinder, filed a statement expressing their inability to give further information. This was held to be a sufficient compliance of the order of Court, and so under O. VIII, r. 10, plaintiffs did not ‘fail to present’ the statement called for. 16 M.L.J. 80. L

3.—“May pronounce judgment....as it thinks fit.”

- (a) If a Court acting under S. 113, C.P.C., passes a decree against defendant, it is not an ex parte decree to be set aside under S. 108, C.P.C. 4 O.C. 372. M
- (b) If the defendant neglects to furnish a written statement, he should be first examined by the Court, and then if the Court considers that a written statement should be put in, it should adjourn the case for that purpose at the cost of the defendant. 2 Hyde 89. N
- (c) S. 113, C.P.C., does not justify a Court striking out a defence off the file, for failure of the defendant to present a further written statement called for by Court. 59 P.R. 1892. O.

ORDER IX.

APPEARANCE OF PARTIES AND CONSEQUENCE OF NON-APPEARANCE.

1. On the day fixed in the summons for the defendant to appear and answer, the parties shall be in attendance at the Court-house in person or by their respective pleaders¹, and the suit shall then be heard unless the hearing is adjourned to a future day fixed by the Court.

Parties to appear on day fixed in summons for defendant to appear and answer.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 96 of Act XIV of 1882.

"The hearing be adjourned" is changed into "The hearing is adjourned."

Objects and Reasons.

- (1) "S. 104 originally formed part of S. 60 of Act VIII of 1859 and in combination with the rest of that section it was appropriate. As a separate section, however, it is misleading and it certainly is not now required in view of the provisions for service on a defendant residing out of British India and for proceeding with a suit ex parte when a defendant does not appear. Its retention would involve a diversity of procedure which the committee think undesirable (see 28 A. 99)." P

(Statement of Objects and Reasons.)

- (2) Chap. VII (Ss. 96-109) of Act XIV of 1882 cannot in view of S. 4, Act No. VI of 1892, be applied to proceedings in executions of decrees. But a Court has power inherent, if not conferred by statute, to dismiss an application for execution when the applicant fails through his own laches to put the Court in a position to proceed with his application. Similarly, a Court has inherent power, if such power is not conferred upon it by statute, to proceed forthwith to decide an application for execution of a decree on the materials before it, when time has been granted to a party to perform any act necessary for the further progress of the application, and that act has not been done. 15 A. 84. Q

1.—"By their respective pleaders."

Plaintiff must be represented by the same pleaders or set of pleaders and cannot be severally represented by different pleaders. 8 B.H.C. 241. S

2. Where on the day so fixed¹ it is found that the summons has not been served upon the defendant in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to pay the court-fee or postal charges (if any) chargeable for such service², the Court may make an order that the suit be dismissed:

Dismissal of suit where summons not served in consequence of plaintiff's failure to pay costs.

Provided that no such order shall be made although the summons has not been served upon the defendant, if on the day fixed for him to appear and answer he attends in person or by agent when he is allowed to appear by agent³.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 97 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

- (1) For the words "if, on the day...it be found," the words "if on the day so fixed it is found."
- (2) The words "the defendant," "or postal charges (if any)" are new.
- (3) For the word "leviable," the words "chargeable or payable" are substituted.
- (4) "Shall be passed" is changed into "shall be made" in the proviso.

(General).

(1) The scope of the rule.

- (a) The provisions contained in the first portion of S. 5 of Act XXIII of 1861 are imperative. 5 B.H.C. 119.

Non-payment of process-fees—Effect.

- (1) Where the Court ordered a co-defendant to be joined, and the plaintiff failed to pay the allowance necessary for the purpose of causing a notice to be served on such co-defendant, who did not appear, the proper course for the Court is to dismiss the suit. 5 B.H.C. 119. Z
- (2) Default in depositing allowance for notice to respondent can in no way be excused by the fact of its having been committed by an ignorant karpardaz or man of business. 11 W.R. 417. A

3.—"Proviso."

If the defendant appears.

- (1) The Registrar ought to set down at once the case in the general cause list or at least ask the Judge in Chambers whether he should do so. 4 B.L.R. Ap. 75.
- (2) The defendant has a right to appear at the hearing of the case, to the withdrawal of suit and claim damages, though he was ~~summoned~~ ^{summoned}, but was brought by legal process. 15 B. 160. C

Where neither party appears, suit to be dismissed.

3. Where neither party appears when the suit is called on for hearing, the Court may make an order that the suit be dismissed¹.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 98 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The word "if" is changed into "where."
- (2) The words "on the day.....is adjourned" are omitted.
- (3) "When the suit is called on for hearing" are new.
- (4) The words "the Court may make an order that" are new.
- (5) The words "unless the Judge.....otherwise directs" are new.
- (6) The provisions of this section are re-arranged, and omissions are made in them for the sake of brevity and greater clearness.

General.

(1) Scope and applicability of the rule.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 99-A of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- 1. The word “if” is changed into “where.”
- 2. The words “whether before or after the first day of June 1882” are omitted.
- 3. For the words “from such return,” the words “from the date of the return” are substituted.
- 4. The words “made to the Court...by the serving officers” are new.
- 5. For the words “the Court may dismiss the suit,” the words “the Court may make an order that the suit be dismissed” are substituted.

(General).

Meaning.

S. 99-A of Act XIV of 1882 is not very happily expressed but it means that when the plaintiff fails, for a period of one year from the return of the summons unserved, to apply for the issue of fresh summons and, on that application, to satisfy the Court that he has used his best endeavours to discover the residence of the defendant, who has not been served, or that such defendant is avoiding service of process, then, and only then, the Court may dismiss the suit as against such defendant under that section. 7 Bom. L.R. 928. X

1.—“For a period of one year.”

What is sufficient time.

- (1) An application for fresh summons is within time, if made within one year from the date of the Nazir's countersignature. 18 B. 500. Y
- (2) The rule refers to the lapse of a year, not from the filing of the plaint, but from the return of the summons unserved. 7 Bom. L.R. 928. Z
- (3) The plaintiff must apply within one year. 3 Bom. L.R. 402. A

2.—“Fails to apply for issue of fresh summons.”

Issue of fresh summons.

A summons ought not to issue after the lapse of the period of limitation prescribed for a suit unless the plaintiff has in the meantime done what he can to prosecute his suit with due diligence. If a defendant is aggrieved by an order directing a summons to issue in such a case, he ought to apply to set aside the order and the summons under it. 5 C. 128. B

3.—“Best endeavours....as against such defendant.”

- (1) The plaintiff must use due diligence to discover the residence of the defendant. 3 B.L.R. 402; 7 B.L.R. 928. C
- (2) In a suit against principal debtor and surety, the omission of the creditor to effect service of summons on the principal debtor does not discharge the surety. 14 B. 267. D

4.—“Bring a fresh suit.”

- (1) First suit for profits for the years 1301, 1302 and 1303 Fasli dismissed owing to plaintiff's failure to cause one of the defendants to be summoned. Fresh suit for profits for the years 1302, 1303 and 1304 Fasli maintainable, subject to the law of limitation. 28 A. 749. E
- (2) Where the first suit for partition was dismissed for default of appearance, a second suit for the same relief would lie. 3 A.L.J. 379=A.W.N. (1906), 142=28 A. 627; 13 A. 809, Refd. F

Procedure when only plaintiff appears.

When summons duly served.

6. (1) Where the plaintiff appears and the defendant does not appear ¹ when the suit is called on for hearing, then—

(a) if it is proved that the summons was duly served, the Court may proceed ex parte;

(b) if it is not proved that the summons was duly served, the Court shall direct a second summons to be issued and served on the defendant ;

When summons not duly served.

(c) if it is proved that the summons was served on the defendant, but not in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer on the day fixed in the summons, the Court shall postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day to be fixed by the Court, and shall direct notice of such day to be given to the defendant.

When summons served, but not in due time.

(2) Where it is owing to the plaintiff's default that the summons was not duly served or was not served in sufficient time, the Court shall order the plaintiff to pay the costs occasioned by the postponement.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 100 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words " the procedure shall be as follows " are omitted.
- (2) The words " when the suit is called on for hearing " are new.
- (3) The word " if " is changed into " where."
- (4) The word " duly " in sub-rule 2 is new.

(Notes).

Old Act.

The rule corresponds to S. 102 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The word "if" is changed into "where."
- (2) The words "when the suit is called on for hearing" are new.
- (3) For the words "shall dismiss the suit" the words "shall make an order that the suit be dismissed" are substituted.

(General).

(1) Scope.

- (a) The rule applies to execution proceedings; striking off execution cases in order to lighten, the file was condemned. 3 B.L.R. 17; 18 B. 429; 15 A. 84. A
- (b) The rule has reference only to the first hearing of the suit. 4 M.H.C. 56; 2 A. 67. B
- (c) Ss. 102 and 103 of Act XIV of 1882 apply to proceeding before the Court, to which a reference is made under S. 18 of Act I of 1894 owing to the operation of S. 617 of Act XIV of 1882. 10 C.W.N. 991. C
- (d) The word "plaintiff" must be held to include the plaintiff's heirs and representatives in interest; who cannot claim any better position as regards the maintenance of the second suit than the person through whom they claim. 1884 P.R. 80; 1891 P.R. 117 (15 C. 422, R.) D

(2) Appeal.

- (a) An order dismissing a suit or appeal under this rule is a decree appealable. 2 B. 644; 9 M. 445; 9 A. 427; 8 C.W.N. 313=29 C. 60; 1888 A.W.N. 171; 80 C. 660 (F.B.); 1 M.L.J. 385; 3 A. 292; 21 W.R. 124; 1897 P.R. 60; but see contra 22 M. 221; 12 M.L.J. 473; 4 L.B.R. 17 (F.B.); 51 P.W.R. 1907=21 P.R. 1907 (F.B.); (60 P.R. 1907, overruled; 4 M. 134; 5 W.R. 63; 17 A. 195; 10 C. 1005 and 11 C. 544, dis); 5 O.C. 294; 5 C.P.L.R. 81. E
- (b) The Court, after investigation, passed judgment in the absence of decree-holder. The decree-holder had no right of appeal; but, if aggrieved, might apply for a re-hearing. 12 W.R. 428. F
- (c) A plaintiff cannot only appeal but also take advantage of the procedure permitted under r. 8. 8 C. 272. G
- (d) An appeal did not lie from a judgment by default for non-appearance before a commissioner. Marsh 139. H
- (e) Appeal from decree made under the rule; scope of such appeal—vide 1889 P.R. 32. I

(3) Review.

When a suit was dismissed for default, a—could be preferred even without attempting to get it aside. 26 C. 598. J

1.—“Plaintiff does not appear.”

(1) General.

(a) The rule deals with the non-appearance of plaintiff and not with the non-appearance of witnesses. 5 N.W.P. 74. K

(b) Dismissal on plaintiff's failure to adduce evidence is a decree passed on the merits and a second suit on the same cause of action barred. 12 C. 438. L

(2) Failure to pay a fee for the appointment of a commissioner.

The decree passed on the plaintiff's—, though no time is prescribed within which it is to be made, is only ex parte. 13 M. 510. M

(3) Local investigation.

Plaintiff's failure to appear before the commissioner, should the defendant appear before him, is a proper ground for dismissal. 1 Ind. Jur. O. 53; W.R. (F.B.), 1; Marsh 189. N

(4) Adjourned hearing—Default of witnesses.

On the refusal of the Court of the prayer of the plaintiff's pleader for the issue of a warrant for the arrest, he intimated that he had no instructions to appear in the suit. Dismissal held to be proper. 5 C.L.J. 26=34 C. 235. O

(5) Pleader applying for an adjournment.

On the day of hearing, an adjournment was prayed for on the ground that the parties and their witnesses had been prevented from being present by the fever epidemic. An adjournment for one hour was granted. The pleader for the plaintiff got up and left the Court. Held to be no appearance. 23 C. 991; I.S.L.R. 221. P

2.—“Shall dismiss the suit.”

General.

(1) Abandonment of proceedings.

The—under S. 269 of Act VIII of 1859 did not amount to dismissal and was no bar to a fresh suit. 10 W.R. 61. Q

(2) Remand.

When a case was remanded for re-trial, some date should have been fixed for the re-hearing which would have given the parties opportunity to appear. 14 W.R. 401. R

3) Non-attendance.

(a) The dismissal of a suit for plaintiff's non-attendance is a highly penal matter and the punishment ought not to be inflicted unless after a distinct order to attend and upon proof that plaintiff has deliberately disobeyed the Court's order. 17 W.R. 141. S

(b) The very drastic order provided by the rule cannot properly be passed except when the conditions are such as are contemplated in the rule. 7 Bom. L.R. 261. T

(4) Proper order under the rule.

—is either to decree or dismiss the suit and not “struck off” was, however, held to mean dismiss suit. 10 W.R. 848; 5 A. 1395; 9 A. 155; 10 M. 270. U

2.—“Shall dismiss the suit.”—(Concluded).

General—(Concluded).

(5) Effect of dismissal.

(a) The dismissal of an application brought under S. 9C of Act XIV of 1882 precludes the mortgagee from making a fresh application. 1 N.L.R. 143. Y

(b) It does not operate as res judicata. 10 M. 270; 15 C. 422; 15 I.A. 66; 16 C. 98; 15 I.A. 156; 28 A. 627; 1888 P.R. 177. W

(6) Dismissal—Proper.

Where the respondent appears, but the appellant does not, the Court has no power to decide the appeal on its merits. 7 B.L.R. 938. X

(7) Dismissal—Not proper.

When the plaintiff has adduced all evidence on which he intended to rely, but neither he nor his pleader were present on the subsequent hearing. 7 B.L.R. 261. Y

(8) Construction of the order of dismissal.

In construing an order alleged by one side and denied by the other to be an order under S. 102, the order will be considered as an order under S. 102, if a part from the mere description which the Court gives of its action and apart from the actual facts of the plaintiff's appearance or non-appearance, the real meaning and substance of the Court's action is, that it dismisses the suit on the view, whether right or wrong, that the plaintiff appears and the defendant does not appear. 22 A. 66. Z

9. (1) Where a suit is wholly or partly dismissed under rule 8, the plaintiff shall be precluded from bringing a fresh suit in respect of the same cause of action 1.

But he may apply for an order to set the dismissal aside, and if he satisfies the Court that there was sufficient cause for his non-appearance when the suit was called on for hearing 2, the Court shall make an order setting aside the dismissal upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit.

(2) No order shall be made under this rule unless notice of the application has been served on the opposite party.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 103 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

(1) The words “section 102” are changed into “rule 8.”

(2) For the words “and, if it be proved,” the words “and if he satisfies the Court” are substituted. Q

- (3) For the words "that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing", the words "that there was sufficient cause for his non-appearance" are substituted.
- (4) The words "set aside" are changed into "make an order setting aside."
- (5) The sub-rule (2) is made more general. For the words "unless the plaintiff ..application," the words "unless notice..the opposite party" are substituted.

(General).(1) Scope of the rule.

- (a) The rule applies only to suits dismissed under r. 8 and r. 2, O. XVII, even where the plaintiff was an applicant for insolvency, if his application for same has been dismissed. 27 C. 217. A
- (b) The rule does not apply to dismissals under S. 158 of Act XIV of 1882. (=O. XVII, r. 2 of Act V of 1908). 4 M.H.C. 56; 7 N.W.P. 77; 5 N.W.P. 74, 3 A. 292; 23 C. 991. B
- (c) Dismissal of suit for want of prosecution on plaintiff's failure to deposit process-fees, etc., cannot be set aside by an application under this rule. 7 N.W.P. 126. C
- (d) S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act does not prohibit a rehearing under this rule. 4 M. 217. D
- (e) The rule applies to a reference under S. 30 of the Land Acquisition Act. 11 C.W.N. 430. E
- (f) S. 193 of Act II of 1901 makes the provisions of this rule applicable to proceedings under the New Tenancy Act. 2 A.L.J. 118. F
- (g) S. 38 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act does not prevent a plaintiff from applying under this rule to set aside a dismissal for default. 23 B. 414. G
- (h) This rule does not apply to execution proceedings. 15 A. 84; 18 B. 429; 10 C.W.N. 839; but see 5 N.W.P. 104; 18 W.R. 207; 10 B. 438. H
- (i) The rule has no application to orders under S. 244 of Act XIV of 1882 (=S. 44 of Act V of 1908). 23 C. 81; (15 A. 359, dis. and 23 C. 115 and 827, dist.). I
- (j) Rules 8 and 9 apply to proceedings before the Court to which a reference is made under S. 18 of Act I of 1894. 10 C.W.N. 991. J
- (k) The rule applies to cases of dismissals for default of appearance on the date of hearing. 23 C. 991; 8 C.W.N. 97=31 C. 150; 5 C.L.J. 260=34 C. 235; 7 M. 41. K
- (l) The rule may be construed as permitting a representative to apply at one and the same time for the substitution of his name in place of that of the deceased and for an order to set aside the dismissal of the suit. 6 O.C. 34. L
- (m) An order under the rule is not an order affecting the decision of a case, within the meaning of S. 591 of Act XIV of 1882. (=S. 105 of Act V of 1908). U.B.R. Vol. II (1897 to 1901), p. 237. M

(2) Appeal.

- (a) A right of appeal is given against an order refusing to restore, but no right of appeal is given against an order of restoration. 5 C. 711; 17 M.L.J. 225=30 M. 274. N
- (b) As to appeals on orders passed in execution proceedings, see 10 B. 433; 11 M. 319; 21 M. 417; 10 C. 433; 31 C. 207=8 C.W.N. 160; 10 O.C. 358. O
- (c) The rule does not take away the remedy of appeal from a decree dismissing a suit under r. 8. 4 A. 387; 8 A. 354=A.W.N. (1883), 171; 9 A. 427. P

(General)—(Concluded).

- (d) No appeal lies from an order refusing to restore to the file of pending applications, an application under Ss. 310 and 311 of Act XIV of 1882 (=O. 21, rr. 88 and 90 of Act V of 1908) which had been dismissed for default of appearance. 29 A. 596=A.W.N. (1907), 186; 10 O.C. 353 (10 B. 433; 27 C. 414; 31 C. 207 and 11 M. 319, R). Q

(3) Limitation.

A plaintiff's application for restoration must be made within 30 days from dismissal. If vacation intervenes, it must be made on the day the Court re-opens, and not on the first motion day after vacation. 20 C. 899; 31 C. 150=8 C.W.N. 97. R

1.—“The plaintiff shall be precluded.....same cause of action.”

Principle.

- (a) The operation of the rule is confined to those cases only, where a second suit is barred for the same object and cause of action as the suit which is dismissed. 9 C. 426; 12 C.L.R. 29. S
- (b) The rule precludes a fresh suit in respect of the same cause of action referring, irrespectively of the defence or the relief prayed for, entirely to the grounds or alleged media, on which the plaintiff asks the Court to decide in his favour. 16 C. 98; 15 I.A. 156. T
- (c) The difference in the mode of relief claimed did not affect the identity of the causes of action. 15 C. 422; 15 I.A. 66. U

EXAMPLES.

- (i) Suit for rent, dismissed for default, does not bar a subsequent suit for possession. 9 C. 426; 12 C.L.R. 29. Y
- (ii) Suit by purchaser of mortgaged land against mortgagee for redemption is dismissed. A subsequent suit by purchaser against vendor and mortgagee for possession is not barred. 10 B. 28. W
- (iii) The right to enforce a partition is a legal incident of joint tenancy and any of the joint tenants may apply to the Court for partition of the joint property. Where the first suit for partition was dismissed, a second suit for the same relief would lie. 3 A.L.J. 379=A.W.N. (1906), 142=28 A. 627; 13 A. 309, R. X
- (iv) A previous suit for partition brought by the plaintiffs having been compromised, an Amin was appointed to effect a partition. Subsequently, the execution proceedings then pending were dismissed for default of appearance. A fresh suit for partition is not barred by the rule. 10 C.W.N. 839. Y
- (v) Suit for a claim of the under-proprietary right in virtue of a settlement is dismissed. Subsequent suit for the superior-proprietary right is barred. 15 C. 422; 15 I.A. 66. Z
- (vi) First suit for redemption by mortgagor is dismissed under r. 8. A fresh suit for redemption of the same mortgage is barred. 43 P.R. 1907=169 P.L.R. 1908. (15 C. 422; 117 P.R. 1891 and 32 P.R. 1905, F; 10 B. 28, D; 25 M. 30; 7 B. 467; 13 B. 567; 19 A. 202, Appr; 86 P.R. 1877; 14 P.R. 1881; 6 M. 119; 7 M. 432; 11 A. 386 and 15 M. 366, doubted). A
- (vii) Rejection of plaint, under S. 13, Act III of 1876, by reason of failure of plaintiff to attend with his proofs on the day appointed, is a decision and will bar a fresh suit on the same cause of action. 6 Bom. 477. B

2.—“If he satisfies...sufficient cause for his non-appearance, hearing.”

(1) General.

- (a) The words “prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing” should be read so as to include the case of the absence of the plaintiff’s counsel or attorney, when such absence has been caused by a bona fide mistake. 2 B. 282, 2nd Ed., 267. C
- (b) When appearance was prevented by a sufficient cause, the Court has no discretion in the matter under the Code and must restore the case to file, whatever may prima facie be the merits of the suit or defence thereto. But where there may be other just and reasonable cause for restoring a case to file, the merits of the applicant’s case will form a very important element in the exercise by the Court of its judicial discretion. It is competent to, but not obligatory upon, the Court to restore the case to file even when no sufficient cause for non-appearance is shown. 26 M. 599. D
- (c) The only ground on which an order of dismissal of a suit for default can be set aside, is that of the plaintiff’s being prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing when the suit was called on for hearing. 4 L.B.R. 221. E
- (d) As to the question of sufficient cause, a Court of revision ought not lightly to interfere with the discretion exercised by the lower Court. 17 M.L.J. 225=30 M. 274; 26 M. 599, R. F
- (e) A Court will not order a restoration when the plaintiff’s absence was wilful and contumacious and amounted to a refusal to submit himself to the jurisdiction of the Court. A Court may restore a suit on a suitable order as to costs, looking to the importance of the cause, to the high value of the property involved, and the persistence with which the litigation is conducted by the plaintiff, if the non-appearance was due only to some trifling neglect or to ignorance of the consequences of his action in not appearing. 46 P.R. 1905; 26 M. 599, R. G
- (f) Counsel’s appearance in Court on instruction, only to apply for an adjournment, is no appearance for the conduct of the suit. 28 B. 417; 31 C. 150=8 C.W.N. 97; 46 P.R. 1905. H

(2) Held to be sufficient cause.

- (a) That a party had had no sufficient time to ascertain as to who were the legal representatives of a deceased defendant. 28 C. 991. I
- (b) When the pleader engaged by the plaintiff could not attend owing to wife’s illness, and another gentleman, who had agreed to take up the case as his substitute, was unavoidably prevented from attending the Court, and there being three cases on the day’s list above the case, the party himself did not anticipate that the case would be called at an early hour. 11 C.W.N. 430; 7 C.W.N. 249=30 C. 36; 25 A. 133, Appr. J

(3) Not sufficient cause.

- (a) Believing that a part heard case would be proceeded with and would occupy some time, the plaintiff left the Court house and went to assist his employer. The plaintiff returned in about half an hour when he found that the suit was dismissed. 13 B. 12. K
- (b) When the suit was called on for hearing, neither of the plaintiff’s counsel was present; but the plaintiff was present in person. After raising of the issues in the case, the Court gave half an hour’s time for the plaintiff to appear; but the plaintiff’s counsel did not turn up. 10; Bom. L.R. 904; 26 M. 599, not followed. L

2.—“If he satisfies...sufficient cause for his non-appearance... hearing.”—(Concluded).

(4) Fraud of guardian.

Gross negligence on the part of a next friend in the conduct of a suit, brought on behalf of a person under a disability, prevents the effect of the bar contained in the rule to the institution of a fresh suit by such person when the disability has ceased. 22 C. 8; 19 B. 571; 24 B. 547. M

(5) Power of Court to restore the application.

Where an application for revision is dismissed for default of the petitioner, such petition can be restored by the Court under this rule. 97 P.R. 1907=33 P.L.R. 1908=109 P.R. 1882, diss.; 76 P.R. 1903: 75 P.R. 1881; 54 P.R. 1901; 14 O. 177; 62 P.R. 1894, R. and D. N

(6) Objection to restoration.

Where plaintiff applies for restoration, the defendant cannot contest it as one which cannot be entertained at all under r. 9, by showing that at the time of the dismissal, there was an appearance by the plaintiff in fact or in law; but as an answer to the application on the merits, the defendant can raise the contention that the plaintiff was not prevented from appearing because in fact he did appear. 23 A. 66. O

of them appear, and the others do not appear, the Court may, at the instance of the plaintiff or plaintiffs appearing, permit the suit to proceed in the same way as if all the plaintiffs had appeared, or make such order as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 105 of Act XIV of 1882.

For the words “if there be” and “pass,” the words “where there are” and “make” are substituted.

11. Where there are more defendants than one, and one or more of them appear and the others do not appear, the suit shall proceed, and the Court shall, at the time of pronouncing judgment, make such order as it thinks fit with respect to the defendants who do not appear.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 106 of Act XIV of 1882.

For the words “if there be” and “passing,” the words “where there are” and “pronouncing” are substituted.

(General).

- (1) Where parties who had been made co-defendants did not appear and the Court dealt with the case under S. 116 of Act VIII of 1859, the decree given was held not to be an ex parte one even as against the absent defendants. 12 W.R. 376. P
- (2) S. 13 of Act XIV of 1882 is no bar to a fresh suit when the previous suit is dismissed in the defendant's absence on the failure of plaintiff to adduce evidence. 10 C.W.N. 40. Q
- (3) R. 18 should be read with this rule and effect should be given to all the provisions contained in them. 6 C.L.J. 226. R
- (4) Where a decree is set aside on the application of a defendant against whom it was passed ex parte, the case is not re-opened as against a co-defendant who had appeared and defended the suit. 18 B. 142. S

12. Where a plaintiff or defendant, who has been ordered to appear in person, does not appear in person, or show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Court for failing so to appear, he shall be subject to all the provisions of the foregoing rules applicable to plaintiffs and defendants, respectively, who do not appear.

Consequence of non-attendance, without sufficient cause shown, of party ordered to appear in person.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 107 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

The words "if" and "sections" are changed into "where" and "rules."

The words "under the provisions of S. 66 or S. 436" are omitted.

(General).

- (1) The hearing of a suit in which a pleader was appointed, but without instructions and who alone was present when the defendant was ordered to appear in person was held to be ex parte. 4 Bom. H.C. 206; S.D.A. N.W.P. 1863 (37). T

- (3) Appeal.

There is an appeal under S. 588 (8) (= O. 43, r. 1 (c) of Act V of 1908) against the order refusing to set aside rejection of application to set aside dismissal of suit for non-appearance of plaintiff ordered to appear in person. 8 A. 20. Y

Provided that where the decree is of such a nature that it cannot be set aside as against such defendant only it may be set aside as against all or any of the other defendants also.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 108 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

- (1) For the words "made," "pass an order to set aside," the words "passed," "make an order setting aside" are substituted.
- (2) The words "as against him" are new.
- (3) The proviso is also new.
- (4) The Committee have inserted words to make it clear that a decree can only be set aside in favour of a defendant against whom the decree has been passed ex parte. There is some conflict of judicial authority upon this point, and the Committee think that the matter should be set at rest in this sense. (See Statement of Objects and Reasons).

(General).

(1) Scope of the rule.

- (a) The rule was made applicable to rent suits under Bengal Act VIII of 1869 by S. 34 of the Act. 7 B.L.R. 207; 16 W.R. 17. W
- (b) The rule did not empower a judge to set aside a decree passed under S. 148 of Act VIII of 1859. 4 M.H.C. 56. X
- (c) The rule does not apply to a defendant who is only absent on an adjourned hearing. It relates only to one who has never appeared. 3 B.L.R. 121; 12 W.R. 169. Y
- (d) When a suit has been decreed against several defendants, and one of them who was not present at the hearing obtains a rehearing, the rule does not contemplate the setting aside of the portion of the decree which refers to the other defendants. 8 W.R. 260; 20 W.R. 286; 7 W.R. 237. Z
- (e) The rule does not permit improper re-admissions of suits, which were wrongly dismissed under S. 102 of Act XIV of 1882. 5 N.W.P. 75; 7 N.W.P. 126. A
- (f) There is a distinction between the case of a defendant in the Court of first instance and that of a respondent in an appellate Court not appearing. 8 A. 354 (4 A. 387; 6 Bom. A.C. 161; 2 A. 67; 5 I.A. 233; 7 A. 606; 8 C. 272; 2 B. 644; 2 M. 264; 2 M. 75, R). B
- (g) The rule applies to every case in which a decree is passed ex parte against a defendant, either by reason of his non-appearance at the first hearing, or by reason of his non-appearance at an adjourned hearing. 23 C. 738 (2 A. 67; 5 I.A. 233, dist. and 21 C. 269, overruled.). C

- (h) There is a distinction made in the Code between cases decided ex parte in the absence of one of the parties after first hearing, and cases decided in the absence of one of the parties at an adjourned hearing. 21 C. 269, overruled. D
- (i) The rule has no application to orders under S. 244 of Act XIV of 1882 (=S. 47 of Act V of 1908). 28 C. 81. E
- (j) The application of the rule is not limited to the case of a sole defendant who has not appeared, or where there are more defendants than one and none of them has appeared. 8 C.W.N. 621. F
- (k) The rule primarily applies, so far only, as the particular defendant who seeks to get an ex parte decree against him set aside, is concerned, though under certain circumstances it may be necessary in the interests of justice that the whole decree should be re-opened. 1902 A.W.N. 76=24 A. 383; (8 W.R. 260; 15 W.R. 371; 4 C.W.N. 456; 1 W.R. 222; 7 W.R. 237; 18 B. 142; 25 C. 155, R.) G
- (l) The rule does not apply to the setting aside of an insolvency order. 8 C.W.N. 468. H
- (m) S. 108 of Act XIV of 1882 (=O. 9, r. 13 of Act V of 1908) does not apply to a case in which there is no decree against a person who has not appeared. 1 A.L.J. 470. I
- (n) An order under this rule, setting aside a decree passed ex parte, is not an order affecting the decision of the case, i.e., the order does not determine the merits, but merely ensures a rehearing on the merits. 9 C.W.N. 584 (22 C. 981; 1 C.L.J. 27; 24 A. 464; 25 A. 280; 27 B. 162, R.) J
- (o) The rule empowers the Court to deal with an application to set aside an order absolute, under S. 87 or 89, Transfer of Property Act (=O. 34, r. 3 or r. 5 of Act V of 1908) made ex parte and to set it aside upon a proper case being substantiated. 22 M. 133; 16 C.P.L.R. 92; 32 C. 258; but see 4 O.C. 238; 4 O.C. 301. K
- (p) An application made under the rule to set aside an ex parte decree, passed under S. 90 of the Transfer of Property Act (=O. 34, r. 6 of Act V of 1908) is not maintainable. 9 O.C. 288 (6 O.C. 114; 15 A. 84, R.) L
- (q) The rule does not permit re-opening of a suit without inquiry, which is a material irregularity within S. 622 of Act XIV of 1882 (=S. 115 of Act V of 1908). U.B.R. (1906), Civ. Pro. Code, 42. [U.B.R. (1904-05), Civ. Pro. p. 26, R.] M
- (r) If an order absolute is made ex parte, the Court may, on grounds analogous to those stated in the rule, set it aside and resume the proceedings inter partes. 3 N.L.R. 55. N
- (s) A Court cannot, after having set aside an ex parte decree, proceed to uphold that decree, as if it was still existing. 17 M.L.J. 81. O
- (t) The power to pass an order under the rule is distinct from the power to set aside an ex parte appellate decree, conferred by S. 560 of Act XIV of 1882 (=O. 41, r. 21 of Act V of 1908). 17 M.L.J. 436. P
- (u) If the objector had no notice of the application for insolvency, he is entitled to apply under the rule to set aside an ex parte order passed under S. 350 of Act XIV of 1882. 7 C.L.J. 268. Q
- (v) The rule applies to execution proceedings. 3 B.L.R. 17; 12 C.L.R. 449; 10 C. 416; but see 15 A. 84 and 18 B. 429; 9 C.P.L.R. at p. 7. R

(General)—(Continued).

- (u) A Court has jurisdiction, under S. 108 of Act XIV of 1882 (= O. 9, r. 13 of Act V of 1908), to set aside an ex parte decree, notwithstanding the fact that, under S. 101, the Court had refused to hear the defendant. 10 C.P.L.R. 45. S

(x) PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT :—

- (1) S. 37 of the—does not apply to an ex parte decree. An application to set aside an ex parte decree, passed by a Presidency Court of Small Causes, falls within the terms of the rule, and the period of limitation for such an application is 30 days. 17 B. 507. T
- (2) A defendant is entitled to avail himself of the rule where an ex parte decree is passed against him at an adjourned hearing. 20 B. 380. U
- (3) When a suit has been decreed ex parte, and an application under S. 108 of Act XIV of 1882 (= O. 9, r. 13 of Act V of 1908) for setting aside such decree dismissed, an application cannot be made under S. 38 of the—for a new trial. 3 C.L.J. 199. V
- (4) The Court of Small Causes at Bombay has inherent power to deal with an application to set aside an order made ex parte, and to set it aside, upon a proper cause being substantiated. 31 B. 45=8 Bom. L.R. 80 (32 C. 253=9 C.W.N. 81, F). W

(y) MINOR.

- (1) The simple fact that a guardian did not appear in a suit is not a good and sufficient cause, for setting aside an ex parte decree passed against a minor. There are different considerations which bear upon the matter, the question always being whether, in what the guardian did, he acted in the best interest of his ward. 5 C.W.N. 58. X
- (2) Where there has been no appointment of a person as guardian ad litem of the minor defendant in the manner prescribed by S. 443 of Act XIV of 1882 (= O. 32, r. 3 (1) and r. 4 (2) of Act V of 1908), the minors were entitled to have the decree set aside as against them. 14 C. 204; 6 C.L.R. 69; 1902 A.W.N. 76=24 A. 383. Y

(s) LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES.

- (1) The representatives of a deceased defendant can apply to set aside an ex parte decree, just as the defendant himself could have done. 5 W.R. 11; 29 C. 33; 9 O.C. 35; but see 21 A. 274; 28 M. 361. Z
- (2) Where proceedings have been initiated by the defendant, the—of the defendant is entitled to continue such proceedings. A.W.N. (1907), 176=4 A.L.J. 480=29 A. 574 (21 A. 274, D. and 29 C. 33, R.) A

(aa) INDIAN COMPANIES ACT, VI OF 1889.

- S. 169 of—does not apply to an ex parte decree. The term “rehearing” in that section means a rehearing in the nature of an appeal. 19 B. 208. B

(2) Limitation.

- (a) The object of the rule was to make it imperative on a defendant, against whom an ex parte decree had been passed, to apply to the Court as soon as possible, after he had notice of the passing of the decree, i.e., within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days from the first actual execution of process to enforce judgment. 7 W.R. 375; 13 W.R. 436; 8 Bom. A.C. 44; 26 W.R. 99; 12 B. 257; 17 B. 507. C

(General)—(Continued).

- (b) Process of enforcing a judgment has not been executed until the proceedings in execution have been brought to a termination by a sale of the property attached. 7 W.R. 198. D
- (c) Process for enforcing judgment was executed when an attachment of the property of the defendant had taken place. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 947; 9 W.R. 236. E
- (d) The thirty days, "after any process for enforcing the judgment has been executed," meant thirty days after the execution of any process against the person or property of the defendant. 6 W.R. 51; 6 A. 14. F
- (e) There need not be personal service of the process. 1 N.W.P. 133. G
- (f) When an application was made more than thirty days from the date of attachment, but within thirty days of the service of the sale proclamation, held it was barred by limitation. 9 C. 869; 7 A. 345 [A.W.N. (1884), 322, R.]. H
- (g) Notice of execution of decree is not sufficient "process for enforcing" it. Such process means actual process by attachment in execution of the person or property of the debtor. 2 C. 123; 1869 P.R. 94. I
- (h) Notice of the process on the debtor is not necessary, 13 W.R. 436; because if the process has been duly executed the law presumes that the judgment-debtor had notice of it. 15 W.R. 315. J
- (i) A plea that the judgment-debtor was not aware of the fact of attachment, because property attached was not in his possession, or because he was not in town, will be of no avail. 25 W.R. 72. K
- (j) A judgment-debtor is not debarred from coming more than thirty days after attachment, provided he shows the property attached is not his. 6 W.R. 51; 15 W.R. 210; B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 947; but see 25 W.R. 72, in which case the proof was held to be insufficient. L
- (k) An application, to set aside an ex parte decree after thirty days have expired, should not be entertained on the supposition that there has been collusion to defeat the defendant's rights. 26 W.R. 99; 1878 P.R. 32. M
- (l) Before a Judge can enter into an enquiry whether notice has or has not been served on the applicant, he must first determine if the application for rehearing has been made in proper time. 11 W.R. 310. N
- (m) The time, during which the petitioner was prosecuting his application, should not be excluded in computing the period of limitation in appeals. 23 C. 325 (5 A. 591; 21 C. 269, It.). O
- (n) Unsuccessful attempts to set aside an ex parte decree will not have the effect of extending the period prescribed by law for execution of the decree. 16 B. 123. P
- (o) An infructuous application is not such a process as sets limitation running. 2 C.W.N. occ. Q
- (p) A notice served under S. 248 (=O. 21, r. 22 of Act V of 1908) is an execution of a process for enforcing judgment. 110 P.L.R. 1905. R
- (q) When an ex parte decree is passed against more defendants than one, and the decree is executed against one of them only, then that is not an execution of process for enforcing judgment against the others. 9 Bom. L.R. 323=31 B. 303. [(1888) P.J. 56, F.] S

(3) Other remedies.

- (a) A suit will lie to set aside a decree and a sale held in execution of such a decree when both the sale and the decree are impeached on the ground of fraud. 21 C. 605; 24 C. 546; 21 A. 289; 29 C. 395; but not otherwise, 28 C. 475. T

(General)—(Continued.)

- (b) Where there is an appeal against a decision, the effect of not appealing is that the decision holds good for what it is worth ; so far as concerns any other modes of relief available, the person not appealing is in no worse position than if he had appealed and failed. 24 C. 546 ; 21 A. 289. U

(4) Review.

- (a) It is competent, to a party against whom an ex parte decree has been made, to apply for—of judgment. 6 A. 65 ; 8 A. 140. Y
- (b) But the Court will not interfere under S. 622 of Act XIV of 1882 (= S. 115 of Act V of 1908), in applications for—of orders passed on applications under this rule. 8 C. 832. W

(5) Appeal.

- (a) There is an—against an order rejecting applications under the rule, for an order to set aside a decree ex parte ; but there is no second appeal. 8 C. 832 ; 23 A. 320 ; 1895 P.R. 82. X
- (b) There is no appeal from an order setting aside an ex parte decree. 16 C. 426. Y
- (c) Though an order passed for setting aside a judgment is final, yet where a Civil Court makes an order setting aside an ex parte judgment, on an application presented after the period of limitation, an—against that order will lie. 8 Bom. A.C. 44 ; 15 W.R. 175 ; 22 W.R. 5. Z
- (d) Where a decree is passed ex parte in an original suit, the defendant has no right to a special—, even though his appeal has been entertained by the Civil Court. 4 M.H.C. 189. A
- (e) A District Judge is not competent to entertain a summary or miscellaneous appeal from an order setting aside an ex parte judgment. 23 W.R. 147. B
- (f) An—lies from an ex parte order directing attachment in execution of a decree. 3 M. 42. C
- (g) A defendant against whom a decree has been passed ex parte, who has not adopted the remedy provided by the rule, cannot appeal from such decree. 4 A. 387 ; 8 C. 272 ; 10 C.L.R. 502 ; but see 9 M. 445 ; 1883 P.R. 60 ; 1886 P.R. 2. D
- (h) Though a proper order under the rule is so far final, its propriety may be contested in appeal from the final decree. 25 W.R. 304 ; 22 W.R. 232. E
- (i-j) The objection that the Munsiff ought not to have entertained an application, as it had not been presented in due time, will be too late in special appeal if it had not been raised in appeal. 8 B.L.R. 78 ; 15 W.R. 315. F
- (k) The Court restoring a suit to file, setting aside an ex parte decree, should give the defendant an opportunity to cross-examine plaintiff's witnesses. 12 W.R. 130 ; sometimes the expenses of re-summoning plaintiff's witnesses may fall on him. 20 W.R. 3 ; an affidavit tendered as evidence in appeal was rejected. 17 W.R. 390. G
- (l) No appeal will lie from an order made under S. 157 (= O. 17, r. 2 of Act V of 1908) read with S. 108 (= O. 9, r. 18 of Act V of 1908) of Act XIV of 1882, setting aside an ex parte decree in default of appearance on the day of adjourned hearing. 19 A. 355. H

(General)—(Concluded).

- (m) Where an ex parte decree was set aside by an order under the rule, and the suit heard upon the merits and dismissed, held that such an order was not an order affecting the decision of the case under S. 591 (=S. 105 of Act V of 1908), and was not appealable under that section. 22 C. 981; i.e., such an order cannot be set forth as a ground of objection in the memo of appeal against the decree in the suit. 25 A. 280. I
- (n) An order, setting aside the decree, in toto, as against all the defendants, is not appealable, but may be questioned in an appeal against the final decree. 13 M.L.J. 308; but see 25 A. 230. J
- (o) No appeal lies to the Privy Council on any interlocutory order passed by the High Court. 11 M.L.J. 65; 28 I.A. 28; 28 C. 442; 5 C.W.N. 153; 3 Bom. L.R. 78; 28 A. 220. K
- (p) An application by the judgment-debtor, under S. 258 of Act XIV of 1882, to certify an alleged adjustment of decree was granted. Thereupon the decree-holder applied to have the order set aside under this rule. On the rejection of the application and on the refusal of the Court to treat it as an application for review, he appealed. Held an appeal lay to the High Court. A.W.N. (1906), 58=3 A.L.J. 119. L
- (q) The first Court had jurisdiction to hear the application for setting aside an ex parte decree during the pendency of the appeal. 12 C.W.N. 885. M
- (r) An ex parte decree was set aside by the Munsiff. A rule to set aside this order was discharged by the High Court. The District Judge had no jurisdiction to consider the propriety of the order. 8 C.L.J. 308. N

(6) Remand.

- (a) After the postponement of a suit on the application of the defendant's pleader, the application for adjournment on the adjourned day of hearing was refused. The suit was decreed ex parte. On appeal, the case was sent back for retrial. 3 B.L.R. 44; 15 W.R. 508.
- (b) When the lower appellate Court admitted an application for retrial of a case decided ex parte by the Munsiff, it is right in sending for the record. 15 W.R. 431. P
- (c) Where an order of the lower Court dismissing an application under the rule was reversed, and the High Court remanded the case to be disposed of on the merits:—held that the proper construction of the order, alike in law and in the facts of the case, was that it was the application and not the suit that was remanded for disposal upon the merits. 5 C.W.N. 153; 11 M.L.J. 65; 28 C. 424; 28 I.A. 28. Q
- (d) When a case is in fact tried on the merits, for example, the Munsiff rejecting an application holding there was neither fraud nor suppression, the District Judge had no jurisdiction to remand it, but should have come to a conclusion on the evidence. 7 C.L.J. 879. R
- (e) There is a power to remand a case when the appellate Court reverses an order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree. 30 M. 54=1 M.L.T. 268=16 M.L.J. 479 (23 M. 445; 23 A. 167, F; 17 B. 733; 23 M. 260, not followed; 23 C. 738; 23 M. 447; 23 M. 437 and 12 A. 510, R.). S

(7) Execution proceedings.

The rule applies to—and an appeal would lie, under S. 588, cl. 9 (=O. 43, r. 1 (d) from an order dismissing an application under the rule, on the ground that it did not apply to execution proceedings. 3 C.L.J. 276. T

1.—“Decree is passed ex parte.”

(1) General.

(a) Decree passed ex parte does not include cases dismissed for default. 2 C.W.N. 698. U

(b) An ex parte order admitting an appeal is subject to reconsideration on the hearing of the appeal. 13 C. 78. Y

(2) Held ex parte.

(a) Decree in a suit in which a pleader was duly appointed but not instructed to answer. 4 Bom.A.C. 206. W

(b) Decree in a suit when the plaintiff's pleader was absent. 10 W.R. 348. X

(c) Decree in a suit where the defendant did not appear at the date of adjourned hearing, though the pleader had filed his vakalatnama at the outset. 8 A. 140. Y

(d) Decree in a case where there is a mere formal appearance in Court with no further action than the putting in of a written statement. 1 N.W.P. 154; 18 W.R. 400. Z

(e) Decree passed against a defendant, on the adjourned date, for whom none appeared but who was represented by a vakil, having a power of attorney executed by a third person, who moved for an adjournment on the day of the first hearing. 18 A. 241 (7 A. 538; 8 A. 140, R.). A

(f) Decree passed against a defendant whose pleader, after moving for an adjournment for the purpose of the issue of warrants against certain witnesses and to have certain records sent for, retired from the case. 8 C.W.N. 621; (27 C. 529, diss.; 23 C. 738, follow.). B

(g) Decree in a suit, where an alleged compromise, on which the decree was passed, was not actually entered into by defendants, and where the defendants were not duly served and were not present or represented at the trial. 3 O.L.J. 158. C

(h) Decree in a suit adjourned to a fixed day after settlement of issues when the alleged adoptive mother, the second defendant's guardian, ad litem, prayed for two months' time through a vakil and when, on the refusal of the Court, the vakil abstained from taking further part in the case. 3 M.L.T. 225. (22 A. 66; 23 B. 414, R.); 1866 P.R. 6. D

(i) Decree passed against a defendant who after filing a written statement failed to appear at any adjourned hearing. 4 M.L.T. 216 (18 M.L.J. 51; 23 C. 738; 20 B. 380; 20 A. 195 F.). E

(j) Decree in a suit when the defendant failed to appear at the trial on remand. 1869 P.R. 3. F

(k) Decree given for the plaintiff when the defendant was falsely personated at the hearing. 1869 P.R. 87. G

(3) Held not ex parte.

(a) Decree in a suit where there is appearance in person or by pleader, without putting in, an answer or written statement. Marsh 32; 7 W.R. 295; 2 M.H.C. 311. H

(b) Decree in a suit when a duly authorised vakil appears on the day fixed even though he was not sufficiently instructed. 20 W.R. 53. I

(c) Decree in a suit where the defendant entered appearance and filed a written statement, though the defendant did not appear in person at the hearing. 11 W.R. 5. J

(d) Decree in a suit when the Court of first instance refused to receive the defendant's written statement, as it was not filed on the day fixed and the delay was not satisfactorily explained. 1 B. 217. K

1.—“Decree is passed ‘ex parte’.”—(Concluded).

- (e) Decree in a suit when the parties appeared on the first day of hearing and the defendant, who was given time to obtain documents from the Collector's Office, did not appear on the adjourned day. 4 M.H.C. 254. L
- (f) Decree in a case in which one of many defendants, who was made a party to the suit, did not appear, and a decree for possession was passed without any such special orders regarding that defendant. 9 W.R. 597. M
- (g) Decree obtained on document afterwards alleged to be a cheat and forgery. 14 W.R. 297. N
- (h) Decree in a suit, even though a defendant appears at the first hearing and files a written statement. 3 M. 264 ; 2 B. 644 ; 2 M. 75. O
- (i) A decree against a defendant whose defence was struck out under S. 136 (=O. 11, r. 21 of Act V of 1908) for failure to answer interrogatives. 7 A. 159. P
- (j) Decree given against a defendant who put in an appearance in the Small Cause Court at the first hearing, and the case was adjourned to a later date for hearing, on which date the case was heard in his absence. 21 C. 269. Q

2.—“May apply.”

- (1) The fact, that no appeal has been preferred against an order made under r. 7, is no objection to an application being made under the rule. 21 M. 324. R
- (2) The fact, that the ex parte decree has been satisfied, does not disentitle a defendant to apply to the Court to set it aside. 23 B. 716. S

3.—“Court by which the decree was passed.”

A Judge may revive a suit tried by his predecessor. 10 W.R. 156. T

4.—“Summons was not duly served.”

- (a) That is, either not served at all ; 18 W.R. 237 ; or has not been properly served ; 7 Bom. H.C. 138 ; or not in sufficient time for the defendant to appear ; 7 Bom. H.C. 138 ; 18 W.R. 141 ; or for his legal representative ; 14 W.R. 401 ; or summons served in wrong name, and the error detected in execution ; 1866 P.R. 9. U
- (b) Where serving officer finds defendant to be away only temporarily from home and knows where he is, it is not proper service to affix summons to outer door without any further effort to effect personal service. 1902 A.W.N. 68=24 A. 302. V
- (c) Where a defendant seeks the summary remedy of an application under the rule, he should show that the summons was not duly served on him. 1901 A.W.N. 1=23 A. 99. W
- (d) It was doubted whether service, by affixing on the outer door of a place of business, was good. 7 Bom. H.C. 138. X
- (e) Service of summons on one defendant, with whom other summons for other defendants were left, was bad as against the others. 3 B.L.R. 7. Y
- (f) One summons posted on the outer door of a house summoning several people was bad service as against all. 24 W.R. 394. Z

5.—“Or that he was prevented by any sufficient cause.”

(1) General.

- (a) The words, “prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing,” should be read so as to include the case of the absence of the plaintiff’s counsel or attorney, when such absence has been caused by a bona fide mistake. 2 B. 282; 2nd Ed. 267. A
- (b) The Court is bound to inquire into the truth of the allegation, that the decree was obtained upon a petition of confession of judgment put in by a person fraudulently employed to personate him. 6 W.R. 36. B

(2) Held sufficient cause.

- (a) A bona fide mistake of the party which was not unreasonable. 3 Bom. O.C. 60. C
- (b) The appearance of the defendant earlier than 15 days after service of process, his swearing that no summons had been served on him, and that the contract under which the case had been decreed against him had been broken by the plaintiff. 13 W.R. 237. D
- (c) Fraud of the plaintiff which prevented the defendant from appearing on the last day of hearing. 18 W.R. 457. E
- (d) Bona fide mistake of the party’s counsel or attorney. 2 Bom. H.C. 267; but not necessarily because pleader was engaged elsewhere. 24 W.R. 141. F
- (e) Decree in the absence of one of the parties to whom no intimation had been given of the day when the case would be heard. 2 B. 381. G, H
- (f) Absence of parties owing to an understanding between them for an adjournment. Cor. Rep. 120; 2 Hyde 216. I
- (g) Non-appearance of guardian, as also his negligence otherwise. 6 C.L.R. 69; 22 C. 8. J
- (h) The party not aware of the case being transferred from one Court to another. 9 C.D. 1. K
- (i) Impeachment on the ground of fraud. 21 C. 605; 24 C. 546. (17 C. 769 and 19 C. 341, dist.); 11 C.W.N. 440. L

(3) Burden of proof.

- (a) The onus of proving sufficient cause lies on the applicant. 24 W.R. 262. M
- (b) If the applicant has made out a prima facie case, the onus will shift on to the other side to rebut it. 22 W.R. 423. N

6.—“The Court shall make an order.”

- (a) The precise effect of the order has occasioned much discussion. 25 C. 155; 5 C.W.N. 58; 18 B. 142; 18 M.L.J. 308; 6 C.W.N. 109. See also Statement of Objects and Reasons. O
- (b) An application by one co-defendant was held to re-open the case, against all the defendants, where the objection was on a ground common to all; otherwise not. 15 W.R. 371; 24 A. 883; 25 A. 42; 26 M. 604. P

7.—“Setting aside the decree.....upon such terms as to costs.”

(1) General principles.

- (a) The Court had no power to impose terms in granting the order. 6 B.L.R. 688; 4 C. 318; 3 C.L.R. 482. Q
- (b) A Court has jurisdiction to set aside an ex parte decree, on condition that the defendant should find surety who would be responsible for any amount that would subsequently be decreed against the defendant. 26 C. 222. R

7.—“Setting aside the decree....upon such terms as to costs.”—(Contd).

- (c) Where the defendants failed to note the date of hearing fixed in the summons and did not appear, and an ex parte decree was passed, the application to set aside the decree can be granted, conditional on the applicant paying plaintiff's taxed costs by a certain day. 1904 A.W.N. 227; 27 A. 192. R1

(2) Effect of setting aside ex parte decree.

- (a) The effect of granting an application under the rule, is, to declare that there has not been yet a valid decree in the suit, and thereby any attachment that has issued in execution of the decree, which has been set aside, becomes invalid. 1 B.L.R. 17. S
- (b) A party, who has not come in to take benefit of order of dismissal of suit after application for new trial under the rule, is entitled to the benefit. 11 W.R. 18. T
- (c) Where a decree is set aside on the application of a defendant, against whom it was passed ex parte, the case is not re-opened as against a co-defendant who had appeared and defended the suit. 18 B. 142; 13 M.L.J. 308; but see 5 C.W.N. 58; 25 A. 230=1903 A.W.N. 89. U
- (d) Where an ex parte decree is divisible, it is, though in form a single decree, equivalent to two decrees and when, on an application by one set of defendants who had a separate defence, it is set aside, it remains still a good and binding decree against the other set of defendants. 6 C.W.N. 109; but see 13 M.L.J. 308. Y
- (e) Where an order is made under the rule, the decree set aside is primarily the whole decree, though, where a decree passed against several defendants consists in reality of separate decrees against each, it may be that the decree can be set aside in part. 1902 A.W.N. 76=24 A. 383 (25 C. 155; 5 C.W.N. 58, R; 18 B. 142, not foll.). W
- (f) In a mortgage suit a decree for sale was passed against three persons, of whom one was ex parte. The only way of working out the decrees is, to allow the sale to proceed as against the mortgaged properties of the persons against whom there was a decree for a larger sum, and to allow the sale of the third man's properties only on default of the sale realising the lesser sum found due on the retrial. 1902 A.W.N. 189=25 A. 42. X
- (g) The effect of an order passed under the rule was, to nullify the order made under r. 7, so as to allow the defendant to appear and defend the suit. 21 M. 324; 8 M.L.J. 58 (21 B. 228, R.). Y
- (h) When an ex parte decree against several defendants is set aside, at the instance of one of them, the order does not necessarily revive the whole suit to the benefit of other defendants whose prayer has been heard and rejected. 3 C.L.J. 160 (25 C. 155, D.). Z
- (i) It cannot be laid as an inflexible rule of law that, whenever an order is made under the rule, the effect is to set aside the whole decree. It is not obligatory upon the Court to set aside the whole decree and to re-open the entire suit under all circumstances. 6 C.L.J. 226 (4 C.W.N. 456; 8 W.R. 260, R.) and 25 C. 155, D. A
- (j) When the question involved in a case is, whether the liability of the defendants is joint or several, and the ex parte decree is set aside on the application of some, the entire decree is set aside. 5 C.L.J. 202 (6 C.W.N. 109, D; 25 C. 155, F.). B

7.—“Setting aside the decree....upon such terms as to costs.”—(Concl'd).

(K) The ex parte decree as against the defendants, other than the one who had shown sufficient cause, could not be set aside. 4 M.L.T. 230 (26 M. 604; 13 B. 142; 8 W.R. 26; 25 C. 155; 4 C.W.N. 456; 24 A. 283, R. and Expl.). C

No decree to be set aside without notice to opposite party.

14. No decree shall be set aside on any such application as aforesaid unless notice thereof has been served on the opposite party ¹.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 109 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“Opposite party.”

An auction purchaser of property, sold in execution of an ex parte decree, is not a necessary party to an application made by a judgment-debtor to set aside the said decree, inasmuch as the auction purchaser does not come under “opposite party” in this clause. 26 C. 267 = 3 C.W.N. 261. D

ORDER X.

EXAMINATION OF PARTIES BY THE COURT.

1. At the first hearing of the suit the Court shall ascertain from each party or his pleader whether he admits or denies such allegations of fact as are made in the plaint or written statement (if any) of the opposite party ¹, and as are not expressly or by necessary implication admitted or denied by the party against whom they are made. The Court shall record such admissions and denials.

Ascertainment whether allegations in pleadings are admitted or denied.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 117 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The phrase, “shall ascertain from the defendant or his pleader whether he admits or denies the allegations of fact made in the plaint,” is omitted in this rule.

1.—“Shall ascertain....party or pleader....admits or denies....opposite party.”

(1) Admissions by pleader.

(a) As to the effect of —, see page 62, C.—“PLEADER’S AUTHORITY TO BIND CLIENT.” (Civil Procedure Code, Vol. I, Lawyer’s Companion Series). E

(b) The rule of law is that a judgment recording the admissions of a pleader must be taken as correct, unless it is contradicted by an affidavit or the Judge’s own admission that the record he made was wrong. 16 W.R. 107. F

1.—“Shall ascertain....party or pleader....admits or denies....opposite party.”—(Concluded).

(2) Duty of Judge—Suggesting pleas.

It can never be the Judge's duty to suggest and invent pleas which the party himself has not hinted at; but it may be his duty to elicit the meaning of a party who is too ignorant to put his case clearly and to help him to state his case. (1880) Select case, Part X, No. 2. G

(3) Examination of parties—Remand.

Where, the lower Court has tried a case without the examination of the parties according to this rule, and the written statements tendered by the parties are not in accordance with law, the appellate Court must remand the case for re-trial. O.C.P.L.R. 11. H

(4) Failure to prove averments—Relief.

A plaintiff, who fails to prove the averments on which his suit is based, is not entitled to any relief in respect of that portion of the property of which the defendant admits his possession as mortgagee. 1 A. 194. I

(5) Inquiry under S. 117=O. X, r. 1 of the new Code—Allegation of possession—Finding of “no possession.”

In a suit for partition, where the plaintiffs alleged joint possession with the defendants, it was not competent to a Court to make an inquiry under this rule, without framing issues and examining witnesses on the point, and find that the plaintiffs were not in possession, and make an order as to the payment of additional Court-fee. A.W.N. (1905), 170. J

(6) Upper Burma Civil Justice Regulation, Ss. 47, 48=O. X, rr. 1 and 2 of the present Code.

(a) Where, upon examination of the parties, the defendant obstructed the Court by pretending that he did not understand the questions put and otherwise, it was not competent to the Court to dispose of the case summarily without framing the issues, but the Court was bound to frame the issues on the materials before it and to proceed with the provisions of Ss. 47 and 48 of the Civil Justice Regulation. U.B.R. (1892-1896), Vol. II, Civil (245, 248). K

(b) It is the duty of Courts to give reasonable time to the parties to get legal advice, and they must consider the circumstances under which alone such advice is obtainable in Upper Burma. (Ibid). L

2. At the first hearing of the suit, or at any subsequent hearing,

Oral examination of party, or companion of party.

any party appearing in person or present in Court, or any person able to answer any material questions relating to the suit by whom such party or his pleader is accompanied, may be examined orally by the Court¹: and the Court may, if it thinks fit, put in the course of such examination questions suggested by either party.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 118 of the old Code and also to S. 125 of the Code of 1859.

N.B.—The Code of 1859 contemplated the examination of the party, his pleader, or a companion of either of them. The examination of the pleader is not mentioned in this rule as well as in S. 118 of the Code of 1882.

1.—“Any party appearing in person or present in Court....may be examined orally by the Court.”

(1) Scope of the rule.

- (a) Rule 2 was a provision merely to enable the Court to ascertain the questions in controversy between the parties, and was not intended to be in substitution for the regular examination on oath. 2 A.L.J. 777. M
- (b) Any statement made by a party, examined under rule 2, was binding only on the person who made the statement. (Ibid). N
- (c) The examination may be made by the Court without administering oath or affirmation to the party. Cf. Act of 1859. O

(2) Appearance by pleader.

Ss. 118, 119 (1859, S. 125)=O. X, rules 2 and 3, contemplate a case in which a party who has appeared at the proper time, afterwards appears by pleader. 12 W.R. 207. P

(3) Ex parte trial—Written statement.

- (a) If the parties appear properly, the Court must examine them and frame the issues. A suit ought not to be tried ex parte, simply because a party does not put in a written statement. 2 M.H.C. 311. Q
- (b) It is only the Court that can put questions, and the parties have no right to put questions to each other. (Ibid). R

Substance of examination to be written. 3. The substance of the examination shall be reduced to writing by the Judge, and shall form part of the record.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 119 of the old Code.

4. (1) Where the pleader of any party who appears by a pleader or any such person accompanying a pleader as is referred to in rule 2, refuses or is unable to answer¹ any material question relating to the suit² which the Court is of opinion that the party whom he represents ought to answer, and is likely to be able to answer if interrogated in person, the Court may postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day and direct that such party shall appear in person on such day.

(2) If such party fails without lawful excuse³ to appear in person on the day so appointed, the Court may pronounce judgment against him, or make such order in relation to the suit as it thinks fit⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule (1) of this rule corresponds to the first paragraph of S. 120 of the old Code, and sub-rule (2) to the second paragraph of the same section. The rule also corresponds to S. 127 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The words "or any such person accompanying a pleader as is referred to in rule (2)" are newly added in sub-rule (1), and the words "pronounce judgment," are inserted instead of the words "pass a decree," in sub-rule (2).

(5) Intention of the rule.

The——seems to be, to enable the Court not only to get obscure points cleared up by obtaining information from either of the parties, but also to get admissions so as to narrow down the issues. 5 Bom.L.R. 687. X

(6) Object of the rule.

The——is, not to take evidence or to ascertain what is to be the evidence in the case, but to see what the matters in dispute are, and, if necessary, to allow the plaint to be amended. 15 I.A. 119 = 15 C. 533. Y appear in person and reply to the Court's queries, or to send some one who could reply. Having done neither, the lower Court was competent to dismiss the suit under S. 127, Act VIII of 1859 = O. X, r. 4 of the present Code. 2 W.R. 161. E

- (b) A suit ought not to be dismissed on account of the fact that a pleader is not able to prove to the Court, on the day of the trial, the materiality of absent witnesses. The proper course is, to allow the plaintiff certain time to produce evidence on this point, on payment by him of the costs of the adjournment. 17 W.R. 141. F

(2) Refusal to attend as witness.

A Court passed an order under S. 120 of the old Code (= O. X, r. 4) of the present Code, directing that a plaintiff, who was summoned as a witness by his defendant, should attend Court and on his failure to do so, passed a decree against him. Held, that the Court had no power to issue an order under S. 120, unless the pleader of the plaintiff, who was present in Court, had refused or was unable to answer a material question, the plaintiff's refusal to attend as witness being immaterial. 23 B. 318, see also 2 B.H.C. 340. G

2.—“Any material question relating to the suit.”Material question.

- (a) The Judge should be satisfied that the question is material. 21 W.R. 44 ; 23 B. 318. H
- (b) The grounds of his satisfaction and the question asked must be recorded. 17 W.R. 507.

3.—“Without lawful excuse.”(1) Excuse—Lawfulness of.

Whether an excuse is lawful or not, will depend on the nature of the particular case. 18 W.R. 63. J

(2) Excuse is lawful.

- (a) Where a party objects to appear on the ground that he lives beyond the limits mentioned in S. 176 of the old Code (= O. XVI. r. 19 of the new Code). 3 W.R. Act X, 162. K
- (b) Where a person is exempted under this Code. Marsh 627. L
- (c) Where a person has not had sufficient time to appear. 3 M.H.C. 167. M
- (d) Where a person absents himself by necessity on Government service on the fixed date. 18 W.R. 16. N

(3) Excuse is not lawful.

- (a) Where a plaintiff's mookhtear is unable to answer questions necessary for fixing the proper issues and the plaintiff, being called upon to appear or send some one to answer, fails to do so. 2 W.R. 161. O
- (b) Where a party promises to appear, but does not, and gives no reason why he does not. 18 W.R. 63. P
- (c) Where a party refuses to appear on social grounds, namely, that persons of his position have a prejudice against appearing in Court. 18 W.R. 45 ; Marsh 176. Q

4.—“The Court may pronounce judgment or make such other order.....fit.”

(1) Legal processes—Compelling attendance.

All legal processes to compel a party's attendance must be exhausted, before a Court proceeds to decree or dismiss a suit under this rule. 2 W.R. Act X, 48. R

(2) Non-appearance.

(a) The Court is not bound to decree the case against the party who has not appeared, and it may pass any order it deems fit. 3 M.H.C. 167; 2 A.H.C. 67. S

(b) A suit should not be dismissed for non-appearance, unless there is a distinct order to attend, which has been served upon the plaintiff, or brought to his knowledge, and the plaintiff has wilfully disobeyed it, the evidence he has been required to give being very material. 17 W.R. 141; 20 W.R. 165; 22 W.R. 270; see also W.R. (1865), 24; 11 W.R. 110. T

(c) A suit can be dismissed for default only against the plaintiff who fails or refuses to attend, and not against the plaintiff who has appeared. 1 W.R. 25; 1 W.R. 168. U

(d) A claim, barred by limitation on the very face of it, cannot be decreed, simply because the defendant has been summoned but does not appear. 7 W.R. 46. Y

(e) The plaintiff's non-appearance as a witness for the defendant to prove want of consideration cannot justify a Court to entertain certain presumptions to the effect, that his accounts did not contain entries showing the payment of consideration to the defendant. 26 B. 392. W

(f) A Court may, nevertheless, presume from the non-appearance of the defendant that facts, on which evidence is required, are peculiarly within his knowledge. 10 W.R. 158. X

(3) Sufficiency of the excuse—Judge's duty.

Before passing a decree against a person for non-appearance, the Judge should hear what he has to say, and adjudicate on the sufficiency of the excuse. 15 W.R. 269; 24 W.R. 314. Y

ORDER XI.

DISCOVERY AND INSPECTION.

1. In any suit the plaintiff or defendant by leave of the Court may deliver interrogatories¹ in writing for the examination of the opposite parties² or any one or more of such parties, and such interrogatories when delivered shall have a note at the foot thereof stating which of such interrogatories each of such persons is required to answer: Provided that no party shall deliver more than one set of interrogatories to the same party without an order for that purpose: Provided also that interrogatories which do not relate to any matters in question in the suit shall be deemed irrelevant, notwithstanding that they might be admissible on the oral cross-examination of a witness.

O. XXXI,

(Notes).

Old Act.

S. 121 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Codes.

- (1) Instead of "any party," the words "in any suit the plaintiff or defendant" are substituted.
- (2) The words "at any time" occurring in the old Code are omitted.
- (3) Instead of the word "with," the clause "and such interrogatories when delivered shall have," is substituted.
- (4) Instead of the word "person," the word "party" is substituted.
- (5) Instead of "without the permission of the Court," the words "without an order for that purpose" are substituted.
- (6) The second proviso in the new Code is a new addition.
- (7) The proviso in the old Code "and that no defendant...placed on the record" is omitted.

(Note).—The procedure relating to interrogatories is contained in rules 1 to 11 of this order and the penalty for failure to answer interrogatories is prescribed in rule 21 of this order, while rule 22 gives the party the right to use answers to interrogatories at the trial.

The rules of the English procedure contained in Order 31 of the English rules are closely followed in this order.

The provisions in the old Code on this subject (Ss. 121—127) followed the English rules as they were framed at the time they were passed. Subsequently, the English rules were amended and Order 31 of the English rules contains the rules in their amended form. The amended rules were adopted in the rules regulating the procedure on the original side of the Bombay and Calcutta High Courts, and these have been adopted in the present Code.

(English Rules and Orders).

This rule corresponds to rule 1 of O. XXXI of the English Rules of Practice.

Instead of the words "cause or matter" in the English rule, the word "suit" is used in this rule; in all other respects they are the same.

(General).

- (1) This rule does not apply to rent suits in Bengal—vide S. 148 (a) of Act VIII of 1885. Z
- (2) Ex parte order giving leave—Right of the opposite party to get order set aside.

Where an ex parte order is made, giving leave to interrogate, the party ordered to answer has a right to come into Court to have the order set aside, if the case is one in which interrogatories should not have been allowed. A 5 C. 707=5 C.L.R. 509.

I.—"In any suit the plaintiff or defendant....deliver interrogatories."

(General Principles).(1) Service of Interrogatories.

The Code contemplates (1) leave to interrogate and (2) the service of interrogatories through the Court. 5 C. 707=5 C.L.R. 509.

1.—“In any suit the plaintiff or defendant....deliver interrogatories.”
—(Continued).

(2) Interrogatory about documents, when admissible.

An interrogatory as regards documents would be allowed, only if the Court were satisfied that there might be some specified relevant documents in the party's possession and a prima facie case were shown. Otherwise, it would amount to a cross-examination on the affidavit of documents which was not permissible. Hall v. Truman, 29 C.D. 307; Nicholl v. Wheeler, 17 Q.B.D. 101; Morris v. Edwards, 23 Q.B.D. 287; 15 A.C. 309—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 412. D

(3) Adversary's documents, mode of ascertaining.

The proper mode of ascertaining what documents the adversary has is by an affidavit of documents, and not by interrogating him; though an interrogatory asking as to specific documents is not necessarily open to objection.—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 406. E

(4) Interrogation as to meaning of “family.”

—is inadmissible, being only a question of opinion as to construction, though an interrogation as to who are the persons living in the party's household is admissible. 23 C. 117. F

(5) Object of interrogatories.

(a) The main object of administering interrogatories is to save expense by obtaining admissions from the opposite party. 10 B. 167. G

(b) Discovery is not limited to giving the party a knowledge of that which he does not already know, but includes the getting an admission of anything which he has to prove on an issue between himself and his opponent. It is also intended to facilitate proof or save expense, and to diminish the burden of proof. A.-G. v. Gaskill, 20 C.D. 528; also Kennedy v. Dodson, (1895), 1 Ch. 334 (341)—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 402. H

(6) Scope of rule.

(1) The Code does not contemplate that a party should be compelled to give discovery of documents by means of interrogatories or otherwise, the relevancy of which is denied. It is necessary that the Court should, in the first instance, be satisfied of their relevancy. 23 C. 117. I

(2) The interrogatory must be as to facts, and must not ask for conclusions of law, inference of facts, or construction of a document. 23 C. 117. J

(3) One party may be asked as to any admissions he may have made, tending to support his opponent's cause of action. L.R. 9 Q.B. 79. K

(4) Under the Code, interrogatories for the purposes of eliciting facts bearing upon issues arising in a suit are limited in operation, and are not permissible in cases where the procedure provided by rule 18 (2) is applicable. 23 C. 117. L

(5) Interrogatories are not in this country to be framed to anticipate, or supply defects of pleading, or to ascertain the case of the other side, though, under the English rules, they may be so framed.

I.—“In any suit the plaintiff or defendant... deliver interrogatories.”

—(Continued).

A plaintiff may interrogate with a view to obtain information or admission in support of his own case, and this right extends not only to his original case but also to any answers which he has to make to the defendant's case, subject to the qualification (inter alia) that the interrogatories must be directed to a case on which the plaintiff has already determined and to which he has committed himself.

A party cannot be allowed to put any fishing questions in order to try whether he can discover any flaw in the defendant's case or suggest any answer to it. 17 C. 840. M

(7) Right to interrogate.

The right to interrogate is not confined to the facts directly in issue, but extends to any facts the existence or non-existence of which is relevant to the existence or non-existence of the facts directly in issue. But the distinction drawn between discovery and cross-examination in rule 1 shows that the discovery must be directly relevant to the matters in issue. Marrutt v. Chamberlain, 17 Q.B.D. 163—Annual Practice, (1908), Vol. I, p. 403. N

(8) Interrogatory to impeach adversary's case.

A party is entitled to interrogate for the purpose of impeaching or destroying his adversary's case, even when his own case upon this point may be a mere general traverse. Grumbrecht v. Parry, 32 W.R. 558; Hennessy v. Wright, 24 Q.B.D. 447; A.-G. v. Newcastle, (1897) 2 Q. B., p. 394; and Plymouth, etc., Co. v. Traders', Pub. Assn., (1906) 1 K.B., p. 417—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 396. O

(9) Interrogatories—Duty of Court.

It is the duty of the Court to determine, when leave is asked for, whether the applicant should be allowed to interrogate the other side, but not to determine at that stage what questions the party interrogated should be compelled to answer. The proper time for considering that question is, after the party interrogated has made his affidavit in answer. 5 C. 707 = 5 C.L.R. 509. But see now rule 2 of this order. P

(10) Petition—whether rule applies.

(a) A petition has been held to be a “cause or matter” under the English rule and inspection allowed in petitions. Re Credit Co., 11 C.D. 256—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 384. Q

(b) A petitioner is a plaintiff and may interrogate. Re Haddan's Patent, 51 L.T. 190—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 384. R

(11) Discovery.

(a) Discovery after judgment is only permissible for working out the judgment. Poisson v. Robertson, 50 W.R. 260—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 384. S

(b) In an action to recover a penalty (of a penal nature) or to enforce a forfeiture, such as the forfeiture of a lease for breach of covenant, the plaintiff will not be allowed discovery of any kind relating to that issue, because the Courts will not lend their assistance to a plaintiff for such a purpose.—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 388. T

1.—“In any suit the plaintiff or defendant....deliver interrogatories”
—(Concluded).

- (c). Where the action and all matters in dispute have been referred, by consent, to an arbitrator, the action has disappeared, and the Court can make no order for discovery. Penrice v. Williams, 23 C.D. 387—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 384. U

(12) Pleadings vague—Duty of Court.

Where the pleadings of either party are too vague, the Court may call for a further or fuller written statement, or may frame and record issues, until the case raised by the pleadings is ascertained with sufficient clearness. 17 C. 840. V

2.—“Opposite parties.”

(General).

- (1) Primarily this is a party on the other side of the record to the applicants. Spokes v. Grovenor Co., (1897) 2 Q.B. 124—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 385. W
- (2) Defendants would be refused leave to interrogate co-defendants who had put in no defence, there being no issue between them. Marshall v. Langley, W.N. (1889), 222. X
- (3) A party not on the other side of the record is an opposite party within the meaning of the rule, if between him and the applicant there is some right to be adjusted in the suit, whether between two plaintiffs or two defendants. Shaw v. Smith, 18 Q.B.D. 193—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 385. Y
- (4) A third party who has obtained an order giving liberty to appear at the trial, and oppose the plaintiff's claim is in the position of an opposite party to the plaintiff and of a defendant, and can, therefore, interrogate the plaintiff and be interrogated by him. Widen v. Weardale Co., 35 C.D. 287—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 386. Z
- (5) A defendant may obtain discovery or inspection as against a co-defendant, if the latter can be regarded as an opposite party. 17 B. 384. A
- (6) A husband and wife may be separately interrogated. Smith v. Berg, 36 L.T. 471—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 409. B

2. On an application for leave to deliver interrogatories, the O.XXXI, r. 1

Particular interrogatories to be submitted.

particular interrogatories proposed to be delivered shall be submitted to the Court. In deciding upon such application, the Court shall take into account any offer, which may be made by the party sought to be interrogated to deliver particulars, or to make admissions, or to produce documents relating to the matters in question, or any of them, and leave shall be given as to such only of the interrogatories submitted as the Court shall consider necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

(Notes.)

Old Act.

This rule is new.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 2 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

(General).

Duty of Court.

Under this rule, the Judge was not to settle the interrogatories but to decide what should be administered. Tye v. Willoughby, 38 Sol. Jo. 338 (Per Chitty, J.)—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 399. C

Effect of allowing an interrogatory.

Allowing an interrogatory does not preclude any objection being taken in the answer, under rule 6. Peel v. Day, (1894) 3 Ch. 282—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 399. D

XXXI, r. 3.

3. In adjusting the costs of the suit inquiry shall at the instance of any party be made into the propriety of exhibiting such interrogatories, and if it is the opinion of the taxing officer or of the Court, either with or without an application for inquiry, that such interrogatories have been exhibited unreasonably, vexatiously, or at improper length, the costs occasioned by the said interrogatories and the answers thereto shall be paid in any event by the party in fault.

(Notes.)

Old Act.

Section 123 of Act XIV of 1882:—Same as above; but,

- (1) the word "exhibiting" is used for the word "delivering";
- (2) instead of "if it thinks," the clause "it is the opinion of the taxing officer or of the Court" is substituted;
- (3) the phrase "either with or without an application for enquiry" is newly added;
- (4) the words "in any event" after the word "paid" are also a new addition;
- (5) instead of the word "borne" the word "paid" is used.

The effect of the two phrases newly added would seem to be that

- (1) the Court or the taxing officer is entitled to enquire into the propriety of exhibiting interrogatories either with or without an application from any party for that purpose and adjudge the costs occasioned thereby as it or he chose; and
- (2) the costs adjudged to be paid by the party in fault shall be paid by him, whatever the final result of the litigation may be.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 3 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

(General).

This rule does not apply to rent suits in Bengal—vide S. 148 (a) of Act VII of 1885. E

Form of interrogatories.

4. Interrogatories shall be in Form No. 2 in O.XXXI, Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 4 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

5. Where any party to a suit is a corporation or a body of persons, whether incorporated or not, empowered by law to sue or be sued, whether in its own name or in the name of any officer or other person, any opposite party may apply for an order allowing him to deliver interrogatories to any member or officer of such corporation or body¹, and an order may be made accordingly.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Section 124 of Act XIV of 1882:—Same as above; but the words “joint stock company” in the first portion and the word “company” in the closing portion of the section have been omitted and instead of the expression “body corporate,” the word “corporation” is used.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 5 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

Section 124 of the old Code was a verbatim copy of the English rule; but, in the present Code, the words “joint stock company” have been omitted, and instead of the words “body corporate,” the word “corporation” is used.

1.—“Any member or officer of such corporation or body.”

(1) Applicant at liberty to serve on any member.

It is open for the applicant to show why one member and not another can give the information, or why one member can give information on one set of questions and another member on another set of questions. All the interrogatories might be delivered to different officers, each officer to answer those on which he had special knowledge. Wilson v. Church, 9 C.D., p. 557; Berkeley v. Stanley Co., 9 C.D. 648; Re Alexandra Palace Co., 16 C.D. 58; Tannetta and Co. v. Newport Dock Co., 6 Times Rep. 335; and Pacific v. Peruvian Guano Co., 28 Sol. Jo. 410—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 400. F

(2) Duty of officer interrogated.

The officer or member is the representative or alter ego of the body, for the purpose of answering the interrogatories. It is not his answer but the answer of the body, and, therefore, there is no obligation either to disclose his knowledge, or to obtain and disclose the knowledge of other servants or agents of the body, acquired by him or them otherwise than in the course of his or their employment. Berkeley v. Standard Co., 13 C.D., p. 101; Welsbach Co. v. New Sunlight Co., (1900) 2 Ch. 1—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 400. G

1.—“Any member or officer of such corporation or body.”—(Concluded).

(3) Service, on whom necessary.

The body is served with the application and, if it is desired to interrogate a member who is not the secretary or other proper officer, the member also as a rule must be served. Chaddock v. British S.A. Co., (1896) 2 Q.B. 153—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 400. H

(4) Secretary—Duty of officer interrogated—Objection to person called on to answer.

The secretary is, as a rule, the proper person to answer. An officer must, if selected to answer, and if he have no personal knowledge of the facts, apply to those servants of the company who may have such personal knowledge. The person proposed by the applicant will not be called on to answer, if the body show any reasonable objection to him. Berkeley v. Standard Discount Co., 13 C.D., p. 99; and Southwark Co. v. Quick, 3 Q.B.D. 315—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 401. I

XXXI, r. 6.

6. Any objection to answering any interrogatory on the ground

Objections to interrogatories by answer.

that it is scandalous¹ or irrelevant² or not exhibited bona fide for the purpose of the suit, or that the matters inquired into are not sufficiently material at that stage³, or on any other ground⁴, may be taken in the affidavit in answer⁵.

(Notes).

Old Act.

S. 125 of Act XIV of 1882 :—Any party called upon to answer interrogatories, whether by himself or by any such member or officer, may refuse to answer any interrogatory on the ground that it is irrelevant, or is not put bona fide for the purposes of the suit, or that the matter inquired after is not sufficiently material at that stage of the suit or any other like ground.

Difference between the old and the new Act.

While S. 125 of the old Act empowers a party called upon to answer interrogatories to refuse to answer them on the grounds mentioned therein, the present Act requires the party to state the objections to the interrogatories in the affidavit in answer.

Rule 7, however, empowers the Court to set aside interrogatories on application made for the purpose within seven days after service of interrogatories.

(English Orders and Rules).

This corresponds to rule 6 of order XXXI of the English rules.

(General).

Objections to interrogatories to witness to be made in cross-interrogatories.

Where interrogatories have been administered for the examination of a witness by one party and the other party delivers cross-interrogatories, the latter must, if he objects to any of the other party's questions, make his objections on the face of his cross-interrogatories, and such objections shall be argued at the hearing. 5 C.L.R. 171. J

1.—“On the ground that it is scandalous.”Interrogatories tending to criminate but material.

Nothing can be scandalous which is relevant. Interrogatories, though tending to criminate or discredit the party interrogated, are not scandalous, if they are pertinent and material to the case of the interrogating party. Fisher v. Owen, 8 C.D., p. 653; and Ibid, p. 651; and Allhusen v. Labouchere, 3 Q B.D., pp. 660, 661, 666; and National Association v. Smithies, (1906) A.C. 434—Annual Practice (1908), Vol I, p. 402. K

2.—“Or irrelevant.”(1) Relevancy, how to be tested.

The discovery must be relevant to the matter in question between the party seeking the discovery and the party of whom it is sought; and, for the purpose of testing the relevancy to a particular issue, the case of the party seeking the discovery upon that issue may have to be assumed to be true.—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 402. L

(2) Disclosure of title, when necessary and when not.

In all actions where the title to land is in question, a party is bound to disclose the nature of his title where that title is his case, e.g., in cases of trespass, defendant is bound to disclose his title. But a defendant in ejectment is not bound to give any discovery relating to his own title; for, his case is not that he has a title, but that the plaintiff has no title; though, in ejectment actions, there is the same right to interrogate and have discovery of documents as in other actions. Cayley v. Sandycroft and Co., 33 W.R. 577; and Miller v. Kirwan, (1903) 2 I.R. 120; Lyell v. Kennedy, 8 App. Cas. 217—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 396. M

3.—“Or that the matters...not sufficiently material at that stage.”(1) Question of damages—Interrogatories.

Where the question is only as to the amount of damages to be awarded, the defendant is entitled, by means of interrogatories, to elicit all the information which will enable him to fix the amount. But, if the contest is as to the right to damages, interrogatories directed to the amount of damages will not be allowed; such an enquiry is premature as the plaintiff's right to damages must first be determined. 14 C. 703. N

(2) Right to relief—Proof of—Preliminary.

The Court is always unwilling, before the right to relief is established, to make an order for discovery which may be injurious to the defendant and will only be useful to the plaintiff, if he succeeds in establishing his title to the relief. Cotton, L.J., in Hennessy v. Clark, 87 C.D., p. 187—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. O

4.—“Or on any other ground.”(1) Other grounds.

Besides the grounds mentioned in the rules for resisting discovery, as of right, there are four others, viz. :—

- (1) Being criminatory or penal.
- (2) Being within the doctrine of legal professional privilege.
- (3) Disclosing the party's evidence.
- (4) Being injurious to public interests.—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 387. P

4.—“Or on any other ground.”—(Continued).

(2) Principle of exemption—Legal adviser.

- (a) Professional legal advice and assistance is at times essential in the interests of justice, and without the existence of some protection, it could not be obtained safely or effectually; but the privilege does not extend beyond what is reasonably necessary for that purpose. It does not exist in respect of any person except a legal professional agent.—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 389. Q
- (b) Legal professional privilege can be waived; but the privilege is that of the client and not of the adviser. The adviser is, therefore, bound to claim the privilege unless the client has waived it Calcraft v. Guest, (1898) 1 Q.B. 759; and Anderson v. Bank of Columbia, 2 C.D., p. 649; Procter v. Simles, 55 L.J.Q.B. 527—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 389. R
- (c) The privilege does not attach to communications passing for the purpose of contriving a fraud.—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 389. S

(3) Privilege, whether litigation pending or not.

- (a) Communications passing directly between the party and his legal professional adviser, (i.e., professional communications of a confidential character, for the purpose of getting legal advice and not communications of every sort), are privileged whether they pass in reference to pending or anticipated litigation or not. Mmei v. Morgan, L.R. 8 Ch. 361; Mostyn v. West Mostyn Co., 34 L.T. 531; Wheeler v. Le Marchant, 17 C.D., p. 682, explained in R. v. Bullivant, (1900) 2 Q.B., p. 168; and see Edwards v. Aldison, 31 W.R. 320; Lovden v. Blakey, 23 Q.B.D. 332; Pearce v. Foster, 15 Q.B.D. 114—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 390. T
- (b) The privilege is not confined to actual legal advice, but includes statements therein of facts. Ainsworth v. Wilding, (1900) 2 Ch. 315—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 391. U
- (c) The litigation for which the privileged communication is made need not be the litigation in which the discovery is sought, but may be other litigations either with the same or other persons, and either involving the same or different subject-matter, or questions; for as a general rule, “once privileged always privileged.” Calcraft v. Guest, (1898) Q.B., p. 761; Goldstone v. Williams, (1899) 1 Ch., p. 391; Bullock v. Corrie, 3 Q.B.D. 356; Norden v. Defries, 8 Q.B.D. 508—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 393. Y

(4) Discovering evidence.

- (a) A party is not bound to discover the evidence of his case as it would enable an unscrupulous opponent to tamper with the witnesses, and to manufacture evidence in contradiction and so shape his case as to defeat justice. Benbow v. Low, 16 C.D. p. 95; Re Strachan, (1895) 1 Ch., pp. 445, 447-48—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 395. W
- (b) A party must discover the nature of his case or the facts on which he relies in support of his case, as distinguished from the evidence of his case or of the facts, or from the way in which he is going to make out his case, or the line of facts not being facts directly in issue on which he is going to rely in support of his case, or the conduct of his case at the trial. Eade v. Jacobs, 3 Ex. D., p. 337; A-G. v. Gaskill, 20 C.D.,

4—"Or on any other ground."—(Concluded).

p. 529; Marriott v. Chamberlain, 17 Q.B.D. 54, Horton v. Dalby, (1907) 2 K.B. 18; Lever v. Associated Newspapers, 23 Times Rep. 622; Benbow v. Lou, 16 C.D., pp. 96-98; Bolckow v. Fisher, 10 Q.B.D., p. 170; Ridgway v. Smith, 6 Times Rep. 275; Milbank v. Milbank, (1900) 1 Ch. 376—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 395. X

(5) Interrogatory as to nature of conversation, etc.—Substance to be given.

Where a transaction, or conversation, or what happened on a particular occasion, is disputed or is otherwise material, a party must give the substance (not the details) of it or his version of it. Eade v. Jacobs, 3 Ex. D. 335—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 395. Y

(6) Any other like ground.

What a party or witness may not be asked in the witness-box, he cannot be interrogated upon. 15 B. 7. Z

(7) Disclosure of names of witnesses, whether permissible.

It is not permissible to ask the names of persons merely as being the witnesses whom the other party is going to call, when their names do not form any substantial part of the material facts of the case; but, where the name is a material fact, it must be disclosed, and it is no answer that, in giving the information, the party may disclose the names of his witnesses. Marriott v. Chamberlain, 17 Q.B.D. 154—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 397. A

5.—"May be taken in the affidavit in answer."

(1) Objection to answer—Fresh facts or matter for argument—How to be stated.

If fresh facts are relied on as reasons for not answering, they should be set out; but, if the objection is a mere matter of argument, and not a statement of new facts, and the Judge sees that the answer is sufficient, he is right in refusing to require the objection to be stated in the answer. Where the question is irrelevant, no reason need be given. Smith v. Berg, 36 L.T., p. 472; and Church v. Perry, 36 L.T. 513—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 402. B

(2) Objections to interrogatories, how to be taken.

When an order for the administration of interrogatories is properly made, a party objecting to the interrogatories may, at his peril, omit to answer the interrogatories to which he objects; but the more prudent course is to file his affidavit in answer, stating in it his objections to answer such questions as he objects to. 5 C. 707=5 C.L.R. 509. C

7. Any interrogatories may be set aside on the ground that they have been exhibited unreasonably or vexatiously, or struck out on the ground that they are prolix, oppressive¹, unnecessary² or scandalous³; and any application for this purpose may be made within seven days after service of the interrogatories.

Setting aside and striking out interrogatories.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule is new.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 7 of O. XXXI of the English rules.

1.—“Oppressive.”

- (1) Interrogatories must not be of such a nature as to be oppressive and to exceed the legitimate requirements of the particular occasion. White v. Credit Reform, (1905) 1 K.B. 659—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 404. D

- (2) It is not because answering an interrogatory would involve trouble, or expense, or the disclosure of private or business or confidential matters of the party or a stranger, that the interrogatory is oppressive, if the discovery is material at that stage and the object of the party seeking the discovery cannot, so far as it is legitimate, be obtained in any more convenient way, although it would be oppressive if not clearly material.—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 404. E

2.—“Unnecessary.”Actions for libel against periodicals or papers.

In actions against newspapers or trade periodicals, where responsibility for the publication of the alleged libel is admitted, the practice is, in the absence of any special reason to the contrary, to refuse to compel the defendant to disclose the name of the writer of the libel, or of his informant, or produce the manuscript, or answer as to its possession or contents. Plymouth, etc., Society v. Traders' Association, (1906) 1 K.B. 408; Hope v. Brash, (1897) 2 Q.B. 188; Hennessy v. Wright, 24 Q.B.D. 441; Parnell v. Walter, Ibid 441; Gibson v. Evans, 23 Q.B.D. 384; *MacLenzie v. This rule corresponds to O. XXXI, r. 10 of the English rules of which it is a verbatim reproduction, with the difference that the words, "or a Judge on motion or summons" occurring after the word "Court" at the end of the English rules are omitted here.

11. Where any person interrogated omits to answer, or answers O. XXXI

Order to answer insufficiently¹, the party interrogating may apply or answer further. to the Court for an order requiring him to answer,

Old Act.

S. 127 of Act XIV of 1882 :—Same as above ; but the words "or refuses" after "omits" and the proviso at the end of the section of the old Act, vis., "provided that the Judge shall not require an answer to any interrogatory which in his opinion need not have been answered under section 125" are omitted.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 11 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

1—"Or answers insufficiently."

(1) Insufficiency of answer—Question of truth not gone into

The question is whether the answer is insufficient ; the Court has not to go into the question of its truthfulness. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 407. B

(2) Cross-references in answers.

A party may, in answering an interrogatory, refer to his answers to the other interrogatories, but the cross-references must not complicate the answer so as to make it difficult to say what is or is not sworn to. Lyell v. Kennedy, 27 C.D., p. 15 ; and Walker v. Daniell, 22 W.R. 595. —Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 407. I

(3) Evasive answer—Practice.

An evasive answer may be ordered to be taken off the file altogether, in an extreme case ; but the usual practice is to order a further answer. Murber v. King, 29 W.R. 536 ; Hill v. Hart-Davis, 26 C.D. 470 ; and Lyell v. Kennedy, 27 C.D., p. 28—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. J

(4) Embarrassing answer insufficient.

When an answer is couched in a form which makes it embarrassing, i.e., which prevents the person who asks for it from using it without having thrust upon him irrelevant matter as part of it, it is insufficient. It is, however, legitimate to explain or qualify an answer. Lyell v.

I.—“Or answers insufficiently.”—(Concluded).

Kennedy, 27 C.D., p. 28, citing Peyton v. Harting, L.R. 9 C.P. 9; L. v. A., 33 W.R. 44; Richards v. Craushay, 8 Times Rep. 446—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. K-M

(5) Duty of persons answering—Information from others, when necessary.

A party must answer to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief. He is bound to state all the information, of which he is personally possessed at the time he is interrogated, from whatever sources or persons it has been derived; but he is not bound to obtain the information of any one except his agents. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. N

(6) Act of omission or agents, duty of person answering regarding.

(a) Where a party is interrogated as to matters presumably or admittedly done or omitted to be done by his agents or servants or in their presence, in the course of their employment, he is bound to obtain the information from them; and he does not sufficiently answer by saying that he does not know and has no information on the subject. His agent's knowledge is, in law, his own knowledge in such matters. Bolckow v. Fisher, 10 Q.B.D. 161, 169, 171; Rasbotham v. Shropshire, &c., Co., 24 C.D. 110; and Anderson v. Bank of Columbia, 2 C.D. 644, 657, 659.—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. O

(b) But a party is not bound to obtain and disclose the knowledge acquired by his agents or servants, otherwise than in the course of their employment. Welsbach Co. v. New Sunlight Co., (1900) 2 Ch., p. 10—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. P

(7) “Agents.”

—includes bankers or solicitors. Alhott v. Smith, (1895) 2 Ch. 111—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. Q

(8) Agents not in service.

Where the agent is no longer under the control or service of the party, it would not be reasonable to force the party to communicate with him, and he will be, therefore, relieved from the obligation. So also where the party is dead. Bolckow v. Fisher, 10 Q.B.D. 169, 171—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. R

(9) Privileged document.

An information may have to be given, although the document containing it is privileged. Southwark Co. v. Quick, 3 Q.B.D., p. 821—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. S

(10) Examination of documents for answering.

A party must also examine documents in his possession or power if necessary; but he is not bound to go and search documents which are equally accessible to the party seeking discovery.

Note.—A document will be deemed to be in his power, if he has an enforceable right to inspect it; he is bound to exercise that right and even take proceedings to enforce that right, if wrongfully refused to him. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 408. T ments.

Court for an order directing any other party¹ to any suit to make discovery on oath of the documents which are or have been in his possession or power², relating to any matter in question therein. On the hearing of such application the Court may either refuse or adjourn the same, if satisfied that such discovery is not necessary, or not necessary at that stage of the suit, or make such order, either generally or limited to certain classes of documents ³, as may, in its discretion, be thought fit: Provided that discovery shall not be ordered when and so far as the Court shall be of opinion that it is not necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

(Notes).

Old Act.

S. 129, first clause, Act XIV of 1882.—“The Court may, at any time during the pendency therein of any suit, order any party to the suit to declare by affidavit all the documents which are or have been in his possession or power relating to any matter in question in the suit, and any party to the suit may, at any time before the first hearing, apply to the Court for a like order.”

(General).

- (1) The Court is not restricted to requiring from a party one affidavit of documents only; it may require another at any time, but only if it not unreasonable to suppose from certain sources, or there is a reasonable probability, or presumption, or ground for suspicion derived from such sources, that he has other relevant documents in his possession. The opponent cannot show by a contentious affidavit, that the affidavit is insufficient. Comp. Financ. v. Peruvian Guano Co., 11 Q.B.D., p. 68; and Lyell v. Kennedy, 27 C.D., p. 20; Hall v. Truman, 29 C.D. p. 319; and Jones v. Montevideo Gas Co., 5 Q.B.D., p. 558—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 412.
- (2) An interrogatory, as regards documents, would be allowed, only if the Court were satisfied that there might be some specified relevant documents in the party's possession and a prima facie case were shown. Otherwise, it would amount to a cross-examination on the affidavit of documents which was not permissible. Hall v. Truman, 29 C.D. 307; Nicholl v. Wheeler, 17 Q.B.D. 101; Morris v. Edwards, 28 Q.B.D. 287; 15 A.C. 309—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 412. Y
- (3) In order to see whether there may be material documents, the pleadings, affidavits, and any proceedings in the action may be looked at; but the Court ought not to require affidavits in support of the application. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 411. W

I.—“Any other party.”

(A) Foreign principal suing in the name of agent, duty of,

Where a foreign principal, resident abroad, was the real plaintiff and was suing by his agent, who was dealt with as agent and not as principal, the Court would not allow the nominal plaintiff to proceed, until the real plaintiff had done everything he would have had to do if his name were on the record; an action would, therefore, be stayed until the principal had made an affidavit of documents. Willis v. Baddeley, (1892), 2 Q. B. 324—Annual Practice (1903), Vol. I, p. 409. X

1.—“Any other party.”—(Concluded).(2) Persons suing in other's names, order against.

Where persons sue in other person's names, these latter are in point of law the plaintiffs, and must obey any orders for discovery or production of documents which have been made against them. Wilson v. Raffalovitch, 7 Q.B.D., pp. 557, 558—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 409 Y

2.—“Which are or...in his possession or power.”(1) Possession or power, meaning of.

These words do not here bear the limited meaning which they bear in rule 14.

All documents must be included in which the party has any possession or property jointly with others, or even in which he has no property at all, if they are in his corporal possession (but not if they are not in his corporal possession). Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 410. Z

(2) Duty to search for documents.

A party must make careful search for all relevant documents in his own physical possession, and proper enquiries and efforts as to those which are not, e.g., documents abroad. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 410. A

(3) Right to discovery—Documents in possession of persons interested.

The right to discovery extends to documents in the possession of any persons interested, that is, persons on the same side as the plaintiffs, though not parties to the action, and whether they are the property of these persons jointly with the plaintiffs or their sole property. London and Provincial Co. v. Chambers, 5 Com. Ca. 241—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 410. B

3.—“Either generally....certain classes of documents.”Suit for possession—Documents—Title deeds.

In a suit for possession, the order that the party in possession do set forth a list of documents, is to be confined to documents other than title deeds; and where the title deeds are required on special grounds, those grounds should be set forth by affidavit. Cor. 66. C

13. The affidavit to be made by a party against whom such order as is mentioned in the last preceding rule has been made, shall specify which (if any) of the documents therein mentioned he objects to produce, and it shall be in Form No. 5 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

(Notes).Old Act.

S. 129, second clause, Act XIV of 1882 :—“Every affidavit made under this section shall specify which (if any) of the documents therein mentioned the declarant objects to produce, together with the grounds of such objection.”

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 13 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

(General).

(1) Description of documents.

(a) It is sufficient if the documents are described in such a manner as to enable production, if ordered, to be enforced. Taylor v. Batten, 4 Q.B.D., pp. 87, 88; Budden v. Wilkinson, (1893) 2 Q.B. 432—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 413. D

(b) A description of the documents must be given so that the adversary may be able to say if he wants to see them; but the description should not be unnecessarily long, and, if so, the affidavit itself may be taken off the file as being prolix or oppressive, or the party may be ordered to pay the unnecessary costs occasioned thereby. Hill v. Hart Davis, 26 C.D. 470; Walker v. Poole, 21 C.D., p. 836—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 413. E

(c) Where protection is claimed for certain documents, it is not necessary to describe them. It is enough if they are sufficiently identified, so as to support the claim to protection. Budden v. Wilkinson (1893), 2 Q.B. 432—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 413. F

(d) Where privilege is claimed for letters, it is not necessary to state the dates, or the names of the writers, or such other particulars as might enable the opponent to discover indirectly the contents. Gardner v. Irvin, 4 Ex. D., p. 53; and Kain v. Farrer, 37 L.T., p. 470—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 413. G

(2) Privileged documents—What affidavit should contain.

An affidavit ought not to say that the documents are privileged, which is a statement of law, but ought to set out the facts from which the Court can see that the party's view of the law is right. Gardner v. Irvin, 4 Ex. D., pp. 52, 53—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 413. H

(3) Insufficient claim of protection—Further affidavit.

Where protection has been insufficiently claimed, the party is, as a rule, allowed to make a further affidavit for the purpose of making good his claim to protection; and so, also, if the affidavit does not sufficiently show which documents are entitled to protection, he will be allowed to make a further affidavit to identify those entitled to protection. Taylor v. Batten, 4 Q.B.D., p. 88; Kain v. Farrer, 37 L.T., p. 471; Bulman v. Young, 81 W.R. 766; Roberts v. Oppenheim, 26 C.D., p. 733; Kenredy v. Lyell, 8 App. Cas., p. 229—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 413. I

(4) "Agent" in Form No. 5, App. C.—Meaning of.

The word "agent" used in Form No. 5, Appendix C, as per rule 13, means a person whose custody would be substantially that of the party
Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 409. J

14. It shall be lawful for the Court, at any time during the pendency of any suit, to order the production by any party thereto, upon oath, of such of the documents¹ in his possession or power², relating to any matter in question in such suit³, as the Court shall think right; and the Court may deal with such documents, when produced, in such manner as shall appear just⁴.

O. XXXI,
r. 14.

(Notes).Old Act.

S. 130 of Act XIV of 1882 :—Same as above; but instead of “the Court may,” the expression “it shall be lawful for the Court” is used, and the words “on oath” are added after the word “thereto.”

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 14 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

(General).(1) Sealing up of documents.

(a) The mere fact that a few unimportant portions of sealed-up matter ought not to have been sealed up was not sufficient to authorise the unsealing of the whole. Pickering v. P., 25 C.D. 247—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 416. K

(b) Any part of a document may be sealed up or otherwise concealed under the same conditions as a whole document may be withheld from production. The party's oath for this purpose is as valid in the one case as in the other. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 416. L

(2) Production—Whether can be refused by party.

Under this rule, the party has no discretion to refuse production unless the documents are privileged. 2 B. 453, see also Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 414. M

1.—“It shall be lawful....production by any party thereto....the documents.”

(1) Order for production—Admission of possession and relevancy.

No order for production of a document can be made against a party, unless he has directly or indirectly admitted both possession and relevancy. But where its contents or effect are known to the Court, the Court can judge of its relevancy. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 414. N

(2) Order how to be made.

The order referred to in this rule is meant to be served on the party to whom it is given and not merely to be verbally announced, so that compliance would depend on his memory, or his understanding of it. 58 P.R. 1898. O

(3) Power of Court to order production—Discretion.

Though, under the Evidence Act, the Court has no power to order production of absolutely privileged documents, yet, under rule 14, the Court does possess the discretion, and the discretion is to be exercised according to the practice of the Court; and although a document may not be such as passed directly between the legal adviser and the client, yet, if it is clear that it was obtained confidentially for the purpose of being used in litigation and with a view to being submitted to the legal adviser, then the Court will not compel the production of such a document. 7 Bom. L.R. 709. P

(4) Party's oath regarding protection conclusive.

The affidavit of the party is conclusive in the case of documents admittedly relevant, for which protection is claimed. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 411. Q

1.—“It shall be lawful...production by any party thereto...the documents.”—(Concluded).

(5) Party's oath regarding relevancy conclusive—Mere suspicion insufficient.

The party's oath that a particular document is irrelevant is conclusive against ordering its production, unless the Court is satisfied from certain definite sources that, in spite of his oath to the contrary, the document is relevant. Mere suspicion that the document may be relevant, though sufficient to justify the Court in ordering a further affidavit, does not entitle the Court to order production. When the further affidavit has been made and the relevancy clearly denied, the Court can go no further. It cannot disregard the party's oath unless reasonably satisfied of its untruth. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 411. R

- (6) One partner of a firm represents the other partners for the purposes of production of documents. 1 B. 496 S

2.—“In his possession or power.”

(1) Possession or power—Meaning of.

“Possession or power” for the purpose of justifying an order for production has a narrower meaning than for the purpose of inclusion in an affidavit of documents. For the purpose of an order for production, it means sole legal possession, a right and power to deal with them. Joint possession with other persons is not sufficient. Kearsley v. Philipps, 10 Q.B.D. 36, 40; and Murray v. Walter, Cr. and Ph. 114—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 414. T

(1-a) Applicability of rules.

- (a) This rule does not apply to a general order by the Court that all the documents in the defendant's possession should be produced by a particular date, without any particular object in view, and the defence should not be struck out under rule 21 for non-compliance with such an order. 58 P.R. 1898. U

- (b) Rule 14 refers to documents which are in esse, and not to documents which the Court desires to be brought into existence. 59 P.R. 1892. Y

(2) Document not in sole possession of party—Procedure.

Where the document is not in the party's sole legal possession, it is sufficient for him to state the fact. It is not necessary to allege or show the refusal of the co-owners, but he must state their names and the nature of their ownership. Kearsley v. Philipps, 10 Q.B.D. 36, 465; and Bovill v. Cowan, L.R. 5 Ch. 495—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 414. W

(3) Documents not in possession of party—Order respecting.

An order under this rule could not be legally given in respect of documents not in existence and, therefore, not in the possession or power of the party, at the time the order was passed. 58 P.R. 1898. X

3.—“Relating to any matter in question in such suit.”

(1) “Relating to,” meaning of.

- (a) Documents containing information, which may either directly or indirectly enable the party seeking discovery either to advance his own case, or damage that of his adversary, or which may fairly lead him to a train of inquiry which may have either of these two consequences, have been held to be documents relating to the suit. Cump. Fin. v. Peruvian Guano Co., 11 Q.B.D., p. 63—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 415. Y

3.—“Relating to any matter in question in such suit.”—(Concluded).

(b) The words “relating to” do not confine the operation of the rule to such documents as would be admissible in evidence. Every document which will throw any light on the case comes within the meaning of these words. Comp. Fin. v. Peruvia & Guano Co., 11 Q.B.D., p. 62, Bustros v. White, 1 Q.B.D., p. 425; and Hutchinson v. Glover, 1 Q.B.D., p. 141—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I. p. 415. Z

4.—“And the Court may deal....as shall appear just.”

(1) Discretion—How and when to be exercised.

The principle on which the discretion, given to the Court to deal as it deemed just with documents produced before it under rule 14, should be exercised is that, where the documents have been filed as relating to matters in issue in the suit, the opposite party should be allowed to inspect and take copies of them, unless they relate exclusively to the case of the party producing them, and contain nothing to support his opponent's case. 30 M. 230=17 M.L.J. 79=2 M.L.T. 88. A

(2) Power of the High Court to interfere with the discretion of the original Court.

Where documents are produced in obedience to an order of the Court made under this rule, the Court has jurisdiction to deal with such documents, when produced, in such manner as appears just. The High Court cannot interfere, in revision with the discretion exercised by the lower Court under this rule. 30 M. 230=17 M.L.J. 79=2 M.L.T. 88. B

of XXXI,
r. 15.

15. Every party to a suit shall be entitled at any time to give

Inspection of documents referred to in pleadings or affidavits.

notice to any other party, in whose pleadings or affidavits reference is made to any document¹, to produce such document for the inspection of the party giving such notice, or of his pleader², and to permit him or them to take copies thereof; and any party not complying with such notice shall not afterwards be at liberty to put any such document in evidence on his behalf in such suit unless he shall satisfy the Court that such document relates only to his own title³, he being a defendant to the suit, or that he had some other cause or excuse which the Court shall deem sufficient for not complying with such notice, in which case the Court may allow the same to be put in evidence on such terms as to costs and otherwise as the Court shall think fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

S. 181 of Act XIV of 1882 :—“Any party to a suit may, at any time, before or at the hearing thereof, give notice through the Court to any other party to produce any specified document for the inspection of the party giving such notice, or of his pleader, and to permit such party or pleader to take copies thereof.

No party failing to comply with such notice shall, afterwards, be at liberty to put any such document in evidence on his behalf in such suit, unless he satisfies the Court that such document relates only to his own title, or that he had some other and sufficient cause for not complying with such notice."

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 15, Order XXXI of the English rules.

(General).

(1) Scope and object.

- (a) There is a broad distinction between an application for general discovery of documents and an application for production of documents referred to in the pleadings; these rules were intended to give the opposite party the same advantage, as if the documents had been fully set out in the pleadings; the party against whom the application is made must give immediate production of documents referred to in his pleadings or affidavits, unless he can show good cause why he should not. Quilter v. Heatley, 23 C.D., pp. 48-51—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 417. C
- (b) But these rules do not take away any right which the party would have to protect the document from inspection; in such a case he will not be compelled to produce it, but he will become subject to the penalty of not being at liberty to put it in evidence. Roberts v. Oppenheim, 26 C.D. 724—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 417. D

(2) Principle.

A Judge has no jurisdiction to direct inspection of documents except as provided in rules 15 and 18 (2). The effect of these sections is to make either the specification of a document by the party seeking the inspection, or its disclosure by the other side (in plaint, written statement, or otherwise), an essential preliminary to the right of inspection. So, an order for inspection of documents, not disclosed by defendant, is invalid when plaintiff had not specified it. 4 Bom.L.R. 342. E

(3) Objection to inspection of documents—Immateriality.

Where inspection of documents is objected to on the ground of immateriality, the Court will, if necessary, order them to be produced for its own inspection, in order to judge of their materiality. 28 C. 424. F

(4) Right of defendant to get copies of documents.

A defendant is entitled, under the Madras High Court rules, to be furnished with a copy of documents sued on, which are deposited with the plaint. 21 M. 490. G

1.—"In whose pleadings or affidavits reference is made to any document."

(1) "Affidavits," meaning of.

"Affidavits" includes answers to interrogatories but not affidavits of documents. Moore v. Peachey, (1891) 2 Q.B. 707—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 417. H

2) Affidavit of documents obtained by one defendant—Right of another defendant to production.

Where one of several defendants obtains from the plaintiff an affidavit of documents, the Court can, under this rule, order production to any other defendant of documents, the possession and relevancy of which is admitted by the plaintiff in such affidavit, without the machinery of a fresh affidavit of documents and a deposit by the defendant for that purpose; but only of documents relevant to the matters in question between himself and the plaintiff. Parry's Synd. v. Alexander, (1908) 1 Ch. 191—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 414. I

1.—“In whose pleadings or affidavits reference is made to any document.”—(Concluded).

(3) Reference, what constitutes.

- (a) The documents need not be identified or particularly described. It is sufficient if they are referred to generally. Smith v. Harris, 48 L.T. 869; Re Credit Co., 11 C.D. 256—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 418. J
- (b) Where entries in a book are referred to, inspection will be limited to those entries. Quilter v. Heatley, 23 C.D. 42—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 418. K

2.—“To produce....for the inspection of the party....or of his pleader.”

Inspection of documents—Agents—Control of Court.

Where the Court allows agents of a party to inspect the documents produced by the opposite party, the Court should have some control over the persons appointed to inspect the documents. The agent must be a person standing in the position of the party for the purposes of the suit, and the Court ought not, therefore, to permit a person formerly in the service of the defendant to inspect, as the plaintiff's agent, the defendant's books which had been in his charge. 25 C. 294. L

3.—“Unless he shall satisfy....relates only to his own title.”

Documents evidencing exclusively one party's case.

Documents, which of themselves evidence exclusively the party's own case, are clearly protected, and the privilege extends to documents exclusively relating to his case if properly claimed by him. Maclean v. Jones, 66 L.T. 653; Budden v. Wilkinson, (1893) 2 Q.B. 432; and Frankenstein v. Gavin, (1897) 2 Q.B. 62—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 397. M

Such notice shall be in Form No. 8 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

(Notes).

Old Act.

S. 132 of Act XIV of 1882:—Same as above; but the words "through the Court" are newly added after "deliver" and before "to the party," and instead of the phrase "or some other convenient place" the phrase "or in the case of bankers' books....place of custody" is substituted.

The last sentence of the rule "such notice....may require" is a new addition.

(English Orders and Rules).

This rule corresponds to rule 17 of Order XXXI of the English rules, with the difference that, instead of ten days, the time given under the English rules is two or four days according as the document required is referred to in an affidavit under rule 13 or not. Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 418.

(General).

(1) Scope.

(a) This rule has no application where an order for production at a specified place has already been made. Lloyds Bank v. Luck, W.N. (1901), 130—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 418. N

(b) This rule is not confined to cases where there has been an affidavit of documents; it applies to all the documents mentioned in rule 15. Re Tenner and Lord, (1897), 1 Q.B. 667—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 418. O

(2) Inspection of portions of account books objected to.

Where the defendant objected to allowing inspection of such portions of a book of accounts as did not contain entries relating to the matters in question in the suit, and claimed the right to seal up such portions without stating what portions of the books and which entries were so, the defendant was ordered to give inspection of his books with liberty to seal up such parts, as, by an affidavit to be made by him, do not relate to the matters in question in the suit. 3 C.W.N. 495; see also 20 C. 587. P

(2) Any application to inspect documents, except such as are referred to in the pleadings, particulars or affidavits of the party against whom the application is made or disclosed in his affidavit of documents, shall be founded upon an affidavit showing of what documents inspection is sought, that the party applying is entitled to inspect them, and that they are in the possession or power of the other party. The Court shall not make such order for inspection of such documents when and so far as the Court shall be of opinion that it is not necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Sub-rule 1 corresponds with section 133 of Act XIV of 1882 which runs as follows :—

If any party served with notice under S. 131 omits to give notice, under S. 132, of the time for inspection, or objects to give inspection or names an inconvenient place for inspection, the party desiring it may apply to the Court for an order of inspection.

Sub-rule 2 corresponds with S. 134 of Act XIV of 1882.—Except in the case of documents referred to in the plaint, written statement, or affidavit of the party against whom the application is made, or disclosed in his affidavit of documents, such application shall be founded upon an affidavit, showing (a) of what documents inspection is sought, (b) that the party applying is entitled to inspect them, and (c) that they are in the possession or power of the party against whom the application is made.

(English Orders and Rules).

This corresponds to rule 18 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

(General).

- (1) An affidavit denying possession of documents is as conclusive, for purposes of production and inspection, as for purposes of discovery. 23 C. 117. Q
- (2) Where an application is made under sub-rule (2), the applicant must show, inter alia, that the documents of which he claims inspection are relevant to the matters in question in the suit; for, under rule 14, the Court has power to order production of documents relating to any matter in question in the suit and of no other document. 23 C. 117. R
- (3) It is open to the other party to file an affidavit denying possession, or relevancy, or claiming protection, and the statements in such affidavit must be accepted by the Court as no less conclusive than if they were contained in an affidavit of documents. Wiedman v. Walpole, 24 Q.B.D. 537—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 419.

(1) Order to produce account books—Failure to do so—Effect.

Where the defendant demanded inspection of plaintiff's account books upon a general suggestion, in no way specific, that probably entries might be found therein inconsistent with the plaintiff's case, and the plaintiffs objected thereto on the score of inconvenience, an order for the production of the accounts, under the circumstances, and the absolute dismissal of the suit, in consequence of disobedience thereto, were wrong. (2) Notice under rule 15 not answered—Remedy.

inspection of the original books, order a copy of any entries therein to be furnished and verified by the affidavit of some person who has examined the copy with the original entries, and such affidavit shall state whether or not there are in the original book any and what erasures, interlineations or alterations: Provided that, notwithstanding that such copy has been supplied, the Court may order inspection of the book from which the copy was made.

(2) Where on an application for an order for inspection privilege is claimed for any document it shall be lawful for the Court to inspect the document for the purpose of deciding as to the validity of the claim of privilege.

(3) The Court may, on the application of any party to a suit at any time, and whether an affidavit of documents shall or shall not have already been ordered or made, make an order requiring any other party to state by affidavit whether any one or more specific documents, to be specified in the application, is or are, or has or have at any time been, in his possession or power; and, if not then in his possession, when he parted with the same and what has become thereof. Such application shall be made on an affidavit stating that in the belief of the deponent the party against whom the application is made has, or has at some time had, in his possession or power the document or documents specified in the application, and that they relate to the matters in question in the suit, or to some of them.

"Sub-clause 3."

- (1) A prima facie case of relevancy and possession of specific documents is sufficient to entitle the applicant to the order. Ormerod v. St. George's Ironworks, 95 L.T. 694—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 420. X

- (2) Further affidavit of documents—Application for—Necessity for affidavit

When the affidavit of documents is not insufficient in its terms and does not fail to comply with the requirements of the Code, a party demanding a further affidavit of documents, alleging that his opponent has failed to disclose certain documents in his possession, should apply, on affidavit, stating what documents ought to have been disclosed and that such documents are relevant to the issues. 2 C.W.N. 17. Y

20. Where the party from whom discovery of any kind or in-

Premature dis- spection is sought objects to the same, or any part to the discovery or inspection sought depends on the determination of any issue or question in dispute in the suit, or that for any other reason it is desirable that any issue or question in dispute in the suit should be determined before deciding upon the right to the discovery or inspection, order that such issue or question be determined first, and reserve the question as to the discovery or inspection.

(Notes).Old Act.

S. 135 of Act XIV of 1882 :—Same as above; only the clause "if the Court is satisfied....the Court may order, etc.," is re-written thus :—"the Court may, if satisfied.....order, etc."

O. XXXI,
r. 21.

21. Where any party fails to comply with any order to answer

Non-compliance interogatories¹, or for discovery or inspection of with order for dis- documents², he shall, if a plaintiff, be liable to covery. have his suit dismissed³ for want of prosecution, and, if a defendant, to have his defence, if any, struck out, and to be placed in the same position as if he had not defended⁴, and the party interrogating or seeking discovery or inspection may apply to the Court for an order to that effect, and an order may be made accordingly ⁵.

(Notes).

Old Act.

S. 186 of Act XIV of 1882 —Same as above, only the word "production" after "discovery" and the clause "which has been duly served" after "inspection" are omitted, and instead of "appeared and answered," the word "defended" is used

The last clause of S. 186 of Act XIV of 1882, viz., "Any party failing to comply with any order under this chapter to answer interrogatories, or for discovery, production or inspection, which has been served personally upon him shall also be deemed guilty of an offence under section 188 of the Indian Penal Code" is omitted.

(English Orders and Rules).

This corresponds to rule 21 of Order XXXI of the English rules.

1.—"Where any party fails....any order to answer interrogatories."

- (1) Where the plaintiff is not in a condition to make an affidavit of documents, the Court would not dismiss the action. Wilson v. Raffalovitch, 7 Q.B.D., p. 561—Annual Practice (1903), Vol. I, p. 421. A
- (2) Where an answer is not so palpably insufficient as to show want of bona fides, the proper course is to proceed under rule 11. Kennedy v. Lyell, W.N. (82), 137—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 421. B
- (3) An order will not be made unless the Court is satisfied that the plaintiff is endeavouring to avoid a fair discovery. Danvillier v. Myers, W.N. (83), 58—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 421. C
- (4) Where the time for answer allowed by law, viz., ten days, had not expired and the defendant asked only for time, no order striking out the defence should be passed. 8 O.C. 172. D
- (5) No order under this rule can be passed, until there has been an omission, or refusal to answer interrogatories.

Where the defendant only asked for time, there was no such refusal to answer as to justify an order under this rule. 8 O.C. 172. E

- (6) The Court has no jurisdiction to pass an order under rule 21, unless the provisions of rule 18 (2) are strictly complied with. 14 C. 768. F
- (7) Where interrogatories are delivered after leave granted by the Court under rule 1, and the party interrogated is required to answer within ten days; on failure to comply with such order, the Court may pass an order under rule 21. 10 C. 505. G
- (8) The order to answer interrogatories contemplated by this rule is an order under rule 11, upon application of the party interrogating, and not merely an order giving leave under rule 1, for, the grant of leave to one party to deliver interrogatories does not amount to an order requiring the other to answer; consequently, where there has been no order under rule 11, the mere omission to answer interrogatories delivered after leave granted by the Court is not a ground for striking out the defence under this rule. 18 C. 420; overruling 10 C. 505, supra, see also 8 O.C. 172. H

2.—“Or for discovery or inspection of documents.”

(1) Applicability of rules.

Rule 14 does not apply to a general order by the Court that all the documents in the defendant's possession should be produced by a particular date, without any particular object in view, and the defence should not be struck out under rule 21 for non-compliance with such an order. 58 P.R. 1898. I

(1-a) Order for production of account books of firm.

The order for production of account books relating to a large business is a bad order, having regard to the exigencies of the business, and the dismissal of a suit for failure to comply with that order is equally wrong. A.W.N. (1905), 62. J

(2) Failure of party to furnish written statement—Whether rule applicable.

Where, in a suit for partition, the defendant was directed to file a written statement setting forth, in detail, the entire joint property, etc., the Court would not be justified under rule 21 in striking off the defence, on defendant's failure to give the statement. 50 P.R. 1882. K

3.—“He shall, if a plaintiff, be liable to have his suit dismissed.”

(1) Order to produce account books—Whether just.

Where the defendant demanded inspection of plaintiff's account books upon a general suggestion, in no way specific, that probably entries might be found therein inconsistent with the plaintiff's case, and the plaintiffs objected thereto on the score of inconvenience, an order for the production of the accounts, under the circumstances, and the absolute dismissal of the suit, in consequence of disobedience thereto, were wrong. A.W.N. (1905), 62. L

(2) Appealability of order.

An order under this rule, dismissing a suit, is a decree, from which an appeal lies. 43 P.R. 1898. M

4.—“And, if a defendant,....as if he had not defended.”

(1) Failure to answer interrogatories—Decree against party so failing—Nature of—Not an ex parte decree.

Where, on defendant's failure to comply with an order to answer interrogatories, the Court ordered that his defence should be struck out and passed a decree against him, such a decree should not be treated, so far as the remedy by appeal is concerned, as an ex parte decree. 7 A. 159. N

(2) Failure to produce documents as per order—Defence struck out—Party entitled to get order set aside.

Where a defendant neglects to comply with an order for production and inspection, the Court will, although in the last resort, order his defence to be struck out; but the defendant might come in and seek to set it aside on showing good grounds for the application. 9 C. 923 O

5.—“And the party interrogating.....apply to the Court for an order to that effect:....made accordingly.”

(1) Powers—When to be exercised.

The powers given to the Court by this rule should not be exercised, except in extreme cases. 5 C. 707=5 C.L.R. 509 P

5.—“ And the party interrogating...apply to the Court for an order to that effect....made accordingly.”—(Concluded).

(2) Working of the rule—Caution to be exercised.

This rule requires to be worked with caution and should be made use of only as a last resort, and it is always proper to make the order a conditional one, and to grant a little further time for compliance. 58 P.R. 1898. Q

(3) Power to strike out defence suo motu

This rule does not confer on the Court the power to strike out the defence of a defendant, of its own motion, in the absence of an application to that effect by the plaintiff. 59 P.R. 1892, see also 80 P.R. 1889. R

(4) Order striking out defence—Whether Court obliged to make.

This rule renders the defendant liable to have his defence struck out upon failure to answer an interrogatory. It does not make it obligatory upon the Court to strike out the defence under all circumstances whatever. 7 C.L.J. 295, see also 5 C. 707=5 C.L.R. 509 (supra), and 9 C. 928. S

(5) Obstinacy of party—Appropriateness of order.

If there is obstinacy or contumacy on the part of the defendants, or a wilful attempt to disregard the order of the Court, an order under this rule is appropriate. 7 C.L.J. 295. T

(6) Power of Registrar of High Court.

Where the effect of the Registrar's order was to fix a date peremptorily, within which the affidavit of documents must be filed, and, on failure, the suit was liable to be dismissed on an application made to the Court, if, by rule 515-A (10) of the Calcutta High Court Rules, it was intended to give the Registrar power to pass a decree, the rule was ultra vires. 6 C.L.J. 374; see also 19 B. 307. U

(7) Power of appellate Court.

An appellate Court should not dismiss a suit under this rule because it finds that before the original Court the plaintiff did not obey that Court's order for inspection of document, when the Court, before which the disobedience has occurred, has refrained from doing so. 36 P.R. 1900. V

22. Any party may, at the trial of a suit, use in evidence any one or more of the answers¹ or any part of an answer of the opposite party to interrogatories without putting in the others or the whole of such answer: Provided always that in such case the Court may look at the whole of the answers, and if it shall be of opinion that any others of them are so connected with those put in that the last-mentioned answers ought not to be used without them, it may direct them to be put in.

(Notes).

General.

The Committee think the practice of admissions may, with advantage, be extended to facts as well as to documents.

The procedure is not compulsory, but its adoption would result in cheapening and expediting litigation, and it is hoped that its use will be encouraged by the Courts.—(Statement of Objects and Reasons).

(General).

(1) Admissions.

- (a) Admissions of plaintiff's right may be obtained by him by means of interrogatories. Att.-Gen. v. Gaskill, 20 C.D. 519; but see Clarke v. C., W.N. (1899), 130—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 426. Z

- (c) As to implied admissions of allegations in statement of claim amended after delivery of defence, see Boddy v. Wall, 7 C.D. 164—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 426. B
- (d) A party, intending to rely upon admissions by agreement, should be careful not to leave any fact to be merely inferred from them. Sanders v. S., 19 C.D. 373—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 426. C
- (e) A declaration in an order of Court as to the rights of parties ought not to be founded on admissions, but on evidence. Williams v. Powell, W.N. (1894), 141—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 426. D

(2) Evidence where facts admitted.

Where the defendant admits all the facts pleaded in the statement of claim, the plaintiff will not be allowed to call evidence except by permission of the Court. The Hardwick, 9 P.D. 32—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 426. E

(3) Appeal.

The mere admission of documents does not make them evidence on appeal. They must be formally put in at the trial. Watson v. Rodwell, 11 C.D. 153—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 426. F

This sub-rule corresponds to S. 138 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words, "bring with them, and have in readiness at the first hearing of the suit, to be produced when called for by the Court," found in the old section are re-placed by the phrase "produce at the first hearing of the suit", in this sub-rule, and the phrase "at any time before such hearing" is omitted.

Sub-rule (2).

This sub-rule corresponds to the first paragraph of S. 140 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words, "respectively produced by the parties at the first hearing," found in the old section are re-placed by the words "so produced," and the words "the documents produced by each party," of the old section, are re-placed by the word "they" in this sub-rule. The phrase "from time to time" appearing in the old section, is omitted.

(2) Application of the sub-rule.

The sub-rule applies to documents which have been produced with the filing of the plaint but not filed. 1 Hyde. 145.

(General)—(Concluded).

(3) Object of the rule.

(a) The main object of this sub-rule and r. 2 of this Order, was to prevent parties from manufacturing evidence pending the trial and to meet unexpected exigencies. It was not the object to shut out valuable and good evidence, simply because the party had without good cause, abstained from bringing it before the Court at the first hearing. 23 W.R. 29. M

(b) This sub-rule was enacted in the Civil Procedure Code to prevent fraud by the late production of suspicious documents and not to prevent formal evidence beyond suspicion, such as certified copies of public documents like records of Government. 22 B. 173; see also 12 C.W.N. 312; 23 W.R. 29; 22 B. 173 (relied on). N

(4) Production of documents—Effect of.

Documents produced in Court become, upon and by reason of their production, exhibits in the case. 8 W.R. 91. O

1.—“Shall produce, at the first hearing....documentary evidence.... possession or power....filed in Court....to be produced.”

(1) Documentary evidence—Production of.

(a) A party is bound under Act VIII of 1859, S. 128=r. 1, sub-rule (1) and r. 2 of this Order, to be prepared at all points with his documentary evidence and to tender it (if called upon), as soon as the Court has framed the issues. 21 W.R. 42; see also 1 B.L.R.A.C. 120=10 W.R. 179. P

(b) It is not obligatory on a party to produce at the first hearing, the documents on which he relies but which are not filed with the plaint, unless he is called upon by the Court. 12 C.W.N. 312; (1 B.L.R. 120; 21 W.R. 42, F.). Q

(2) Filing documents—Necessity.

(a) Under S. 128 of Act VIII of 1859=r. 1, sub-rule (1) and r. 2 of this Order, it was not necessary to file with the plaint all the documents which the plaintiff intended to give in evidence. Bourke, O. C. 91=Cor. 151. R

(b) A document which is to be given in evidence need not be translated previous to the hearing of the case. (Ibid). S

(3) First hearing in the suit—Meaning of.

The words “first hearing in the suit” are defined by r. 2 of this Order and they do not mean the first hearing on the issue. 21 W.R. 42. T

(4) Mistake of Court's officers.

Documents named in the plaint and filed by the pleader of the plaintiff on the day appointed for fixing issues must be received in evidence by the Civil Court and they cannot be rejected simply because, through the mistake of the Court's officers, they were not made part of the record. 15 W.R. 343. U

2.—“The Court shall receive....so produced.”

(1) Object of the rule.

The—is that papers should be produced in a regular manner and inspected by the Court at its convenience. 11 W.R. 350; see also 21 W.R. 76. V

2.—“The Court shall receive....so produced.”—(Concluded).

(2) Receiving documents—Effect of.

The mere fact that a Court receives some documents in evidence, and orders them to be filed for want of time to inspect and consider them, cannot prevent it, in law, from rejecting or returning them after proper inspection. 11 W.R. 350. W

(3) Insufficiently stamped document—Ss. 35, 36, Stamp Act

Where a document purporting to be a promissory note, is alleged to be insufficiently stamped, but is marked as an exhibit under this rule and is not rejected under r. 6 of this Order, no objection could be taken having regard to S. 36 of the Stamp Act that it is not admissible in evidence, on the ground that no penalty can be levied under S. 35 of the latter Act. 12 M.L.J. 351. X

For further Notes see r. 3, infra, of this Order.

2. No documentary evidence in the possession or power of any party which should have been but has not been produced in accordance with the requirements of rule 1 shall be received at any subsequent stage of the proceedings unless good cause is shown to the satisfaction of the Court for the non-production thereof; and the Court receiving any such evidence shall record the reasons for so doing¹.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 139 of the old Code.

1.—“No documentary evidence.....shall be received at any subsequent stage....unless good cause is shown, and the Court....shall record reasons for so doing.”

(1) Documents omitted in list filed with plaint—Discretion of Court.

(a) Where a plaintiff seeks to produce documents at the trial, which he had failed to mention in the list filed with the plaint, the Court has clearly a discretion, under this rule, either to receive or reject them. 12 C.W.N. 312; 29 W.R. 29; 22 B. 173 (relied on). Y

(b) This discretion must be exercised, so as not to shut out formal evidence such as certified copies of public documents or records of judicial proceedings. (Ibid). Z

(2) Subsequent stage—Right to adduce documentary evidence.

Although the parties have no right to adduce fresh documentary evidence after the issues are settled, still, such evidence can be tendered, the grounds upon which it was not tendered at an early stage being clearly stated. The Judge can receive or reject such evidence, stating the grounds on which he acts. 9 W.R. 294. A

(3) S. 584, C.P.C. of the old Code = S. 100 of the new Code.

Where a subordinate Court has refused, in the erroneous exercise of its discretion, to receive documentary evidence which it ought to have accepted, the High Court has ample powers to interfere under S. 584, C.P.C. = S. 100 of the present Code. 12 C.W.N. 312; 20 C. 740; 8 B. 377 and 8 M. 373, F. B

For further Notes to this rule, see rule 1, sub-rule (1) of this Order.

Rejection of irrelevant or inadmissible documents.

3. The Court may at any stage of the suit reject any document which it considers irrelevant or otherwise inadmissible, recording the grounds of such rejection ¹.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the second paragraph of S. 140 of Act XIV of 1882.

Act VIII of 1859.

O. XIII, r. 1, sub-rule (2) and O. XIII, r. 3=S. 129 of—.

1.—“ The Court may at any stage....reject any document....irrelevant or....inadmissible....grounds....rejection.”

Documents, irrelevant or inadmissible.

- (1) Attention of the Courts is drawn to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1859 (S. 129)=r. 1, sub-rule (2) and r. 3 of this Order, which prohibits them from receiving, without restriction and without discrimination, documents which are irrelevant or inadmissible. 11 W.R. 576. C
- (2) At the stage of a suit referred to in rr. 1 to 5 in this Order, it is the business of the Court to sort the documents tendered, into two classes, viz., those that are relevant and admissible and those that are irrelevant and inadmissible. All documents which cannot be used in evidence must be rejected. 21 W.R. 76. D
- (3) The mere fact of the admission of a document at this stage does not imply that it is evidence, but it simply denotes that it may be used evidence in the suit, if properly treated. (Ibid). E
- (4) Courts of first instance must specify the portions of the documentary evidence they have accepted and the portions they have refused to accept, and all proceedings, relating to the use of documentary evidence, must be recorded by the Judge's own note. (Ibid). F

Endorsements on documents admitted in evidence.

4. (1) Subject to the provisions of the next following sub-rule, there shall be endorsed on every document which has been admitted in evidence in the suit the following particulars, namely :—

- (a) the number and title of the suit,
- (b) the name of the person producing the document ¹,
- (c) the date on which it was produced, and
- (d) a statement of its having been so admitted; and the endorsement shall be signed or initialled by the Judge.

(2) Where a document so admitted is an entry in a book, account or record, and a copy thereof has been substituted for the original under the next following rule, the particulars aforesaid shall be endorsed on the copy and the endorsement thereon shall be signed or initialled by the Judge.

(Notes).Old Act.

Sub-rule (1) of this rule corresponds to the first paragraph of S. 141 of the old Code, while sub-rule (2) to the second paragraph of the same section. The whole rule also corresponds to S. 132 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The words "or initialled" are newly added in sub-rules (1) and (2).

1.—"The name of the person producing the document"Exhibits.

—produced in a Court must be endorsed with the name of the person who produces them, as required by S. 132 of Act VIII of 1859=r. 4 of this Order. 6 W.R. 1. G

5. (1) Save in so far as is otherwise provided by the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891 (VIII of 1891), where a document admitted in evidence in the suit is an entry in a letter-book or a shop-book or other account in current use, the party on whose behalf the book or account is produced may furnish a copy of the entry.

Endorsements on copies of admitted entries in books, accounts and records.

(2) Where such a document is an entry in a public record produced from a public office or by a public officer, or an entry in a book or account belonging to a person other than a party on whose behalf the book or account is produced, the Court may require a copy of the entry to be furnished—

- (a) where the record, book or account is produced on behalf of a party, then by that party, or
- (b) where the record, book or account is produced in obedience to an order of the Court acting of its own motion then by either or any party.

(3) Where a copy of an entry is furnished under the foregoing provisions of this rule, the Court shall, after causing the copy to be examined, compared and certified in manner mentioned in rule 17 of Order VII, mark the entry and cause the book, account or record in which it occurs to be returned to the person producing it.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 141-A of the old Code.

Distinction.

The clause, "Save in so far as is otherwise provided by the Bankers' Books Evidence Act (VIII of 1891)," is newly added at the beginning of sub-rule (1), and the word "letter-book" is further added before the word "shop-book." The word "certified" is inserted, instead of the word "attested," in sub-rule (3).

Stamp Act (II of 1899), Sch. I, Art. 24.

A copy or an extract from an entry in an account-book, filed under the provisions of this rule, does not require any stamp. 26 B. 522; see also 27 B. 150 = 4 Bom. L.R. 951; 26 B. 522, F. H

6. Where a document relied on as evidence by either party is considered by the Court to be inadmissible in evidence¹, there shall be endorsed thereon the particulars mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of rule 4, sub-rule (1), together with a statement of its having been rejected, and the endorsement shall be signed or initialled by the Judge.

Endorsements on documents rejected as inadmissible in evidence.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 142 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words "together with" are inserted instead of the words "and a," and the words "or initialled" are newly added after the word "signed."

1.—"Considered by the Court to be inadmissible in evidence."

Document, insufficiently stamped.

A—, which is marked as an exhibit under r. 1, sub-rule (2) and not rejected under this rule, cannot be said to be inadmissible in evidence, as no penalty can be levied under S. 35 of the Stamp Act. 12 M.L.J. 351. I

Recording of admitted and return of rejected documents.

7. (1) Every document which has been admitted in evidence, or a copy thereof where a copy has been substituted for the original under rule 5, shall form part of the record of the suit.

(2) Documents not admitted in evidence shall not form part of the record¹ and shall be returned to the persons respectively producing them.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 142-A of the old Code.

Distinction.

Instead of the word "parties," the word "persons" is inserted in sub-rule (2) of this rule.

1.—"Documents not admitted in evidence shall not form part of the record."

Rejected document remaining on record—Evidence on appeal.

The mere fact that a document remains on record, after having been rejected by the Court as inadmissible in evidence, does not make it evidence

8. Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 5 or rule 7 of this Order or in rule 17 of Order VII, the Court may, if it sees sufficient cause, direct any document or book produced before it in any suit to be impounded and kept in the custody of an officer of the Court, for such period and subject to such conditions as the Court thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 143 of the old Code.

Distinction.

Sub-rule (3) of rule (5) of this Order, corresponding to sub-section (3) of section 141-A of the old Code, and sub-rule (2) of rule 7 of this Order, corresponding to sub-section (2) of section 142-A of the old Code, are not mentioned in this rule, after the words “in rule 5 or rule 7.”

9. (1) Any person, whether a party to the suit or not, desirous of receiving back any document produced by him in the suit and placed on the record shall, unless the document is impounded under rule 8, be entitled to receive back the same,—

- (a) where the suit is one in which an appeal is not allowed, when the suit has been disposed of, and
- (b) where the suit is one in which an appeal is allowed, when the Court is satisfied that the time for preferring an appeal has elapsed and that no appeal has been preferred or, if an appeal has been preferred, when the appeal has been disposed of :

Provided that a document may be returned at any time earlier than that prescribed by this rule if the person applying therefor delivers to the proper officer a certified copy to be substituted for the original and undertakes to produce the original if required to do so :

Provided also that no document shall be returned which, by force of the decree, has become wholly void or useless.

(2) On the return of a document admitted in evidence, a receipt shall be given by the person receiving it.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 144 of the old Code.

Distinction.

Sub-rule (1) of this rule corresponds to the principal sentence in the first paragraph of S. 144 of the old Act. Suits, in which an appeal is not allowed, are dealt with in sub-rule (1) (a), while those, in which an appeal is allowed, are dealt with in sub-rule (1) (b).

In sub-rule (1) (a) and (b), the words, "in suits" found in the beginning of the old section, are elaborated as "where the suit is one."

In sub-rule (1) (b), instead of the clause, "when the time for preferring an appeal from the decree has elapsed," found in the old Code, the clause "when the Court is satisfied that the time for preferring an appeal has elapsed and that no appeal has been preferred," are inserted, and the word "when" is found in this rule after the word "preferred," instead of the words "then, after," found in the old Code.

The words, "before either of such events," found in the first provisional clause of the old Code, are further replaced in this rule by the words "earlier than that prescribed by this rule," while the word "therefor" is substituted for the words "for such return." The clause "and undertakes to produce the original if required to do so" is newly added in the first provisional clause to sub-rule (1) (a) and (b).

In the second provisional clause to the sub-rule, the word "wholly" is newly added before the word "void." The words "in a receipt-book to be kept for the purpose," found in the fourth paragraph of the old section are omitted in sub-rule (2) of this rule.

10. (1) The Court may of its own motion, and may in its discretion upon the application of any of the parties to a suit, send for ¹, either from its own records or from any other Court ², the record of any other suit or proceeding. and inspect the same ³.

(2) Every application made under this rule shall (unless the Court otherwise directs) be supported by an affidavit showing how the record is material to the suit in which the application is made, and that the applicant cannot without unreasonable delay or expense obtain a duly authenticated copy of the record or of such portion thereof as the applicant requires, or that the production of the original is necessary for the purposes of justice.

(3) Nothing contained in this rule shall be deemed to enable the Court to use in evidence any document which under the law of evidence would be inadmissible in the suit ⁴.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 137 of the old Code and to S. 138 of Act VIII of 1859.

Distinction.

The word "motion" appears in sub-rule (1) instead of the word "accord."

The phrase "of the applicant or his pleader," found in the second paragraph of the old section, is omitted in sub-rule (2), and instead of the words "the Indian Evidence Act" found in para 3 of the old section, the words "the law of evidence" are inserted in sub-rule (3).

1.—"May in its discretion upon the application . . . parties to a suit send for."(1) Application by party—Discretion of Court.

(a) Where an application was made to a Judge, to send for, from the records of his own Court, certain papers, which would be evidence before him, the Judge had no discretion in the matter but he was bound to exercise the authority conferred upon him by statute. W.R. (F.B.), 177 ; but see 7 W.R. 109 ; 18 W.R. 13. L

(b) In sending for such records, the Court is not bound to send for the whole record, but only for those papers that are specially mentioned in the application. W.R. (1864), 272 M

(2) Government Office—Court of Wards.

It is the duty of the Court to send for the records, if they are in the Government Office but it is not the Court's duty, if they are in the Court of Wards. Since a Court of Wards is not a Government Office, it is the duty of the party to summon the proper officer. 15 W.R. 150. N

(3) High Court—No application by party in lower Court.

The High Court cannot, in second appeal, send for the records of a previous suit, simply because such records were sent for and inspected by the lower Courts, without the application of any of the parties. The provisions of this sub-rule, relating to application by parties, must be strictly followed. 14 A.W.N. 8. O

(4) Omission to summon Registrar.

Where a suit was brought on a registered bond, the defendant could not ask the Court to send for the registration books, to prove the non-existence of the bond, at the time it purported to be certified, but it was his duty to summon the Deputy Registrar to prove his case. The Judge was consequently not bound to use his discretion in this case. 14 W.R. 302. P

2.—"Either from its . . . or from any other Court."Records sent for by another Court—Discretion of Court.

A Court had no discretion to refuse to send records, which had been sent for by another Civil Court. 4 C.L.R. 86. Q

3.—"And inspect the same."(1) Inspection of document.

A Judge may send for and inspect any document filed with any record in his Court, and nothing in the Civil Procedure Code can prevent him from basing his decision wholly or mainly on such document. 1 W.R. 68. R

(2) Public record.

Before inspecting a document, it is the duty of the Court to see, if it is a public record. A casee's book is not strictly an official record. 15 W.R. 173. S

4.—“ Nothing....to use in evidence any document which under the law of evidence would be inadmissible....suit.”

Admissibility in evidence.

It is only those documents, which are unobjectionable and admissible for or against either of the parties to a suit, that can be used in evidence by a Civil Court, which inspects the records of another case. 2 B. 361=2nd Edn. 341. T

Provisions as to documents applied to material objects.

11. The provisions herein contained as to documents shall, so far as may be, apply to all other material objects producible as evidence.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 145 of the old Code.

ORDER XIV.

SETTLEMENT OF ISSUES AND DETERMINATION OF SUIT ON ISSUES OF LAW OR ON ISSUES AGREED UPON.

Framing of issues.

1. (1) Issues arise when a material proposition of fact or law is affirmed by the one party and denied by the other.

(2) Material propositions are those propositions of law or fact which a plaintiff must allege in order to show a right to sue or a defendant must allege in order to constitute his defence.

(3) Each material proposition affirmed by one party and denied by the other shall form the subject of a distinct issue.

(4) Issues are of two kinds: (a) issues of fact, (b) issues of law.

(5) At the first hearing of the suit the Court shall, after reading the plaint and the written statements, if any, and after such examination of the parties as may appear necessary, ascertain upon what material propositions of fact or of law the parties are at variance, and shall thereupon proceed to frame and record the issues on which the right decision of the case appears to depend.

(6) Nothing in this rule requires the Court to frame and record issues where the defendant at the first hearing of the suit makes no defence.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 146 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

- (1) The words, "or a defendant must allege in order to constitute the defence" in sub-rule 2, are new.
- (2) The word "must" is changed into "shall" in sub-rule 3.
- (3) The words "to the Court" are omitted in sub-rule 5.
- (4) The word "section" is changed into "rule."

(General).

- (a) The law confers no authority on a Judge to issue summonses to witnesses to attend on the settlement of issues. The written statements must be prepared with great care and deliberation, so as to dispense altogether with parol evidence at the settlement of issues. 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 15; 1 Hyde. 147. U
- (b) But the Court may examine the pleaders of parties at the settlement of issues. 15 I.A. 119; 15 C. 533. Y
- (c) An order made by a Judge, on the original side, at settlement of issues fixing a date for final disposal is not an order under S. 156 of Act XIV of 1892. 14 M. 88. W
- (d) There is nothing in the Code which imposes upon the Judge the duty of allowing an issue to be raised on a point of law which he considers to be perfectly clear. 2 Bom. H.C. 272; 2nd Ed. 258. X
- (e) The responsibility of closely perceiving and raising points which arise upon the pleadings and the evidence, the proper adjudication of which is essential for the ends of justice, rests as much on the Court as on the parties or their pleaders. If the issues have not been properly raised, the appellate Court must raise and decide them, unless they had been waived. 3 Bom. L.R. 535. Y
- (f) A Court is not bound to grant an issue in respect of a question not arising on the pleadings. 6 C.W.N. 641; 25 M. 367. Z
- (g) The rule contemplates that issues may be settled, whether there was a written statement or not, though it is not obligatory on the Court to frame issues, if the defendant makes no defence. 11 C.W.N. 871=6 C.L.J. 410. A
- (h) It is the duty of the Court where minors are concerned, to examine the pleadings and raise such issues in regard to the minors as may be called for by the legal aspects presented by the plaint or the pleadings. 9 Bom. L.R. 1114. B
- (i) In a suit for possession of land in which the question of easement was not raised, it is not necessary to go into it. 5 C.P.L.R. 53. C
- (j) It is the duty of the Judge to fix the issue so as to bring the question which is in dispute plainly under trial; but he is not bound to try the suit merely on the case made out in the plaint. 1876 Select Cases, Part X, No. 1. D
- (k) The trial of issues of fact will not be stayed pending appeal on law except upon very strong grounds. Re. Palmers Application; 22 C.D. 88—Annual Practice (1908), Vol. I, p. 433. E

2. Where issues both of law and of fact arise in the same suit,

Issues of law and of fact. and the Court is of opinion that the case or any part thereof may be disposed of on the issues of law only, it shall try those issues first, and for that purpose may, if it thinks fit, postpone the settlement of the issues of fact until after the issues of law have been determined.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the sixth para of S. 146 of Act XIV of 1882; but the words "or any part thereof" are new.

Materials from which issues may be framed.

3. The Court may frame the issues ¹ from all or any of the following materials:—

- (a) allegations made on oath by the parties ², or by any persons present on their behalf, or made by the pleaders of such parties;
- (b) allegations made in the pleadings or in answers to interrogatories delivered in the suit;
- (c) the contents of documents produced by either party.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 147 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

The words "or persons" are omitted in (a).

For the words "in the plaint or in the written statements (if any) tendered in the suit," the words "in the pleadings" are substituted.

provided the state of facts and equities there set up are not inconsistent with the pleadings. 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 118; 11 I.A. 7; 3 W.R. 38; 8 I.A. 170. O

- (j) Courts are not allowed to raise important and serious issues in a case for the parties, when they have not raised them themselves by their own pleadings in the cause. 10 A. 627; 12 A. 556; 17 W.R. 532. P
- (k) Where the cause of action stated in the plaint was that a document was a forgery, it was held wrong to raise an issue as to whether it had been executed under pressure. 10 W.R. 389; 15 C. 684; 15 I.A. 81; 13 M. 549; 22 W.R. 469; or by fraud. 13 M. 549; 10 A. 627; 12 A. 556. Q

2.—Settlement of issues.

- (a) When both parties appear, so that the Court can ascertain from them what are the points upon which they are at issue, issues are to be fixed; but the Court is not bound to fix any issue, when the defendant does not appear; it should hear the case ex parte. 15 W.R. 145.
- (b) It is not proper for the Court to raise an issue, which was not based and moulded upon some specific affirmative allegation. 22 W.R. 469. S
- (c) Even if the pleadings are bad, it is the duty of the Judge to ascertain clearly the real points in dispute and frame issues accordingly. 3 B. 210; 11 C. (407); 15 W.R. 286; 16 W.R. 218. T
- (d) On an issue of undue influence, a Court should consider whether the gift in question (a) is one which a right-minded person might be expected to make, (b) is or is not an improvident act on the donor's part, (c) is such as to have required advice, if not obtained by the donor, (d) whether the intention to make the gift originated with the donor. 15 C. 684, 15 I.A. 81. U
- (e) At the hearing of a case on a preliminary issue, the defendant by whom the issue is raised has the right to begin. Two vakils for the same party may be heard in argument of a preliminary issue. 12 B. 454. V

3.—Pleading.

- (a) Where plaintiffs claim on an alleged title and their allegation is not traversed by the defendant, their position requires no further proof. 12 W.R. 469. W
- (b) Where parties allow a suit to be conducted as if certain facts were admitted, they cannot, afterwards, on special appeal, question it, and recede from the tacit admission. 15 B.L.R. 142; but see 11 C. 111. X
- (c) Where plaintiffs claimed under certain mortgages and the defendant confined himself to saying that “the mortgages created by those bonds are insufficient and unjust,” and did not move the Court to raise an issue as to their bona fides, it was held the mortgages were bona fide transactions. 18 W.R. 287. Y
- (d) It is not possible to apply the strict rule that averments not traversed must be taken to be admitted. 2 W.R. 19; 9 I.A. 301. Z
- (e) But where issues have been settled, averments upon which no issue is framed should be taken to be admitted, as the Court is directed to inquire and ascertain upon what questions of law or fact the parties are at issue. 18 W.R. 287; 6 I.A. 88; 15 B.L.R. 155; but see 11 C. 111 (118); 11 I.A. 186. A

I.—“Issues.”—(Continued).

3.—Pleading—(Concluded).

- (f) Only such averments should be made the subject of issues, as are essential to support the cause of action and are denied by the defendant, or as are essential to support a plea and are denied by the plaintiff. 3 N.W.P. 303 ; but see 14 W.R. 55. B
- (g) From the fact that no issue is raised as to matters which the plaintiff must prove, it cannot be inferred the defendant intends to admit them. 26 B. 360. C
- (h) But in a suit for injunction, the defendant did not, in his written statement, deny the fact of the obstruction of possession alleged in the plaint. It may be presumed that the defendant admitted the fact of obstruction. 26 B. 735. D
- (i) A pleading in a suit not between the same parties can never be an estoppel ; but it may be an admission. 13 I.A. (42). E
- (j) An admission by one defendant does not bind the co-defendants. 16 C. 627 ; 16 I.A. 96. F
- (k) A statement in a pleading will not always amount to an admission. A petition asking for postponement of sale in execution of a decree is not an estoppel, and does not prevent the debtor from pleading that execution is barred by lapse of time. 10 C. 196 ; 10 I.A. 119. G
- (l) Although the parties understood that a mortgage with conditional sale had been converted into a sale and admitted that it was so in the pleadings, such admissions did not operate as an estoppel, or prevent the mortgagor from redeeming his property. 14 B. 78 ; 13 M. 494 ; 14 B. 102. H
- (m) But if a company can only hold land in a certain way, they cannot allege that they became possessed of the property otherwise than by the Act. 19 B. 440. I
- (n) If a plaintiff sues persons apparently liable and defendants put in a defence, and afterwards attempt to enter another defence, when the suit against the proper persons is barred, they will not be allowed to do so. 16 Q.B.D. 556. J
- (o) The sole object of pleading is that each side may have an opportunity of bringing forward evidence appropriate to the issues, and so long as this result is obtained, an issue cannot be objected to because it was not prominently raised in the first instance. 22 C. 324 ; 22 I.A. 4. K
- (p) In a suit by a Hindu widow for a declaration of her right to maintenance out of her husband's estate which had been mortgaged to the defendant by the heir, the Court ought to frame issues as to what should be allowed for the maintenance of the plaintiff and the expenses of the marriages. 9 B.L.R. 11 ; 17 W.R. 432. L

4.—Issues in special suits.

(1) Account.

- (a) Where two persons were sued as agents, for monies received by them on behalf of their principal and they pleaded payment, the issue was whether they had paid. 17 W.R. 149. M
- (b) In a suit on an—alleged to have been admitted as correct the issue is whether the accounts have been admitted, and not whether they are correct. N.W.P. (1863), 300. N

(2) Damages.

In a suit by a lessee for damages on account of dispossession, on the allegation that the lessors had given a second lease to another party, it was not for the Judge to assess the damages. 12 W.R. 198. O

(3) Damages and injunction.

In a suit to have the portion of a bund cut by the defendant closed up, and for an injunction restraining the defendant from so cutting the bund in future, it was material to try whether the plaintiff had a cause of action and also the question as to the property in the bund. 17 W.R. 359. P

(4) Easement.

(a) As to the proper issues in a suit to establish an easement when limitation is pleaded under S. 26, Act XV of 1877—vide 6 C. 812. Q

(b) In case of a presumed grant. 6 C. 394; 6 B. 20; 16 B. 533. R

(5) Grant.

In a suit for a portion of land granted in trust for purposes connected with the preservation of a Mahomedan Saint's tomb, where plaintiff claimed as son of the last mutwali, the material point to try was whether plaintiff's ancestors had, from the time of grant, been in possession, or whether the land had been inherited. 12 W.R. 132. S

(6) Lease.

(a) Where a plaintiff relies on a lease, the genuineness of which is disputed by the defendant, the Court is bound to adjudicate the issue and to decide whether the lease is valid or invalid. 5 W.R. 157. T

(b) In a suit for a Kabuliati with intervener, the ryot was entitled to be heard whether he paid the rents to the plaintiff, and whether he was bound to give the Kabuliati asked for, and plaintiff was entitled to be heard whether the ryot held 3 parcels or 25 parcels of land. 11 W.R. 366. U

(7) Legal representative.

Where a suit was brought against the defendant as the—of a person deceased and the Courts below found that the amount was due, but the defendant had not taken possession of any property of the deceased person: held, the Court should have determined the further question whether the defendants were legal representatives of the deceased and entitled to his estate. 2 M.H.C. 423. Y

) Letters Patent.

The legality of an order granting permission to institute a suit under cl. 12 of the—may form the subject of an issue for trial in the suit so instituted. 18 M. 142. W

(9) Malicious prosecution.

(a) In a suit for instituting a case against another, the issues are whether the defendant acted maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause. 17 W.R. 101. X

(b) The onus lies on the plaintiff to prove malice and absence of reasonable and probable cause. 19 B. 717. Y

I.—“Issues.”—(Continued).

4.—Issues in special suits—(Continued).

(10) Mortgage.

In a suit by a mortgagee in possession, the proper issue is the terms of the mortgage and not previous possession, unless limitation is raised.
N.W.P. (1862), 87. Z

(11) Officiating at marriages.

Plaintiff sued to recover certain fees from defendant, alleging that he had a right to officiate at marriages among the defendant's caste people and that, according to this right, he had officiated at his request; the question really involved in the issue is whether, invited or uninvited, plaintiff was entitled by custom to the fees claimed by him. 3 B. 210. A (12) Possession.

(a) In a suit to recover possession of land in the wrongful possession of the defendant, the appellate Court can't reverse the decision on the ground there had been no demand for possession without framing an issue on the point. 20 W.R. 401. B

(b) In a suit by mortgagee for possession without foreclosure, it was incumbent on the Court to frame an issue as to the nature of the transaction. 19 W.R. 333. C

(c) In a suit for possession of a piece of land where defendant pleads limitation and his writing unexpectedly discloses that his possession is that of a mortgagee, it was impossible for the Court to overlook that testimony and that it was its duty to frame an issue on the fact of the mortgage. 16 W.R. 44. D

(d) A mortgagee was, after foreclosure, executing his decree for possession, when an objection was preferred on the part of the landlord as purchaser of the tenure. The issue to be decided was whether or not the tenure was sold subject to previous incumbrances. 12 W.R. 460. E

(e) Where certain Zemindars sued to recover khas possession of certain shares of land, alleging that defendants were wrongfully in possession, it was held that, though bound to prove their right to khas possession, they had a right to a decision as to the alleged wrongful possession of the defendants. 12 W.R. 365. F

(f) The question of a prescriptive right of occupancy cannot arise as an issue in a case where a tenant sues to recover possession of land from which he has been illegally ejected. 7 W.R. 27. G

(g) In a suit to recover possession based on a deed of sale, the Court should have raised the issues as to ownership and possession, even if the sale deed was not proved. 20 Bom. 753. H

(h) In a suit for possession of land on the strength of an alleged mirasi mukurari, one of the main issues was whether the plaintiffs were or were not tenants of the land in dispute. It was found that they had acquired a title as tenants. Held they were entitled to a decree for possession. 7 C.L.R. 103. I

(13) Railways Act.

Under S. 77 of the—, it is not necessary for the defendant to plead want of notice of action in order to avail himself of it, but he may raise the objection at the hearing. 24 C. 306. J

I.—“Issues.”—(Continued).

4.—Issues in special suits—(Concluded).

(14) Rent.

- (a) In a rent suit, when defendant denied that he held under plaintiff and alleged that the jote belonged to two persons, the proper issues were (1) whether the defendant held in succession to the previous tenant, or the jote really belonged to two persons, (2) and whether the defendant had acquired the jote or a portion of it only, and, if he held the entire jote, would he be liable. 17 W.R. 504. K
- (b) In a suit for arrears of rent at enhanced rates, where only a single notice has been issued although there are two holdings at two rents, the Court should frame an issue which will allow the plaintiffs and the defendant to give evidence. 20 W.R. 442. L
- (c) In a suit by putnidars for rent, where the defendants plead a lakhiraj title set up long before the plaintiffs acquired their putni, the issue to be tried is whether the plaintiffs have at any time received rent for the lands in dispute. 14 W.R. 149. M
- (d) The issues should not be in too general terms, and should, if possible, embrace the whole matter in dispute. In a suit to be declared proprietor of land and to pay less rent than had been assessed in the Sub-Collector's order marked A and to obtain a refund, the issue framed “whether the first defendant is entitled to rent at the rate specified in document A” was held to be too general, and “what is a fair and reasonable rate of rent” was directed to be sent to the lower Court. 3 M.H.C. 25. N
- (e) In a suit for rent in which the defendant set up the title of a third party, the only issue to be tried was whether the relation of landlord and tenant subsisted. 8 B.L.R. 180; 16 W.R. 235; 8 C. 238. O
- (f) In a suit for arrears of rent, the proper issue is whether the defendant holds the lands set forth in the plaint at the rent specified, and not whether the defendant holds the jamas set forth in the plaint under the plaintiff. 1 C.W.N. 152.

(15) Specific Relief Act.

- (a) In a suit for a declaration that the defendant had no right either to the office of sheik or to the properties in question, and for an injunction restraining him from interfering with the properties, and for further and other relief, it was found that the defendant was in possession of part of the property; held that the Court of first instance should frame an issue as to the maintainability of the suit under the last clause of S. 42.— 15 M. 15. Q
- (b) In a suit under S. 9 of—, the Court has merely to consider the question whether the plaintiff's dispossession was in due course of law. It cannot deal with the merits of the plaintiff's possession. (1880) Select Case, Part X, No. 6. R
- (c) When the suit is for a declaratory decree, and the plaintiff alleges that he is in possession, there should be a distinct finding on that point as a preliminary issue, as the right of the plaintiff to obtain a mere declaratory decree without further relief depends thereon. (1877) Select Case, Part X, No. 8. 15 M. 255; 16 M. 31; 16 M. 140. S

5.—Decree.

- (a) The decree will follow the findings on the issues, although the appropriate form in which the decree should be passed was not indicated with precision in the plaint itself. 10 M. 375. T
- (b) A decree not according with the issues will be held erroneous. 2 M.H.C.441. U
- (c) In a case of a vague issue, the judgment may be used to interpret it. 16 C. 103; 15 I.A. 159 (163). Y
- (d) No decree should be given in plaintiff's favour on a point not raised in the pleadings nor embodied in an issue. 8 C. 975; 11 C.L.R. 399. W
- (e) If a Court goes beyond the rights which are properly in issue between the parties, the decree of Court will be absolutely null and void. 11 C.D. 813. X
- (f) The rule that the decree should be in accordance with what is alleged and proved was held as intended to prevent surprise, and was not applicable to a case in which the defendant's own admission was adopted as the ground of decision against him. 11 M. 367. Y

6.—Decision on issues.

- (a) It is not the written statements of parties, but the issues framed which ought to be the index of what has been and has to be adjudicated. 12 W.R. 229. Z
- (b) In appealable cases the lower Courts should, as far as is practicable, pronounce their opinions on all the important points. 5 W.R. 63; 10 I.A. 476.
- (c) But, if a suit for ejectment by a landlord against his tenant can be dismissed on the ground of insufficiency of notice, any other issues raised in the suit should not be tried. 10 C. 1095. B
- (d) It is competent to a Judge to determine a case on the day when the issues are settled, if he is satisfied that the evidence then before him is decisive of the matter in dispute. 22 W.R. 426. C
- (e) The omission to decide an issue of ownership in a suit mainly based on a rent note is a ground for reversing the decree of the lower Court. 16 B. 545. D
- (f) Parties are not bound by an opinion of the Court on a matter not in issue, in the same manner as if the Judge had decided an issue formally and properly raised before him. 21 W.R. 59. E

7.—New issues.

- (a) When a new and different issue is raised, it should be raised in such a way as to give the parties the fullest opportunity of producing evidence upon it. 17 W.R. 361; 18 W.R. 297. F
- (b) The Judge should, with some degree of formality, frame the issues record that parties desire to tender evidence and the pleaders request for the same to be recorded; otherwise, the losing party may possibly be debarred from urging in special appeal that he had been misled by the issues laid down by the first Court. 11 W.R. 61; 17 W.R. 361. G

7.—New issues—(Concluded).

- (c) Where the appellate Court has omitted to frame or try any issue or to determine any essential question of fact, the High Court in such cases must remit issues for trial to the lower appellate Court. 9 A. 147; 7 M. 52. H
- (d) Exclusive possession can only be awarded on proof of exclusive title. 20 B. 569. I
- (e) No new issues ought to be allowed if it will be a complete departure from the case set up in the lower Court. 11 C. 118. J
- (f) The right of framing new issues arises where the issues framed are insufficient to dispose of the matters raised in the plaint. 1 C.L.R. 415. K
- (g) In such cases the High Court will remand the case for re-trial. 2 N.W.P. 188. L
- (h) Where an appellate Court appears not to have taken into consideration a presumption of fact arising out of the circumstances in evidence and materially affecting the decision of a case, that is such a defect as the High Court will remedy on special appeal by directing an issue. 1 M.H.C. 131. M
- (i) Where no issue has been laid down and the case is complicated, see 11 I.A. 25. N

8.—Omission to settle issues.

- (a) In a suit raising issues of fact, it did not appear from the record that the Judge settled or recorded the issues in the suit, although he allowed evidence to be taken. The Judicial Committee considered a settlement of issues to be necessary and remanded the case. 11 I.A. 25; 2 N.W.P. 188; 1 M.H.C. 131; but see 4 C.L.R. 473. O
- (b) Where the Court found that the defendant was not prejudiced by the fact that no issue was framed on a certain question, it confirmed the decision of the Court below. 2 M.H.C. 470. P
- (c) If substantial justice had been done, the mere omission to settle issues by the Court of first instance, which was not made a ground of appeal to the first Court of appeal, but was noticed and commented on by that Court, did not constitute a fatal mistrial of the case so as to render a new trial necessary. 6 B.L.R. 148; 15 W.R. 15; 13 I.A. 578; 22 W.R. 448; 22 C. 324; 24 C. 309. Q
- (d) The omission to settle issues is not fatal to the trial of the suit, if the parties had not been prejudiced at all by the omission, both of them having adduced evidence upon all the necessary points raised and discussed. 12 I.A. 495; 12 C.L.R. 169; 24 W.R. 275; 2 B.L.R. 72; 11 W.R. 38; 12 I.A. 47; 1903 P.R. 77. R
- (e) When both the parties invoked the decision of the Court upon a question raised by the pleadings and the question was argued, the judgment upon it was not ultra vires, because an issue was not framed embracing the whole question. 20 W.R. 377. S

9.—Appeal.

- (a) In appeal the case must be dealt with not on the mere wording of the plaint, but on the issues settled for trial, and the manner in which the case was tried by the first Court. 7 A. 1; 11 I.A. 155; 10 C. 777; 11 I.A. 109, p. 120. T

I.—“Issues.”—(Concluded).9.—Appeal.—(Concluded).

- (b) If a case not alleged by the plaintiff is disclosed in the evidence, the Court can allow it to be set up, provided a specific issue is raised on it and the defendant is given an opportunity of meeting it. 20 B. 569. U
- (c) An appellate Court should not set aside a decision on a point which, though essential, has not been raised in it, without framing an issue on the point and properly deciding it. 20 W.R. 401; 12 I.A. 166; 12 C. 239. Y
- (d) A question which has not been raised in the plaint, written statement, or issues at the first Court, or in the grounds of first appeal, and the evidence has not been directed to it, it should not be raised in special appeal. 2 I.A. 87; 20 W.R. 272. W
- (e) A point on which no question has been raised in the first Court and which is not in the line of defence taken there, should not be put in issue by the appellate Court. 23 W.R. 169; 17 W.R. 407. X
- (f) Where issues have not been settled but the judgment states the points for consideration, then, although the written statement does not raise the same points, they will be looked on as the issues. 12 I.A. 47. Y
- (g) If the first Court has fixed and tried wrong issues, the appellate Court should lay down the proper issues, unless the issues decided have been agreed on by the parties, or the new issues would be a complete departure from the case set up in the lower Court. 11 W.R. 20; 14 W.R. 466; 11 C. at p. 118. Z
- (h) When the lower appellate Court framed a wrong issue, but it appeared from the judgment that there was a finding on the point which would have been raised, if the correct issue had been framed, the High Court refused to remand the case. 21 B. 325. A
- (i) No appeal lies when the decision upon the settlement* of issues is only of interlocutory character deciding some isolated point not affecting the merits or the result of the entire suit. 4 C. 581; 3 C.L.R. 311. B

10.—Review.

The absence of a formal finding on an issue tried and decided is not an error calling for a review of judgment. 2 M.H.C. 58. C

2.—“Parties.”(1) General.

Persons not likely to be affected by the result of a suit cannot claim to be joined as parties for the purpose of raising altogether fresh issues. 2 B.L.R. 26. D

(2) Issues agreed on.

- (a) If both the parties agree to abide by certain issues, they will be bound by them. 13 W.R. 205; 11 W.R. 277; 11 W.R. 20; 13 W.R. 189. E
- (b) When a defendant, pleading limitation, placed that issue on the fact that it had been twelve years in possession, it was held too late for him in special appeal to object that it did not dispose of the question of limitation. 10 W.R. 389. E 1

2.—“ Parties.”—(Concluded).(3) Co-defendants.

- (a) An issue between two co-defendants is contrary to practice. 2 W.R. 45; 6 C.D. 29; 8 W.R. 356. F
- (b) Where co-defendants claim under different titles, and issues are raised between the plaintiff and each of them and the suit is dismissed, the decision on these issues cannot be regarded as a decision between the rival defendants. 11 W.R. 462; 6 C.D. 29; but see 15 M. 264. G

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 148 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

The words “If the Court be of opinion” are changed into “Where the Court is of opinion.”

The words “to be fixed by the Court” are omitted.

The words “subject to the rules contained in the Indian Evidence Act” are changed into “subject to any law for the time being in force.”

The words “in whose hands” are changed into “in whose possession or power.”

1.—“It may adjourn the framing of issues to a future day.”

- (a) If the parties do not secure the attendance of witnesses at the first hearing, and there are, on the examination of parties, issues upon which evidence is necessary, the Court is bound to fix a day for the hearing of such evidence. 9 W.R. 246. H
- (b) Where both parties are at issue on any question upon which it is necessary to hear further evidence, the Collector was bound under S. 65, Act X of 1859, to declare and record such issues. 9 W.R. 105; 1 B.L.R. 110; 10 W.R. 169. I
- (c) The final disposal of a case on the day fixed for the settlement of issues, without allowing parties the opportunity to adduce evidence, was illegal. 1 Agra 38; 1 N.W.P. 147. J for determining the matters in controversy between the parties shall be so made or framed.

(2) The Court may also, at any time before passing a decree, strike out any issues that appear to it to be wrongly framed or introduced.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 149 of Act XIV of 1882 ; but for the words "the controversy," the words "the matters in controversy" are substituted.

1.—"The Court may...amend the issues or frame additional issues on such terms as it thinks fit."

(1) Raising issues not raised in pleadings.

- (a) Although a Court may have the right to take cognizance of any objection manifestly apparent on the face of a proceeding showing that it is against morality or public policy, yet where this is only to be collected from the evidence by inference, it may lead to the most direct injustice to enter into the inquiry, if the issue has not been presented by the pleadings or the points recorded for proof. 3 W.R. 38; 8 I.A. 170. K
- (b) The Court was not on its own motion competent to determine a question which was not alleged nor raised by the pleadings of the parties. The Court ought to frame issue, if the question was raised on the day of hearing and before the decision in the case. 3 Agra 246. L
- (c) A defendant is not precluded from setting up a defence which does not appear in her written statement, where the plaint does not set forth the true facts. 21 W.R. 407; 23 W.R. 172. M
- (d) Where no injustice would be done to either party, the Courts, in the exercise of their discretion, under special circumstances, may allow issues to be raised upon matter which does not strictly come within the proper scope of the pleadings. 5 C. 64; 4 C.L.R. 353. N
- (e) The Courts are not to raise an important and serious issue in a case for the parties, when they have not raised it themselves by their own pleadings. 10 A. 627. O

(2) Additional issue.

- (a) It is competent to the Court at any time before decrees, to frame an additional issue embracing a matter not included in the plaint or in the written statement, provided it is not inconsistent. 5 B. 609; 6 W.R. 57; 1 M.H.C. 471; 10 I.A. 552; 20 W.R. 272; 7 B. 155; 13 B. 664; 15 C. 684; 15 I.A. 81. P
- (b) Where a Court, shortly before decision, recorded a proceeding declaring its intention to frame additional issues, and reserved the actual framing of the issues for the time of giving judgment, its procedure was not warranted by the rule. 15 W.R. 151. Q
- (c) Where, from the way in which the issues were framed and the pleadings worded, it was clear there was no contention on the part of the defendant as to whether the terms of the deed, on which the suit was based, has been strictly complied with or not, but the factum of the deed was only put in issue by the defendant—held that this was not a case in which the defendant was entitled to fall back upon an alternative plea and raise the question of compliance. 7 W.R. 306. R

1.—“The Court may amend the issues or frame additional issues on such terms as it thinks fit.”—(Continued).

- (d) The Court will not raise an issue, so as to raise a wholly different question from that on which the parties have come into Court. 2 Ind. Jur. N. S. 118; 5 C. 64; 22 W.R. 299. S
- (e) A party cannot be permitted to change in special appeal the allegations on which he went to trial in the Courts below, and to raise altogether a new issue. 2 B.L R. 15; 11 W.R. 10; 25 W.R. 145.
- (f) A Court is not authorised to frame new issues which have the effect of altering the nature of the suit. A Court's power of raising additional issues is co-extensive with its power of amending plaint and is subject to the same restrictions. 13 B. 664. U
- (g) The original Court has power to frame an additional issue to decide whether a lawful compromise has been effected between the parties, subsequent to the institution of the suit. 19 M. 419. Y
- (h) As to power of Court to frame additional issue in a suit, upon consideration for the promissory note or bond executed in a foreign state—vide 17 M. 262. W
- (i) S. 244 of Act XIV of 1882 does not bar the trial of any issue involved in those questions, if the issue is raised at the instance of a defendant in a suit brought against him. 24 C. 355. X

(3) Amending issues.

- (a) If, by inadvertence or other cause, the recorded issues do not enable the Court to try the whole case on the merits, an opportunity should be afforded by amendment. 6 A. 393; 18 W.R. 81; 18 W.R. 297. Y
- (b) In a case in which, after the evidence of both parties had been taken, the principal defendant asked for permission to file an amended written statement which would in effect raise a new question as part of the defence; held, though the application is informal, it was the duty of the Munsiff, if it appeared that this was the real question between the parties, to amend the issues. 20 W.R. 208. Z
- (c) S. 141 of Act VIII of 1859 gave the Court discretion to amend or add issues, only if some new matter should turn up in the course of the case. 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 308. A
- (d) A Judge is not bound to make any amendment in the issues of a case, except for the purpose of more effectually putting in issue and trying the real question or questions in controversy, as disclosed by the pleadings on either side. 5 C. 64; 4 C.L.R. 458; 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 118. B
- (e) Although, under certain circumstances, a Judge at a trial may allow amendments or raise issues other than those settled, yet, when a Judge at the settlement of issues has refused to raise a certain issue, that question ought not to be re-opened at the trial. 4 C. 572. C
- (f) The power of amending issues is almost the same as the power of amendment given to Judges in England. 5 C. 64; 4 C.L.R. 353. D
- (g) The Court will not exercise its discretionary power to raise a new issue, except on clear proof of inadvertence, or mistake, or discovery of new matter affecting the merits, and that such matter, was not within the knowledge of the parties at the date of former settlement of issues. 5 I.A. 271. E

1.—“The Court may...amend the issues or frame additional issues on such terms as it thinks fit.”—(Continued).

(h) If the plaint and its proof lead to particular issues, the Court is bound to raise them and give relief, provided they do not come by surprise on the defendant. 2 Hyde. 263; but see 4 Agra 246. F

(i) Instead of dismissing a suit, for an error in the plaint, the proper plan is to amend the issues whenever it appears necessary, so as to raise the real question in difference between the parties. 14 W.R. 11; 6 W.R. 105. G

(4) Issues allowed.

(a) In a suit on an account settled, the plaintiff failed to prove the alleged settlement; held that the dismissal was wrong and that the Judge should have framed issues with regard to the items composing the account which were not barred and given judgment on the merits. 1 Agra 47; 6 I.A. 88.

(b) It appeared on the evidence that two of the plaintiffs, who sued, were partners, when the cause of action arose:—held, the striking out the other names was wrong and the proper course would have been to amend the issues and raise the question whether the plaintiffs were or were not parties. 4 B.L.R. 97; 14 W.R. 11. I

(c) If a suit is brought against two persons, the Court can raise an issue whether one of them is solely liable, and on finding him solely liable, pass a decree against him. 15 W.R. 69. J

(d) In a suit by a person as purchaser, the purchase being denied by defendant, and the evidence proved the transaction was a mortgage, the Court was bound to inquire into it by amending issues. 19 W.R. 133. K

(e) In a suit for possession defendant pleaded limitation, and it was unexpectedly disclosed in the course of the trial that he was a mortgagee. It was the duty of the Judge to frame an issue on this subject. 16 W.R. 44. L

(f) Where a plaintiff fails to show that a mortgage, created by certain persons as executrix and executors of a Hindu will, has been validly created by them in that capacity, the Court will, unless it is inequitable to do so, allow him to raise an issue that the mortgage was validly created by parties in another character. 3 B.L.R. 7; 11 W.R. 21. M

(g) In a suit for possession of land, the plaintiff described himself as the son of a certain man. The defendant denied that the land belonged to that person, but stood in the name of an idol under the possession of a different person under whom the defendant held it under lease and mortgage deed. On the day of the final disposal of the suit the plaintiff petitioned that he was the son of that person, the lessor of the defendant. Held the Court should have framed issues and allowed the defendant opportunity to produce evidence. 23 W.R. 172. N

(5) Issues not allowed.

(a) In a suit for damages, there was reference in the plaint to a contract to pay rent. An issue could not be framed so as to recover rent. 13 B. 664. O

(b) A plaintiff will not be allowed to set up one case and having proved another ask issues to be raised to suit the proof. 2 Hyde. 263. P

1.—“The Court may...amend the issues or frame additional issues on such terms as it thinks fit.”—(Continued).

(c) On the evidence, the defendant wished to raise issues as to the unchastity and inability of the plaintiff to succeed, and as to her suing on behalf of another person, not having alleged that she was doing so, neither of which matters were referred to in his written statement; leave to raise them was refused. 6 B.L.R. 144. Q

(d) Having sued as heir of adopted son, the plaintiff could not, on appeal, shift his ground and regard the adopted son as a trespasser. 11 B.L.R. 391; 19 W.R. 12; I.A. Sup. Vol. 131. R

(6) Evidence.

(a) The Court is not bound to try the suit in the manner in which the plaint is framed for, its object is merely to bring the matters in dispute between the parties before the Court; but on the settlement of issues the Judge is to ascertain the question. 14 W.R. 181. S

(b) The issues fixed by the Court and not the pleadings, ought to be the guide to the parties as to production of evidence. 5 W.R. 72. T

(7) Mode of disposal of issues.

(a) The issues must be disposed of separately and should not be mixed up together. 3 W.R. 226. U

(b) The Judge may dispose of them in any order he pleases. 23 W.R. 54. V

(8) Appeal.

(a) A Court of appeal cannot raise, on appeal, an issue which was not raised in the Court of first instance, the functions of an appellate Court being not to interfere upon mere points of form. 17 W.R. 407; 23 W.R. 169; 23 W.R. 332. W

(b) When a case comes before the High Court on appeal, it should be determined upon the issues and grounds raised in the Court below, except where, under S. 354 of Act VIII of 1859, the Court would consider it right to frame an additional issue. 21 W.R. 59. X

(c) Where a quite new and different issue is raised in the appellate Court, it ought to be done in such a way as to give the parties the fullest opportunity of producing evidence upon it. 17 W.R. 361; 11 W.R. 61; 10 W.R. 169; 1 Agra 38. Y

(d) When no objection was taken in the grounds of appeal to the issues as framed in the Court of first instance, an appellate Court would not be justified to travel out of the record and make a case for the defendants which they did not make in their pleadings. 23 W.R. 158. Z

(e) When evidence recorded in one suit is admitted by consent at the hearing of another, an appellate Court could frame an additional issue, although it was new and had not been raised by the defendant's written answer. 14 A. 366. A

(f) The case, as originally made in the plaint and raised by the issues framed in the Court of first instance which covered a wider ground, could not be altered in appeal into what would be a wholly different claim and raise entirely new issues. 19 C. 507; 19 I.A. 90. B

1.—“The Court may...amend the issues or frame additional issues on such terms as it thinks fit.”—(Concluded).

(g) An appellate Court should have so altered or added to the issues as to raise all questions properly arising, and should have referred them for trial to the Court of first instance. 19 M. 157. C

(h) Remanding the case for the trial of a general issue as to the mode of devolution of self-acquired property in Marumakkatayam Mappilla families is not proper, when the question is whether the property had been given to the defendants and their mother jointly. 17 M. 69. D

(i) The lower appellate Court is, in the absence of any admission by the party against whom the issues have been found, bound to form its own opinion on the evidence and record its findings. 19 B. 551. E

6. Where the parties to a suit are agreed as to the question of fact or of law to be decided between them, they may state the same in the form of an issue, and enter into an agreement in writing that, upon the finding of the Court in the affirmative or the

(a) a sum of money specified in the agreement or to be ascertained by the Court, or in such manner as the Court may direct, shall be paid by one of the parties to the other of them, or that one of them be declared entitled to some right or subject to some liability specified in the agreement;

(b) some property specified in the agreement and in dispute in the suit shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them, or as that other may direct; or

(c) one or more of the parties shall do or abstain from doing some particular act specified in the agreement and relating to the matter in dispute.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 150 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

The word “When” is changed into “Where.”

The words “that upon such finding” are omitted both in (b) and (c). The provisions of this section are re-arranged for the sake of greater clearness.

Statement of objects and reasons.

There does not seem to be any real conflict as to whether an appeal lies, though at first sight it might appear otherwise. It has, therefore, been considered unnecessary to provide expressly for an appeal.

General.

(1) Issues agreed on.

(a) Issues selected and agreed on by the parties cannot be amended except by mutual consent. 28 Sol. Jo. 478. F

General—(Concluded).

- (b) Where an issue was fixed as to the execution of a deed of gift on which the defendant relied, and the plaint also showed that the execution was disputed, the High Court declined to treat the execution as not having been in contest. 11 A. 396. G

(2) Appeal.

- (a) There is no appeal as to the form of issues agreed on by parties. N.W.P. (1881), p. 335. H
- (b) No appeal would lie against a decree based on the report of a Commissioner, where the parties had agreed to refer the issues of fact to the Commissioner and to abide by his decision. 8 C. 455; 29 C. 306=6 C.W.N. 121. I
- (c) In a suit for a declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to have spouts flowing to the houses of the defendant, the parties entered into an agreement that the Munsiff, after inspecting the spouts, may decide "according to justice," and that the decision of the Munsiff should be binding upon the parties. The Munsiff after inspection decided the suit without summoning any witnesses. Held an appeal lay from the decree. 8 A.W.N. 238. J

Court, if satisfied that agreement was executed in good faith, may pronounce judgment.

7. Where the Court is satisfied, after making such inquiry as it deems proper,—

- (a) that the agreement was duly executed by the parties,
 (b) that they have a substantial interest in the decision of such question as aforesaid, and
 (c) that the same is fit to be tried and decided,

it shall proceed to record and try the issue and state its finding or decision thereon in the same manner as if the issue had been framed by the Court; and shall, upon the finding or decision on such issue, pronounce judgment¹ according to the terms of the agreement; and, upon the judgment so pronounced, a decree shall follow.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 151 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

The words "if" and "be" are changed into "where" and "is." The word "may" is changed into "shall."

For the word "opinion," the word "decision" is substituted.

The word "given" is changed into "pronounced."

The words "and may be executed....in a contested suit" are omitted.

ORDER XV.

DISPOSAL OF THE SUIT AT THE FIRST HEARING.

1. Where at the first hearing of a suit it appears that the parties are not at issue on any question of law or of fact ¹, the Court may at once pronounce judgment.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 152 of the old Code and also to S. 144 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

For the word, "if," in the old section, the word, "where," is substituted in this rule.

1.—"Parties are not at issue....law or of fact."

(1) Defendant confessing judgment.

Where a defendant confesses judgment, the Court can give at once judgment for the plaintiffs. 3 B.L.R. 403=12 W.R. 432 (1869). M

(2) Summoning wrong person—Dismissal.

Where the plaintiff sues the right person, but serves the summons on a person of a similar name, who denies liability, the suit should be dismissed with costs. 4 B. 619 (1880). N

2. Where there are more defendants than one, and any one of the defendants is not at issue with the plaintiff on any question of law or of fact ¹, the Court may at once pronounce judgment for or against such defendant and the suit shall proceed only against the other defendants.

Joint debtors—Judgment against one.

In an action against several joint debtors, judgment against one, who admits the claim, does not bar the prosecution of the suit against others. 25 B. 378 (1901). O

3. (1) Where the parties are at issue on some question of law or of fact, and issues have been framed by the Court as hereinbefore provided, if the Court is satisfied that no further argument or evidence than the parties can at once adduce is required upon such of the issues as may be sufficient for the decision of the suit, and that no injustice will result

Provided that, where the summons has been issued for the settlement of issues only, the parties or their pleaders are present and none of them objects 2.

(2) Where the finding is not sufficient for the decision, the Court shall postpone the further hearing of the suit, and shall fix a day for the production of such further evidence, or for such further argument as the case requires 3.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 154 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the word, "object," in the proviso to the old section, the word, "objects," is substituted in this rule, and for the word, "if," in para 4 of the old section, the word, "where," is inserted at the beginning of sub-rule 2. The word, "where," is substituted at the beginning of sub-rule (1), for the word, "if," while the word, "is," is substituted for the word, "be," after the words, "if the Court," in the old section. The word, "adduce," replaces the word, "supply," in sub-rule (1).

2.—"Provided....objects."

Objection by party.

A suit ought not to be disposed at the first hearing, if a party appears and objects to the adoption of that procedure. 16 M. 198; see also 22 W.R. 426 (1874).

S

3.—“Where the finding...as the case requires.”

Further evidence—Adjournment.

Although a case is posted for final disposal, if it is one in which further evidence is required, the Judge is bound to adjourn it, unless he is satisfied that the plaintiff has, without sufficient cause, failed to produce his evidence. 7 W.R. 84. T

4. Where the summons has been issued for the final disposal of the suit¹ and either party fails without sufficient evidence. cause to produce the evidence on which he relies², the Court may at once pronounce judgment, or may, if it thinks fit, after framing and recording issues, adjourn the suit for the production of such evidence as may be necessary for its decision upon such issues.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 155 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the word, “if,” in the beginning of the old section, the word, “where,” is substituted in this rule, and the words “under section 146” = O. XIV, rules 1 and 2, are omitted in this rule. The word, “for,” stands for the word “to,” after the word, “necessary,” towards the end of this rule.

- (b) If a party fails to produce his documents at the proper time, no error is committed in law, in refusing to send for them subsequently, if the Court is not satisfied that they are necessary for the ends of justice. (Ibid.) Y

2.—“And either party fails without sufficient cause....to produce evidence on which he relies.”

(1) Failure to produce evidence.

A Judge is bound to adjourn a case, if it be one in which further evidence is required, unless the plaintiff has, without sufficient cause, failed to produce evidence. 7 W.R. 84. Z

(2) Sufficient cause.

A liberal and wide interpretation should be put upon the words, “without sufficient cause.” 7 A.W.N. 105. A

ORDER XVI.

SUMMONING AND ATTENDANCE OF WITNESSES.

Summons to attend to give evidence or produce documents. 1. At any time after the suit is instituted, the parties may obtain, on application to the Court or to such officer as it appoints in this behalf, summonses to persons whose attendance is required either to give evidence or to produce documents¹.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 159 of the old Code and to S. 149 of the Code of 1859.

Distinction.

The clause, “after the summons has been delivered (‘or sent’) for service on the defendant, whether it be for the settlement of issues only, or for the final disposal of the suit,” is substituted by the clause, “At any time after the suit is instituted,” at the beginning of this rule, while the clause “before the day fixed for such settlement or disposal, as the case may be,” is omitted in this rule. C

1.—“At any time....the parties may obtain....on application.... summonses....”

(1) Application to summon witnesses—Refusal—Appeal.

(a) Where an application to summon witnesses was refused, and the refusal was made a ground of appeal against the decree in the suit, S. 578 of the old Code=S. 99 of the new Code, would apply, if the irregularity, in refusing the application, did not affect the merits of the case. The ground of appeal would be a good one, if the irregularity should affect the merits of the case. 16 A. 218=14 A.W.N. 45. B

(b) Where one of the grounds of appeal was that the lower Court did not summon one of the witnesses, it was the duty of the appellant to show that the witness, whom he asked to have summoned, was material to his case. 16 A.W.N. 120. C

(2) Application to summon witnesses—Duty of Court.

(a) Where a person, negligently, or with the intention to delay the hearing, postpones the making of an application for a summons, until a time when it would be impossible to secure the attendance of the witnesses at the hearing, a Court is bound to order the summons asked for to issue, although it might properly refuse to adjourn the hearing. 16 A. 218; 7 C. 560 and 15 B. 86 (approved). D

*I.—“At any time....the parties may obtain....on application....

(3) Delay in summoning witnesses—Refusal to adjourn hearing.

Although parties are entitled to summonses for their witnesses, at any time before the final hearing, yet, if there has been delay and want of diligence, owing to which witnesses, not having been served in time, are not present, the Court may properly refuse to adjourn the hearing. 9 B. 308; see also 16 A. 218=14 A.W.N. 45. F

(4) Discretion of Court.

(a) A Court is not given a discretion under this rule to refuse an application to summon witnesses. 16 A. 218=14 A.W.N. 45; see also 13 C.P.L.R. 152; 16 A. 218; 7 C. 560, 15 B. 86, F. G

It was the duty of the Judge to take coercive measures against the witness, whose attendance the plaintiff required. No. 61 P.R. 1904. H

(5) Late filing of list of witnesses—Power to dismiss suit.

(a) A Court is not justified in dismissing a suit, merely on the ground, that, when the plaintiff filed his list of witnesses, there was not sufficient time left to summon them, unless it finds that it would have been absolutely impossible to secure the attendance of the witnesses, if the summons had been granted on the date of the filing of the list. 3 C.L.R. 569. I

A Court has an inherent right to prevent an abuse of its own process, where the process is applied for, not bona fide for the purpose of obtaining any material evidence. 14 M.L.J. 329; 28 M. 28. K

(7) Right of party.

(a) A party is entitled under this rule, as of right, to obtain summonses for his witnesses, any time before the day fixed for the disposal of the suit. 15 B. 86. L

(b) A party does not lose his right to have the summons issued, even though he fails to bring the witness he has undertaken to bring. 6 B. 742. M

(8) Supplementing evidence.

The question of issuing a summons must be distinguished from the question, whether a party can be allowed to supplement his evidence after the close of his case. 14 W.R. 493 (1870). N

2. (1) The party applying for a summons shall, before the summons is granted and within a period to be fixed, pay into Court such a sum of money as appears to the Court to be sufficient to defray the travelling and other expenses, of the person summoned in passing to and from the Court in which he is required to attend, and for one day's attendance¹.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 160 of the old Code and also to S. 151 of the Act of 1859.

Distinction.

The phrase, "by the Court," appearing after the word, "fixed," in para 1 of the old section, is omitted in sub-rule (1) of this rule.

Sub-rule (2) relating to "Experts" is newly inserted in this rule.

In sub-rule (3), which corresponds to para 2 of the old section, the words, "If the Court be" are substituted by the words, "where the Court is," and the words, "to the rules (if any) laid down by competent authority," are substituted by the words, "to any rules made in that behalf."

1.—"The party applying for a summons...attendance."

(1) Scope of the rule.

(a) Rules 2 and 4 of this order contemplate that the expenses must be paid by the party, who asks the Court to summon the witness, before he gives his evidence; but they do not declare that, unless this is done, the Court has no power to require their payment. 17 M.L.J. 435. O

(b) The mere fact, that the Court, in order to save delay, issues the summons, without ascertaining whether the party applying for it, has discharged the duty imposed on him by law, cannot protect such a party from his liability to pay the expenses of the witness. (Ibid). P

(c) Before summoning a witness, a sufficient sum for his expenses in going to, and from, the Court, and for one day's attendance must be deposited in Court. 5 W.R.S.C. Ref. 6 (1866). Q

(d) The sum fixed must have reference to the travelling expenses. Where no expense was incurred in travelling, and the witness asked for compensation for loss of time, the application was refused. 2 Hyde. 236 (1864). R

(e) A party need not pay more than the reasonable sum fixed by the Court. 9 W.R. 127 (1868). S

(2) Non-payment of expenses—Court's powers to order payment before decree.

Before the passing of a decree, the Court has power to order the payment of travelling and other expenses to a witness, who has been summoned by a party, in case such expenses have not been paid at the time of issuing the summons. 17 M.L.J. 435. T

(3) Non-payment of expenses—Duty of witness.

The mere fact of the non-payment of expenses does not entitle a witness to cease from giving evidence. He is entitled to be paid his expenses, though he might not have applied, before giving evidence. 4 B. 619 (1880). U

3. The sum so paid into Court¹ shall be tendered to the person summoned, at the time of serving the summons, if it can be served personally.

Tender of expenses to witness.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 161 of the old Code and also to S. 151 of the Act of 1859.

1.—“The sum so paid into Court.”

Payment of expenses—Responsibility for service.

After the cost of serving the witnesses is deposited in Court, the Court's officers, and not the party, are responsible for the service and return of processes. 15 W.R. 88 (1871). Y

4. (1) Where it appears to the Court or to such officer as it appoints in this behalf that the sum paid into Court is not sufficient to cover such expenses or reasonable remuneration, the Court may direct such further sum to be paid to the person summoned as appears to be necessary on that account, and, in case of default in payment, may order such sum to be levied by attachment and sale of the moveable property of the party obtaining the summons; or the Court may discharge the person summoned without requiring him to give evidence; or may both order such levy and discharge such person as aforesaid.

Procedure where insufficient sum paid in.

(2) Where it is necessary to detain the person summoned for a longer period than one day, the Court may, from time to time, order the party at whose instance he was summoned to pay into Court such sum as is sufficient to defray the expenses of his detention for such further period, and, in default of such deposit being made, may order such sum to be levied by attachment and sale of the moveable property of such party; or the Court may discharge the person summoned without requiring him to give evidence; or may both order such levy and discharge such person as aforesaid.

Expenses of witnesses detained more than one day.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 162 of the old Code.

Distinction.

In sub-rule (1) of this rule, the words of the old section beginning with, “if it appear to the Court,” are substituted by the words, “where it appears to the Court,” while the words, “or reasonable remuneration,” are newly added after the word “expenses.”

In sub-rule (2), the clause, "if it be necessary to detain" of para 2 of the old section, are replaced by the clause "where it is necessary to detain," while the clause "of the party at whose instance it was summoned," is substituted by the phrase "of such party."

(General).

Postponement of hearing—Fresh summons.

Where a case is not reached, it is not necessary to issue fresh summons to the witnesses, who has been already summoned. A mere warning, that his attendance will be required on the adjourned date, will suffice. 24 M. 200. W

5. Every summons for the attendance of a person to give evidence or to produce a document shall specify the time and place at which he is required to attend, and also whether his attendance is required for the purpose of giving evidence or to produce a document, or for both purposes; and any particular document, which the person summoned is called on to produce, shall be described in the summons with reasonable accuracy ¹.

Time, place and purpose of attendance to be specified in summons.

(2) Verbal order insufficient.

A written summons distinctly describing the document required must be issued to the party, who is required to produce it. A mere verbal order to his pleader is not sufficient. W.R. (1864), 164. Y

6. Any person may be summoned to produce a document, without being summoned to give evidence; and any person summoned merely to produce a document shall be deemed to have complied with the summons if he causes such document to be produced instead of attending personally to produce the same.

Summons to produce document.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 164 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word, "cause," in the old section, appears as "causes" in this rule.

Power to require persons present in Court to give evidence or produce document.

7. Any person present in Court¹ may be required by the Court to give evidence or to produce any document then and there in his possession or power

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 165 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word "actual" is omitted in this rule.

1.—"Any person present in Court."

Person present in Court—Examination after the close of the case—Laxity in conduct of litigation.

(a) Where the burden of proving the plaintiff's adoption rested on the defendant, and the adoptive father, though present in Court and also cited as a witness by both the sides, was not examined, and the defendant applied for his examination after the close of the case, it was held that the Court had no reason to exercise the power conferred by this rule, and consequently it was not bound to examine the adoptive father. 4 N.L.R. 129; 2 Ch. 172, R. Z

(b) To countenance a manoeuvre of this sort would only lead to laxity in the conduct of litigation. (Ibid). A

8. Every summons under this order shall be served as nearly of service shall apply in the case of all summonses served under this rule.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 166 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the words, "to a person to give evidence or to produce a document," the words, "under this order," are substituted, while the words, "in manner hereinbefore prescribed for the service of summons on the defendant," are replaced by the words, "in the same manner as a summons to a defendant." The phrase, "and the rules contained in chapter VI," are replaced by the phrase, "and the rules in Order V," while for the word, "section," the word, "rule," is inserted.

9. Service shall in all cases be made a sufficient time before a reasonable time for preparation and for travelling to the place at which his attendance is required.

(Notes.)

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 167 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word, "the," appearing before the word, "service," in the old section, is—

10. (1) Where a person to whom a summons has been issued either to attend to give evidence or to produce a document fails to attend or to produce the document in compliance with such summons, the Court shall, if the certificate of the serving-officer has not been verified by affidavit, and may, if it has been so verified, examine the serving officer on oath, or cause him to be so examined by another Court, touching the service or non-service of the summons.

(2) Where the Court sees reason to believe that such evidence or production is material¹, and that such person has, without lawful excuse, failed to attend or to produce the document in compliance with such summons or has intentionally avoided service², it may issue a proclamation requiring him to attend to give evidence or to produce the document at a time and place to be named therein; and a copy of such proclamation shall be affixed on the outer door or other conspicuous part of the house in which he ordinarily resides³.

(3) In lieu of or at the time of issuing such proclamation, or at any time afterwards, the Court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant, either with or without bail, for the arrest of such person, and may make an order for the attachment⁴ of his property to such amount as it thinks fit, not exceeding the amount of the costs of attachment and of any fine which may be imposed under rule 12:

Provided that no Court of Small Causes shall make an order for the attachment of immoveable property.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 168 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the clause, "if the serving-officer certify to the Court that the summons for the attendance of a person either to give evidence or to produce a document, cannot be served," found in the first para of the old section, the clause, "where a person, to whom a summons has been issued either to attend to give evidence or to produce a document, fails to attend or to produce the document in compliance with such summons," is newly inserted in sub-rule (1), while the quotation marks in the old section, beginning from the word "shall" and ending with the word "Court" are not found in this rule. The phrase, "touching the non-service," is replaced by the phrase, "touching the service or non-service of the summons," in sub-rule (1).

Sub-rule (2) corresponds to the second sentence of the first para of the old section, beginning with the words "and upon." For the words "and upon being satisfied," the clause "where the Court has reason to believe," is inserted in this sub-rule while the clause "and that the person for whose attendance the summons has been issued, is absconding or keeping out of the way for the purpose of avoiding the service of the summons," found in the old section, is replaced by the clause, "and that such person has, without lawful excuse, failed to attend or to produce the document in compliance with such summons or has intentionally avoided service." The words, "or other conspicuous part," are newly inserted after the word "door."

In sub-rule 3, the portion relating to arrest corresponds to the first clause in the first para of S. 174 of the old Code, viz., "If any person, on whom a summons to give evidence or to produce a document has been served, fails to comply with the summons, the Court may order him to be arrested and brought before the Court," while the portion relating to attachment, corresponds to S. 168, para. 2 of the old Code.

The clause, "If he does not attend at the time and place named in such proclamation," of the old section, is replaced in this sub-rule by the phrase, "in lieu of or at the time of issuing such proclamation, or at any time afterwards," and the phrase, "issue a warrant, either with or without bail for the arrest of such person," is newly inserted in this sub-rule, the phrase "at the instance of the party on whose application the summons was issued," being omitted. The word "his" replaces the phrase "of the person whose attendance is required," appearing after the word "property" in the old section, while the words, "any fine," stand for the words of the old section "the fine." The words "under S. 170 of the old Code" are replaced by the words "under rule 12" in this sub-rule.

(General).

(1) Duty of parties.

It is the— to move the Court, when witnesses do not appear on summons, and a Court cannot proceed, suo motu, to further the production of the witnesses. 13 W.R. 324 ; 11 W.R. 99. B

(2) Duty of Court.

Every Court must give reasonable assistance to a party to enforce the attendance of his witnesses. 6 W.R. 14. C

(3) Failure to attend.

(a) S. 174 of the old Code of Civil Procedure = rules 10, 17 and 18 of this order, is a section of a highly penal nature, and its provisions must be strictly complied with, if validity is to be given to anything purporting to be done under them. 3 C.W.N. 307. D

(b) A witness, who has failed to appear on his summons, can only be fined after he has been arrested and brought before the Court, under S. 174 of the old Code of Civil Procedure. (Ibid). E

(c) The fact, that a person applies for time, would not preclude him from saying, that there had been no such service of the summons, as could warrant S. 174, of the old Code of Civil Procedure Code being put into force against him. (Ibid). F

(4) Necessary orders.

Where a lower appellate Court undertook to see that proper orders should be passed on a petition for the apprehension of witnesses, it was bound to pass such orders as might, in its judicial discretion be necessary

General—(Concluded).(5) Refusal to produce document.

(a) A witness, summoned to produce a document, attended the Court, but did not produce it, stating on oath that it was not in his possession. This statement having been disbelieved, he was fined under S. 174 of the old Code=r. 10, sub-rule (3), and rules 17 and 18 of the present Code. Held that the fine was illegal. 12 B. 68. H

(b) The provisions of S. 174 of the old Code must be applied only in the case of witnesses, who, not having attended on summons, have been arrested and brought before the Court. The case of a witness, who has a document but refuses to produce it is provided for in S. 175 of the Penal Code and S. 480 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. 12 B. 68. I

(6) No declaration by Judge under S. 82 of the old Code= O. V, rr. 19, 20 (1)—Invalidity of order under S. 174 of the old Code=rr. 10, 17, 18 of the present Code.

The omission of the Judge to record, under S. 82 of the old Code, that the process was duly served, cannot invalidate his order, under S. 174 of the old Code=rules 10, 17 and 18 of the present Code. 4 M.L.T. 288. J

(7) S. 82 of the old Code=O.V, rr. 19, 20 (1) of the present Code and S. 174 of the old Code=rr. 10, 17 and 18 of the present Code.

Where it was found that the Court issuing the warrant did not comply with the provisions of S. 82 of the old Code, but the Court's order for the issue of the warrant under S. 174 of the same Code showed that the Court was of opinion that there was due service of the summons, and that the witnesses were keeping out of the way intentionally, it was held that the warrants were not illegal. A.W.N. (1905), 66. K

1.—“Where the Court sees reason...such evidence or production is material.”

Materiality of evidence.

(a) Where the Court is not satisfied that the witnesses are material, or that they have really absconded to avoid attendance, it is not bound to issue a proclamation against absent witnesses. 6 W.R. 285. L

(b) If the Court is satisfied, that the witness absconded and that he was a material witness, it must grant the application made under Ss. 159 and 168 of the Act of 1859=rules 10, 17 and 18 of the present Code, for issue of process against the absconding witness. 1 W.R. 26. M

(c) The applicant should not place himself in such a position by his conduct that it would be inequitable to grant it. (Ibid). N

2.—“And that such person has, without lawful excuse, failed to attend....or has intentionally avoided service.”

(1) Ground for postponement.

Where an application was made at a very late stage of a case to enforce the provisions of this rule, and no proof was adduced about the witness's keeping out of the way, the lower appellate Court was justified in not postponing the case to secure the attendance of the witness, although material. 15 W.R. 176. O

(2) “Without lawful excuse,” meaning of.

The term, “without lawful excuse,” means such an excuse as would, in law, justify the refusal to give evidence. 1 N.W.P. 241. P

3.—“It may issue a proclamation....ordinarily resides.”

(1) Discretion—Proclamation.

(a) The provisions of this rule give a Civil Court a discretion regarding the issue of proclamation and subsequent orders for attachment; but this discretion must be exercised reasonably. 8 W.R. 505. Q

(b) A Court is not authorised to issue a proclamation and attachment, unless it is satisfied that the evidence of the witness is material and that he is avoiding the summons. It is a matter of discretion, after these circumstances have been shown, to issue the proclamation and attachment. 13 W.R. 416. R

(2) Service of proclamation.

The proclamation mentioned in this rule could not be legally affixed to the mal cutocherry of a defaulting witness. Before the provisions of this rule are put into force, personal service of the summons must be attempted. 7 W.R. Cr. 58. S

4.—“The Court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant....and may make an order for attachment.”

(1) Attachment.

The Court may issue—under this rule, if it is shown that the witnesses are absconding or keeping out of the way. 13 W.R. 324. T

(2) Ground for issue of warrant—Lawful excuse.

(a) There must be a satisfactory ground for the Court to believe that the default on the part of the witness summoned to give evidence was without lawful excuse, before it issues a warrant for the arrest of such a witness. 5 M. 104. U

(b) It is not necessary for this purpose to make a formal investigation and come to a determination on the evidence adduced. (Ibid.) Y

(3) Non-payment of expenses—Non-attendance—Arrest.

Where the witness's failure to attend is due to the non-payment or non-tender, by the person at whose instance he is summoned, of the necessary expenses, specified in r. 2, sub-rule (1) of this Order, a Court need not issue a warrant of arrest. 17 A. 277=15 A.W.N. 74. W

If witness appears, attachment may be withdrawn.

11. Where, at any time after the attachment of his property, such person appears and satisfies the Court,—

(a) that he did not, without lawful excuse¹, fail to comply with the summons or intentionally avoid service, and, the Court shall direct that the property be released from attachment, and shall make such order as to the costs of the attachment as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 169 of the old Code.

Difference between the new and the old Acts.

The word "where" is substituted for the word "if," and the words, "at any time after," for the word, "on," which appears after, "if," in the old section. The clause, "that he did not abscond or keep out of the way to avoid service of the summons," is replaced by the clause "(a)" of this rule, while the clause, "that he had no notice of the proclamation in time to attend at the time and place named therein," is replaced by clause "(b)" of this rule.

1.—"Lawful excuse."

Provided that, if the person whose attendance is required pays into Court the costs and fine aforesaid, the Court shall order the property to be released from attachment.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 170 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the word, "If," the word, "Where" is substituted and the words, "or appearing, fails," are replaced by the words "or appears but fails," while the clause, "that he did not abscond or keep out of the way to avoid service of the summons and that he had not notice of the proclamation to attend at the time and place named therein," is substituted by the word, "so," after the word "fails" in the new rule. The words, "the property attached, or any part thereof," are substituted by the words, "his property, or any part thereof to be attached and sold, or if already attached under rule 10," and the words, "incurred in consequence," are omitted after the word, "costs" in this rule. In the proviso, the word, "costs," stand for the word, "cost" of the old section and the word, "as," is omitted before the word, "aforesaid."

13. The provisions with regard to the attachment and sale of

This rule is new.

14. Subject to the provisions of this Code as to attendance and appearance and to any law for the time being in force, where the Court at any time thinks it necessary to examine any person other than a party to the suit, and not called as a witness by a party to the suit, the Court may, of its own motion, cause such person to be summoned as a witness to give evidence, or to produce any document in his possession, on a day to be appointed, and may examine him as a witness or require him to produce such document.

Court may of its own accord summon as witnesses strangers to suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 171 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word, "provisions," is substituted for the word, "rules," and the words, "and to the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872," are replaced in this rule by the words, "and to any law for the time being in force." The word, "if," is replaced by the word, "where," after the word, "force," while the word, "named," is replaced by the word, "called," after the word, "not."

(General).

Additional witnesses—Powers of Civil Court.

Although the rule gives the Court power to call additional witnesses not named by the parties, the power is rarely exercised, as the parties themselves are generally required to look after their own interests. The practice in criminal cases of allowing additional evidence for the prosecution or the defence does not apply to civil proceedings. Civil Second Appeal No. 11 of 1899 ; L.B.R. 15. Subject as last aforesaid, whoever is summoned to appear and give evidence in a suit shall attend at the time and place named in the summons for that purpose, and whoever is summoned to produce a document shall either attend to produce it, or cause it to be produced, at such time and place.

Duty of persons summoned to give evidence or produce document.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 172 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word, "shall," is substituted for the word, "must," throughout this rule.

16. (1) A person so summoned and attending shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, attend at each hearing until the suit has been disposed of.

When they may depart.

(2) On the application of either party and the payment through the Court of all necessary expenses (if any), the Court may require any person so summoned and attending to furnish security to attend at the next or any other hearing or until the suit is disposed of and, in default on his furnishing such security, may order him to be detained in the civil prison.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 173 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words, "No persons so summoned and attending shall depart," of the old section are substituted by the words, "A person so summoned and attending shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, attend at each hearing," while clauses (a) and (b) of the old section, are replaced by the words, "until the suit has been disposed of," in sub-rule (1) of this rule. Sub-rule (2) is new.

Application of rules 10 to 13.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 174 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The clause in the old section, viz., "If any person on whom a summons to give evidence or to produce a document, fails to comply with the summons," is omitted in this rule, and the words, "The provisions of rules 10 to 13 shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to," are newly added at the beginning of this rule.

The clause in the old section, viz., "or, if any person so summoned and attending, departs, in contravention of S. 173," is replaced by the words, "any person, who, having attended in compliance with a summons, departs, in contravention of rule 16."

The phrase, "without lawful excuse," in this rule stands for the provisional clause of the old section.

Para 3 of the old section and the "Explanation" are omitted in this rule.

For Notes, see r. 10, supra.

18. appearance at such time and place as it thinks fit, and, on such bail or security being given, may release him, and, in default of his giving such bail or security, may order him to be detained in the civil prison.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to the last paragraph of S. 174 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The words in the old section, viz., " If any person so apprehended and brought before the Court," are replaced in this rule by the clause, " Where any person arrested under a warrant is brought before the Court in custody," while the words at the end of the rule, viz., " and, in default of his giving such bail or security, may order him to be detained in the civil prison," are newly added.

For Notes, see r. 10, supra.

No witness to be ordered to attend in person unless resident within certain limits.

19. No one shall be ordered to attend in person to give evidence unless he resides—

- (a) within the local limits of the Court's ordinary original jurisdiction, or
- (b) without such limits but at a place less than fifty or (where there is railway or steamer communication or other established public conveyance for five-sixths of the distance between the place where he resides and the place where the Court is situate) less than two hundred miles distance from the Court-house.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 176 of the old Code.

Distinction.

For the word, " bound," in the old section, the word, "ordered," is substituted, and the words, " or to be examined in Court," are omitted in this rule. The words, " the Court's," are substituted for the word, " its," in clause (a).

In clause (b), the word, " but," is substituted for, " and," after the word, " limits," while the words, " or steamer, or other established public conveyance," are newly added after the word, " railway." The words, " less than," are also newly inserted before the words, " two hundred," in clause (b).

20. Where any party to a suit present in Court refuses, without lawful excuse, when required by the Court, to give evidence or to produce any document¹ then and there in his possession or power, the Court may pronounce judgment against him or make such order in relation to the suit as it thinks fit.

Consequence of refusal of party to give evidence when called on by Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 177 of the old Code (and also to Ss. 126, 170 of the Code of 1859).

Distinction.

For the word, "If," in the old section, the word, "Where," is substituted in this rule, while the word, "actual," is omitted after "his" as well as the words, "in its discretion," after the word, "may." The phrase, "either pass a decree against him," appearing in the old section, is substituted in this rule by the phrase, "pronounce judgment against him," and the word, "it," is substituted for the words, "the Court."

1.—"Where any party....refuses....to give evidence or produce any document."

(1) Contumacious litigants.

- (b) They cannot be applied to plaintiffs on whose part there is no proof of wilful default. 6 W.R. 247. B

(2) Discretion of Court—Non-compliance with order.

- (a) The discretion, given to a Court to pass judgment against a party for non-compliance with the Court's order to attend and give evidence or produce documents in a suit, is not purely confined to cases, where the party summoning him cannot prove his case, otherwise than by the evidence of such other party, or where the fact to be proved is exclusively within his knowledge. 17 W.R. 550=9 B.L.R. 215; 12 W.R. 369=9 B.L.R. 218 (note). C
- (b) But the exercise of this discretion must be reasonable and judicial. 17 W.R. 563. D
- (c) The omission to exercise this discretion will be a ground for interference by the superior Court. 18 W.R. 16. E
- (d) There was a proper exercise of this discretion, where the Judge rejected an application, in which he required the petitioner to attend for the purpose of examination, and he did not do so even after warning, and assigned also no reason for his absence. 19 W.R. 183. F

(3) Duty of Court.

- (a) It is the duty of the Court not to take everything for granted, against the defaulting party. The Court must require the other party to prove his case without the desired evidence, and must hear what evidence the defaulting party adduces, before it imposes any penalty. 24 W.R. 314. G
- (b) A Court is not justified in passing a verdict against a defendant who fails to appear, unless he has wilfully refused to obey an order to attend and his evidence is really material to the suit. 20 W.R. 165; 22 W.R. 270. H

(4) Evidence not necessary—Default of plaintiff.

A plaintiff cannot take advantage of a technical objection to show that he is not bound to come, because the formalities of the law have not been observed, or his evidence has been found to be not necessary. 12 W.R. 359. I

1.—“ Where any party....refuses....to give evidence or produce any document.”—(Continued).

(5) Execution proceedings.

The rule applies to——. 8 W.R. 64.

(6) Failure to appear.

(a) Under S. 170 of the Code of 1859, which corresponds to this rule, the first Court might decide against a defendant, on the ground of his failure to appear, even without going into the plaintiff's evidence, and the lower appellate Court was equally within the law in going into the whole case on its merits. 5 W.R. 89; 6 W.R. Act X, 86. K

(b) It must be shown that notice had been duly served, and that the person served had failed to comply with the notice. 11 W.R. 110. L

(7) Failure to produce document.

When a defendant, who was summoned to produce a pattah and a bynamah, which he produced on a former occasion in a different suit, represented that they were lost, the plaintiff put in a certified copy of the same from the Registrar's Office. It was held, that, as the defendant failed to produce the bynamah, or prove that it was out of his power to do so, the Judge was entitled to pass judgment against him at once. 16 W.R. 196. M

(8) Lawful excuse.

(1) For cases under the term——, see O. X, r. 4, sub-rule (2). N

(2) For meaning of the term——, see O. XVI, r. 10, supra. O

(9) Non-attendance—Decree.

(a) Where the defendant, bona fide and for a substantial reason, requires the evidence of the plaintiff, the Court ought not to pass a decree against him, until that evidence has been given. 24 W.R. 72. P

(b) A claim barred by limitation cannot be decreed, simply because the defendants have been summoned and do not appear. 7 W.R. 46. Q

(c) The non-attendance of defendant, when cited as a witness by the plaintiff to give evidence, cannot justify a Court in passing a decree in the plaintiff's favour. 2 N.W.P. 67; 15 W.R. 269. R

(d) Where the plaintiff has failed to give any evidence in support of his case, the Court cannot pass a decree in his favour, merely on the default of the defendant to give evidence. 12 W.R. 242; 15 W.R. 253; 17 W.R. 563. S

(e) But a plaintiff, ordered to give evidence, can get a decree in his favour, notwithstanding his failure to attend, if the evidence before the Court is sufficient to support his case. Marsh 467. T

(10) Particular suit.

(a) The failure, to comply with an order to attend to give evidence, must be a failure in the particular suit. 5 M. 269. U

(b) Where in a suit, consisting of two plaintiffs, there was a summons to the first plaintiff to give evidence in another suit, to which the second plaintiff was no party, and the first plaintiff failed to appear, it was held that there was no such failure on his part as to enable the Court to exercise the provisions of this rule. (Ibid). Y

1.—“Where any party....refuses....to give evidence or produce any document.”—(Continued).

(11) Refusal to attend—Dismissal—Principle.

- (a) Where a party, summoned to attend as a witness, refuses to give evidence, and the party who requires his evidence is unable to make out his case without it, the suit should not be dismissed for want of proof 1 B.L.R.S.N. 10=10 W.R. 158. W
- (b) In a suit for contribution in respect of Government-revenue, in which the defendants, as co-sharers, were summoned by the plaintiff to prove facts, which were peculiarly within their knowledge, such as, the extent of their own shares and the amount paid by them on account of revenue, the Court should not have dismissed the suit on the failure of the defendants to appear, as the points, on which the plaintiff relied, might reasonably be presumed to be within the knowledge of the defaulting parties. (Ibid). X
- (c) Where a plaintiff alleges a personal knowledge of the matters in dispute on the part of the defendant, who denies the same, the Court should not decree the suit as upon default, but must satisfy itself as to the existence of such knowledge on the part of the defendant. W.R. (1864), 24. Y
- (d) When the defendant did not petition for attachment, or other legal process to compel the plaintiff's appearance, the Court was not bound to dismiss the suit on account of the non-appearance of the plaintiff, who was summoned as a witness by the defendant. 2 W.R., Act X, 48. Z
- (e) A Court can dismiss a suit for default, only against the plaintiffs, who failed or refused to attend, and not against those who appeared. 1 W.R. 25 ; 1 W.R. 168. A

(12) Refusal to give evidence.

A party to a suit tendering himself as a witness, and declining, without lawful excuse, to answer questions put in cross-examination, is liable to be dealt with under rule 20 of this rule. 1 N.W.P. 241. B

(13) Refusal to produce documents.

In a suit to recover the balance due on a partnership transaction, the first defendant, who was examined as a witness for the plaintiff, refused to produce certain accounts relating to the partnership, which he was directed to produce by the Judge. It was held that the Judge was right in giving judgment against the defendant, after satisfying himself that the accounts were relevant and material evidence in the suit, and that they were in the possession or control of the first defendant. 4 M. 142. C

(14) Refusal to comply with summons. D

As to a witness's—, see r. 10, supra.

(15) Rent suits.

S. 170 of the Code of 1859, which corresponds to this rule, was held applicable to—. 4 W.R., Act X, 18 ; 4 W.R., Act X, 50 E.

(16) Substantial reasons.

Where there are—for the plaintiff's inability to attend and give evidence when summoned, and where there is sufficient evidence to prove his claim, he can get a decree, notwithstanding his failure to give evidence. 18 W.R. 16. F

1.—“Where any party....refuses....to give evidence or produce any document.”—(Concluded).

(17) Waiver of default by Court.

Where a Court, instead of passing judgment against one of the defendants for default, passed over the default and adjourned the further hearing of the suit, and on that date disposed of the suit, it was held that the Court by its own act was not in a position to treat the defendant as in default. 4 M. 231. G

21. Where any party to a suit is required to give evidence or to produce a document, the provisions as to witnesses shall apply to him so far as they are applicable.

Rules as to witnesses to apply to parties summoned.

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 178 of the old Code.

Distinction.

The word, “wherever,” in the old section is replaced by the word, “where,” while the word, “rules,” is replaced by “provisions.” The words, “contained in this Code,” appearing after the word “witnesses,” in the old Code, are omitted in this rule.

ORDER XVII.

ADJOURNMENTS.

1. (1) The Court may ¹, if sufficient cause is shown ², at any stage of the suit grant time to the parties or to any of them, and may from time to time adjourn the hearing of the suit.

Court may grant time and adjourn hearing.

(2) In every such case the Court shall fix a day³ for the further hearing of the suit, and may make such order as it thinks fit with respect to the costs

Costs of adjournment.

occasioned by the adjournment⁴.

Provided that, when the hearing of evidence has once begun, the hearing of the suit shall be continued from day to day until all the witnesses in attendance have been examined, unless the Court finds the adjournment of the hearing beyond the following day to be necessary for reasons to be recorded.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 156 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) For the words “be” and “in all such cases,” the words “is” and “in every such case” are respectively substituted in the new rule.
- (2) The words “beyond the following day” are newly added in the rule.
- (3) The words “by the Judge with his own hand” in the old section are omitted in the new rule.

(General).

This order does not apply to execution proceedings. 18 M. 131, contra, 15 A. 84, 15 A. 49 = 12 A.W.N. 222. H

1.—“The Court may.”Powers of the Court of revision.

A Court of revision ought not to lightly interfere with the discretion exercised by the lower Court as to the sufficiency of the cause. 17 M.L.J. 225 = 30 M. 274; 28 C. 37. I

2.—“If sufficient cause is shown.”A.—Case should be adjourned.

- (a) Where a party was misled into a belief by the Court that all his witnesses could not be examined in a single day and so did not produce all his witnesses on the date of hearing, the Court was justified in granting an adjournment. 5 C.W.N. 195 = 28 C. 37 at pp. 50 to 53. J
- (b) When a case is adjourned on condition that the party asking for further adjournments should deposit the costs of the other party, a further adjournment could be properly refused, if the costs are not deposited. 6 O.C. 41. K
- (c) Although a case may have been posted for final disposal, if the Judge thinks that further evidence is necessary, he should adjourn the case. 7 W.R. 84. L
- (d) When the witnesses who have been summoned are absent, the party must be allowed further time to re-summer them. 4 O.C. 379, for contra case see 2 L.B.R. 91. M
- (e) In case the witnesses are not served with summons, the Court should grant an adjournment, unless there is pressing necessity for proceeding with the case. 2 A.W.N. 127; 4 O.C. 41. N
- (f) A suit under the Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871) is not void because the Collector's certificate is not produced at the time of suit. If the plaintiff wants time to produce it, he must be given time. 17 B. 169. O

(g) Party taken by surprise.

- (1) When the case is taken up on a day for which the case was not posted, time should be given to the party if he asks for it. 18 W.R. 325. P
- (2) Plaintiffs sued on a bond. The defendant admitting the bond pleaded that it was given only as security for borrowing money. The plaintiff wanted time as he was taken by surprise. The Court allowed him time. 7 W.R. 84. Q
- (3) Two connected suits were posted for bearing together on the same date. Another Judge who succeeded to the office disassociated the cases and posted them for different dates. The plaintiff in one of them applied for adjournment to summon his witnesses. Held the case was a fit one for an adjournment to be granted. 11 A.W.N. 112. R
- (4) Where a defendant has not been served with the summons in time so as to enable him to produce his evidence, he should be given time if he asks for it. 18 W.R. 141.

2.—“If sufficient cause is shown.”—(Concluded).

B.—Case should not be adjourned.

- (a) Advocates should not expect that their cases will be adjourned as a matter of course, because they are engaged in some other case. It is their duty to make suitable arrangements. U.B.R. (1897—1901), p. 527. T
- (b) If a party applies for summons so late that summons cannot be served, the Court can refuse to adjourn the case. But neither the Court nor the Nazir has the power to refuse to issue summons on the ground that summons could not be served. 2 O.C. 34. U
- (c) When the defendant knows for a long time that his case would be heard on a certain date, the fact that he was sick and could not take out summons to witnesses is no sufficient ground for an adjournment. 24 W.R. 202. Y

3.—“Shall fix a day.”

- (a) If a case is not heard on a certain day, another day must be fixed by the order of the Court. A mere note by a clerk does not amount to a proper appointment of adjourned date for hearing of a case. 2 A.W.N. 171. W
- (b) Where a case was adjourned to a certain date and, on the defendant's motion, the order was cancelled and the suit was heard on the next day, held the Judge's procedure was illegal. 20 W.R. 3. X
- (c) It is the duty of the pleaders to be acquainted with the dates of the adjournment. 4 C.W.N. 237 (238). Y

4.—“May make such order....adjournment.”

- (a) The Court has no jurisdiction to pass a conditional order upon payment of costs. 4 M.L.T. 200. Z
- (b) When an adjournment is made at the instance of a party and for his benefit, when subsequently it is found that the other party is benefited by the adjournment, an order burdening the other party with costs will not be made. 9 B.L.R. Ap. 15. A
- (c) A plaintiff failed to produce at the first hearing his evidence in an ex parte suit. He was allowed time to produce his evidence on the payment of the whole costs of the hearing. 7 C. 177. B
- (d) A case which is put as undefended may be transferred to the defended file only on payment of the costs of the adjournment. 2 Hyde. 86; Bourke O.C. 238. C

2. Where, on any day to which the hearing of the suit is adjourned ¹, the parties ² or any of them fail to appear ³, the Court may proceed to dispose of the suit in one of the modes directed in that behalf by Order IX or make such other order as it thinks fit ⁴.

Procedure if parties fail to appear on day fixed.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 157 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "if" and "Chapter VII" in the old section are substituted by the words "where" and "Order IX" in the new rule.

(General)

This order does not apply to execution proceedings. 18 M. 131, contra 15 A. 84; 15 A. 49=12 A.W.N. 222. D

1.—"Where, on any day....adjourned."A—Applicability.

- (a) The rule does not apply when the adjournment is not made at the instance of a party but is made for the convenience of the Court. 2 C.W.N. 490. E

EXAMPLES.

- (i) In a case after all the evidence was taken, the hearing was adjourned in order to enable the Court to inspect certain records. On the adjourned hearing, one of the parties did not appear. Held that the Court was not bound to dismiss the suit under S. 157 of the old Act. (1871) S. C. Part X, No. 10. E 1
- (ii) Under the rules of the Court, a party would not be charged with fees for summoning the witnesses a second time, in consequence of an adjournment made otherwise than at the instance of the party. So, a failure on the part of the party to deposit the requisite fees will not justify an order under S. 157 of the old Act. 6 A.W.N. 220. E 2
- (b) This rule does not apply if no date is fixed for the trial. 18 W.R. 325. F

B.—Scope.

- (a) If there are no materials at the adjourned hearing, the Court must act under rule 2. Where there are materials, the Court must act under rule 3. 5 C.L.J. 260=34 C. 235. G
- (b) S. 157 of the old Act has regard to the failure of the party to appear; S. 158 to the failure of a party to produce evidence. 3 C.P.L.R. 21; 11 C.P.L.R. 94. H

2.—"Parties."

Where neither party appeared, the Court should have dismissed the suit and not struck it off. 10 M. 270; 7 N.W.P. 77. I

3.—"Or any of them....appear."A.—Pleader having no instructions.

- (a) On the first hearing, a pleader represented the defendant. At the next hearing, when an issue of fact was to be gone into, the pleader, though present, had no instructions. The Court rightly disposed of the suit under S. 157 of the old Act. 8 A. 140=6 A.W.N. 42. J
- (b) When the plaintiff took out summons but the witnesses did not appear and the Court refused to grant an adjournment, the plaintiff's pleader told the Court that he had no instructions. The dismissal of the suit was held to be under S. 157 of the old Act corresponding to this rule. 5 C.L.J. 260=34 C. 235. K

3.—“Or any of them....appear.”—(Concluded).

B.—Plaintiff absent at the adjourned hearing.

- (a) At the adjourned hearing neither the plaintiff nor the pleader was present. The suit could be dismissed or the Judge may pass such order as he thinks fit. 12 M.L.J. 473; 139 P.R. 1884; 1 M. 257. L
- (b) The plaintiffs in a certain suit were not ready on the date fixed for the trial and took an adjournment. On the adjourned day the plaintiffs did not appear. The Judge rightly passed an order under S. 157 of the old Act. 13 A.W.N. 84; 25 A. 194=23 A.W.N. 6. M
- (c) When the plaintiff or his pleader refused to argue the case, and at the next adjournment failed to appear even, the order of the Court dismissing the suit was held to be under S. 157 of the old Act. 5 O.C. 294. N
- (d) The pleader applied for adjournment on the ground that the witnesses were prevented from fever epidemic from being present. When the case was called on an hour later the pleader also was absent. The order dismissing the suit falls under S. 157 of the old Act and not under S. 158. 1 Sind L.R. 224. O
- (e) The Court would not be justified in passing an order under this rule, when all the evidence of the plaintiff was over, and on the adjourned date of hearing neither he nor his pleader appeared. 7 Bom. L.R. 261; 1908 A.W.N. 6=25 A. 194. P

C.—Absence of the defendant.

After issues were framed in a certain case, the case was adjourned to a certain day, and the defendant was required to be present on that day to answer certain questions. On the adjourned day the defendant was absent. Held the order passed was one under S. 157 of the old Act. 82 P.R. 1895; 30 P.R. 1906=82 P.L.R. 1906. Q

4.—“The Court....thinks fit.”

(1) Effect of an order under this rule.

When an order is passed under this rule for non-appearance of the defendant, the defendant can take advantage of the benefit of the provisions of the Order IX. 23 C. 738; 20 B. 380; 2 C.W.N. 699. R

(2) Appeal.

An order dismissing the suit for the plaintiff's non-appearance is one under this rule and not under the next one, and is appealable. 20 B. 736, contra 10 M. 270. S

3. Where any party to a suit to whom time has been granted

Court may proceed notwithstanding either party fails to produce evidence, etc. fails to produce his evidence, or to cause the attendance of his witnesses¹, or to perform any other act necessary to the further progress of the suit, for which time has been allowed², the Court may, notwithstanding such default, proceed to decide the suit forthwith.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 158 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The word “if” in the old section is substituted by the word “where” in the new rule.

General.

This order does not apply to execution proceedings 18 M. 131, contra 15 A. 84;
15 A. 49 = 12 A.W.N. 222. T

(1) Principle and applicability of this rule.

(a) It is only under very exceptional circumstances and when no other provisions of the Code are applicable to a case, that resort should be had to the very stringent provisions of this rule. Where some of the witnesses of the plaintiff are examined, it is not open to the Court to dismiss the suit without considering the evidence on the record, simply because some of the plaintiff's witnesses, who were not served, did not attend. 9 P.R. 1908; 74 P.L.R. 1904. U

(b) Where an adjournment to enforce its processes is made by the Court, this rule does not apply. 19 W.R. 34, 35. Y

(2) Appellate Court.

(a) An appellate Court cannot pass an order under this rule. 10 O.C. 245. W

(b) The terms of the rule do not prevent an appellate Court from remanding the case on just and sufficient cause being shown. 13 W.R. 464. X

(c) When an appellate Court remands the case under this rule, the lower Court has no power to receive fresh evidence. 3 B.L.R. Ap. 91; 12 W.R. 23 Y

(3) Review.

When an order was passed under S. 148 of Act VIII of 1859 and it was set aside under S. 119 of that Act, the High Court held that, though the order purported to be under S. 119, it could be considered as an order on a review petition which the Court was perfectly empowered to pass, though its order under S. 119 was illegal. 6 M.H.C. 262. Z

(4) Collector.

A Collector to whom a decree has been transferred for execution has no power to act under S. 158 of the old Act. 13 A.W.N. 28. A

(5) Effect of an order under this rule.

The decision under this rule has the force of a decree. 10 M. 272. B

I.—“Where any party . . . witnesses.”(1) Absence of witnesses.

(a) The plaintiff applied for, and took out, summons to the witness; but they were not served. The order of the Judge dismissing the suit must be construed as one under S. 157 and not S. 158 of the old Act. 11 A.W.N. 112, contra 7 N.W.P. 77. C

(b) A suit was posted for final disposal on a certain date. On that day plaintiff's vakil wanted to take out summons for a new witness; and at the next hearing the plaintiff was not prepared to go on with the case as the witness was absent. A dismissal of the suit was held to be under S. 148, Act VIII of 1859, corresponding to the present rule. 4 M.H.C. 56. D

(c) The plaintiff applied for leave to examine the defendant as a witness. The Court refused permission, and on the adjourned hearing plaintiff had no witnesses. The Court could not act under S. 148 of Act VIII of 1859. 6 M.H.C. 299. E

1.—“Where any party....witnesses ”—(Concluded).

- (d) Where the Court adjourned the case after the issues so that the parties may compromise, a disposal of the suit on that date, without any evidence, was held to be under S. 157 of the old Act and not S. 158. 3 M.L.T. 225. F

(2) Refusal of pleader to appear.

When the case was posted to a holiday at the request of the plaintiff's pleader, and on that date he refused to appear, the Court could pass an order under this rule. 111 P.R. 1906. G

2.—“Or to perform....allowed.”

(1) Arbitrators' and commission expenses.

- (a) The Court cannot act under this rule for default in paying the expenses of the arbitrators. 11 P.R. 1886 (Rev.) H
- (b) A failure to pay the expenses of the commission does not justify an order under S. 158 of the old Act. 5 A.W.N. 168; 23 A. 462=21 A.W.N. 149; 13 M. 510. I

(2) Costs.

- (a) An order cannot be passed under this rule, if a party fails to pay the adjournment costs which he has been ordered to pay. 8 M.L.J. 189=21 M. 403. J
- (b) An omission to pay the costs of attachment does not justify an order under this rule. 15 A. 49. K
- (c) The Court cannot act under this rule because the party did not deposit the cost of preparing a map which was thought by the Court to be necessary. A dismissal of the suit is not justifiable by this rule. 1902 A.W.N. 149=23 A. 462. L

(3) Court-fee.

- (a) A failure to supply the deficient Court-fee does not justify an order under S. 158 of the old Act. S.C. 118; 11 A. 91. M
- (b) Where the plaintiff failed to deposit the Court-fee for issue of summons to persons whom it was proposed to make supplemental defendants, the Court irregularly dismissed the suit. Such dismissal did not bar the plaintiff from bringing a fresh suit. 2 A. 318. N

(4) Execution fees.

The decree-holder failed to deposit certain fees ordered by the Court and the application was dismissed. Held the dismissal had not the same effect as S. 158 of the old Act had on suits. 13 A.W.N. 12; contra 15 A. 49=12 A.W.N. 22. O

(5) Heirship certificate.

ORDER XVIII.

HEARING OF THE SUIT AND EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

1. The plaintiff has the right to begin¹ unless the defendant admits the facts alleged by the plaintiff and contends that either in point of law or on some additional facts alleged by the defendant the plaintiff is not entitled to any part of the relief which he seeks, in which case the defendant has the right to begin².

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to the explanation of S. 179 of Act XIV of 1882; but the word "where" after the word "unless" is omitted in the new rule.

1.—"The plaintiff has the right to begin."

(1) Principle.

The rule is that the party holding the affirmative has the right to begin. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 383. R

(2) Account.

Where a plaintiff sues on an account, it is for the plaintiff to show what sum is due on the account. 12 W.R. 529. S

(3) Adoption.

Plaintiff sued to recover possession on a title as the heir to the last male owner denying that the defendant was an adopted son of the last male owner. The onus of proving his title and the non-existence of the adoption was on the plaintiff. 18 C. 201=17 I.A. 159. T

(4) Agent, suit against.

In a suit to recover advances due from a discharged agent, who pleaded acquittance at the time of discharge, the plaintiff was bound to prove the payments to the agent. 10 W.R. 421. U

(5) Boundary, suit for.

In a question of boundary between a lakhiraj tenure and a zemindar's mal land, there is no presumption in favour of the one or other, but the plaintiff must begin and prove his case. 8 W.R. 209. Y

(6) Claims to attached property.

(a) In a suit by the decree-holder that the property attached belongs to the judgment-debtor and not to the claimant, the plaintiff must prove his case. The defendant may succeed on proving that the title to the property lies with a third party. 17 B. 94. W

(b) In claim petitions, the claimant must begin and prove his title. It is not enough if he proves that the property attached does not belong to the judgment-debtor. 2 B.L.R. (F.B.), 91=11 W.R. (F.B.), 8. X

(7) Common law practice.

The—in respect of the right to begin was held to be applicable to equity suits also. Cor. 25. Y

1.—“The plaintiff has the right to begin.”—(Concluded).(8) Contract.

In a suit on a contract, the party who alleges that the contract is governed by a special law, must prove it. 6 W.R. (P.C.), 48 = 3 M.I.A. 261. Z

(9) Ejectment suit.

In a suit for ejectment, the plaintiff must prove that he has a superior title, though the defendant is a mere trespasser. 19 B. 803; 15 M. 95. A

(10) Mesne profits.

In a suit for —, it cannot be laid down as a general proposition that the burden of proof is on the defendants who have been in wrongful possession of the property. 9 C.L.R. 1. B

(11) Preliminary issue or objection.

(a) At the hearing of a preliminary issue, the party raising the issue has the right to begin. 12 B. 454. C

(b) Where, in an appeal, the respondent took an objection that no appeal lay, the appellant had the right to begin and argue the point. 8 B. 287. D

(12) Showing cause.

A party applied for a review of judgment. The opposite party, showing cause that no review should be granted, has the right to begin. 9 A. 61. E

(13) Small Cause Court reference.

The right to begin in — is generally allowed to the plaintiff, but in one case the defendant was allowed to begin, where the judgment of the Small Cause Court was favourable to the plaintiff. 13 B.L.R. 142 = 22 W.R. 71. F

2.—“Unless the defendant... begin.”(1) Account.

Where a claim is founded on a settled account signed by the defendant, it is for the defendant to show that the settlement is not valid. 24 W.R. 202. G

(2) Arbitration.

In a suit on an arbitration, when the defendant alleges that his consent was obtained to it through undue influence, the onus lies on him. 4 W.R. (P.C.), 31; 7 M.I.A. 441. H

(3) Bond, suit on.

In a suit on a bond which the plaintiff alleged was stolen by the defendant, the defendant admitted the execution of the bond but pleaded payment and return of the bond to him. The onus of proving payment lay on the defendant. 6 A. 73; 8 Bom. H.C. 139; 17 W.R. 509. I

(4) Claim suits.

In all suits to enforce the plaintiff's claim to the property attached by the defendant, the party who has attached must show that the property he has attached belongs to the judgment-debtor. 4 C.W.N. 151; 11 W.R. 8 (F.B.); for contra cases see 12 B. 270; 18 A. 369; 3 B.L.R.A.C. 70 = 11 W.R. 422. J

(5) Collusive defendant's.

When some of the defendants support wholly or partly the plaintiff's suit, they must address the Court and call their evidence before the defendants, really opposed to the plaintiff's case, commence their case. 10 Bom. L.R. 327. K

2.—“Unless the defendant....begin.”—(Concluded).

(6) Deed, suit to set aside a.

The District Registrar ordered a deed executed by the plaintiff to be registered, though the plaintiff denied execution and alleged fraud, etc. In the suit to set aside the deed on the above grounds, the defendant was asked to prove the execution of the deed. 7 C. 736=9 C.L.R. 471. L

(7) Partition.

In a suit for—, the defendant admitted a nucleus of joint property and claimed the right to begin; held that, unless the defendant admitted all the allegations in the plaint, he had no right to begin. 7 C.L.R. 274. M

2. (1) On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or on any other day to which the hearing is adjourned, the party having the right to begin shall state his case and produce his evidence in support of the issues which he is bound to prove¹.

Statement and production of evidence.

(2) The other party shall then state his case² and produce his evidence³ (if any) and may then address the Court generally on the whole case.

(3) The party beginning may then reply generally on the whole case.

(Notes).

Old Act.

Cl. (1) of this rule corresponds to S. 179 of Act XIV of 1882.

Cl. (2) of this rule corresponds to S. 180, para 1 of Act XIV of 1882.

Cl. (3) of this rule corresponds to S. 180, para 2 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“The party....prove.”

(1) Principle.

(a) It is not the business of the Court to determine what witnesses shall be examined. The parties must select their own witnesses and ask the Court to examine such of them as they wish to offer. 6 W.R. 231; 13 W.R. 185. N

(b) Every party has the absolute right of summoning any witnesses he may wish to examine. The Court cannot fetter his discretion, but is bound to take coercive measures for securing the attendance of the witnesses. 61 P.R. 1904. O

(2) Right of the party to procure attendance of witnesses.

(a) Where a witness has once been summoned and does not appear, the party calling him is entitled to call upon the Court to compel his attendance. 6 C.W.N. 548. P

(b) Every party should go into the box to prove his allegations, and if either party fails to do so and the other party wishes to call him, every possible effort should be made to compel him. 4 Bom. L.R. 86=26 B. 392. Q

(3) Right of the pleader to dispense with evidence.

A pleader is bound to call the witnesses his party wishes to examine, even though he may suspect their evidence. 3 Bom. L.R. 562. R

1.—“The party....prove.”—(Concluded).

(4) Duty of the party to tender witnesses.

When a party wants a person to be examined, he must tender him; it is not enough that his name is included in the witness list and that he was present in Court. 4 N.L.R. 129. S

(5) Time for tendering evidence.

When a document was tendered by the plaintiff after he had closed his case but before the defendant began, the document could be admitted. 33 C. 1345. T

(6) Time for the examination of the defendant as plaintiff's witness.

It is not only illegal but improper and unfair to permit the defendant, at the very outset of the case, to be put into the witness box nominally as plaintiff's witness. It is certainly in accord with justice and equity that a party, who has to defend a suit, should hear what his opponent has to say before he is called upon for an answer. 116 P.W.R. 1908. U

2.—“The other party shall then state his case.”

Several defendants.

When there are several defendants having the same interest, all should state their cases, before they call their witnesses. 29 C. 32. V

3.—“And produce his evidence.”

Time for examining defendant's witnesses.

(a) The defendant asked for an adjournment on the date of the final hearing but was refused. The case was proceeded with and the case was adjourned for judgment for the next day. On the next day the defendant produced his witnesses but the Judge refused to examine them. Held the Judge's refusal was irregular. 20 C. 740; 20 C. 745 (note). W

(b) It is in the discretion of the Court to allow further evidence, after the case had been closed. 12 W.R. 455; 8 W.R. 461. X

3. Where there are several issues, the burden of proving some Evidence where of which lies on the other party, the party beginning several issues. ning may, at his option, either produce his evidence on those issues or reserve it by way of answer to the evidence produced by the other party; and, in the latter case, the party beginning may produce evidence on those issues after the other party has produced all his evidence, and the other party may then reply specially on the evidence so produced by the party beginning; but the party beginning will then be entitled to reply generally on the whole case.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 180, para 3 of Act XIV of 1892.

4. The evidence of the witnesses in attendance¹ shall be taken orally² in open Court³ in the presence and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge⁴.

Witnesses to be examined in open Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 181 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“The evidence....attendance.”

(1) General principles.

- (a) Every party to a suit is entitled to have all the witnesses ready, to be examined, though the Court may think that the evidence of the witnesses may be valueless. 8 W.R. 505, 364; 17 W.R. 172; 6 W.R. (P.C.), 46 = 2 M.I.A. 424; 12 W.R. 229; 7 C.L.R. 504 = 6 C. 698 (611), 9 B. 146 (149), 15 A.W.N. 21 = 17 A. 117. Y
- (b) A Judge cannot refuse to examine a witness on the ground that he is not named in the list, nor on the ground that he was not present at the last hearing. L.B.R. (1893-1900), p. 398; 12 W.R. 455, 10 C.P.L.R. 92. Z
- (c) A Court ought not to prevent the examination of all the witnesses on the ground that it is satisfied with the evidence of a few of the plaintiff's witnesses. 23 W.R. 63, 6 W.R. 46 = 2 M.I.A. 424. A
- (d) It is not competent to a Court to refuse to examine a witness, on the ground that his evidence, if taken, would not be believed by the Court. 19 M. 375 = 6 M.L.J. 195. B
- (e) A Judge ought to examine all the witnesses tendered, unless the object of the party summoning a large number of witnesses is to impede the trial, or otherwise to obstruct the ends of justice. 6 B.L.R. Ap. 10. C

(2) Evidence to contradict witnesses.

The rule limiting the right to call evidence to contradict witnesses on collateral questions, excludes all evidence of facts which are incapable of affording any reasonable presumption or inference as to the principal matter in dispute. 6 Bom. O.C. 98. D

(3) Consent to be bound by the evidence of a witness.

- (a) An a priori consent to abide by the testimony of a certain witness, cannot bind the consenting party to hearsay testimony, but only to such as is legally admissible. 2 W.R. 252; 5 W.R. 284. E
- (b) Where the defendant on examination makes statements, which amount to nothing and are manifestly untrue, the plaintiff cannot be bound by them, even though he had agreed to be bound by what the defendant said. 11 W.R. 110. F

(4) Recall of witnesses.

- (a) When a witness has been examined for the plaintiff and the defendant wants the same witness to be examined for him also, such witness cannot be recalled unless permission is taken. 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 160. G
- (b) Where an ex parte decree is set aside, the plaintiff's witnesses should be recalled to allow the defendant to cross-examine them. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 145 = 12 W.R. 180. H
- (c) In four connected suits, witnesses were examined and the evidence in the four suits was by consent read as evidence in a fifth connected suit. After two days, the plaintiff applied to the Court to recall and examine the witnesses. Held the Court properly refused to recall the witnesses. 15 W.R. 348. I

1.—“The evidence ...attendance.”—(Concluded).

(5) Taking additional evidence.

When the Judge dies after dismissing a suit but before judgment is delivered and the suit is remanded on appeal, the successor to that Judge is not bound to re-examine the witnesses, or take additional evidence unless requested to do so by the parties. 13 W.R. 76. J

(6) Right of the party to cross-examine.

(a) It is not enough that the witnesses are examined by the party who calls them. Their evidence is not complete until the other side cross-examines them. 11 W.R. 110, 16 W.R. 257, 1 M.H.C. 456; 3 B.L.R.A.C. 273=12 W.R. 130. K

(b) The evidence of a witness who refuses to be cross-examined is not admissible. 66 P.L.R. 1903; 9 W.R. 587 L

(7) Appellate Court, right of—to examine witnesses by.

(a) If the original Court has refused to examine all the witnesses, the appellate Court can examine them. 7 C.L.R. 504=6 C. 608 (611); 16 W.R. 109; 20 W.R. 203; 9 A. 339; 6 W.R. 213, 2 N.W.P. 209. M

(b) An appellate Court called an expert witness to prove the hand writing of the attestors. It was held that the procedure was illegal. 9 W.R. 88. N

(8) Appeal.

(a) An order refusing to examine witnesses tendered is appealable. 20 C. 740. O

(b) Though the Court is bound to examine all the witnesses which the party wishes to examine, yet, when in the appeal the ground is taken that the Court did not examine all the witnesses of the party, it must be shown that the evidence of those witnesses, if examined, would have been material. 6 W.R. 324. P

(c) In order to establish a plea that he was not given an opportunity to adduce evidence, a party must show that he tendered it and that his tender was rejected. 11 W.R. 248, 289. Q

(d) When a refusal to examine a witness is made a ground of appeal, it is not enough to put in an affidavit that a verbal request of the pleader to examine a witness was refused. 14 W.R. 419. R

(9) Reason for not examining should be recorded.

The Court should always record in the diary the reason why any witnesses named on either side were not examined. U.B.R. (1897-1900), p. 373. S

2.—“Shall be taken orally.”

(1) General.

The parties may, if so minded, ordinarily agree that evidence shall be taken in a particular way. This does not affect the jurisdiction of the Court. 30 B. 109=7 Bom. L.R. 642. S1

EXAMPLES.

(i) Where the plaintiff agreed to abide by the defendant's swearing in a particular manner, and the defendant, being examined in the usual way, did not prove the claim, the Court was not right in allowing the plaintiff to re-open his case and examine further witnesses. 10 W.R. 284. T

(ii) A party to a suit for dissolution of marriage is not entitled, as of right, to give evidence by affidavit. 13 P.R. 1891. T1

2.—“ Shall be taken orally.”—Concluded).

(2) Connected suits, evidence in.

- (a) Some witnesses were examined in a suit, and in a connected suit the evidence in the former suit was, by consent, allowed to be evidence in the other case also. After some days, the plaintiff sought to examine the witnesses without assigning any reason. Held the application was rightly refused in the absence of any new cause. 15 W.R. 348. U
- (b) When evidence has been given in one case upon the issues raised in that case, that evidence ought not to be taken and applied in another case where other issues arise. 15 M.L.J. 432=2 A.L.J. 800=7 Bom. L.R. 894=10 C.W.N. 57=33 C. 15=32 I.A. 217 (P.C). Y

3.—“ Open Court ”

(1) General.

The parties have a right to insist that the evidence should be taken in open Court. 21 W.R. 196. W

(2) Purda ladies and others claiming exemption.

Purda ladies and others should not be examined in open Court. B.L.R.S.N. 5 ; 4 C. 20 ; 15 C. 775 ; 12 A. 69 ; 2 Hyde. 88 ; contra 5 A. 92 ; 21 C. 588 ; 26 C. 360. X

(3) Parties cannot be kept out of Court.

- (a) The Court should not ask the parties to the suit to leave the Court, though it can order the witnesses to do so, when a witness is being examined. 2 Hyde. 249. Y
- (b) Witnesses should not be examined in the absence of the parties. 8 M.I.A. 232. Z

4.—“ In the presence....Judge.”

Duty of the Court.

If the persons conducting the suit are not competent to examine the witnesses properly, the Court should see that the witnesses are examined properly. 1 B.L.R.S.N. 20=10 W.R. 280. A

5. In cases in which an appeal is allowed the evidence of each

How evidence shall be taken in appealable cases. witness shall be taken down in writing, in the language of the Court, by or in the presence and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge, not ordinarily in the form of question and answer, but in that of a narrative¹, and, when completed, shall be read over in the presence of the Judge and of the witness², and the Judge shall, if necessary, correct the same, and shall sign it.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 182 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words “ also in the presence of the parties or their pleaders ” are omitted in this rule.

1.—“The evidence..narrative.”

(1) General.

(a) For observations on the improper manner in which evidence in cases is generally taken by the lower Courts. See 4 A. 249. B

(b) It is improper for a Court to receive any information of any kind in reference to a case, whether it be relevant or not, other than such that comes before it in the way which the law recognizes to be the form of legal evidence. 6 Bom. L.R. 789. C

(2) Insolvency proceedings.

In insolvency proceedings the evidence of the witnesses should be taken down fully. 7 B.L.R. 74=15 W.R.O.C. 16; 9 B.H.C. 307; 5 B.O.C. 63. D

(3) Probate proceedings.

In probate proceedings when the will is contested, the proceedings should take, as nearly as possible, the form of a suit. In such proceedings, the evidence should be taken as provided by this rule. 24 W.R. 162. E

(4) Second appeal

The objection that the evidence in the case was not properly taken cannot be taken in second appeal. 18 W.R. 112. F

2.—“And when completed..witness.”

(1) Effect of not complying with the rule.

(a) When the Judge does not follow the provisions of the rule, a re-trial should be ordered. 9 C.W.N. 420. G

(b) If the evidence taken is not read over to the witnesses, it cannot be used in appeal. 7 B.L.R. 75; 5 Bom. O.C. 63. H

(c) When the evidence of a witness is not read over to him, he cannot be prosecuted for giving false evidence on that evidence. 6 C. 762=8 C.L.R. 292. I

(d) Where the evidence of a witness was not read over to him, in the presence of the Judge and the vakils, the witness could not be convicted for perjury on that evidence. 28 M. 308. J

(2) Proceedings for contempt should be quashed.

In a proceeding for contempt, it is fatal to the conviction if the Judge fails to record a statement of the offender. 1 N.W.P. 241. K

6. Where the evidence is taken down in a language different

When deposition from that in which it is given, and the witness to be interpreted. does not understand the language in which it is taken down, the evidence as taken down in writing shall be interpreted¹ to him in the language in which it is given.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 183 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

(1) The word “if” in the old section is substituted by the word “where” in this rule.

(2) The words, “under S. 182” in the old Act are omitted in this rule.

1.—“Shall be interpreted.”

It is imperative that, when the evidence is taken down in a language which the witness does not understand, it should be interpreted to him. 6 C. 762=8 C.L.R. 292. L

7. Evidence taken down under section 138 shall be in the form prescribed by rule 5 and shall be read over and signed and, as occasion may require, interpreted and corrected as if it were evidence taken down under that rule.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 185-A, cl. (3) of Act XIV of 1882.

8. Where the evidence is not taken down in writing by the Judge, he shall be bound, as the examination of each witness proceeds, to make a memorandum of the substance of what each witness deposes¹, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge and shall form part of the record.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 184 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words “in cases in which” in the old Act are substituted by the word “where.”
- (2) The words “with his own hand” are omitted in this rule.

1.—“He shall be bound....deposes.”

(1) General.

Every Judge, when he does not take the evidence in his own hand, must make a memorandum of the evidence in his own hand, and must take down the answer to any material question. 6 W.R. 112. M

(2) Memorandum should be in the language of the witness.

A Judge should take down the memorandum in the language in which the witness deposes. 1 C.W.N. 229. N

(3) Conflict between memorandum and evidence proper.

Where there is a difference between the memorandum and the evidence taken down, the latter should prevail. 15 W.R. 375=9 B.L.R. 274. O

(4) Effect of non-compliance with the rule.

(a) Where a memorandum of evidence was taken after the examination of each witness, the chief Court held that the proceeding, though irregular, did not vitiate the whole proceeding. 45 P.R. 1896. P

(b) The failure of the Judge to take a memorandum of the evidence does not vitiate the proceedings, if the evidence is taken down in the language in which it is given. 9 W.R. Cr. 69. Q

9. Where English is not the language of the Court, but all the parties to the suit who appear in person, and the pleaders of such as appear by pleaders, do not object to have such evidence as is given in English taken down in English, the Judge may so take it down.

When evidence may be taken in English.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 185 of Act XIV of 1882, but the words "with his own hand" are omitted in this rule.

10. The Court may, of its own motion or on the application of any party or his pleader, take down any particular question and answer, or any objection to any question, if there appears to be any special reason for so doing.

Any particular question and answer may be taken down.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 186 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "or cause to be taken down" in the old Act are omitted in this rule.
- (2) For the word "appear," the words "appears to be" are substituted in this rule.

11. Where any question put to a witness is objected to¹ by a party or his pleader, and the Court allows the same to be put, the Judge shall take down the question, the answer, the objection and the name of the person making it, together with the decision of the Court thereon.

Question objected to and allowed by Court.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 187 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "if" and "be" in the old Act are substituted by the words "where" and "is" respectively in this rule.

1.—"Where any question....objected to."

Objection to admissibility of evidence.

All objections as to the admissibility of evidence must be taken in the first Court. If objection is not taken in the first Court, it cannot be taken in appeal. 10 W.R. 50, 37, 91, 139; 12 W.R. 13, 244; 22 W.R. 216; 24 W.R. 296; 6 M.I.A. 232; 11 B. 320; 6 B.L.R. 509 = 15 W.R. Remarks on demean-our of witnesses. 12. The Court may record such remarks as it thinks material respecting the demeanour of any witness while under examination.

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 188 of Act XIV of 1882.

13. In cases in which an appeal is not allowed, it shall not be necessary to take down the evidence of the witnesses in writing at length; but the Judge, as the examination of each witness proceeds, shall make a memorandum of the substance of what he deposes¹, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge and shall form part of the record.

Memorandum of evidence in unap-
pealable cases.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 189 of Act XIV of 1882; but the words "with his own hand" are omitted in this rule.

1.—"But the Judge....deposes."

A Mofussil Small Cause Court ought, in taking evidence, to record the substance of each witness's evidence. Recording, simply an abstract of the substance of the whole of the evidence, is not a due compliance with the provisions of this rule. 9 C.W.N. 418. S

14. (1) Where the Judge is unable to make a memorandum as required by this Order, he shall cause the reason of such inability to be recorded, and shall cause the memorandum to be made in writing from his dictation in open Court.

Judge unable to make such memorandum to record reasons of his inability.

(2) Every memorandum so made shall form part of the record.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 190 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

(1) The words "if" and "be rendered unable" in the old Act are substituted by the words "where" and "is unable" respectively in this rule.

(2) The word "above" is omitted in this rule.

15. (1) Where a Judge is prevented by death, transfer or other cause from concluding the trial of a suit, his successor may deal¹ with any evidence or memorandum taken down or made under the foregoing rules as if such evidence or memorandum had been taken down or Power to deal with fore another Judge.

made by him or under his direction under the said rules and may proceed with the suit from the stage at which his predecessor left it.

(2) The provisions of sub-rule (1) shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to evidence taken in a suit transferred under section 24.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 191 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "taking....chapter" in the old Act are omitted in this rule.
- (2) The words "any successor to such Judge" in the old Act are substituted by the words "his successor" in this rule.
- (3) The words "such evidence or memorandum" in the old Act are substituted by the words "any....rules" in this rule.
- (4) The words "as if....made" in the old Act are substituted by the words "as if.....rules" in this rule.
- (5) The words "can....applicable" in the old Act are substituted by the words "are applicable" in this rule.
- (6) The words "shall apply" in the old Act are substituted by the words "shall be deemed to apply" in this rule.
- (7) The proviso of S. 191 is omitted in this rule.

I.—“ His successor may deal.”

(1) General principles.

- (a) Though, under S. 191 of the old Act, the evidence taken by the predecessor may be used by the Judge who finally decides the case "if he thinks fit," this permission in no wise authorizes a Court to decide a cause which it has not really tried. 3 O. 110. T
- (b) This rule enables a successor to read the deposition of the witnesses taken by his predecessor as evidence in the case. It does not enable him to link together a part of the arguments before his predecessor with the arguments before him. 7 A. 857=5 A.W.N. 285; 5 A.W.N. 332=8 A. 35, 576; 4 B.H.C. 98. U
- (c) When a Judge dies after hearing and deciding a case, the only record of his decision being an entry in Court order book, it is not competent to any co-ordinate Court to rehear the case, but the High Court will remand the case for re-hearing on the ground of want of record or reasons of the decision. 3 B.L.R.A.C. 105; 12 W.R. 254; B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 774=9 W.R. 1. Y

(2) Additional Munsiff.

An additional Munsiff had no jurisdiction to deliver judgment in a case in which the evidence was taken by the principal Munsiff. 7 A.W.N. 13. W

(3) Notice.

Though this rule empowers one Judge to decide on the evidence recorded by his predecessor, yet notice should be given to the parties, and any objections they may have to the proceeding should be heard. 110 P.R. 1886, Civil; 91 P.R. 1904. X

1.—“His successor may deal.”—(Concluded)

(4) Right of parties to abide by evidence taken by another Judge.

(a) The parties may consent to the suit being decided by a Judge who has not been present throughout the trial and to taking into consideration the evidence taken by his predecessor. 21 W.R. 196 ; 6 A.W.N. 195=8 A. 576, 13 W.R. 76. Y

(b) The evidence taken in another Court cannot be read as evidence in the case unless with the consent of the parties. 12 W.R. 477 ; 13 W.R. 184 ; 21 W.R. 196 ; 1 W.R. 310. Z

16. (1) Where a witness is about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court, or other sufficient cause is shown to the satisfaction of the Court why his evidence should be taken immediately, the Court may, upon the application of any party or of the witness, at any time after the institution of the suit, take the evidence of such witness in manner hereinbefore provided ¹.

(2) Where such evidence is not taken forthwith and in the presence of the parties, such notice as the Court thinks sufficient, of the day fixed for the examination, shall be given to the parties.

(3) The evidence so taken shall be read over to the witness, and, if he admits it to be correct, shall be signed by him, and the Judge shall, if necessary, correct the same, and shall sign it, and it may then be read at any hearing of the suit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 192 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words “if,” “be” and “either” in the old Act are substituted by the words “where,” “is” and “any” in this rule.
- (2) The words “the Judge....sign it” are newly added in this rule.

1.—“Take the evidence of such witness in manner hereinbefore provided.”

- (1) An examination under this rule must be conducted by the Counsel. Oor. 7. A
- (2) An examination under this rule must be before the Court, and not before a Commissioner unless the parties consent to it. 5 B.L.R. 252. B.

17. The Court may at any stage of a suit recall any witness who has been examined and may (subject to the law of evidence for the time being in force) put such questions to him as the Court thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 198 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The words "and who....S. 173" are omitted in this rule.
- (2) The words "subject to.. 1872" in the old Act are substituted by the words "subject....force" in this rule.
- (3) The last para of S. 193, is omitted in this rule.

Power of Court to inspect. 18. The Court may at any stage of a suit inspect any property or thing concerning which any question may arise.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

ORDER XIX.

AFFIDAVITS.

1. Any Court may at any time for sufficient reason order that any particular fact or facts may be proved by affidavit¹, or that the affidavit of any witness may be read at the hearing, on such conditions as the Court thinks reasonable :

Power to order any point to be proved by affidavit.
Provided that where it appears to the Court that either party bona fide desires the production of a witness for cross-examination, and that such witness can be produced, an order shall not be made authorizing the evidence of such witness to be given by affidavit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 194 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

The words "of first instance and any appellate Court" in the old Act are omitted in this rule.

I.—"That any particular....affidavit."

Dissolution of marriage.

A party in a suit for— is not entitled, as a matter of right, to give evidence by affidavit. 18 P.R. 1891. C

Power to order attendance of deponent for cross-examination. 2. (1) Upon any application, evidence may be given by affidavit¹, but the Court may, at the instance of either party, order the attendance for cross-examination of the deponent.

(2) Such attendance shall be in Court, unless the deponent is exempted from personal appearance in Court, or the Court otherwise directs.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 195 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

- (1) The word "declarant" wherever it occurs in the old Act is substituted by the word "deponent" in this rule.
- (2) The words 'under this Code' after the word 'exempted' in the old section are omitted in this rule.

1.—"Upon any application....affidavit."(1) Second or subsequent affidavit.

In an application claiming privilege from allowing inspection of documents, a further affidavit also can be made by the party giving additional reasons 22 C. 105. D

(2) Stamp on an affidavit.

An affidavit does not require a stamp. 12 B. 276. E

(3) Time for filing affidavits.

(a) On a motion for a commission before the Judge in chambers, an affidavit was filed, and the Judge declined to make an order. The application was again renewed in Court; the Judge refused to take into notice that an affidavit was filed before him in chambers and refused to grant time for production of the same. Held he was wrong in not allowing time. 3 Bom.O.C. 55. F

(b) An affidavit showing cause against a motion is properly filed, if it is filed before the sitting of the Court, on the day on which the motion is posted. 5 C. 605=6 C.L.R. 282. G

(4) When affidavit necessary.

(a) Where a rule to show cause had been obtained on the facts set out in the plaint, the Judge declined to refuse the hearing of the rule simply because no verified petition or affidavit had been filed. 6 C. 485=8 C.L.R. 43. H

(b) An application for stay of execution should be supported by an affidavit. 15 B. 536. I

(c) Where the contributories of a company in liquidation complain of the misfeasance of the liquidators, they should make an affidavit stating fully the grounds on which they make. 19 B. 88. J

(5) When affidavit not necessary.

(a) It is not necessary to support a petition by affidavit, when the facts mentioned in it are in themselves matters of record and are proved by copies of proceedings filed with the application. 32 C. 146. K

(b) Where the facts in a petition to the High Court, appear sufficiently from the judgments of the lower Courts, no affidavit need be filed 8 C.L.J. 308. L

(c) In a motion to vary Commissioner's report the rule should be argued on the evidence taken by the Commissioner and not upon affidavits. 1 B. 158. M

(6) When affidavit sufficient.

(a) It is competent for a District Judge to declare certain persons as touts upon the affidavits of the pleaders. 13 M.L.J. 272=26 M. 596. N

(b) The parties entered into a compromise deed, but one of them subsequently withdrew from the same. In a proceeding to force the party to consent to it, affidavits of the parties were held to be sufficient. 7 B. 304. O

1.—“Upon any application . . . affidavit.”—(Concluded).

- (c) In a suit for recovery of land, the defendant denied the title of the plaintiff and stated that he relied on certain documents mentioned in a list attached to his statement. When the plaintiff wanted to inspect the documents, he put in an affidavit stating that the documents related to his own title, and that he could not allow the inspection. It was held that the Court could not go behind the affidavit of the defendant. 17 B. 581. P

(7) Who should make an affidavit.

- (a) An affidavit of documents, when there are several plaintiffs, should be made by all of them. 15 B. 7. Q
- (b) An affidavit of documents may be required from a minor defendant. 19 B. 350. R
- (c) When a person unable to read or write, presents himself to affirm solemnly, it will be sufficient to get his mark affixed in lieu of his signature. 9 W.R. 357. S

3. (1) Affidavits shall be confined to such facts as the deponent is able of his own knowledge to prove, except matters to which affidavits shall be confined. on interlocutory applications, on which statements of his belief may be admitted: provided that the grounds thereof are stated¹.

(2) The costs of every affidavit which shall unnecessarily set forth matters of hearsay or argumentative matter, or copies of or extracts from documents, shall (unless the Court otherwise directs) be paid by the party filing the same.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This corresponds to S. 196 of Act XIV of 1882.

Difference between the old and the new Acts.

For the words “declarant,” “reasonable grounds,” “be set forth” and “producing” in the old section, the words “deponent,” “the grounds,” “are stated” and “filing” are respectively substituted in this rule.

1.—“Affidavits shall be confined . . . stated.”

A.—General.

- (a) Affidavits should comply with the terms of this rule. In cases of interlocutory applications, the statements of the declarant’s belief are admissible; but the belief must be stated and reasonable grounds thereof set forth. 9 Bom. L.R. 540. T
- (b) An affidavit should not contain inferences but only bare facts. 6 Bom. L.R. 704. U

B.—Examples.

(1) Documents.

- (a) In asking permission for sealing up documents, the affidavits should state the portions of the documents to be sealed up, and the grounds on which the party objects to the disclosure. 20 C. 587. Y
- (b) An affidavit in support of an application for taking documents out of Court, for the purposes of another suit, should state in what way they are material to that suit. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 288. W

1.—“Affidavits shall be confined....stated.”—(Concluded).

(2) Rule to show cause.

- (a) A rule to show cause must be supported by an affidavit. The affidavit must be sufficient, so that, if no cause is shown, the rule could be made absolute on the affidavit. 3 B.L.R. Ap. 153=12 W.R. 418 X
- (b) The affidavits filed to show cause against a rule nisi for a mandamus in proceedings under the Calcutta Municipal Act to obtain compensation from the Justices should be simply entitled “In the High Court.” The affidavits, though wrongly entitled, were admitted. 8 B.L.R. 438 =17 W.R. 364. Y

(3) Summons.

- (a) An affidavit of service of summons should show that proper efforts have been made when and where the defendant is likely to be found. 19 C. 201. Z
- (b) An affidavit of proper service of summons should show (1) that proper efforts were made to find him, and (2) that the copy of the summons was affixed on the door of the house in which the defendant ordinarily resided. 26 C. 101 ; 2 C.W.N. 574. A

ORDER XX.

JUDGMENT AND DECREE.

1. The Court, after the case has been heard ¹, shall pronounce judgment when judgment ² in open Court ³, either at once or on some future day, of which due notice shall be given to the parties or their pleaders.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 198 of Act XIV of 1882.

For the words “after the evidence....recognised agents,” the words “after the case has been heard” are substituted.

1.—“After the case has been heard.”

- (a) A Judge is not justified in passing his judgment, in a civil suit, without affording an opportunity to parties or their pleaders to appear before him, state their respective cases, and advance their arguments. 5 P L.R. 1905. B
- (b) Evidence given when a party never had the opportunity either to examine or cross-examine the witnesses, or to rebut their testimony by fresh evidence, is not legally admissible for or against him, unless he agrees that it should be used. 9 W.R. 587. C
- (c) There is no rule of procedure to justify a Court in dismissing a suit for non-appearance of the parties on the day fixed for delivery of judgment. 82 P.R. 1901. D

2.—“Shall pronounce judgment.”

A.—What amounts to judgment.

- (a) Where a District Judge on appeal made an order of remand that evidence might be taken on one of the points raised, and at the same time recorded the impression which his mind had received on the other parts of the case, the opinion so recorded was not a judgment. 23 W.R. 77. E
- (b) The written opinions sent to the Registrar by Judges, who had retired or died before the judgment in the case was pronounced in open Court, are not judgments. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 774 ; 9 W.R. 1 ; 13 W.R. 209 ; 5 Wym. Rep. 69 (F.B.) ; 2 Wym. Rep. 326. F
- (c) A Judge may, at the close of the hearing of a suit, state at once orally the judgment which he intends to record and deliver. But that would not be a judgment. He must afterwards deliver his written judgment. 5 M.H.C. Ap. 8. G
- (d) When a suit was tried partly by one Judge and partly by another, the decision of the Judge, who finished the case, was the judgment, even though the first Judge made a preliminary order, arriving at certain findings, and, directing that the final decree should take a certain shape. 4 L.B.R. 256. H
- (e) A judgment written by a Judge, after he has ceased to exercise jurisdiction, is not a valid judgment. 7 C.P.L.R. 18. I

B.—Materials for judgment.

- (a) The judgment is to be given upon the examination of witnesses by the Judge himself in the Court of first instance, except those taken under Ss. 382, 392, and 191 of Act XIV of 1882, which are expressly allowed to be read in evidence at the hearing. 4 B.H.C.A.O. 98. J
- (b) In deciding on the facts of a case, Judges should not base their decision upon some isolated piece of evidence, but take into consideration the whole evidence offered on both sides. 6 W.R. 9. K
- (c) A Judge may give judgment upon a perusal of depositions and evidence taken down by his predecessor. 8 A. 576 ; 8 A. 35 ; 7 A. 857. L
- (d) But the law does not empower a Judge to decide a case on evidence recorded by his predecessor, without giving notice to the parties and giving them an opportunity of being heard. 110 P.R. 1886. M
- (e) Where there are different rulings of the different High Courts on a particular point, a Judge should follow the rulings of the High Court to which he is subordinate. 15 B. 419 ; 17 B. 555. N
- (f) Every case, as it arises, must be decided on its own facts, and not on supposed analogies to other cases. 9 A. 528 (4 A. 148, dist.). O
- (g) The determination in a cause should be founded upon a case, either to be found in the pleading, or involved in, or consistent with, the case made thereby. 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 87 ; 6 W.R. 57 ; 14 C. 802. P

3.—“In open Court.”

- (a) The provisions of the rule regarding the pronouncement of judgment in open Court should be strictly observed. Apart from the fact that the failure to do so is in direct opposition to an express provision of the law, the practice is highly inconvenient and deprives the Court and the litigants of a valuable safeguard against error. 8 Bom. L.R. 229=30 B. 455. Q

3.—“In open Court.”—(Concluded).

- (b) In a suit for possession, the Judge, after the case had been heard, examined the place to satisfy himself as to boundaries. The defendant attended, but the plaintiff was absent, and the Judge gave judgment out of Court. held it did not constitute an error and was no ground of appeal. Marsh 327, 5 M.H.C. 174 R
- (c) Announcing judgment of a case at an earlier date—a week previous to the date fixed for the delivery, was in flagrant violation of the law. 61 P. R. 1904. S

Power to pronounce judgment written by Judge's predecessor.

2. A Judge may pronounce¹ a judgment written but not pronounced by his predecessor.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 199 of Act XIV of 1882.

The words ‘by his predecessor’ are placed after the words ‘but not pronounced.’

1.—“May pronounce.”

Judgment pronounced by successor.

- (a) A judgment written by a Judge, after he had been relieved from his office and pronounced by his successor, is valid. 8 B.L.R. 98; 17 W.R. 475; 7 A. 857 at p. 859; U.B.R. (1897-1901), Civil Procedure, 199. T
- (b) It is doubtful whether the judgment given by the successor of a Judge who, after hearing the evidence in a suit, left it to his successor for decision and refrained from giving judgment because of his promotion in the same district. 7 W.R. 441. U
- (c) A subordinate Judge heard a suit, but was transferred before delivery of judgment. He, however, sent his judgment to his successor in office, by whom it was delivered. Held the judgment is valid, if no injustice had been done to any party by reason of this procedure. A.W.N. (1904), 81. Y
- (d) A judgment was written by a Judge after he was transferred, and it was pronounced by his successor: held that this rule afforded a complete answer to the objection that the judgment was illegal. 7 Bom. L.R. 951=80 B. 241. W
- (e) Where a Judge who had heard a case took leave, before putting a judgment in writing, and his judgment subsequently written was delivered by his successor: held the judgment was properly pronounced. 11 C.W.N. 501=84 C. 298. X
- (f) A Judge, who heard the evidence in the case, is entitled to write his judgment and send it to his successor for delivery, although the judgment was written by him after he left the judicial post. 12 C.W.N. 682=4 M. L.T. 33=7 C.L.J. 666=35 C. 756 (7 Bom. L.R. 951; 9 W.R. 1 and 17 W.R. 475, R). Y

3. The judgment shall be dated and signed¹ by the Judge in Judgment to be open Court at the time of pronouncing it and, signed. when once signed, shall not afterwards be altered² or added to, save as provided by section 152 or on review.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 202 of Act XIV of 1882.

- (1) The words, "when once signed," are new.
 (2) For the words, "save to correct....on review," the words, "save as provided by section 152 or on review," are substituted.

1.—"Dated and signed."

- (a) There is no want of finality in the judgment written by a deceased Judge and delivered by his successor in office, even though the former had not signed it. 31 C. 1057 (1064). Y-1
 (b) The omission to date the order under S. 281 of Act XIV of 1882 cannot prevent its acquiring legal operation, but must be treated only as a mere error of form. 1 M.L.J. 478. Y-2
 (c) It is illegal to sign and date a judgment, before it is actually delivered in the presence of the parties in open Court. 67 P.W.R. 1908. Y-8
 (d) The date of judgment means the date on which the judgment is delivered. 9 C. 711. Z

2.—"Shall not afterwards be altered."

- (a) It is irregular to add to a judgment once delivered, when the effect of the addition is to alter the grounds on which the judgment proceeded. A Judge may append to his judgment additional reasons, though such a course is not strictly warranted by the Code. 7 W.R. 286. A
 (b) It is the duty of a Judge to be always vigilant not to allow the act of the Court itself to do wrong to the parties. 14 I.A. 40; 7 B.L.R. 186; 2 A. (505); 16 I.A. 104. Blake v. Harvey, 29 C.D. 827 (833). B
 (c) When inadvertently wrong words are used in a judgment in describing the property in suit, the corrections may be made on an application under S. 202 of Act XIV of 1882 (O. XX, r. 3), and an application for review is unnecessary. 40 P.L.R. 1908. C
 (d) The correction of arithmetical errors was permissive under this rule; such an amendment had not the effect of substituting a new judgment. 2 O.C. 235. D
 (e) Where a judgment is based upon an assumption or hypothesis which is ascertained to be erroneous, the Court can disregard it and re-open that portion of the case affected by the error. 10 Bom. L.R. 531. E
 (f) Where a decree is, in fact, in accordance with the judgment on which it is based, such decree, however erroneous it may be, cannot be altered. 20 A. 337 = 18 A.W.N. 59; 1 A.W.N. 57; 2 A.W.N. 72. F
 (g) In a suit by respondent for possession of a grove containing 21 mango trees, and for the recovery of Rs. 40, the value of mangoes, the lower appellate Court, on the 21st July, 1880, gave him a decree for Rs. 14, value of fruits appropriated. On the 14th August, 1880, the lower appellate Court added a postscript to its judgment and gave a decree for the land: held it was not proper to make the addition. 1 A.W.N. 95. G
 (h) In England, a Judge may always reconsider his decision until the order is drawn up. In re St. Nasaire and Co., 12 C.D. 91. H

Judgments of Small Cause Courts. 4. (1) Judgments of a Court of Small Causes¹ need not contain more than the points for determination and the decision thereon.

Judgments of other Courts. (2) Judgments of other Courts² shall contain a concise statement of the case, the points for determination, the decision thereon, and the reasons for such decision.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 203 of Act XIV of 1882.

1.—“Judgments of a Court of Small Causes.”

- (a) The rule does not relieve the Judge of a Small Cause Court from the necessity of giving some indication in his judgment, that he has understood the facts of the case in which such judgment is given. 13 A. 533=11 A.W.N. 172; 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 101; 57 P.R. 1901. I
- (b) In a case where there is nothing to excite suspicion, and where the plaintiff had given such proof of her claim as the law demands, the plaintiff is entitled to have some indication from the Judge of the point upon which he dismisses the suit. 23 B. 334. J
- (c) The judgment of a Court of Small Causes must contain the points for determination and the decision of the Court thereon. 6 M.L.J. 50. K
- (d) The rule is merely permissive, and the discretion thereby given must be judiciously exercised. The Judge is not authorized to decide difficult questions of law in an arbitrary and off-hand manner, without giving any reasons in support of his findings. 78 P.R. 1895; 41 P.R. 1896. L
- (e) Where, in a suit instituted on the small cause side, the points for determination were, (1) whether the suit bond was genuine and (2) if so, whether there was consideration for it, and the decision recorded by the District Munsiff was “finding negative”: held that it was not a judgment. 15 M.L.J. 223. M
- (f) The Court of a subordinate Judge invested with Small Cause Court powers is governed by sub-rule (1). The judgment written by a subordinate Judge, as a Court of Small Causes, need not contain more than the points for determination and the decision thereon. 9 Bom. L.R. 327=31 B. 314 (23 B. 332; 8 B. 20; 12 B. 31; 9 B. 174; 8 B. 270, R.). N
- (g) A Court, exercising the powers of a Small Cause Court, recorded its findings by simply saying “yes” or “no” on the several issues involved, without stating any reasons. Held that the judgment was defective. 8 O.C. 44. O
- (h) A Small Cause Court Judge is not bound to fully set out the reasons for his findings. 6 C.L.J. 527 (23 B. 334; 13 A. 533, dist.). P

2.—“Judgments of other Courts.”(1) Contents of judgment.

- (a) A judgment should state not merely the finding of the plaintiff’s or defendant’s claim to be proved, but also what the evidence consists of, and how it proves the plaintiff’s or defendant’s case. 3 W.R. 176. Q
- (b) There must be a distinct finding, one way or the other, on all the material points in the case and the reasons for the findings. 8 W.R. 481; 9 I.A. 496; L.B.R. (1893-1900), p. 1. R

2.—“Judgments of other Courts.”—(Continued).

- (c) In appealable cases, the lower Court should, as far as it is possible, pronounce their opinions on all the material points, and also state the reasons of the conclusions contained therein. 5 W.R. 63; 1 W.R. 214; 15 W.R. 350; 12 I.A. 495, p. 502; 2 M. at p. 70; 16 I.A. 205, p. 210; 11 A. 460; 2 B.L.R. 72; 11 W.R. 38. S
- (d) In writing judgment in appealable cases, the provisions of the rule should be strictly followed. 4 P.W.R. 1907=27 P.L.R. 1907. T
- (e) Subsequent proceedings on the strength of the judgment of a deceased Deputy Collector, when he had omitted to give reasons, were held to be bad. 12 W.R. 254. U
- (f) Such findings as are unnecessary for the disposal of a suit and embodied in the judgment will be expunged from the record. 11 C. 544. Y
- (g) In a Court, when the concurrence of two or more Judges is necessary to the determination of a suit, the Judges should state the points of difference between them. If they do not do so, the Judges to whom the case has been referred have jurisdiction to go into the whole case. 6 W.R. 269. W
- (h) A Judge should not, without giving evidence, import into his judgment his knowledge of any particular fact. 3 I.A. 286; 2 W.R. 29; 2 C. 405; 3 I.A. 260; 11 I.A. 213; 7 W.R. 27. X
- (i) A Judge cannot give evidence in a case, merely by making a statement of fact in his judgment. 7 W.R. 189. Y
- (j) But this will not prevent a Judge from declaring that certain persons were unworthy of credit, in case he knows them to be professional witnesses. 7 I.A. 203; 15 I.A. 81 (91). Z

(3) Construction of judgment.

- (a) In construing a judgment, if a difficulty is found in reconciling the conclusion ultimately arrived at with the previous part, such part must be rejected. 19 W.R. 104. A
- (b) Where the final sentence in a judgment of the High Court made no mention of a matter specified in the previous words, and the District Judge had the option of taking the latter to throw light on the former, or the former to be controlled by the latter, he was entitled to follow the effect of previous judgments delivered by the same Judge of the High Court. 22 W.R. 202. B

(3) Defective judgments—Procedure.

- (a) Where a judgment is defective and the same Judge is in office, the proper course is to remand the case, and direct him to record his decision. 7 B.L.R. 14; 15 W.R. 131. C
- (b) But, if the Judge who passed the judgment and decree was absent, the order of remand to the Judge who was present, should distinctly direct him to re-try the case. 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 101. D
- (c) The re-trial may be on evidence already recorded. 12 W.R. 254. E
- (d) When no such special order was given, the decision of the new Judge was null and void, and effect would, in spite of the irregularity, be given to the first judgment. 5 M.H.O. 174. F

2.—“Judgments of other Courts.”—(Concluded).

(4) Effect of judgments.

- (a) It is extremely doubtful whether there exists in India any ordinary Court capable of giving a judgment in rem. 14 I.A. 367; 11 B.L.R. 244; 2 M.H.C. 276; 17 W.R. 104; 7 W.R. 338; 7 W.R. 347; 2 W.R. 31. G
- (b) A judgment, inter-parties, between two persons cannot be considered to conclude one of them, in a suit between him and a third person. 2 Bom. H.C. 868; 1 W.R. 270. H
- (c) A Judge should not allow his judgment in one case to govern his decision in another case, where either party is different without the consent of both, though the subject-matter of the suit and the evidence are alike. 15 W.R. 342. I
- (d) As to the admissibility of evidence of judgment not inter-parties. See 6 O. 171; 15 C. 233; 11 C. 745; 4 C. 633; 6 I.A. 83; 11 C.L.R. 528; 12 A. 1; 15 A. 261; 12 C.L.R. 186; 22 C. 538; 22 I.A. 60; 24 I.A. 10; 25 C. 522; 7 C.L.J. 90; 61 P.R. 1875; 7 O.C. 122; 56 P.R. 1906. J

5. In suits in which issues have been framed, the Court shall state its finding or decision, with the reasons therefor, upon each separate issue, unless the finding upon any one or more of the issues is sufficient for the decision of the suit¹.

Court to state its decision on each issue.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 204 of Act XIV of 1882.

The word “thereof” is changed into “therefor”; the word “be” is changed into “is.”

(General).

- (1) Where a judgment in one case governed other cases, the filing of that judgment was a substantial compliance with the requirements of law, and the filing of a short judgment referring to the other judgment is merely formal. W.R. (1864), Mis. 9; W.R. (1864), Mis. 28. K
- (2) A finding, unaccompanied by the reasons for it, as required by the rule, is not a conclusive finding of fact, binding on a Court of second appeal. 8 B. 868; 14 B. 452. L

1.—“Is sufficient for the decision of the suit.”

- (a) The rule does not expressly prohibit a Judge deciding all the issues in the suit. 4 M. 184. M
- (b) Although it is advisable that, in appealable cases, a Court should record its finding upon important issues, other than the issue or issues upon the determination of which the decree is based, the finding on such issue or issues ought not to form part of the Court's decree. (1904) A.W.N. 6=26 A. 234. N
- (c) In a suit for ejectment, the main issues in the case related to the validity of the plaintiff's lease and the character of the defendant's holding. The first Court, finding the plaintiff's lease was invalid, instead of dismissing the suit, entered into the merits. The lower appellate Court confirmed the first Court's judgment on all the points : held that the lower Court very properly exercised the jurisdiction. 121 P.R. 1907 ; 9 C.W.N. 90 (10 C. 1095) ; 11 C. 544, dist. ; 4 M. 134 ; 5 W.R. 63, F. ; 6 C. 319, declared overruled, by 11 C. 301). O

- (d) In a suit for ejectment the issues raised were, whether the notice alleged was sufficient, and whether the defendant was entitled to a right of occupancy. The finding upon the question of notice based upon the admitted facts being sufficient to dispose of the whole case, the Court erred in proceeding to determine any other issues in the suit. 10 C. 1095. P

- (e) It is not open to a Judge to decide a case in defendant's favour, on a point not raised by him, with the result that it will cast upon him a far higher liability than if he had made the order which the plaintiff had asked for. 28 B. 310. Q

- (f) It is the duty of a Rent Court to decide every question raised in the suit, an adjudication on which is necessary for the decision of the suit. R.A.R. No. 59 ; 1 O.C. 40 ; 7 O.C. 340 ; 2 O.C. 23. R

6. (1) The decree shall agree with the judgment¹ : it shall contain the number of the suit, the names and descriptions of the parties, and particulars of the claim, and shall specify clearly the relief granted or other determination of the suit². Contents of decree.

(2) The decree shall also state the amount of costs³ incurred in the suit, and by whom or out of what property and in what proportions such costs are to be paid.

(3) The Court may direct that the costs payable to one party by the other shall be set-off⁴ against any sum which is admitted or found to be due from the former to the latter.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to Ss. 206 and 221 of Act XIV of 1882.

- (1) In sub-rule (1) the word “ must ” is changed into “ shall. ” The words “ as stated in the register ” are omitted.
- (2) In sub-rule (2) for the words “ and by what parties and in what proportions, ” the words “ by whom or out of what property and what proportions ” are substituted.
- (3) The third paragraph of S. 206 is omitted.
- (4) Sub-rule (3) corresponds to S. 221. The word “ another ” is changed into “ the other. ” The words “ in the suit ” are omitted.

- (e) The relief given must of course be one authorised by law. 7 W.R. 248; 18 W.R. 503. U

3.—“State the amount of costs.”

- (a) See notes on page 19, supra, under the heading “DECREE....COSTS.” Y
- (b) Costs and interest on costs awarded must be clearly stated in the decree. Otherwise they cannot be recovered, although the judgment declares that they should be given. 13 W.R. 23; 18 W.R. 111; 18 W.R. 259; 14 W.R. 387; 4 I.A. 137. W
- (c) In an appeal decree the specific sums which go to make up costs shall not necessarily be set forth. 18 W.R. 286. X
- (d) Interest awarded in a decree should be declared. 6 W.R. 109; 2 I.A. 228; 22 W.R. 538. Y
- (e) If interest is merely declared and not specified in the decree, a reasonable amount may be allowed. 19 W.R. 46; 6 C.L.R. 291; 17 W.R. 414. Z

3.—“State the amount of costs.”—(Concluded).

- (f) Interest on costs at 6 per cent. was allowed, though the rate was not specified in the decree. 21 W.R. 411. A
- (g) Costs of printing and translation are the necessary part of the costs of an appeal to the Privy Council. 18 W.R. 89; 10 C. 106; 23 W.R. 463. B
- (h) It is not the practice, when costs of an interlocutory proceeding has been disposed of, to consider that an award of the general costs of the suit interferes with the order disposing of these partial costs. 10 I.A. 113. C
- (i) It is not sufficient to specify merely the costs without a distribution of responsibility. 15 W.R. 4; 15 W.R. 326. D
- (j) The costs of proceedings in execution of a rent decree shall not be added to the decree. 6 C. 554. E
- (k) One defendant must not be made to pay another defendant's costs. 10 W.R. 194; but see, however, Marsh 690. F

4.—“Shall be set-off.”

- (a) Where a decree in favour of an appellant describes a set-off of costs as due by the appellant to the respondent, it means not that any sum should be actually paid by the latter, but that the costs in question should be deducted from the gross amount decreed. 12 W.R. 308. G
- (b) If there is a set-off on account of costs, interest should only run on the amount, after deduction of the set-off. 13 W.R. 138. H
- (c) A set-off cannot be allowed for costs not actually awarded, and a decree which cannot be enforced cannot be a set-off against a decree, fresh and alive. 16 W.R. 308. I
- (d) The plaintiff is entitled to set-off the amount of his taxed costs against the mortgage-money which he was liable to pay under the decree. 4 C. 742; 4 C.L.R. 122. J
- (e) The mortgagor is entitled to set-off or deduct the amount of costs payable to him under the decree, against or from the mortgage-debt payable by him. 17 B. 32. K
- (f) Costs ordered on the disposal of a preliminary point were ordered to be set off, against costs awarded at the final disposal of the suit. 9 C. 797. L
- (g) The deduction of costs from the purchase-money in pre-emption suits is allowable under law. 6 A. 351. M

7. The decree¹ shall bear date the day on which the judgment was pronounced², and, when the Judge has satisfied himself³ that the decree has been drawn up in accordance with the judgment, he shall sign⁴ the decree.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule exactly corresponds to S. 205 of Act XIV of 1882.

- (a) The decree, drawn up afterwards, relates back to the time of judgment. 17 C. 347 N

1—"The decree."—(Concluded).

- (b) A decree is absolutely essential for a judicial record, and without it no proceedings subsequent to judgment can with any safety be taken. 5 A. 526; 14 A. 500; 5 A. 520. O
- (c) There need not be any decree drawn up in matters which are not civil suits, i.e., a decree must be in a civil suit, 11 M. 26; 14 J.A. 160; 11 M. 35. P
- (d) A copy of judgment with the schedule of costs appended is not sufficient. 15 W.R. 326. Q

*2.—"Shall bear date.....pronounced."A.—General.

- (a) The date of decree shall be the day on which the judgment was delivered, and not the date on which it is drawn up. 10 C. 652; 13 C. 104; 1 C.W.N. 93. R
- (b) A decree operates from the date of judgment and not from that on which it may be subsequently amended. 7 A. 276; 14 M. 150; 22 M. 264 at p. 271. S

B.—Limitation.

- (a) Limitation runs from the date the decree bears, i.e., the date of the judgment. 25 C. 109=1 C.W.N. 93. T
- (b) A suitor, who was unable to obtain a copy of the decree, can deduct the time between the delivery of judgment and the actual issuing of the decree, for computation of limitation. 12 A. 461; 23 B. 442; 10 C. 652; 5 W.R. 44. U

C.—Exceptions.

- (a) A decree leaves "mesne profits" on the value of improvements on land to be ascertained in execution. The date of such a decree shall be the date on which the value is ascertained. 4 C. 629; 14 C. 50; 8 M. 137. V
- (b) The date of the decree for possession of land, upon payment of the mortgage amount and value of improvements, is the date on which the value was ascertained. 8 M. 137. W
- (c) Where the parties, in a partition suit, are required by law to do a certain act, and the Court cannot frame its decree until such act is performed, the decree does not follow the judgment. 32 C 483 at p. 491. X

3.—"Satisfied himself."

- (a) It is the duty of parties and pleaders to see that a decree was drawn up properly. 10 W.R. 96; 20 W.R. 111; 8 A. 492; 18 W.R. 308; 10 W.R. 487; 8 C. 687; 8 A. 495. Y
- (b) The Judge should satisfy himself personally as to the correctness of the decree. 11 I.A. 7; 6 W.R. 57. Z

4.—"Shall sign."

8. Where a Judge has vacated office after pronouncing judgment

Procedure where Judge has vacated office before signing decree.

but without signing the decree, a decree drawn up in accordance with such judgment may be signed by his successor or, if the Court has ceased to exist, by the Judge of any Court to which such Court was subordinate.

Old Act.

This rule is new.

9. Where the subject-matter of the suit is immoveable property, the decree shall contain a description of such property sufficient to identify the same¹, and where such property can be identified by boundaries or by numbers in a record of settlement or survey, the decree shall specify such boundaries or numbers.

(Notes).Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 207 of Act XIV of 1882.

- (1) The word "when" is changed into "where."
- (2) The words "the decree shall....the same" are new.
- (3) The word "where" is new.
- (4) The words "is identified" are changed into "can be identified."

1.—"Sufficient to identify the same."

- (a) A decree, which was passed for a specified quantity of land contiguous to the plaintiff's estate, but which gave no boundaries of such land, was held to be indefinite and incapable of execution. 19 W.R. 81; 23 W.R. 285; 24 W.R. 479; 25 W.R. 39; 10 W.R. 96; 4 C. 69. B
- (b) The remedy is to apply to have the decree rectified. 23 W.R. 285. C
- (c) An ineffective specification of the boundaries may be set right and fixed by the acts of the parties. 19 C. 312. D
- (d) A decree for "possession and wasilat," without the lands being mentioned, and, without the boundaries being given in the plaint, is a decree for possession of an undivided share. 10 W.R. 96. E
- (e) Where the plaintiff prays for one-third of certain lands, and the Court decreed for one-third of all lands devolving under the same title: held she could execute against all the lands in defendant's possession. 13 W.R. 9. F
- (f) The amendment of a decree affirmed on appeal, by inserting identification of the property decreed, is not bad in law. 10 A. 51. G
- (g) A decree for exclusive possession of land, not in the sole possession of the judgment-debtors, is imperfect when their shares are not clearly defined. 18 W.R. 43. H
- (h) The title deeds of an estate, being accessories to the estate, pass with it when the decree is made. 11 B. 485. I
- (i) Buildings and other such improvements made on land do not, by the mere accidental contact with the soil, become the property of the owner of the land. B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 595; but see 8 C. 582. J
- (j) When the decree omitted to specify boundaries or numbers of immoveable property and so also did the judgment, the executing Court should have read into the decree the details given in the plaint. 74 P.R. 1905. K

10. Where the suit is for moveable property¹, and the decree is for the delivery of such property, the decree shall also state the amount of money to be paid as an alternative² if delivery cannot be had.

Decree for delivery of moveable property.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 208 of Act XIV of 1882.

- (1) The word "when" is changed into "where."
- (2) The word "if" is changed into "and."
- (3) The word "be" is changed into "is."
- (4) The words "the decree" are substituted for the word "it."

1.—"Suit is for moveable property."

- (a) When, in a suit for partition, objection was taken to the list of moveable property, the Court must, of course, determine which of the articles was liable to partition. 7 N.W.P. 75; 3 B.L.R. 128. L
- (b) Decree in terms of an award ordering the delivery of moveable property could not be modified by the Court. 17 B. 657. M

2.—"The amount of money to be paid as an alternative."

- (a) This is generally the value of the property in question. 19 W.R. 128. N
- (b) The Court may also pass a decree for damages for the time the plaintiff was kept out of the property. 16 W.R. at pp. 243 and 244. O
- (c) The payment of money cannot be made unless the delivery cannot be had. 16 W.R. 240. P
- (d) An alternative prayer for value of goods as compensation does not alter the character of the suit. Where the goods are not in the possession of the defendant, the remedy can then be by way of damages alone. 22 M. 478; 13 M.L.J. 444. Q

11. (1) Where and in so far as a decree is for the payment of money¹, the Court may for any sufficient reason² at the time of passing the decree order that payment of the amount decreed shall be postponed³ or shall be made by instalments⁴, with or without interest⁵, notwithstanding anything contained in the contract under which the money is payable.

(2) After the passing of any such decree the Court⁶ may, on the application of the judgment-debtor and with the consent of the decree-holder, order⁷ that payment of the amount decreed shall be postponed or shall be made by instalments on such terms⁸ as to the payment of interest, the attachment of the property of the judgment-debtor, or the taking of security from him, or otherwise, as it thinks fit.

(Notes).

Old Act.

This rule corresponds to S. 210 of Act XIV of 1882.

- (1) For the words "in all decrees," the words "where and in so far as a decree is" are substituted.
- (2) The words "at the time of passing the decree" are new.
- (3) For the words "order...by instalments," the words "order that the payment...by instalments" are substituted.

- (4) The words "notwithstanding...is payable" are new.
- (5) The words "payment of" are new.
- (6) For the words "be paid by instalments," the words "shall be postponed or shall be made by instalments" are substituted.
- (7) The word "defendant" is changed into "judgment-debtor."
- (8) The proviso in the old Act is omitted.

"The Committee have added words to sub-rule (1) of this rule, in order to override the ruling of the Bombay High Court, in the case of Raghu Govind Paranjpe v. Dipchand (4 B. 96), as the practice inculcated by that ruling seems to prevail only in the Presidency of Bombay and not in the rest of India" (Statement of Objects and Reasons).

(General).

(1) Scope of the rule.

- (a) The rule should not be applied to an action for money due on an instalment bond, the terms of which had been broken. 2 Hay 95. R
- (b) Nor will the rule apply in a suit for the recovery of the amount of a bond-debt by the sale of the "maker" allowance hypothecated by such bond. 2 A. 649. S
- (c) The provisions of the rule are not applicable in a suit for the recovery of the amount of a bond-debt, by the sale of the property hypothecated by such bond. 2 A. 320; 5 B. 604; 7 B. 332; 49 P.R. 1887. T
- (d) The rule does not apply in the case of a surety who had not agreed to pay the decretal amount by instalments, or had not become a party to the decree altered by the Munsiff. 3 A. 809=1 A.W.N. 78. U
- (e) An order under this rule would operate as a sanction under S. 257-A of the old Code. 12 A. 571; 61 P.R. 1886; 26 P.R. 1894; see, however, 5 A. 596; 96 P.R. 1900. V
- (f) The High Court has the power to make its money decrees payable by instalments. 9 Bom. L.R. 143=31 B. 348. W
- (g) The rule does not apply to a decree for rent under Act VIII of 1885, and a decree for rent cannot be made payable by instalments. 11 C.W.N. 857. X
- (h) An agreement between the parties for the payment of decretal amount by instalments could not be treated as an instalment decree. 5 A. 585; 6 A. 623=4 A.W.N. 207. Y
- (i) The terms of the rule are not applicable to an arrangement, whereby a surety executed a bond hypothecating his property for the regular payment of a portion of the instalments. 3 N.W.P. 88. Y-1

(2) Limitation.

- (c) directing an inquiry as to rent or mesne profits from the institution of the suit until—
 - (i) the delivery of possession to the decree-holder.
 - (ii) the relinquishment of possession by the judgment-debtor with notice to the decree-holder through the Court, or
 - (iii) the expiration of three years³ from the date of the decree, whichever event first occurs.

(2) Where an inquiry is directed under clause (b) or clause (c) a final decree⁴ in respect of the rent or mesne profits shall be passed in accordance with the result of such inquiry.

(Notes).

Old Act.

When the suit is for the recovery of possession of immoveable property yielding rent or other profit, the Court may provide in the decree for the payment of rent or mesne-profits in respect of such property from the institution of the suit until the delivery of possession to the party in whose favour the decree is made or until the expiration of three years from the date of the decree (whichever event first occurs), with interest thereupon at such rate as the Court thinks fit.

Explanation.—“Mesne-profits” of property mean those profits which the person in wrongful possession of such property actually received, or might, with ordinary diligence, have received, therefrom, together with interest on such profits. (S. 211 of the old Code).

When the suit is for the recovery of possession of immoveable property, and for mesne-profits which have accrued on the property during a period prior to the institution of the suit, and the amount of such profits is disputed, the Court may either determine the amount by the decree itself, or may pass a decree for the property, and direct an enquiry into the amount of mesne-profits, and dispose of the same on further orders.—(S. 212 of the old Code).

- (i) This rule embodies, with alterations the substance of Ss. 211 and 212 of Act XIV of 1882.
- (ii) The provisions of the sections are rearranged for the sake of greater clearness.
- (iii) The language of the rule makes the procedure to be followed very clear and plain.
- (iv) The sub-rule (2) is new. It gives effect to the view taken in Dildar v. Majeedunissa (4 C. 629), and Krishnan v. Nalakantan (8 M. 137).

(General).

(1) Scope.

- (a) The rule is not applicable to a suit for partition or for account of right in a joint estate. 14 C. 493; 14 I.A. 37; see, however, 16 I.A. 71 at p. 83; 19 P. 532; 5 M. 236; 9 I.A. 125. W
- (b) The decree-holder is not barred from asking the Court to inquire into the amount of mesne-profits in execution. 15 W.R. 203. X
- (c) A suit for mesne-profits does not come under the rule. 9 Bom. H.C. 7; 1 N.W.P. 22; 10 W.R. 299; 4 C.L.R. 97; 21 C. 496; 21 I.A. 26. Y
- (d) No claim for mesne-profits can be made when the possession of the defendant is not totally wrongful but is under a colour of right. 20 M. 126; 9 M.L.J. 191. Z
- (e) A claim for mesne-profits for which an amount can be and has been claimed by the plaintiff, and in respect of which some fee has been actually paid, is governed by S. 11 of the Court Fees Act. 15 B. 416; 2 A. 486; 33 C. 1232. A

C.—Who are liable for mesne profits.

(1) General.

- (a) A person declared by a decree to be in wrongful possession is liable for mesne profits. 4 W.R. 7; 3 Agra 216; 8 W.R. 450; 14 W.R. 82. Y
- (b) Even though there was no mala fides on his part. 10 W.R. 486. W
- (c) It is immaterial how he got in. 7 W.R. 7; 14 W.R. 76. X
- (d) It is immaterial whether he derived any profit himself from the possession of the land or not. 21 W.R. 246; 21 W.R. 269. Y
- (e) The mere possession by one person of another land does not render the former liable to account for the profits. 1 M. 107. Z
- (f) Obstruction to possession cannot render a person liable for wasilat, unless the claimant has been prevented from enjoying rents and profits. 15 W.R. 221. A
- (g) Where lands are wrongfully withheld from the right owner, not only the actual occupiers, but also the lessors, are jointly liable. 6 C.L.R. 357. B
- (h) Where several defendants are equally responsible for the damage sustained by the plaintiff, none of them could restrict their liability for mesne profits to that portion only of which they were in possession. 19 W.R. 218. C
- (i) But it is competent to the Court to apportion the damage payable by the defendants, if they have been in possession of distinct portions. 9 C.L. R. 1; 6 W.R. 118; 6 W.R. 230. D
- (j) Where the property of the judgment-debtor is sold, his representative cannot be called to account for the mesne profits of the property while in his hands. 7 W.R. 308. E
- (k) Where property is confiscated by Government, it is only responsible for the profits during the time it is in possession, and to such amount as was actually realised. 2 Agra 6. F

- (a) The onus of proving the actual amount of mesne profits is on the person in wrongful possession. 18 W.R. 251; 3 W.R. 25; 3 W.R. 30; 17 W.R. 156; 8 C. 343. N
- (b) Everything is to be assumed against him. 8 W.R. 101; 18 C. 540. O
- (c) It is incumbent on the plaintiff to prove not only the existence, but also the extent of his right. 5 C.W.N. 720. P
- (d) It is not necessary for the plaintiff to prove the actual collections made during his dispossession. It is sufficient to show what the annual profit, which in ordinary years can be collected, is. 1 N.W.P. 188; Ed. 1873 (273). Q

G.—Suit for mesne profits.

- (a) S. 196 of Act VIII of 1859 does not bar a separate suit, where mesne profits have not been asked for in the plaint. 44 P.R. 1869. R
- (b) When the decree provides for mesne profits up to the date of the suit, it does not preclude a party from bringing a fresh suit for mesne profits after the decree. 1 B.L.R. 138; 10 W.R. 62; 2 N.W.P. 176; 2 N.W.P. 416; 7 W.R. 429; 12 W.R. 126; 19 B. 532; 17 C. 968; 10 W.R. 486; 25 W.R. 215; 25 W.R. 327; see, however, 72 P.R. 1875. S
- (c) A plaintiff obtained a decree for possession without any mention of mesne profits. He could, afterwards, bring a suit to recover mesne profits from the date of the decree. 4 B.L.R. 113; 13 W.R. 15; 11 M.L.J. 332; 15 M.L.J. 462. T
- (d) When a suit is brought to recover possession of immoveable property, and the decree does not provide for the mesne profits that accrued during the suit, a separate suit may be maintained for them. 6 Bom. H.C. 109. U
- (e) A party can bring a suit for mesne profits after he has obtained a decree for possession in a prior suit, in which no provision has been made in the valuation of the suit for mesne profits. 1 B.L.R. 3. V

I.—“Mesne-profits.”—(Concluded).

G.—Suit for mesne profits.—(Concluded).

- (f) A suit lies for recovery of mesne profits, which accrued between date of obtaining possession under first decree and payment under final decree. 60 P.R. 1890. W
- (g) A separate suit will lie for mesne profits between the date of the institution of the suit and delivery of possession. 2 I.A. 219; 15 B.L.R. 383; 8 I.A. 197; 8 C. 173; 10 W.R. 486; 4 B.L.R. 113; 13 W.R. 15; 1 B.L.R. 138. X
- (h) A suit by a ryot against another for damages on account of illegal appropriation of the produce of the land, including the ryot's profits, is not a suit for mesne profits. 3 W.R. 1. Y
- (i) No separate suit would lie for mesne profits for the period during which the decree-holder was executing the decree and was kept out of possession 6 W.R. 13. Z
- (j) Nor for mesne profits accruing during the pendency of the suit and delivery of possession. 1 Agra 141; 2 Agra 268; 1 N.W.P. 177; Ed. 1873 (256). A
- (k) Nor for mesne profits between the institution of the original suit and the execution of the decree thereon. 1 M. 453; 2 M. 435. B
- (l) When the necessary Court fees have not been deposited within the time fixed by the Court, the suit, i.e., the claim in respect of mesne profits, should be dismissed. 24 C. 173. C

2.—“Decree.”

(1) General.

- (a) The Court has power under the rule either to award mesne profits up to the date of the institution of the suit, or up to the date of delivery of possession. 17 C. 968. D
- (b) A decree for possession and mesne profits must mean mesne profits down to the date of delivery of possession. 12 W.R. 75. E

(2) Form of decree.

Where a Court passes a decree for the property and directs an inquiry into the amount of mesne profits, such a direction need not necessarily be contained in the decree. 14 A. 531 (19 C. 132, R.); 19 C. 159; 19 C. 173; 13 I.A. 165. F

(3) Construction of decree.

- (a) A decree awarding possession with wasilat from the date of suit was held to be rightly construed as awarding mesne profits, until the date when delivery of possession should be effected, and reserving the question of the amount for adjustment in execution. 22 W.R. 328; 8 C. 178; 8 I.A. 197; 19 A. 296; S.C. 283. G
- (b) Where a decree is silent as regards mesne profits subsequent to the filing of the suit, they cannot be given in execution. 24 W.R. 193; 22 W.R. 406; 16 W.R. 25; 19 W.R. 154; 13 W.R. 122; 13 W.R. 11; 11 W.R. 200; 2 I.A. 219; 8 I.A. 197; 8 C. 173; 13 C. 283; 4 B.L.R. 111; 7 A. 170; 7 A. 197; S.C. 286; 44 P.R. 1869. H

2.—“Decree.”—(Concluded).

- (c) When a decree of the High Court simply directed payment, by way of damages, of the proceeds of a specified share of certain property, it left nothing to be determined in execution except the assessment of rents and profits. 24 W.R. 461. I
- (d) Decree awarding mesne profits, i.e., the rents and profits of a certain manor village at 12 per cent. every year, is not an award of a periodical payment in eternum. 12 B. 416. J
- (e) Though the order in Council did not direct payment of mesne profits, yet such payment was within its purview, as being a benefit by way of restitution fairly and reasonably consequential upon it. 15 M. 203. K
- (f) The decree of the Privy Council was to be construed as a decree awarding mesne profits up to the date when possession was obtained and from the date of the institution of the suit. 19 A. 296 (8 C. 178; 8 I.A. 197, 19 C. 132, R.). L
- (g) Where a decree for redemption of kanon directed the recovery of property on payment of the kanon, amount minus the purapad sued for, the purapad accruing due thereafter, the decree should be taken to have given nothing more than the rent due, until the delivery of property or the expiration of three years from the date of decree, whichever event first occurred. 9 M.L.J. 384. M

(4) Interest.

- (a) The Court is not obliged to allow interest upon mesne profits. It is purely discretionary. 10 C. 792; 11 I.A. 88. N
- (b) Mesne profits awarded by the Court carry interest as a matter of law. If it is intended to disallow interest to the plaintiff, the Court should expressly say so in the judgment. 27 I.A. 110; 10 M.L.J. 356. O
- (c) The decree-holder is entitled to interest upon the mesne profits due to him, until such mesne profits are actually paid to him by the judgment-debtors. 33 C. 329. P
